

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir:

Boulder City's first building—this subject should bring forth some interesting replies.

The water tank, I think, would undisputably be the first thing to be built in Boulder City, sometime during the winter of 1930 or '31. The filter plant was not built until some time later.

Six Companies came in and between March 15 and 25 built small cabins to be used as bunk houses for their employees. These had to be built before houses or
