

WILLIAM
L. SIBERT

The Army Engineer

EDWARD B. CLARK

WILLIAM L. SIBERT

THE ARMY ENGINEER

* *

Major General, Retired; Builder Gatun Locks and Dam, Panama Canal; an Ocean Terminal, Mobile, Alabama; the first five dams, 9-foot channel, Ohio River; Organizer and Director, Chemical Warfare Service, United States Army, World War; Chairman of Board to Determine Economic and Engineering Feasibility of the Boulder Dam Project

BY

EDWARD B. CLARK

Colonel, United States Army, Res.

ILLUSTRATED

PHILADELPHIA

DORRANCE & COMPANY, Inc.

COPYRIGHT, 1930
DORRANCE & COMPANY, INC.

All Rights Reserved

MANUFACTURED IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

CONTENTS

I	WHEN HE FOLLOWED THE FURROW	11
II	OF THE STOCK OF THE PIONEERS	17
III	THE STRIPLING SOLDIER	25
IV	THE PATHWAY TO HIGH ACHIEVEMENT	31
V	TO THE FIELD OF THE PHILIPPINES	39
VI	KEEPING THE LINES OPEN	46
VII	THE BATTLE OF THE CARABAOS	58
VIII	BOSSING A RAILROAD	68
IX	FROM ROADBED TO RIVERBED	76
X	A GAME OF BRIDGE	85
XI	ON TO PANAMA	96
XII	A CONFLICT OF OPINION	106
XIII	BUILDING GATUN AND CHAINING THE CHAGRES	116
XIV	BOTH LIGHT AND SERIOUS	129
XV	UNDER THE RED CROSS IN CHINA	138
XVI	AS YESTERDAY, SO TODAY	148
XVII	PROMOTED TO GENERAL RANK	155
XVIII	AS CHEMICAL WARFARE CHIEFTAIN ...	159
XIX	AT WORK FOR HIS NATIVE STATE	171
XX	MAKING A NEW PORT OF MOBILE	184
XXI	THE PROBLEM OF BOULDER DAM	193