

ANNE PITTMAN

Anne "Annie" Pittman, 94, passed away Friday, Aug. 28, 2009, at her daughter and son-in-law's home in Las Vegas, where she had lived for five years.

Annie was born Jan. 28, 1915, in Farrell, Pa. Her younger working years were spent up and down the east coast, following the seasonal migrations from New York to Miami and in Chicago. In 1939, she settled in Nevada, where she met her future husband, Joe Pittman when they both worked at the Boulder Dam Hotel in Boulder City, where Annie was a waitress. Annie is survived by her daughters, Pattie Cortez and Jo Anne Shields; 12 grandchildren; and 26 great-grandchildren. Annie was a loving mother who devoted her life to creating a magical childhood for her girls. She spent endless hours baking, cooking, reading and making holidays an unforgettable event. Her home was a safe haven for her family and their friends. There was an abundance of
