

TERRIOR NIPS BULLDOG PET ON NOSE, WINS

Boulder City saw five minutes of real excitement yesterday morning when a diminutive fox terrier made the bulldog police mascot "yell quits" before a large crowd of enthusiastic spectators.

According to ringside reports, the bulldog made a wicked lunge at the terrier but missed, and the smaller dog promptly clamped on his adversary with a painful nose hold. Bystanders finally managed to separate the battlers without serious injury to either.