Ward-Belmont

In attempting to present Ward-Belmont as it really exists, the purpose of the 1942 Milestones is to show our life to you as it goes on day by day, year by year on the Ward-Belmont campus.

Within this book is a part of each of us and of every Ward-Belmont girl, past and future.

When in years to come, you thumb through the pages of your Milestones, may it be the diary you always meant to write and the scrapbook you never found time to finish.

DEDICATION . .

During our years at Ward-Belmont there are some who leave upon us the imprint not only of academic learning but also of their own personal creed of honesty and kindness to all alike. Such a one will always occupy a prominent page in the scrapbook of memories of our school life.

And so to Dr. Warren Henry Hollinshead, who for twenty-six years has served his school and his students faithfully and well, the 1942 MILESTONES is dedicated, and with it is dedicated the love and appreciation of each and all of his girls.

ACKLEN HALL

With its statues and iron grillwork Acklen Hall has stood for more than three-quarters of a century as a symbol of the Old South. Its gold mirrors and fragile chairs, its curved staircase and spacious drawing rooms recall Southern charm and beauty to every girl.

BLANTON ACADEMIC BUILDING Tall pillars seem to guard this hall of learning as it stands etched against the sky. French doors lead one inside to the knowledge within its walls. On the broad steps girls with books and laughter may always be found.

THE FOUNTAIN A perfect place to dream or to reminisce is the quiet fountain shaded by beautiful old magnolia trees. Here endless streams of cool water pour into the clear pool beneath.

THE TOWER, Reaching toward heaven the ivy-covered tower stands as a monument to the past and a promise to the future. The chimes ring out over the campus with a harmony that completes every traditional ceremony or vesper service at Ward-Belmont.

NORTH FRONT

Tall and stately the pillars of North Front rise high above the street as guardian angel of the campus which lies beyond. They stand peacefully watching over the ideals and culture of a great institution—an institution which will not fade, but which will grow greater with the years to come.

EUSTICE A. HAIL HALL Standing proudly as the newest dormitory, yet still retaining true Southern charm is Hail Hall. Within its walls loyalty is found, and lasting friendships are made. As one looks beyond, one will see sloping green lawns with Club Village on one side and the riding ring on the other.

WARD-BELMONT

A D M I N I S T R A T

I O N

J.E. Burr
President

This kind and understanding leader of Ward-Belmont is "everybody's friend." None of the trials and tribulations of any girl are too insignificant for him to interrupt his work and offer advice and encouragement. Nor is he lacking in executive ability, for he ably upholds the responsible position of president.

Marie Taylor
Dean of Students

Since she, herself, is a 'Ward-Belmont graduate, one could not find a dean more familiar with the management and traditions of our school than Miss Taylor. A cordial greeting and a pleasant smile await all girls who venture to her office, and friendliness and charm have drawn her to the hearts of the faculty and students alike.

DR. ROBERT C. PROVINE

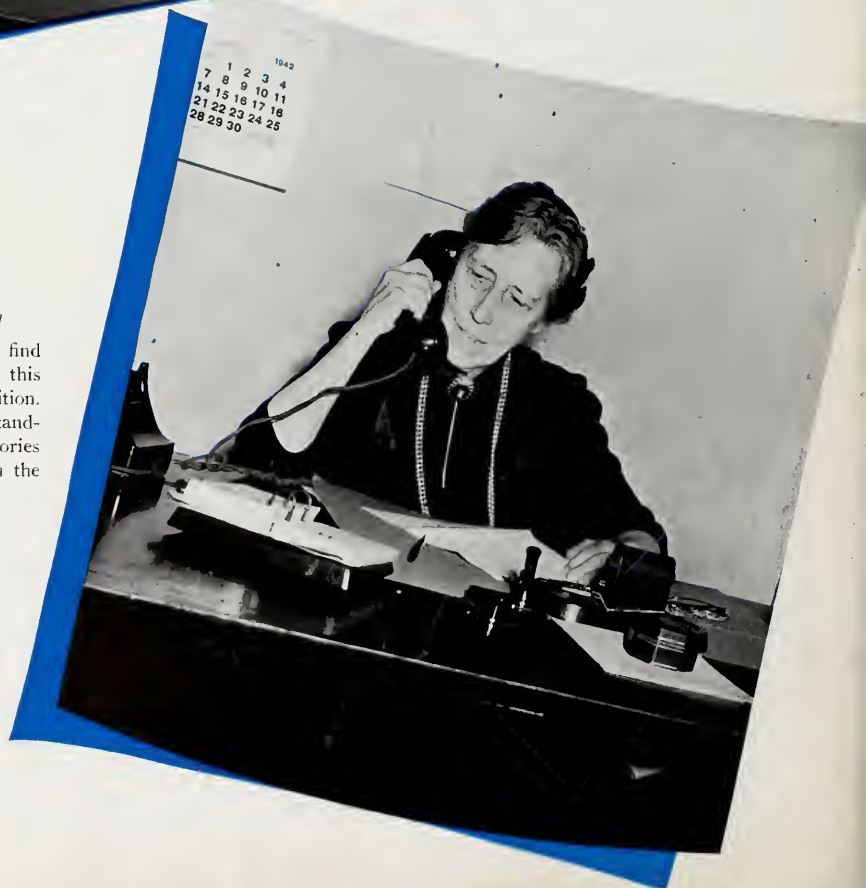

Dean of Faculty

This is the "doctor of all curriculum ills," Dr. Robert C. Provine. His geniality and sympathetic understanding of every girl's scholastic problem have made him a favorite campus figure. No matter how woeful the girl who enters his office, she leaves feeling capable of the highest scholastic attainments.

MISS ANNIE ALLISON

Principal of Preparatory School

Friendliness and gracious charm find their exponent in "Miss Annie," this gentle lady of Ward-Belmont tradition. Her wisdom and affectionate understanding are long cherished in the memories of each of those who graduate from the preparatory school.

MISS ALMA PAINE

Registrar

This lovely lady is nowhere equalled in her exceeding ability to meet people and to establish ceaseless friendships. A special favorite with all the girls, Miss Paine remains the ever-popular registrar of Ward-Belmont.

DR. ALAN IRWIN

Dean of Conservatory of Music

Ward-Belmont is justly proud of its able Dean of the Conservatory. Dr. Irwin's popularity among the students is due to his engaging personality and his inspirational ability as an artist of merit.

MR. FOREST K. FOWLER

Business Manager

Of inestimable value to Ward-Belmont is skillful, conscientious Mr. Fowler. There is a financial side to every firm that must be kept intact and that side of Ward-Belmont is expertly managed by him from year to year.

MISS MARTHA FISHER

Alumnae Secretary

A native Tennessean and a newcomer to the faculty, Miss Fisher has her hands full managing business concerning the Ward-Belmont alumnae, publicity, and publications. Energetic, friendly, sparkling with personality, she glories in work that involves girls and "copy."

Hardly recognizable in the enthusiastic supporters of their class are those timid and lost college freshmen who entered Ward-Belmont in September, 1941. With Miss Gertrude Casebier as the "Middle" sponsor, new talents and personalities came to light. For choice of officers they could not be surpassed. Lovely "Binge" Hoak as president, Louise Lasseter and Bonnie Osmundson as vice-president and secretary were super. Jane Lawrence, day student treasurer, and Jimmy Creber, boarding student treasurer, along with cute Margaret Reese, as sergeant at arms, made up the Senior-Middle roster.

On December 5 the Senior-Mids, sporting purple and white sweaters and jaunty little beanies, cheered a winning hockey team to the first victory in over six years against the Seniors.

The Mids feted the Seniors and faculty at their annual coffee in historic Acklen Hall on December 14. Then came a gala event for all Senior-Middles—the supper dance "just for them" when the latest thing in formals came to the spotlight.

Then that day of crowning glory dawned, Senior-Senior-Middle Day, April 17, when the Mids defeated the Seniors and walked off with the cherished cup after a day of parade, cheering, and sports.

The '42 Senior-Middle Class can be doubly proud of its high achievements and class enthusiasm, for theirs is an outstanding class in the history of Ward-Belmont.

Through organization into classes, the Preparatory School underclassmen are able to lend a helping hand to all campus activities and to prepare for future leadership. The Junior Class president, Hazel Cockrill, and sponsor, Miss Cayce, represented a part of that effective organization this year. Along with their program for the year was the entertaining banquet which they gave for the Seniors. No less capable officers and sponsor had the Sophomore Class with Mary Williams and Miss Thompson. The Freshman Class made a good start under their young president, Betty Jamison, and attractive sponsor, Miss Pruitt.

Every underclassman, whether a resident of Heron Hall or a day student, has rendered true loyalty and cooperation to her class. When graduation comes, every girl will have fond memories of her earlier days at Ward-Belmont.

BOARDING STUDENT COUNCIL

Seated—GARMANY, RITCHIE, GILLIAM, LOMAS, CREASON, PORTER, LECKE

Around the council table every Tuesday evening sits the youthful judiciary of Ward-Belmont Student Council. These nine girls find the mantle of justice a garment worthy of their deepest consideration and pride, for it is a serious duty to mete out the judgment of a fellow student. Their decisions are appreciated by the girl who must "mend the error of her ways" in the light in which they are given as an exhortation to pride for those honored standards of her school. The council's calm, efficient consideration of every issue coming to its attention makes the faculty pleased with the system of student government which their clairvoyance gave to Ward-Belmont. When court adjourns, no pondering expression distinguishes these young judges from the student body, for each one is a lively, campus-loved girl and an absolute individual, but each Tuesday they move in common accord with "equal justice to all."

Efficient Jane Woodward heads this distinguished group of students who mete justice to the Ward-Belmont day students. Meeting each Tuesday at twelve-thirty, these conscientious girls strive to serve their school in maintaining the optimum conduct and high ideals for the student body.

Jane Barton and Dorothy Kinzley are excellent examples of the wise choice of the respected body for representative leaders. Miss Cayce, sponsor of the organization, offers her thoughtful advice when cases prove perplexing. In the range of duties comes the task of giving conduct marks, and with earnest and kindly measure the character-building organization works cooperatively toward the securing of the best deportment for the day students which has heretofore been exceptionally praiseworthy.

As a part of the Ward-Belmont Student Government the Preparatory School Council shows itself a capable and democratic governing body. This young administrative body has no easy task as the interpreter of school rules and as the judge of the misdemeanors of their classmates.

The council's weekly report of decisions is subjected to a special advisory board for further approval. When the final decision reaches the students through posted notices, they cannot help but feel that they have been dealt with justly by their own government.

Mindful of the important role which the Young Women's Christian Association and its programs play in the local community, as well as in the nation, students at Ward-Belmont join wholeheartedly into its work. Under the capable leadership of Miss Rachel Marks, the executive board and the committee chairmen rank high in the respect of their fellow classmen. Y. W. C. A. activities extend into many fields of social work throughout the city. Frequent visits are made to the Old Ladies' Home, Crippled Children's Home, Vanderbilt Hospital, and Florence Crittenton Home by girls of the different committees.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet are chosen for their ability and for their interest in community service. An ideal president of the "Y," on the campus, is gracious, capable Margaret Hepner who is herself the embodiment of every ideal of the great world-wide organization.

HYPHEN

The pride and joy of Ward-Belmont is its outstanding weekly newspaper, the Hyphen, which presents within its pages each week the events of note that occur on the campus as well as in the war-torn world without partiality and display. The Hyphen staff this year has labored to maintain the high standard set for it by staffs of previous years and has succeeded in doing so by distributing choice and original material in each edition. A graduate of Ward-Belmont herself and new at the job this year, vivacious Miss Martha Fisher sponsored the staff commendably, lending her ceaseless efforts to the group of energetic hustlers. As editor, Nancy Awtrey proved her capability for the position by rendering intelligent leadership.

Although the staff comprised a large number of original "news hunters," every day each managed to get the low-down on various campus activities to add to the weekly assemblage of news. These cub reporters, diligent and spirited workers, carry the journalistic torch at Ward-Belmont.

As the school year gradually draws to a climax, the MILESTONES goes to press to present to its readers a look into the campus life of students at Ward-Belmont. 1941-1942 has seen staff members busily working with camera, copy, and typewriter to bring major events to recognition through the medium of the yearbook.

Adviser Martha Fisher and competent editor Katheryn Satterfield indeed deserve a five-star rating for their excellent organization and never-ending patience in the publication of this yearbook. With a sincere effort to present our life and campus activities exactly as they are, the MILESTONES staff has toiled this year. If some scrap or bit of copy meets with approval from some Ward-Belmont student, the editors of MILESTONES will be sufficiently repaid.

A selection of literary works and poems composed by Ward-Belmont belles combines to make up the quarterly publications of the Chimes. An assiduous staff put their heads together to ponder and eventually decide on the best contributions to produce this magazine of the campus.

With eagerness and zeal the months of December, March, and May are awaited by every girl as she hopes her contribution will appear in one of the popular editions. Those who are less gifted await the publications with equal avidity to behold the masterpieces of their classmates which are read by both students and teachers.

Under the careful guidance and instruction of Miss Martha Ordway, and through the untiring efforts of the staff members, this year's publications indeed deserve a "five-star" rating; for their excellent selection and variation have induced every girl to acclaim it an eminent organization.

Led by versatile Margery Wilson the first semester and capable Ermin Guthrie the second semester, the Athletic Association is an inspiration for all athletically inclined girls to "shine" on the hockey field, basketball court, riding rings, tennis court, and baseball diamond. Sports dominate a great part of the enthusiasm and ability which are portrayed in the organized club teams, interclass tournaments, gym nights, and celebrated Posture Week. All these are products of the Athletic Association's ability to direct activities.

Nowhere would anyone find a person more competent or better fitted for the sponsorship of this organization than Miss Catherine E. Morrison, who is the embodiment of the high ideals and good sportsmanship for which the association stands.

On the Ward-Belmont campus moral and physical welfare, keen competition and fair play are exemplified to their fullest. Athletes wear their varsity letters with pardonable pride and hold their membership in this organization with high esteem.

ORCHESTRA

Orchestra practice on Monday nights constitutes the production end of what has become a time-honored institution on the Ward-Belmont campus.

Versatile Kenneth Rose and his group of artists hold an appeal for everyone from lovers of the three "B's" to advocates of Gilbert and Sullivan.

Aims of the organization, expressed by Mr. Rose, are to yield serious study and experience which are necessary for skillful and exact execution. The orchestra focuses its attention on the Fine Arts week and the spring concert which are high points in the musical year at Ward-Belmont.

As Mr. Henkel plays the opening notes of the invocation, the vested choir files into the auditorium each Wednesday morning. The girls' voices blend with the organ to form a melodious and fitting musical service. Mr. Dalton's care in instruction and selection of music enhances the talent of the girls and assures the excellence of chapel music.

CAPTIVATORS

Hearing "I'm in the Mood for Love," the belles of Ward-Belmont turn to behold the rhythmical sway of the Captivators! Under the capable leadership of Rae Wright, the band swings out every Thursday evening in the dining room for both waltzers and jitterbugs. These evenings are eagerly awaited by every girl.

"A Study in Brown" and "Stardust" rate top-flight with all the belles; the resounding notes poured from Rae's sax and the way Betty Baxter "beats it out" on the drums ring approvingly through the ears of any music lover. A specialty with the Captivators this year was their beaming trio, Virginia Roark, Dorothe Pascoe, and Sally Conrad. Nowhere has anyone heard a more clever arrangement of "You Are My Sunshine" than sung by these three. As a group the band intrigues its listeners and composes one of the favorite organizations on the campus.

MUSIC CLUB

Linked by a common love for all things musical, these girls find their monthly gatherings a stimulus to study. Various teachers of the Ward-Belmont Conservatory and eminent musicians talk to the club on composers and music theory, and once confused the girls with a musical quiz.

"Bunny" Ramsay officiates at the meetings. Her fervor for all "noted" things makes her an able chief executive.

With soprano Jean Butler as their president, these campus warblers blend their melodious voices in outstanding programs throughout the year. The guiding baton is held by Mr. Sydney Dalton, who deserves no end of credit for his perpetual betterment of this already excellent organization. To keep the musical ball rolling smoothly, accompanist Barbara Haggard shares her talent and time with an ever-appreciative glee club. With weekly practices under superb direction, it is not hard for each girl to obtain a greater interest in the fine arts, particularly music.

Thanks to sponsor Miss Frances Gray the old German Club has been renovated into a new study club of pre-Nazi Austrian culture.

Entertainment is ever present at the monthly meetings for learning. Besides the fun of club dinners, conversation and songs in German, one notable program included a visit by an Austrian poet, who read and discussed her works. Another meeting featured recordings made by a famous German actor.

"Water color, pencil, charcoal, and oil—that's what art students are made of." Class time of this nationally and locally known department is devoted to intent work and artistic preoccupation. Under the skillful guidance and constructive criticism of their able instructors, these girls produce original studies to display in an annual student exhibit.

Red Cross work has been substituted for Art Club meetings, as each Thursday night these aesthetics gather in the Red Cross Room to roll bandages. No halt in the series of lectures and exhibits brought by Ward-Belmont for the art students resulted from this substitution.

Frosty fall mornings and chilly days heightened the enthusiasm of club and class hockey teams. "King Hockey" held sway over Ward-Belmont as competitive zeal waxed warm throughout a brilliant season of play.

Headlines this year in hockey featured the sensational '41 Varsity which proved to be a pleasing combination of brawn, beauty, and brains, the celebrities being: Virginia Downer, Jimmy Creber, Sonia White, Marilyn Fruchtman, Shirley Tigh, Roberta Brandon, Betty Versen, Katherine Foster, Nancy Hill, Ermin Guthrie, and Peggy Arbuckle.

Persistent Penta Taus earned recognition from the hockey world and spectacular plays won them their final competition against the A. K.'s. The vigorous playing of the T. C.'s, second placers, brought them within a few strokes of victory.

The highlight of the hockey season occurred with the Senior-Middle's five to nothing victory over the Seniors and the Junior-Middle's four to one victory over the Juniors. Class spirit and sportsmanship shone highly throughout the games, and all eyes look eagerly forward to next year, when a new season will again unfold.

Modern girls display talents in modern art

Stars among entertainers are those of the dance studio. Under the direction of Miss Mary Elizabeth Delaney the dancers acquire agile movements in acrobatics, tap, and ballet.

With their twinkling toes, tapping feet, and lofty tumbling these girls are in demand for such occasions as Halloween, Washington's Birthday, and Valentine. However, the recital and May Day are major events. Frances Hood proved to be a five-star performer in the art of grace and rhythm when she did solos in both of these events. Bessie Carson and Georgia Collins, in the advanced tap classes, would merit praise from any audience. The advanced ballet classes exhibit fine dancing skill in stars Louise Lomas, Virginia Shew, Donna Beane, and June Harrison. First year dance majors who have started on dancing careers of promise are Margaret Hay, Lucile Starnes, and Kitty Vincent.

TENNIS » » »

Just before the leaves fell, Miss Cayce led her band of "racqueteers" to the tennis courts for the instruction and practice that build tennis "greats."

The lure of the serve and return drew outstanding players into the fall singles tournament. Calm Nancy Awtrey's steady game and Ermin Guthrie's clever placement and constant alertness won them each a semi-finals placement.

Emerging victorious from the final battle, Edith Davis, Eccowasin, won her place on the court from the Penta Tau defending champion, Margery Wilson. For the second time in two years' tournaments, well-matched players from these clubs met for the final "nerve-racketing" game.

The first annual exhibition given by riding students was the Fall Horse Show, which was sponsored by the Turf and Tanbark Club. Instructor, Miss Alice Mary Drew, lost no time in teaching accomplished horsemanship. The fall trophy was awarded to the Penta Tau Club, while the X. L. Club came in for second place. Judges, Helen Marie Camp, Sally Conrad, Jane Scovern, and scorer, Miss Catherine E. Morrison, announced that first-place winners in the six different classes were Yvonne Sutherland, Virginia Pivoto, Virginia Downer, Jeanne Rathfon, Nancy Hamlett, Julia Lineberger, Karin Larson, and Beverly Rossman.

Class seven, a drill performed by certificate students, was one of the most interesting and colorful events on the program. These equestriennes, wearing green jerkins over white skirts, were Mary Ellen Russell, Katharine Bryant, Elizabeth Bomar Cleveland, Marilyn Brown, Helen Marie Camp, Sally Conrad, Anne Frasher, Ernestine Shears, Marion Mulvena, Joanna Sherman, Mary Jane Learned, and Roberta Brandon.

The second annual exhibition was the Spring Horse Show on May 7 and 8, in which forty-three members of the advanced riding classes participated. Sally Conrad was made champion rider of the year; and the riding cup went to the Del Vers Club.

When wintry winds start blowing at Ward-Belmont the basketball season gets into full swing. Enthusiastic girls are lined around the walls of the gym to cheer for their teams, which are certainly not lacking in enthusiasm: and the plays and signals move fast and furious.

The T. C. Club scored the highest with their super sextet, Ann Taylor, Ernestine Shears, Barbara Davis, Catherine Foster, Margaret Robinson, and Rae Wright. Although the X. L. Club did not succeed in winning the cup, their score in points was high enough to put them in second place and to warrant praise for players Shirley Tigh and Helen Marie Camp.

Outstanding players on day student line-ups included Fannie Louise Miller, Alice Hargis, Margaret Burk, and Edith Davis.

Ten pins, a heavy ball, bright and shiny alleys, then the swish of the ball rolling smoothly down the alleys, are enough to lure any bowler to the game!

These enthusiasts soon found, under Miss Cayce's expert instruction, why the ball wouldn't go where they heaved it and immediately began to see their scores reach the hundreds.

The climax of the season came in the Senior-Senior-Middle championship game when Marjorie Dudley and Betty Lou Wagner heaped up strikes and spares to prove a victory for the Seniors with a score of 469. A valiant fight was fought for the Senior-Middles by Betsy Newman and Bess Hunt, who displayed their skill and determination to stay "on the ball" to the end. High scorer of the day was Marjorie Dudley, sending a "no-gutter" ball down the alley each time which finally totaled 145 points. Outstanding was her hard, curved ball which she let go with a twist of the wrist to "mow 'em down."

Just as baseball is America's favorite summer sport, it is Ward-Belmont's favorite spring sport. Being the only team sport at this time of the year, competition between clubs and classes is keen. Baseball fans got a real thrill every time Helen Marie Camp, Jane Anne Craumer, or Margie Eichenlaub pitched a ball. No less exciting playing on the baseball diamond was that by Rita Le Moine, Jimmy Creber, Nancy Hill, and Ermin Guthrie, who managed to create a sensation for every game.

ARCHERY AND GOLF

After weeks of practice on the range Ward-Belmont cupids show their talent in the annual archery tournament. Skilled performers of the bow are Deliaann Tolliver, who led the Seniors to victory, Jane Woodward, L'Ene Biggs, and Beverly Pearson. Also devoted to their bows and arrows are Dewitt Long and Barbara Davis.

Besides the beginning golf classes, in which students learned the names and uses of the various clubs, there are advanced classes. In these latter classes the girls put their knowledge into practice on the Percy Warner greens. Among those proud possessors of that certain "swing" and perfect form are Florence Hoak, Mae Tod, and Cynthia Lowe.

SHIRLEY WRIGHT

A Christmas stocking could not hold any more fun and surprise than the vivacious group of girls that make up the Agora Club. Each and every one of its thirty members is a special package in herself, but in all club activities they move as a single, "solid-Agora" unit that is hard to beat. At the head of this "top-notch" club is a "top-notch" president, Florence Hoak, the apple of the club's eye. Her versatility combined with the unfailing interest of Miss Gertrude Casebier adds an extra flourish to the Agora picture.

Upon the club shield and the hearts of its members is the motto "Atopa," and each letter of this word might well represent the members themselves.

"A" is for "Athletes"; such as, Betsy Newman, "Bebe" Feldmann, Sally Henken, and Louise Henning, who are good sports on any field, in any game.

"T" is for "Talented" in the field of music: namely,

Nancy Miles and Betty Don Sweat with their pleasing voices and Jane Sefton and Betty Leaver with their musical fingers.

"O" is for "Outstanding Personalities"; "Binge" Hoak, president of the Senior-Middle Class, Bonnie Osmundson, secretary of the Senior-Middle Class, and Marjorie Crowder, associate editor of the Hyphen, are the executive type.

"P" is for "Popular," which is a trait shared by all the Agoras on and off the Ward-Belmont campus.

"A" is for an "A-1" club on the campus in every field of work and play.

Out of the A. K. history for 1942 comes a throng of girls everyone should know. May we introduce to you buoyant Peggy Arbuckle, who combined judiciousness and fun as proctor of Hail Hall; Betty Jo Warden with her talent for athletics as well as her presidential seat in the Preparatory School Student Council; lively, attractive "Mickey" McKendrick, who excels in hockey and good humor; energetic Jane Anne Craumer and Marilyn Fruchtmann, who make basketball a name to conjure with; "Bunny" Ramsay and Jean Johnson whose "trillings" are mighty nice; and that fun-loving, irresponsible Bessie Carson.

With a receiving line containing such a glittering group, it is no wonder that the A. K. open houses, annual Valentine party, faculty tea, and just plain get-togethers are such successes. No matter how diversified the personalities and pleasures of the A. K.'s may be, they are staunch in their determination for all things A. K. to be a triumph.

At the head of this ever-active group is vivacious Mary Louise Robinson, whose personality and willingness to do anything for her club have made her tops with her club sisters. By her side is Miss Nellie Greenburg, who is always as ready for seriousness or fun as any of her A. K.'s.

So here's a salute to you, A. K. Club: may you always stand out in sports, in personality, and in the heart of Ward-Belmont.

Applause rings out loudly for the abilities and contributions of the Angkor Club, and the club members themselves applaud their charming and capable president, Mary Grace Major, and helpful sponsor, Miss Frances Ewing.

Scholastic ability is evidenced by their large number of honor roll students and their possession of the many scholarship cups.

The Angkors penetrated into every field of extra-curricular activity. Leading officers on the campus were Jane Lawrence, day student treasurer, and "Dinky" Lasseter, vice-president of the Senior-Middle Class; "Woodie" ruled as president of Day Student Council, with Jane Barton as first vice-president. Shooting right up in the limelight were Dot Powell, whose dramatic performances move us to tears or laughter; prexy Mary Grace, Marjorie Payne, and "Dinky," whose outstanding work in the Art Department won acclaim from all. Leila Douglas was a great addition to the Hyphen staff as day student editor.

Holding up the athletic end of the blue and white banner were Margaret Burk, Jane Bryan, and Alice Moerner. Whenever varsities were named, the Angkors were certain to be among "those present." In the field of attractiveness, such girls as Barbara Walton, Nancy Hill, and Cynthia Lowe received more than a mere glance from passers-by.

Loyalty and cooperation to Ward-Belmont are stressed, and every Angkor girl is a true W.-B. citizen as the citizenship cups on the trophy shelf testify.

Spacious and symbolic of the grandeur of each member stands the Anti-Pandora clubhouse. As one crosses its threshold, the warmth of sincere friendliness is felt by all. Gracious, attractive Dale Jellison, beloved prexy, hails from Kansas to reign with authority and fairness. Charming Mrs. Helen King Fidler, sponsor, acclaims her girls and club foremost in importance.

Accomplishments of especial note and many outstanding characteristics are found in each member, but as one body they work for their club and school. Bubbling over with pep and jubilation, Peggy Gilliam and "Ginny" Roark bring a laugh at every turn. The subtle wit overflowing in Jeanne Tillman and Dot Wheeler produces rollicking laughter in any group.

Not only friendliness and fun can be found in the bundles of spontaneity, but executive ability and intellect stand out as dominant qualities. "Suzy" Gould with wit galore; Anne Gordon Dempster, pug-nose dream; striking Patty Greenwood, luscious Hannah Slabosky, and jolly "Foo-Foo" Richardson are contemporaries of Einstein.

Charming blue-eyed Pat Smith is the minute keeper and a star on the Senior-Mid water polo team. And speaking of athletes, there is spirited, versatile Rita Le Moine.

Eligible for anybody's fashion parade is immaculate Marilyn Loyd and stunning Jeanne Tillman.

The loyalty and success of this outstanding group has been proven by each member this year and will hold its high place of recognition through the years to come.

When you meet vivacious, energetic Patti Anderson anywhere on the campus, you understand why the fortunate Aristons proudly boast of their competent president. Inspiring the girls and acting as their companion in each undertaking, is Mrs. Hamil Stansfield, truly admired for her sincerity.

Energies of the club are reflected in each member who works cooperatively with the girls, the president, and the sponsor to bring recognition to their club in various campus activities. Such leaders as Pattie French, day student treasurer of the Senior Class, and Mary Lee Mathews, president of the Beta Club, represent "true Aristons." Devoting both time and ability to the field of athletics are Mary Emily Caldwell, Fannie Louise Miller, and Jane Youmans, hockey aspirants, and Sarah Polk Dallas, tennis star. President Patti is assistant manager of the Athletic Association. Dancing has a nimble-footed representative, Margaret Hay, who gracefully dances a light fantastic. Many times has an audience been held spellbound by the performances of such "well-knowns" as Phoebe Anderson and Mary Elizabeth Sawyer. Knowing that scholarship holds a high place in school work, the intellectuals of the Aristons are Joan Anderson and Alice Lindsay.

Loyalty and willingness to take a part in any activity, either for one's school or club, is an outstanding quality to hold to always. Aristons, a jubilant and impressive group of girls, work together toward this goal.

Delving, planning, working, accomplishing never cease at the Del Vers Club. With gracious Ellen Batson occupying the presidential seat, and ever-loyal Miss Olive White on her right hand, the club can find no fault in its executive leadership.

Named "liveliest" by the Del Vers, Jewel Holtsinger earns that name easily with her love of a joke and perpetual energy. Nancy Awtrey is a perfect "versatile," being a first-class sportswoman, outstanding editor of the Hyphen, and a consistent scholar. Executive type Marjorie Garmany, first vice-president of the Student Council, finds art her chosen vocation.

"Nice things do come in small packages"; such as, charming "Rusty" Russell and Betty Checkley, both of riding fame. Friendly "Kottie" Bryant is an extra attraction, proving with ease how she earned her place in the Turf and Tanbark Club. "Jo" Sherman's particular talent is being friendly; her motto is "once a friend, always a friend." No one can forget athletic Annita Gearhiser's long, sure shots in basketball or her ability to play any position in baseball.

Virginia Shew always has that "fresh from the band-box look," but her main interest in life is dancing, not clothes. "Rosie" Ryan and Margie Elder must have invented the word "vivacious," for they are that and more. Her pleasant personality is the only thing that tops Beverly Houghton's musical ability.

Out of each girl's industry, contribution, and cooperation with her companions has been molded a new trophy of progress for the Del Vers.

Combining beauty and personality with a bouncing zeal for sports, this day student club really has "what it takes." Charming Adeline Cockrill makes a most capable leader, with whom fellow members share a keen interest in the club. Because she takes a personal interest in each girl, sponsor Miss Louise Saunders is a special favorite.

The Eccowasins were popping with pride when Edith Davis won the coveted tennis cup in the fall tournament. Another pride and joy in athletics is clever Bess Hunt, who bowls as few of us can and wields a hockey stick with fervor.

As to the fine arts, the Eccowasins have no complaint but present Ruth Faw Pointer and Dot Kinzley as examples of studious brilliance, while Florence Ann Hudson and Jean Pilkerton are exponents of what to do with a piano. And for a disposition "cheerer upper" on the dullest day, Suzanne Addington is the nomination.

These admirable qualities add up to a total of club spirit, fun, and right, American thinking. With this, any girl can go far.

Every club in the village is a little community in itself; one of the most interesting of which is the F. F. Club. Long noted for its attractiveness inside and out, the F. F. Club has retained this feature due to the pride its "citizens" take in keeping their club spick and span.

"Mayor" Shirley Long has won the admiration of her club public without campaigning, for in their own words she is "a good executive and absolutely swell." As an understanding and capable sponsor of F. F. town, Miss Bertha Ruef is an indispensable helper.

F. F. boasts a long, varied list of outstanding members. Anne Frasher gains recognition as editor of the Chimes and president of the French Club. Marjorie Niles is a cabinet member of the Y. W. C. A., won the Chimes' poetry contest, and was the Valentine's Day "Queen of Hearts." Poised Jean Butler possesses a lovely voice; friendly Mary Jane Learned is an extremely good sportswoman, and capable Eleanor Nance is news editor of the Hyphen. Georgiana Fergason is president of the Vindobona Club, and Sam McMurry is a bundle of originality, versatility, and personality. For something special in the line of "beauties" look in on F. F.'s Elizabeth Foree, Abby Jackson, Bernice Weingarten, and Pat Severin.

All of F. F.'s attractions sum up to one thing—an interesting, well-balanced, spirited club, versatile, but close-knit.

This group of versatile girls, talented in many fields, work together to make their club a "whizz-bang" on the campus. Every organization to which each contributes recognizes her as a "siren of Osiron." Encouraging the girls in all tasks is the club sponsor, sincere, understanding Miss Frances Falvey, who holds the club's interests first in her heart. Working with her reigns ever-loyal, Ruth Whittlesey, president of this zealous group.

Executive ability overflows within the walls of their renowned clubhouse. Katheryn Satterfield, attractive and intelligent, proved her capability of excellent management by editing the MILESTONES. Along with her was Becky Watson, who treasured the Preparatory Student Council for the first semester and proctored Heron Hall the second; while the second semester Betty Jackson proctored Founders Hall. Ruth Carr Creason came right along as second vice-president of Student Council, the first semester, and sergeant at arms of her club.

No less noticeable was the athletic success in the club, for Ermin Guthrie rightfully ruled the Athletic Association with a keen talent in every field, being on the hockey, tennis, bowling, and basketball varsities. With her is Marion Wood, also a hockey star and talented in other fields. In dancing, Frances Hood and Pat Davison are two of the "lightest of foot." With such an ambitious group, it is no wonder that through eager cooperation these Osirons achieved praiseworthy fame on Ward-Belmont's campus.

Fervent and loyal to their club and school come the effervescent Penta Taus! Miss Mary Elizabeth Delaney, vivacious sponsor, and Margie Eichenlaub, magnetic president, work together competently to gain praise and recognition for their club. But they alone are not the entire incentive force of the club, for each member submits her cooperation in unifying the group and winning praise for her organization.

To this versatile group belong the celebrated athletes Sonia White, Jane Clark, Virginia Downer, Margie Wilson, and Betty Bailey, all having achieved fame from the hockey field to the swimming pool. Horsewomen Jeanne Rathfon, Marilyn Brown, and Louise Lomas are not to be overlooked and the Penta Taus are the proud possessors of the shining riding cup.

In the field of personal appearance, fiery-headed Betty Wilson, brown-eyed Betty Uhl, and blonde "Libby"

Renfrew stand out as individuals. An addition to any organization are charming, jubilant "Patty" Jefferds, Margie Lou Thomas, Rebecca Davies, and Carolee Austin.

Thus comes this outstanding group of poised, charming, truly versatile girls who keep foremost in their minds the club that they are constantly striving to uphold and better.

A note of music, a basketball, a book of learning, a friendly smile, and Miss "Tillie"—those are the essentials of the T. C. Club. Very necessary is Mary Arnold, who "walks in music" and is an A-1 president; working with her is Miss Betty Jane Sehmman, one of those sponsors whose energy is the very center of the club's activities.

Supplying the note of music is petite "Libby" Carey with her lilting voice that is twice as large as she. Saxophonist Rae Wright leads the Captivators in their musical life. "Ernie" Shears claims her place in the musical field as one of the Captivators and in athletics as club sports manager and an all-round athlete.

A mere basketball cup does not symbolize T. C.'s prowess in the Ward-Belmont sports world. Barbara Davis scores for basketball; Charlotte Caldwell puts them past the goalie on the hockey field; and Nancy Sherick swims as if she were covered with magic seaweed.

June Ritchie, Ann Stephenson, Sara Beth Hughes, Joyce Hardin, and that double feature, the Jones twins

—Barbara and Cornelia, are girls of many trades, but they are particular masters of things scholastic.

Ethel Mary Schwartz, as prexy of the Senior Class, has no trouble at all handling that job as gracefully as she portrayed "Martha" on Washington's birthday. Grace English makes a capable vice-president of the Y. W. C. A., and June Ritchie finds her hands full as second vice-president of the Student Council.

Ward-Belmont can never forget the T. C.'s, for this delightful medley of personalities is an "essential" to the campus.

Enthusiasm is the banner of spirit that flies over the Triad Club. And why not, with the superb leadership of President Roberta Brandon and the delightful humor and understanding of Mrs. Margaret Hall.

This day student organization is an exceedingly versatile one, excelling in the field of sports, personality, social activities, scholarship, and originality.

Besides presiding as president and vice-president, Roberta Brandon and Alice Hargis are the hockey stars of their club. Secretary Peggy Ann Fox and Patty Hardison shine as examples of what a well-rounded personality ought to be and Mary Walton Wright and Ann Diehl head the brain trusts.

For style, no one can top Virginia Tate's fashionable appearance and in sportsmanship Bernice Erwin is an acknowledged model.

This club is exceptional in presenting examples of girls who have well-rounded personalities and ideals. All in all, these active Triads play the game with the cooperation and the best that they have.

From Maine to Texas, California, and Florida come those scintillating girls of the Tri K Club. Each is a loyal representative of her state but in union of purpose and efforts they become the United States of Tri K.

West Virginia favored the club with charming, competent Ada Buford. Her presidential ability plus Miss Catherine Morrison's devotion to Tri K are an unbeatable executive combination.

Folks "Down by the O-hi-o" should laud Paula Lecke's achievements as president of the Student Council and President's Council. From those Tennessee hills come Bette Browne Attridge, associate editor of MILESTONES, "pure Southern" Jerry Cole, and peppy Sallie Jacobs. "She's from Missouri," those twinkling eyes and mischief mastery belong to Jimmy Creber, Senior-Middle treasurer, and "Miss Personality Plus" is Mary Ann Clinkscales. Hyphen reporter "Boogie" Hudson and Student Council secretary Jane Scovern are Missouri's own. Special Georgia peaches are Marilyn Metzger, wearing epaulets of the Hyphen staff; Carolyn Carter, petite acrobat; and lively "Lei" Stubbs and Mary Annie Jenkins. "Windy" Wagner shines for Maine as Senior Class secretary, and Alabama's "Lulu" Starnes has "tapping toes." Out of those six Texas girls Hope Hamilton, Art Club "prexy," harpist Mary Nees, and Mary Berry, MILESTONES feature editor, deserve applause. "Talented to their Florida toes" describes artists "Kelly" and "Rennie" Gorton, as "friendly" does Kathleen McGehee, and "mighty sweet" does June Bryan. No one forgets "Caro" Whitmore of the flaming hair and special Kansas grin. Kentuckian Martha Jean Balthasar and Californian June Harrison fit the final states into the close-knit pattern of a club brimming with fun and fellowship.

Flying around the campus at all hours for thirty different reasons are those thirty "specials," the X. L.'s. So glance about the campus and have a look at a few representative girls from the club. That pretty smiling brunette in Middle-March is Marjorie Dudley, who is as good at bowling as she is at being club prexy, and the lady with whom she is talking is the club's constant booster and mainstay, Mrs. Gregg.

Over in the riding ring Senior Hall's first semester proctor, Helen Marie Camp, is putting Lady Mary through her paces with the finesse worthy of her presidency of the Turf and Tanbarkers. Sally Conrad, champion swimmer, has a quick plunge before Captivator practice over in the auditorium where she served as first semester chapel proctor. Shirley Bartlett and Betty Baxter are already at Captivators and are warming up with a bit of swing. Crossing the campus on her way to a Y. W. C. A. meeting, "Y" president, Margaret Hepner, stops by the tennis courts to talk with Marion Mulvena, tennis manager of the Athletic Association.

"Libby" Hoffman, Athletic Association member, sits in the Chatterbox to read the Hyphen article on scholars in which the names of Jean Galloway and Jean Guenzel, class representative of Preparatory Council, appear. Shirley Tigh, combined athletic Amazon and Puck, stops her march to hockey practice to call to Titian-topped, fun-loving "Rusty" Crane. Up in the speech department diminutive Dorothea Diem is trying to decide whether "to be, or not to be."

So the X. L.'s live, working and playing, a mighty mixture and an ever progressing, ever interesting club.

FAG DAY

Look at those bookworms

Tradition plays a great part of everyday life on the Ward-Belmont campus. The most fun of all traditions for both old and new girls is Fag Day. It is the one day of the year set aside for the pledging of the new girls to their social clubs and on this day the pledges are their big sisters' "reluctant lieges."

How amusing are all the different antics portrayed by these fags which range from bedmaking to willingly kneeling before their older sisters. Servants, visitors, and guests stare in awe as owls, elephants, donkeys, and Barnacle Bills dance and sing on the campus. Sophisticates of the new Anti-Pans appear coy and shy in their drape-like nightgowns. "I'm a little T. C. flower, growing wilder by the hour" and "Now we are X. L. babies, soon we'll be X. L. ladies" are among the various chants that are heard.

It is a weary and exhausted bunch of fags who eventually rush to the dining room floor to receive their breakfast. But how rejuvenating to remember that the night of formal initiation is near and then, for the first time, they will be looked upon as true club sisters.

Class Recognition DAY

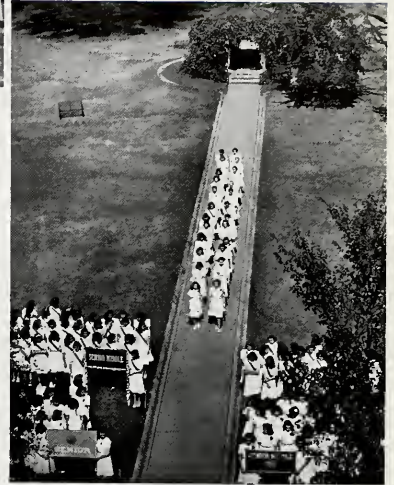

The girls hold their letters for recognition

To the chimes of "The Bells of Ward-Belmont," another Class Recognition Day began. Four hundred and fifty girls found themselves with lumps in their throats as the white procession began. Around the campus circle trailed this spectacular line of white, until all the classes had taken their places at the traditional spot before the stately academic building.

The old girls marched with dignity and respect; the feeling of loyalty and first-found love penetrated the heart of each new girl. As the class pledge was spoken, every girl made a like pledge in her heart to uphold the ideals of her school.

Miss Mary Rachel Norris, the founder of this day, spoke to the students of the standards and ideals they were to uphold during the coming year. Dr. Robert C. Provine presented the school letters and related the significance of each, as the entire body remained silent and attentive.

As the girls marched from this memorable occasion, four hundred and fifty hearts joined in one accord to make this, their year, one of lasting impression on themselves, on Ward-Belmont, and on those to follow.

BIRTHDAY DINNERS

Belles eat, drink, and are merry on their birthdays

Birthday dinners highlight each month at Ward-Belmont. Each honored belle is met in Acklen Hall by Dr. and Mrs. Burk, Dr. and Mrs. Provine, and Miss Taylor, where, in formal attire, they eagerly await the spectacular occasion.

As the exquisite table is beheld, each gasps for breath as she gazes upon the decorations for the affair, which may vary from kewpie dolls to ice cream rabbits. Those lucky girls born near the Yuletide season view a miniature of Santa's kingdom that makes the centerpiece, while turkey, cranberry sauce, and such tasty dishes are there for their enjoyment. To help each girl in determining her separate destination around the table are originally-designed place cards and favors.

On departing from this gay affair, the girls take with them a wish for twelve birthdays each year.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

February 22 is the scene of a gala celebration in Acklen Hall

"First in the heart of Ward-Belmont" is the yearly celebration of George Washington's birthday on February twenty-second. While soft music filled Acklen Hall that evening, the colorful colonial past became the present. Couple after couple of costumed Seniors stepped down the circular stairway, preceding the celebrities of the evening, George and Martha. Helen Marie Camp as a stalwart George, and Ethel Mary Schwartz, a dainty Martha, played well the roles to which they were elected. After this introduction to the memorable evening came the traditional dinner in honor of the Washingtons, and led by Martha and George, the Seniors danced the stately minuet as a grand finale to an awe-filled evening.

Seniors cheerfully prepare for the slaughter

That grand and glorious day began with a bang at 1:30 Friday afternoon, April 17. Lavish decorations shone from every corner of the campus and the colors of both classes were flaunted in the wind. The parade was begun by the Senior-Mids, whose frothy white float framed Mid beauty queens. The Senior float cleverly depicted a gruesome downfall for their rivals.

Meeting in active combat on the baseball diamond, the Middies swatted home the victory. After baseball the archery and tennis matches were played off simultaneously with the honors equally divided, archery being taken by the Seniors and tennis by the Senior-Mids. The Senior-Mid mermaids swam away with the victory in the water polo game. The big moment arrived when the Senior-

Mids "came through" to win the cherished cup by a narrow margin of two and two-thirds points for the year.

Another high point of the interclass activities occurred when the Greeks (Senior-Middles) feted the visiting Romans (Seniors) with a banquet in true Athenian style. Jimmy Creber as "Bacchus" presided over her vassals and presented Virginia Hoak as "Zeus," who welcomed the visiting Romans represented by Ethel Mary Schwartz. Sam McMurry foretold the future of the Seniors with the Delphian Oracle; and even the nymphs displayed their dancing talents to make the evening one of complete enjoyment.

MAY DAY

Roses and new spring bonnets bloomed profusely on the Ward-Belmont campus as multitudes of visitors gathered to watch the traditional May festivity. In the glow of late afternoon sunshine, billowing pink organdy, sky-blue marquisette, and sea-green chiffon were perfect complements to the radiant spring day. Her Majesty, Queen Dale Jellison, with her royal attendants, Margie Eichenlaub and Edith Davis, rode in regal splendor to climax the procession.

Old sweet melodies of the past, the Gavotte, the Venetian Waltz, the Polka, and Tulip Time, returned to find their glory enhanced by the years. After the breath-taking moment of the crowning of the queen, these dances were interpreted with true Terpsichorean grace and eagerness by all the dancers.

With the winding of the bright ribbons of the May Pole, and the Grand Finale as the setting, the activities of another colorful May Day were brought to a triumphant close.

"Campie" and qualitative

"Campie" and a theme

"Campie" and McDonald

Helen Marie Camp, the Senior with a smile for everyone, climaxed her career at Ward-Belmont with the highest award the students can give her. An all-round athlete, competent leader, and loyal friend, "Campie" will long be remembered by every girl into whose life she took a little of her own lusty joy in living.

Seniors close a happy year with the class song

STEP SINGING

During the merry month of May, belles find themselves rushing from place to place to be sure to take in all the various and interesting activities. When the first day of June appears, after the busy and exciting month of May, each girl finds herself lost in memories of good times with old friends. Senior-Middles, as well as Seniors, look back on these days as treasured bits to cling to always.

Before the pillars of Academic Building, the Seniors, their hearts filled with a surge of sincere loyalty to their school, take their places and send forth sweet music. The Senior-Middles laud their older sisters with tear-filled eyes as the chimes echo the familiar melodies. The Seniors, this year, were led by talented "Bunny" Ramsay.

The Class of '42 has left with the school a memory forever stamped in the hearts of its associates and surroundings. The spirit and love of each Senior for her class and her school will long be remembered in every place where she walked.

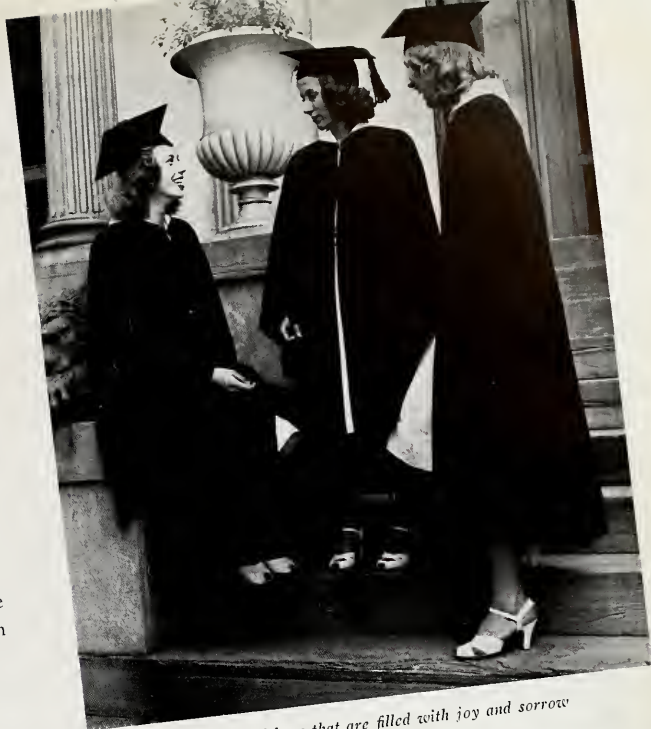

Petite, blonde, and rhythmical, "Bunny" leads the Seniors in their last song

GRADUATION

In stately procession, the Seniors of 1942 have marched up the much-trodden walk from Blanton Academic Building to Acklen Hall. As they silently marched two by two, hall parties, club week ends, class picnics, skating parties, class dances, and other special activities throughout the years loom brightly before them. All these celebrations, as well as many friends, have endeared Ward-Belmont to the heart of each graduate.

As she is presented her diploma, she feels she is the possessor of something to be treasured, and she is proud of the knowledge and charm that have produced the high standing of her school. With President Burk's smile of approval to each belle, she is reminded of the fun of open houses, the delight of her birthday dinner, and the cherished heart-to-heart talks never again to return.

As the 1942 Senior of Ward-Belmont graduates, she is proud of the poise, grace, charm, and knowledge Ward-Belmont has given her and which will be with her through the years to come.

A Bouquet for the College Girl of Today

TODAY, AS NEVER BEFORE, the college girl takes her problems seriously and is fully aware of future responsibilities. She realizes she is preparing to play an important part in keeping democracy alive tomorrow; and the career she plans is now governed by the kind of service she feels she can best give her nation. Such a spirit will keep America a nation free . . . a continual bulwark against tyranny.

The Nashville Hotel Men's Association cheerfully joins in this justly deserved tribute to you—the girls of Ward-Belmont.

FISHOLOGY

Fish is health food,
Pure and simple—
Feeds the mind,
Brings out your dimple;

Should you angle after School is out—
There's good fish yet
As e'er caught out.

Some of these are
Seashore fresh,
So fish for them
With larger mesh.
