

the

HELLHOLE

A black and white illustration of a man in a prison cell, looking out through the wooden bars. The man has a somber expression and is wearing a striped shirt and dark pants. The cell is a simple wooden structure with vertical and horizontal bars. The background is a dark, textured area, possibly representing the interior of the cell or a window looking out into the night.

by William and Milarde
Brent

THE YUMA PRISON STORY

ARIZONA TERRITORIAL PRISON

Yuma, Arizona

1875-1909

ONE DOLLAR