Benefit expanded to 3 days of fun

Harpeth Hall Spring Round-up, the Auxiliary's only fund-raiser, has undergone changes each year as the event grows to better benefit the school. This sparkling spring of 1987 will bring —

Friday, April 3
"Putting on the Glitz"

An elegant seated dinner will change the auction format this year. On Friday night in Morrison Gym in McMurray Center, the Silent and Live Auction will kick off the weekend festivities.

Cocktails will begin promptly at 6:30 p.m. with the Silent Auction opened for bids. The Silent Auction has tripled in size from last year and there will be items of interest for everyone.

Dinner will be served at 8 p.m. and will be catered by Frances Pilkerton and promises to be an elegant gourmet suprise created especially for this event, including tenderloin.

The Live Auction will commence at 8:45 p.m. and in this arena we have doubled the number of items from last year. The Auctioneer will be John M. Thetford.

Reservations for the first 300 people can be made by calling Nancy Johnston. The cost is $50 a couple.

Saturday, April 4
Dance Featuring the White Animals

Back by popular demand! The White Animals — Nashville's own nationally known group — promises to rustle up even greater excitement from the crowd this spring than it did at last year's Round-Up.

The group's return engagement is open to the public in grades six through twelve. The cost of tickets is $5 per person, and the dance will be held from 8:30 p.m. until 11:30 p.m. in the Morrison Gym.

Sunday, April 5
Benefit Clothing Sale

New to the auction this year, this event promises to be a glittering addition. Jim Dismukes has offered this opportunity to fill your closets with designer clothing well below retail cost.

Informal modeling and a chance to try on the clothing will be part of this event. The time will be 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Raffle

The raffle will again be featured with super prizes to win and includes incentive prizes for the student who sells the most tickets.

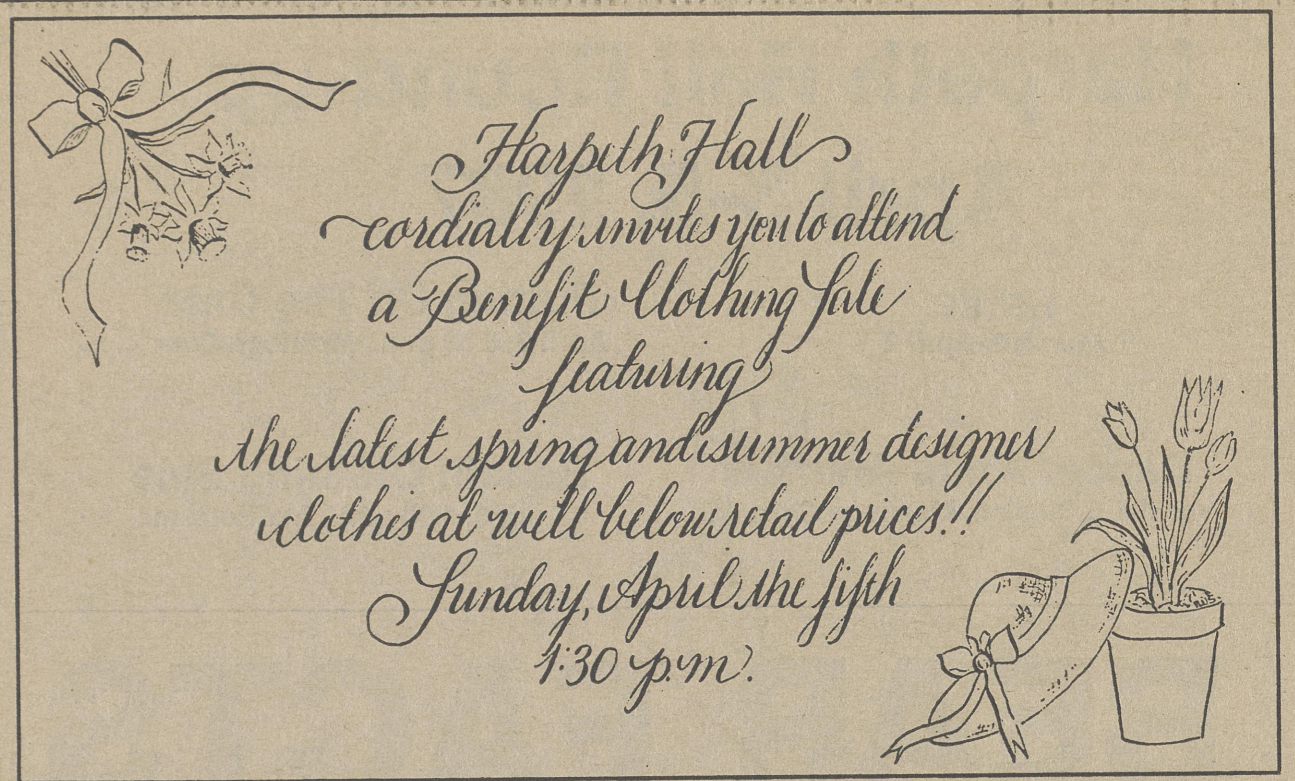

"Putting on the Glitz" chairmen, above, gear up for the elegant seated dinner, slated April 3 in the Morrison Gym.

THE FRENCH SHOPPE
LADIES' APPAREL

The popular White Animals, at left, will return for a dance April 4 in the Morrison Gym, and designer clothing from The French Shoppe will be on sale at a special savings April 5 in the auditorium.

Clothing bargains at April 5 sale

If you like pretty clothes and love a bargain, this is the place to be on April 5.

Col. Jim Dismukes has generously donated this "one day only" opportunity to fill your closet with designer clothes priced well below retail.

The afternoon will include informal modeling, door prizes, and best of all, a chance to try on and purchase fantastic sportswear, daytime and evening wear.

Mark your calendars, invite your friends . . . and don't forget your checkbook! Major credit cards will be accepted.

Proceeds benefit Harpeth Hall. What a deal!

John M. Thetford

Auctioneer brings plenty of experience

John M. Thetford, auctioneer for Harpeth Hall's Live Auction, has worked throughout the eastern and southern states.

He briefly describes his life:

"My boyhood days consisted of growing up in the Green Hills area and attending David Lipscomb grammar and high schools. From there I went to the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, where I played basketball for a year.

"Upon graduation I stayed in Knoxville and worked with Clarence Beaman in the real estate field and in Knox County Assessor's Office on the reappraisal of county property.

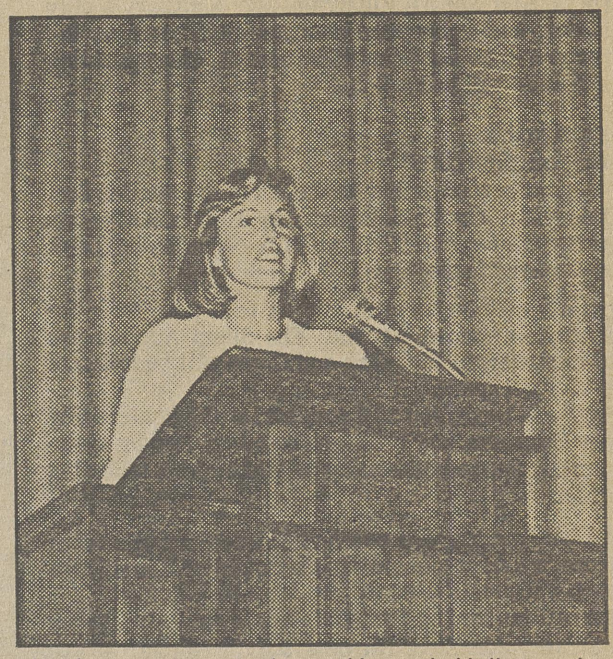

"Eventually I came on board with Sam Furrow and traveled throughout the East and South with his auction company. Some notable sales included liquidation of 1982-84 World's Fair, the UAB and Southern Industrial Banks and related Butcher inventory.

"I am presently employed with Security Federal in the mortgage banking field. I still do auctions on the weekends professionally with Feller Brown and have a great love for the auction process in the sense of energy it creates."
