

Theatre Closed to Youths, Cooperates with Health Officers in Polio Menace

Boulder theatre is voluntarily cooperating with the Clark county health measure announced for combatting the "polio" menace, Earl Brothers announced last evening.

The theatre is closed to youngsters under 16 until danger of the dread infantile paralysis is adjudged by health officers to be past, he said.

Brothers checked voluntarily with Dr. Cherry, county health officer regarding advisability of this move, and Dr. Cherry expressed hope that a few days would be enough precaution. Brothers also checked with Dr. E. A. MacCornack, Boulder City health officer.
