

REGATTA PLANS NEAR COMPLETE

Final arrangements for the first annual Boulder lake regatta will be completed at a special meeting of representatives of the Las Vegas and Boulder City chambers of commerce this evening, according to James Cashman, sponsor of the event.

Date for the regatta has been definitely set for Sunday, April 5, and the trophies to be awarded have already been ordered and are on display in Los Angeles.

There will be six events in the competition, five outboard races and one inboard, Cashman states, and they will be held in the bay near the boat landing, where a maximum crowd of spectators can be accommodated.
