

NOW RETIRED — Completion of 30 years of federal service was a happy occasion for Curtis W. Bowser, center, of the Bureau of Reclamation's Lower Colorado Regional Water and Land Operations Division. Here, he is presented his 30-year pin by Regional Director Edward A. Lundberg while Regional Water and Land Supervisor Roy D. Gear looks on. Bowser joined the Reclamation staff in Boulder City in October 1945, since serving as agronomist, agriculturist, land use and settlement specialist, and presently as Realty Officer in charge of the Land Management Branch. A native of Hillsdale, Wyo., he is a University of Wyoming graduate. (Bureau of Reclamation photo)
