

TRANSFER

BOULDER CITY, NEVADA
to
INCORPORATED CITIZENRY

7:30 p.m. January 4, 1960

Boulder City Elementary School Gymnasium

Since its beginning early in 1931 as a tent city to house workers on Hoover Dam, Boulder City has been under Federal control. Beginning this day--January 4, 1960--Boulder City is no longer under Federal supervision as the result of enactment of the Boulder City Act of 1958. The community, for the first time in its 29-year-old history, is self-governed. This ceremony is the official and final act of transferring Boulder City to the incorporated citizenry for self-rule.
