IMAGES milestones

Whether through words or a camera lens, the images of a yearbook always trigger certain thoughts in every student's mind. Because an image is a likeness or a representation of something much larger and more important, the yearbook is a portrayal of Harpeth Hall's personality. It serves as a reflection of the year and tries to present a clear picture with images of white buildings, plaid skirts, worn-out saddle oxfords, overloaded backpacks, piles of books, loud bells, dreaded pink slips, close friendships, and strong traditions. The yearbook acts as an optical counterpart reflecting memories of all students. It presents Harpeth Hall to the whole community. Because the images of the yearbook will always reflect school memories, the 1990 MILESTONES editors chose images as the theme.

dedication

Clark Glam

Mr. Paul-Leon Tuzeneu

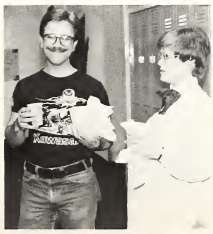

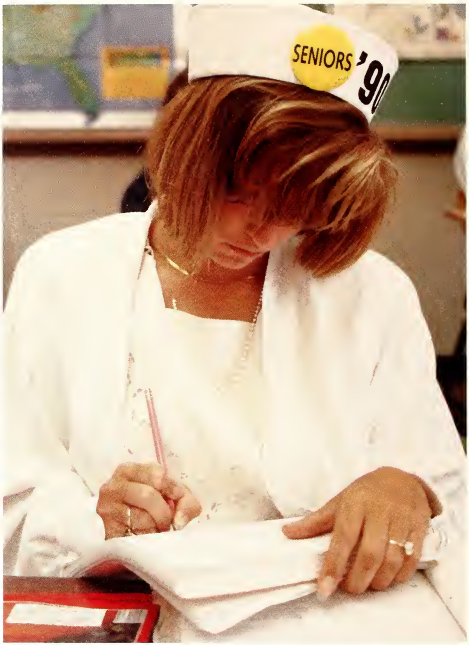

Since his arrival at Harpeth Hall seven years ago, this teacher has shown a true dedication to his profession. He plays an active and vital role in both the faculty's and students' lives. His imaginative and humorous methods of teaching the foreign languages of French and Spanish will always catch the attention of any student. His crazy puns and analogies to help remember vocabulary and grammar reflect his creativity and love for language. Whether from sheer frustration or excitement, he can literally be seen swinging from his windows, bouncing off the walls, or climbing the chalkboard. He can be easily recognized in his cowboy hat, boots, black leather jacket, and cool shades while riding his moto. His relaxed attitude during tests and exams helps to relieve the tension and anxiety of students. He especially goes out of his way to make contact with individual students — even a cheerful "Bonjour" or peppy "Ola!" clearly shows his friendly and outgoing personality as does his loud and boisterous laugh often heard in assemblies. He is also involved with the extracurriculars, particularly FEC and French Club which he sponsors.

He has built a strong reputation for himself as a sympathetic advisor as well as a mediator during Student Faculty Committee meetings. His Winterim class of "Why Bad Things Happen to Good People" has challenged and influenced students' views, and he also serves as an excellent chaperone for Winterim-en-France. He can be seen supporting practically all sports events, to which he may bring his family to cheer on the Honeybears, as well as plays and concerts. For his commitment to Harpeth Hall faculty and students, for his endless energetic, humorous, and positive attitude, and for his absolute love and desire to teach, the 1990 MILESTONES staff respectfully dedicates this year's MILESTONES to Mr. Paul-Leon Tuzeneu.

Who's the Boss?

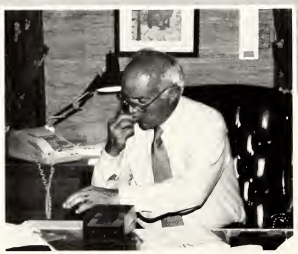

For ten years Mr. Wood has played a vital part in the faculty as Headmaster of our school. He is required to keep the Board of Trustees informed and is responsible for keeping everything at Harpeth Hall running smoothly. Mr. Wood also hires new faculty and makes all the important decisions regarding the welfare of Harpeth Hall. He gets involved by attending school functions, such as sports events, plays, and fundraisers. Mr. Wood is priceless to Harpeth Hall because of his lovable character and his commitment to create the best possible learning environment for the students.

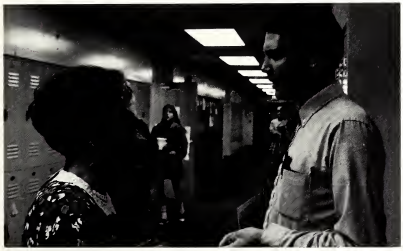

Busy as a Sue B.

Mrs. Susan Baughman brings many special assets to her job as Upper School Director. Her experiences as Special Education teacher and as mother have prepared her for the challenges she faces daily. She oversees normal administrative duties, scheduling, academic counseling, and school discipline. As a Harpeth Hall graduate, she has seen many changes. All the classes were then in Souby Hall, and she laughs, "My office was the kitchen." Though Harpeth Hall has grown a lot in the five years she has been a staff member, it remains the same school it has always been. For the future, Mrs. Baughman hopes to see new programs and increased enrollment go hand in hand with Harpeth Hall's tradition of excellence.

Have you signed out yet?

Tiger Turned Honeycub

Mrs. Sayers, the new Director of the Middle School, had a great first year. Harpeth Hall is not a totally new place for her because she taught many Harpeth Hall students while they were at Ensworth. She was not just a good teacher at Ensworth, but also a close friend to many students. Also, her sister, Mrs. Lentz, is the Guidance Counselor at Harpeth Hall. Mrs. Sayers teaches some Life Skills classes, enabling her to get to know the students personally. Her first year at Harpeth Hall is certainly the start of a great future.

Leader of the Pack

Someone to Watch Over Me

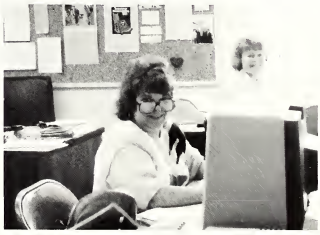

From major crises to petty problems, Liza Lentz always has time to listen. She has won the hearts of students and the attention of parents and faculty. She goes out of her way to hear every side of issues and organizes peer counseling groups that allow girls to talk openly. Mrs. Lentz also teaches a Life Choices class to Sophomores, preparing them for life and future decisions. This year was particularly eventful for her with the arrival of her sister, Lindy Sayers, as the new director of the Middle School in August. Four months later, she gave birth to Eleanor and became a mother of three. Her successful career adds to the healthy atmosphere at Harpeth Hall.

Proud Mommy Liza and Baby Eleanor

Emily Fuller has become an invaluable asset to Harpeth Hall School. As Director of Special Programs, she is in charge of summer classes such as dance and computer. She is also responsible for major programs such as Winterim, Leadership Conference, the bookstore, and the ever-present Bear Patrol, which are unique opportunities that Harpeth Hall is privileged to offer. She also plays a major role in the Development Office and the Parents' Council as well as the Tennessee Association of Independent Schools. This wonderful director has made an obvious difference in the school.

The Three Bears

Mr. McMahan

The person responsible for our beautiful campus, maintenance of our buildings, and setting up for our special events is Mr. Don McMahan. He has been our Plant Manager for seven years. Mr. McMahan says he truly enjoys every day at Harpeth Hall, and each day is a completely new experience. Harpeth Hall relies on Mr. Hayward, the Business Manager, to handle all of the money for the school. He also teaches the Economics class, helping students learn marketing skills. Mr. Hayward says, "There is no truth to the rumor that I am a direct descendent of Uncle Scrooge. I am, in fact, the most generous and dedicated bill collector that Harpeth Hall has ever had!" Take stock in this man. He is one of our greatest assets! Miss Peggy Herring has been at Harpeth Hall since 1974. She previously worked with the Girl Scouts in a similar job. Her job at Harpeth Hall involves handling all accounting including paychecks. Miss Herring has liked Harpeth Hall from the beginning and says, "Everyone at Harpeth Hall is just great."

Mrs. Nichols

The warm, friendly face of Mrs. Hilrie Brown is the first one a student sees when discovering Harpeth Hall. Mrs. Brown, the Director of Admissions, knows what Harpeth Hall has to offer and makes sure each student understands its benefits. She says, "My job involves the recruitment, interviewing, and testing of all prospective students. It is a fun job, and involves selling a product I'm 'sold on' 100%!" Harpeth Hall holds a special meaning for our Director of Alumnae and Development, Mrs. Polly Nichols. She is responsible for all fund-raising, and her strong belief in a Harpeth Hall education makes her involvement easy. Mrs. Nichols' positive attitude and expertise bring financial support and friends for our school. Miss Smith, our Director of Alumnae Affairs, is a new staff member but is very familiar with Harpeth Hall. As a graduate of Harpeth Hall, she knows how important it is that the alumnae be kept informed of current events at Harpeth Hall. She organizes get-togethers, sends letters, and works with Development. Miss Smith says she loves her job, and it is the most fun she has ever had.

Whistle While You Work

One asset of Harpeth Hall which serves faculty and students is the Annie C. Allison library. The library staff includes the librarians and mothers who volunteer their help. Mrs. Manier, head librarian, and Mrs. Rumsey, assistant librarian, are capable assistants. Under these two, the library has grown considerably, and they have made the library an interesting source of information. Another asset is the office staff. Harpeth Hall would be unable to function without Mrs. Green and Miss Reed, secretaries of Upper School, Mrs. Mabry, Middle School secretary, Mrs. Ayers, Development Assistant, and Mrs. Smith, secretary. All play vital roles in the school's daily activities.

The English Department continues to uphold its reputation for excellence. Dr. Murray Sellers was pleased that Ms. Laura Huff joined the faculty teaching Advanced Freshmen English and sections of Sophomore English. Ms. Margaret Renkl and Ms. Derah Myers challenge the upperclassmen in their writing and study of literature. Creative Writing supplements the traditional curriculum. Mrs. Loni DesJardin and Mrs. Lisa Archer give Middle Schoolers a solid background in English. Classes are taught by teachers who are intelligent and understanding, making the English Department an important part of Harpeth Hall's curriculum.

Few realize how much the Language Department adds to the school. Students are required to take two years of Latin, French, or Spanish; however, many students go on to complete five years of a language in order to take Advanced Placement Tests. The Language Department headed by Mrs. Ward sponsors many clubs like the JCL, the French Club, the FEC, sponsored by Mr. Tuzeneu, and the Spanish Club, headed by Mrs. Couch. The Language Department encourages all to be involved in their many organizations.

Blast to the Past

Joy to the World

The History Department, chaired by Dr. Art Echerd, has expanded a great deal in the past few years. Dr. Cooper's "The American Political System" was lengthened from a semester course to a year-long one. A new course, "The Contemporary World," rounds out the department's curriculum. Other oldies, such as the politics/economics taught by Mr. Springman and Mr. Hayward, are still popular. Miss Wynne and Mrs. Duvier provide Middle School students with a background for future history courses. The department's expansion has been well received, and students are taking more history courses.

Please Excuse My Dear Aunt Sally

Have you ever been deep into a quadratic equation when "Will I ever use this in real life?" crosses your mind? According to math teachers Dr. Jones, Mrs. Svaren, and Mr. Wert, you are learning logic skills that will help you solve future problems. Mrs. Burr and Mrs. Wills try to make math interesting for Middle School students. Ms. Wieczerza's computer classes complete our strong Math Department. Department head Mrs. Oxley believes the math teachers are a fun bunch of people. "We get together for dinners, substitute when necessary, and help each other out on the rare occasion one of us doesn't have the answer."

Old King Mole

The Science Department at Harpeth Hall is particularly strong this year. Whether dissecting frogs on the computer with Miss T or studying for Mrs. Nash's infamous rock test, students are impressed by the faculty's innovative ways of teaching. Students will never forget the endless hours spent in Dr. Jones' physics help sessions. The curriculum is demanding, but the benefits are immeasurable. Some unforgettable traditions, such as Miss Felkel's Frog Day and Mr. Sellers' Mole Day, have grown out of the Science Department. Originally science was not stressed at Harpeth Hall, but now it is a very important part of the curriculum, mostly due to the enthusiastic faculty.

Free to Be You and Me

The Fine Arts Department has always played a large role at Harpeth Hall. This is because Harpeth Hall offers various courses, such as chorus led by Mrs. Foster, and drama headed by Mrs. Klocko. Mr. Goodwin teaches art and photography. Mrs. Paschall also shares her talents by teaching art classes. Playmakers presented two great performances, and the Dance Clubs dazzled students in their Spring Concert. The chorus displayed its talents in wonderful concerts, and there were many art shows. From voice lessons to silkscreening, art students also gained valuable experience during Winterim. Harpeth Hall's Art Department allows each student to broaden or discover new talents.

Just Do It.

The P.E. and Dance Departments have maintained a strong record at Harpeth Hall. Mrs. Moran, the head of the P.E. Department, teaches P.E classes and coaches the tennis and volleyball teams. The classes include everything from badminton to archery under Mrs. Moran and Mrs. Russ. The dance program is directed by Ms. Matthews and Mrs. Hamilton. Beginning with the fundamentals and moving to more sophisticated dance, each girl comes out with a general knowledge of the art. Dance teachers are famous for their relaxation techniques which help break the tension, particularly during exams. Both P.E. and dance are great programs at Harpeth Hall.

The Round Table

The foremost purpose of the Honor Council at Harpeth Hall is to "promote personal honesty and integrity" in the student body. The first step towards doing so each school year is the Honor Council assembly. At this year's assembly, the Council's thirteen members — five seniors, four juniors, two sophomores, and two freshmen — were introduced to the student body by their sponsor, Mrs. Baughman. Following the introduction, vice-president Julia Sutherland explained the basic hearing procedures of the Council. President Katherine Bomboy was the highlight of the assembly with a strong speech stressing the importance of respect for one another, exemplified in adherence to the Honor System. Secretary Brooke Graham then administered the oath of office to the Honor Council. In conclusion, a pledge to abide by the Honor Code was taken by the entire student body.

What would Harpeth Hall be without the Student Council? There would be no dances, pizza movie nights, or club competitions. This organization runs the "Bear Necessities," a place where students can buy school supplies and sweatshirts. Every year, the Student Council sponsors a fall dance paid with the profits of the Bear Necessities. Another popular event is the exchange with M.B.A. when the members of the Student Council visit the other school for one day. Lillian Roe, the vice-president, likes the Student Council because, "It's a good way to get people involved in school events by providing a break from the workload." Other activities include The Concert on the Lawn, hot chocolate breaks, and the Harpeth Hall/M.B.A. cookout.

Service with a Smile

Have you ever wanted to be a hostess for Cheekwood's "Trees of Christmas," entertain needy children, or serve lunch at the Rescue Mission? If you have, then the Key Club is the club for you! The Key Club, a vital part of Harpeth Hall for ten years, is still going strong. The third all-female Key Club in the world has about 100 members. Mrs. Wills, the sponsor, has been there every step of the way. The purpose of the Key Club is to serve the Nashville and Harpeth Hall communities by giving their time and effort for the benefit of others. The Key Club sponsors the used book sale, Santa pictures, the Blood Mobile, and other fund-raisers, enabling them to generously contribute to several non-profit organizations. If you want to feel great about yourself and be greatly appreciated by others, join the Key Club!

Whenever a honeybear has a suggestion, a question, a problem, or a complaint concerning the school, this group of interested students and faculty members is always ready to listen. The Student/Faculty Committee, made up of students and teachers, is designed to make Harpeth Hall a more pleasant place to learn by discussing problems at the school. These concerned elders and peers hold regular meetings in the basement of the library. This year, the Student/Faculty Committee made two very important decisions to benefit the students. Now, students exhausted from long nights of studying for exams need not awaken and don their uniforms, but they can, and most did, wear what they slept in the night before. The reign of the saddle oxford was ended by the new alternative of the stylish black penny loafers. Truly, the Student/Faculty Committee is making tracks!

If I Only Had a Brain

The Cum Laude Assembly this year was very impressive, as it always is. Mrs. Mary Lee Manier was the speaker, and she gave a speech about all aspects of time. The society honors the top twenty percent of the graduating class. Ten percent of the class is inducted in the spring of their junior year, and ten percent a year later. New members inducted into the society this year were Melissa Bledsoe, Alison Brooks, Kathy Falk, Leigh Fitts, Emily Haynes, Lainie Petrie, Lillian Roe, Anne Blaufuss, Courtney Coker, Meghan Scanlon, Wendy Sellers, and Beth Trabue. Dr. Murray Sellers of our English Department was also inducted because of her superior work on her doctorate at the University of Florida. This society is dedicated to honoring those students who uphold extremely high academic standards. As Mr. Wood pointed out, Cum Laude is one of the most if not the most important organizations at Harpeth Hall, and these girls definitely deserved this honor.

MILESTONES comes to you in the form of a book. Throughout the year there are two groups who wonder how this will ever be — the MILESTONES Staff and the Photography Crew. Our work begins in August selling ads to help defer the yearbook cost. Tuesday afternoons, CERTAIN members of the photography crew work diligently developing and printing pictures. Tracey Robinson, Noni Nielsen, Molly Meyer, Susan Moulton, Julie Barrett, Anna Cowden, Molly Crook, Kim Warren, Beth Trabue, and Genny Frazer should be recognized for their hard work on the photography crew. Friday afternoons, after a delicious snack, the staff begins the taxing work of typing the articles, cropping pictures, drawing and copying layouts. At times "deadlines were yesterday" and "nothing seems to fit on this page," but we all endured and acquired patience. Thanks to our advertising patrons, students, faculty and staff of Harpeth Hall, MILESTONES staff, crew, editors and Mrs. Archer, the 1990 MILESTONES materialized.

Start Spreading the News

Logos II, "the word of Harpeth Hall," is the informative and entertaining school newspaper. It is written and edited by students, for the students, so it is of interest to every girl at Harpeth Hall. Each edition contains informative articles, editorials examining the controversial issues on campus, and updates on sports teams. Sponsored by Ms. Renkl and Ms. Huff and edited jointly by juniors Melissa Bledsoe and Allyson Bourke each issue of the paper is the product of many hours of work and dedication on the part of each staff member. The writers and photographers of Logos II are also very important to the high standards of each issue. The paper is an easy way for students to stay informed.

Poetry is life.

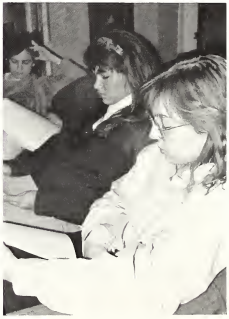

Ms. Derah Myers, Lihbin Shiao, Elizabeth Edwards, and Virginia Kelley

Penstaff is Harpeth Hall's literary organization which provids an outlet for students with a creative streak. Every other Wednesday night, students come together and discuss and critique their personal works. Penstaff members mainly focus on their own poetry and creative writings. Penstaff accepts some of these submissions to Hallmarks — a literary magazine full of the students' arts, poetry, and short stories. Led by president Elizabeth Edwards and sponsor Ms. Myers, Penstaff gives students the opportunity to express themselves.

Quill and Scroll

Watch out Honeybears! Little do you know, but sitting beside you in class might be the next Lois Lane or Eudora Welty. A possible warning sign: is she a member of Quill and Scroll? This group is a national honorary society for high school journalists. Girls become members by taking part in one or more of the three Harpeth Hall literary publications: Hallmarks, Milestones, and Logos II. Quill and Scroll requires that members be editors and have shown a true interest and dedication to journalism for a minimum of two years. Also to be eligible, Quill and Scroll members must place in the top one third of their class academically. Sponsor, Mrs. Lisa Archer, inducted seven seniors and two juniors into this honorary society on September 27, 1989.

Les Peux, Les Superbes, Les Honoraires

French Honor Society

The French Honor Society, a national honorary organization, recognizes excellent students who are interested in continuing studying French. Eligible students are those who have completed three or more years of French while having no less than an A- average and a B average in all other courses. These students must also have a strong desire and enthusiasm in studying the language. Mr. Tuzeneu is the sponsor and encourages all students to expand their awareness in foreign languages as these students have done.

Mu Alpha Theta

If you look in a very big dictionary, among its many other definitions, math will be defined as . . . a Hindu monastery. Obscure usage no doubt, but you never know when you might need juicy mathematical trivia. If, however, you're in need of some more useful mathematical knowledge, never fear. Harpeth Hall has six members of Mu Alpha Theta, a national math honor society. All members are in their fourth year of math with no less than a B+. Lead by Mrs. Oxley, they participate in the Vanderbilt math contest and tutor fellow students throughout the year.

Tag That Turtle

The three-year-old Science Club had an exciting agenda this year. President Wendy Sellers was busy planning field trips and having guest speakers talk during meetings. Some of their activities included visiting Montgomery Bell State Park one Saturday and having students share their experiences as volunteers working as archeologist and marine biologist. The Science Club has also taken on the challenge to sponsor two students to work on a loggerhead turtle project in Savannah, Georgia. This past year has been an exciting and fun year for the science club members.

S.A.V.E. the World

This 1989-1990 year, concerned students of Harpeth Hall decided to form an enviromental club called S.A.V.E. (Students Against the Violation of the Environment). The president Jane Campbell, started this club because the environment is one of the most pressing concerns for the future. Mrs. Svaren and Ms. Huff are the sponsors. The main goal of S.A.V.E. is to educate the students on topics like the Greenhouse Effect, animal cruelty, and pollution. They also want to interest the students in recycling things such as paper and aluminum cans.

Y.I.G.

Youth in Goverment is a rather new organization to Harpeth Hall. This is only its second year in existence, but it is rapidly growing in popularity. The two main activities of youth in government are Model United Nations and Youth Legislature. In Model U.N., a group of students pick a country to represent and try to get a bill for that country into the General Assembly. Youth Legislature lets the students propose bills and try to get their bills to become laws. Youth in Government is a wonderful way for students to become acquainted with our American government.

Thinking Straight

Even though it has only been at Harpeth Hall for two years, the Thinking Straight Club is well known among students. Thinking Straight gives students a chance to do fun activities without the use of drugs and alcohol. One of their many outings took members to Showbiz Pizza Place for food as well as entertainment. Another time, the members went bowling. They may have made strikes in bowling, but not in their lives because they made the decision to stay free of drugs and alcohol. The club has not set their minor objectives yet, but their main objective is to keep students THINKING STRAIGHT.

To Be or Not To Be

The stars shined at Harpeth Hall in Playmakers! The plays would not be possible without the hard work and dedication of this organization. They were a vital part of the productions, No, No Nanette and Nightwatch, for they helped build and paint the sets, make posters, and advertise for the plays. All of the "behind the scenes" work was done by Playmakers. Mrs. Janette Klocko sponsored the group, and Julia Sutherland was the president. The school's theatrical productions get better and better with the outstanding work of Playmakers.

The Hall is Alive

"Altos — use your FM D.J. voice! Sopranos — BREATHE!" and all other musically related ejaculations can be heard wafting out of the music room on any given Monday, Wednesday, or Friday along with, of course, music. This year the Upper School Chorus rehearsed and presented a variety of music, ranging from seventeenth-century madrigals to Kentucky folk songs, to modern Broadway and pop music. The chorus, directed by Mrs. McLauren Foster and accompanied by Mrs. Marian Ross, gave both a fall performance of a medley from Les Miserables and a more varied spring concert.

Foreign Exchange Club

Harpeth Hall's Foreign Exchange Club offers the students a chance to have a small taste of many other countries and cultures by supporting many fun events such as the F.E.C. Celebrations in the fall and the Dessert Fest in the spring. Celebrations like these give everyone the chance to sample different foods from the far away lands of Russia and Jamaica. Sadly, the F.E.C. was not fortunate enough to sponsor a foreign exchange student this year. In honor of Foreign Language Week, the F.E.C. celebrated by taking a group to the Old Spaghetti Factory. F.E.C. has been great success again this year.

Spanish Club

The Harpeth Hall Spanish Club, headed by Mrs. Couch, participated in the Halloween party and the FEC celebration, but they also have taken on individual projects this year. The club adopted a needy Spanish family as their service project this year. They also provided entertainment during assembly period by sponsoring the annual pinata bust. The Spanish Club also went to some Spanish cultural events such as a Spanish dancing competition at T.S.U., a state Spanish competition, and dinner at Los Cunados. They contribute to the Nashville community as well as the Harpeth Hall community which is what makes the Spanish Club so successful.

French Club

Le francaise est magnifique, and the members of the French Club will readily agree. Under the leadership of president Anne Prosser, the French Club has brought the culture of France to Harpeth Hall. This fall they celebrated the 100th anniversary of the Eiffel Tower, and went to see the French version of Dangerous Liasons at Sarratt. French Club members also experienced French lifestyle through fine cuisine. Outings such as dining at Bon Appetit or continental breakfasts offered members a taste of what French life is like. The French Club is also responsible for the ever-popular French room at the FEC celebration. Le Cercle Francais is a great opportunity for those interested in the French Society. C'est chouette!

J.C.L.

The JCL has become a major part of the language program. Although it is commonly called the Latin Club, many members have never had any Latin. With Kara Emerson as president and Mrs. Joyce Ward as sponsor, the club had an exciting year. New and old members were initiated into the JCL Club by wearing various decorations sporting the JCL colors: purple and gold. They sponsored two parties as well as a duds day and the Italian room for the FEC Celebrations. JCL members celebrated both Rome's birthday and Saturnalia by singing songs and giving presents to their secret pals. Some may say that Latin is a dead language, but Harpeth Hall's JCL surely isn't!

"Gotta Dance . . ." was the only thought on the girls' mind as they headed for the dance club auditions in August. During the fall, those who made it worked on developing form and technique with Ms. Matthews and Mrs. Hamilton. From Thanksgiving until after Winterim they had a break, but in February the dancers resumed their work as they began to choreograph pieces. The culmination of their efforts was revealed in the Annual Spring Dance Concert which is always a huge success.

The Art of Dance (Beth Mitchell 1987): Power, grace, rhythm, expression. A rare sort of beauty. The union of body and mind. Bending and brushing, leaping and turning. Moving through space. Exploring, stretching, reaching . . . at times almost floating. Endless energy being released. Sustained, percussive, vibratory. A breathless moment suspended in time. Requiring effort and dedication. All for the sound of hands clapping and a lifetime of inner peace.

Intramural

A tradition carried over from Ward Belmont days, the intramural clubs of Harpeth Hall foster sportsmanship and competitive spirit in every student. Each girl is a member of one of the four clubs namely Ankgor, Eccowasin, Ariston, and Triad. These clubs participate in a myriad of different competions during the year ranging from tennis to bowling, basketball to a quiz bowl, and culminating in a well-prepared song contest at All-Club Picnic.

MS Student Council

The Middle School Student Council plays a big role in Middle School life by organizing orientation for the Big and Little Sisters and serving at the Grandmother's Tea. It sponsors many activities for the Middle Schoolers like the Halloween costume contest and the talent show. Mrs. Mabry, sponsor, Lindsley Wellborn, president, and Robinette Weiss, vice-president, worked together as a team, along with the other council representatives, to get those activities in motion.

MS Newspaper

New this year to Harpeth Hall was the Middle School paper which was compiled by, edited by, and printed on the computer by the Middle Schoolers themselves. This year's two editions included happenings in the Middle School, articles on issues important to the 6th, 7th, and 8th graders, as well as poetry. Director of the Middle School, Mrs. Sayers, sees the paper as a creative outlet for all those students who are interested in writing and hopes along with the rest of the Middle School that next year it will expand to include more editions.

Parlez-vous francais? The year was filled with many exciting events for the Middle School French Club members. One such activity was the initiation at the beginning of the year. Another event was the French banquet where the members played fun games and presented skits. The sponsor, Mr. Lauderdale, provided great leadership, ideas, and fun all year long. One member said, "It was really fun and the games we played were great. I also enjoyed the French Banquet." If you like French, then you will love this club.

The Middle School Latin Club had a year of activities, contests, and cultural events. The elected officers, Mrs. Ward, and Mrs. Watt organized fun-filled gatherings throughout the year so that Latin students would be able to learn more about Roman traditions and history. Once again this year, the Latin club members participated in the mid-state and state Latin convention, where students from all over Tennessee competed in written tests, art work, oral presentations, athletic events, and many other Roman oriented contests.

Play to Win

The Upper School soccer team had a wonderful year as they went undefeated in regional play. Seven seniors, coach Kathy Wieczerza, and assistant coach Tad Wert helped carry the team through the season. The St. Cecilia game was one to remember. All the lights went out so everyone had to sit and wait a long time, but the Honeybears hung in there and came out on top. The soccer team made it all the way to sub-state in the tournament, but ended up losing 1-0 in a tough game against our arch rivals, Franklin. Despite many injuries and other set-backs our team definitely had a year worth remembering!

The Senior House foretells doom for Father Ryan.

The Ultimate Contest

The Upper School Cross Country team had an exciting season this year. They began working before school started in August and finished in November. Coaches Mrs. Susan Russ and Dr. Heath Jones provided support and encouragement for the entire group. The team was very successful and placed well in many major meets. They took one road trip to Memphis for the Frank Horton Invitational in which they placed first. Coach Russ said, "This has been a great year! Although our tenth place finish in the state meet was disappointing, the overall season was a huge success. The potential for this team in the next couple of years has no limits if these girls continue to work as hard as they have this year."

The Varsity Volleyball team had a rip-roaring season this year. Coached by Pat Moran, the Varsity Volleyball team was led to many long-awaited victories, like the one over Brentwood Academy. Although the team consisted of thirteen players, everyone got a chance to play. The starting players were Katherine Bomboy, Angie Gore, Megan Smithwick, Christin Mathes, Anna Gray Anderson, Shannon Simpson, Missy McKeand, and Shelley Carmichael. The Varsity Vollyball team won 26 games and lost only 11 games. Two outstanding players made All-District Tournament teams: Megan Smithwick was nominated on four all-tournament teams, and Christin Mathes was nominated on two all-tournament teams. Overall, Upper School Volleyball players produced a terrific season.

Sooo . . . are you ready for a rematch, MBA?

Frosh Set a Great Season

Bump, Set, Spike, Serve . . . the Harpeth Hall Freshman Volleyball Team proved themselves to be an excellent asset to Harpeth Hall's athletic program. From before the begining of school to late November, these underclassmen worked hard at practices and matches alike and really strove to become a team. Coach DesJardin led this Honeybear team to some big wins, especially the memorable victory against Harpeth Academy. Freshman Ki Daniels speaks enthusiasticaly about the JV Volleyball team's season: "It was a tough year — we had a number of close matches settled in overtime, but we all had fun and just learned to enjoy the game."

Annie Get Your Gun

Every Tuesday night for five months, a group of fearless athletes met in the riflery range on the Vanderbilt campus. Their mission: to shoot targets in each of four positions and eventually to beat MBA's riflery team. They succeeded very nicely and added another trophy to Harpeth Hall's weighty collection of plastic dust-catchers. To reach their goal, the nine team members had much to overcome: faulty equipment, one-sleeved jackets, the loss of teammates, danger of lead poisoning, and the popular opinion that riflery is not a "real sport." Despite the unavoidable blood, sweat, and tears, many team members will undoubtedly return. Coach Bob Van Cleave feels that next year's team will be the best ever.

Hole in one!

The golf team had a fabulous season this year, despite the fact that they had only two players on the team. This fall twice a week, sophomore Leigh Wayburn and freshman Linden Wiesman would play at McCabe Golf Course. They won every game of the season and almost made it to the state tournament. Linden Wiesman did qualify for the state in individual play. They were coached by Miss Reed, who is a former pro golfer and once won the state tournament. The team 'did remarkably well, and as Leigh Wayburn said, "It was a great experience to play an individual sport."

Shoot for

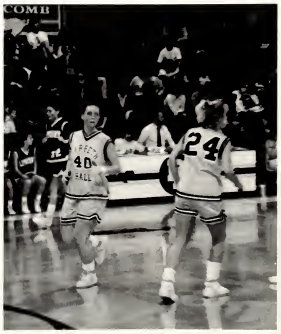

The 1989-90 varsity basketball team began their season in December. They worked hard throughout the season and were very successful. The team was led by seniors Courtney Coker, Megan Smithwick, Ellen Ozier, and Beth Trabue who all added the spirit needed to have a winning season. With this senior spirit and the outstanding talent of the junior and sophomore team members, the Harpeth Hall varsity basketball team was respected by the entire school. In his third year of coaching, Mr. Tony Springman, Coach of the Year, led the team to their success through hard workouts and pep talks. Perhaps the most outstanding characteristic of this team was their devotion. The players even practiced and played games during Winterim. This was a team of which the school can be proud.

JV Gets That Winning Stride

From November to February, five days a week, the Harpeth Hall JV Basketball team put in tough and grueling workouts at both practices and games. Although this underclassmen team receives less recognition in comparison to the Varsity basketball team, their spirit and attitude are hard to beat. Coach Trzuskowski led the team to several big victories against other schools, such as St. Cecilia, University School, and Tullahoma. Sophomores Missy McKeand, Shelley Carmichael, and Ginna Maxwell and freshman Kate Sherrard also played for the Varsity Basketball team and were of great assistance. Team member Missy McKeand told how "at first, the new underclassmen played differently and worked more as individuals than as a team. But by the end of the season, we had come together as one unit."

First row: Courtney Cooper, Mollie Mills, Lydia Lara. Second row: Shelley Carmichael, Ginna Maxwell, Shannon Simpson, Missy McKeand, Amy Lowen, Kate Sherrard, Ms. Trzuskowski.

If you're happy and you know it . . .

Seven cheerleaders and the bear started their season this summer with cheerleading camp for four days at Vanderbilt. Camp and the aid of captain Anne Blaufuss gave the seven first-time varsity cheerleaders the opportunity to unify and set objectives for the year. During the year they met twice a week to practice their cheerleading techniques, to make signs, and to discuss ways to increase school spirit. Their new bulletin board kept the students up to date on the athletic events. They began to rally spirit at their first pep rally on the Leadership Conference and followed up by decorating everyone's locker for the first day of school. On November 27, the cheerleaders helped break into the 1989-90 basketball season by sponsoring a pep rally.

In its third year of existence, the Harpeth Hall swim team had a very successful season. Coached by Mrs. Trish Petrie, the Bearacudas were enthusiastic and had many victories. They competed against GPS in Chatanooga and in the conference meet in Lavergne. In both competitions they placed first. They also swam in the state meet where they came in fifth. The diving team was also coached by Mrs. Petrie. Abbay Eaden came in sixth at the State meet. One swimmer said, "Everyone worked together to do well as a team in all of the meets, although individual success was important as well. The experience was definitely worth the effort."

The track team won the Regionals and came in third place in the state meet. Freshmen track members, Mary Britton Thompson and Tricia Bryan, gave their feelings about the season: "Practices were hard, and we'll never forget those Steeplechase runs, but it all paid off in the end. We'll never forget those new friends we made." The Harpeth Hall track team's spirit and outstanding ability made the 1990 season very successful.

Watch Out,

The Upper School Tennis team had a sensational 1989-90 season. Their many hours of hard work paid off as they came out first in regions and the district tournament. They went on to place second in the state. Amanda Mathews made it to the state quarter-finals, and Deena Raja went to the state semifinals. The Seniors Amanda Mathews and Murray Polk helped lead their team to victory. This definitely was a great year for the team as they proved that they were one of the best teams in the state.

Spike it, Honeycubs!

The 1989-90 Middle School Volleyball team started off another great season, bumping, setting, and spiking their way to the top. For a month and a half, their dedicated volleyball coach, Ms. Trzuskowski, helped the Middle School team to improve and work together. By the time the HVAC tournament rolled around, these Honeycubs were ready to win. They began the tournament as 2nd seed and continued to beat FRA and Brentwood. When they got to the finals, they beat Ensworth, winning overall. The Middle School Volleyball team has been playing its best this year. The Harpeth Hall student body anxiously awaits next year's team in hopes that they can match their predecessors' spirit, skill, and teamwork.

The Middle School cross country team enjoyed a great season placing third in the finals and never less than third in any meet. Mrs. Marie Burr coached the team and led three runners to the top twenty at the finals: Lori Miles, Christine West, and Kristin Jones. Team Manager Whitney Samuels kept things going smoothly as the runners endured torturous workouts in different weather and learned not to drink milk before running. The team even enjoyed their training. Seventh grader Kristin Jones says, "It is hard work but we had lots of fun. One day we ran to Mrs. Sayers' house and swam. We also painted our arms and legs green for the finals!"

Honeycubs, Be Aggressive!

This year's Honeycub Basketball Team had a very successful season. They learned a lot about the sport which will prepare them for the Upper School Basketball Team later in their Harpeth Hall careers. Led by coach Mrs. Loni DesJardin, this group of Harpeth Hall Middle Schoolers worked together as a team towards a common goal. When they first started they were only a group of individual basketball players. However, by the end of the season, they were a well-oiled machine that worked together like cogs in a wheel.

The Middle School Cheerleaders are bubbling with spirit this year because a lot of important changes have been made to benefit the squad. The cheerleading squad, which consists of both seventh and eighth graders, have just begun to cheer for sixth grade teams, a first for the Middle School and the cheerleaders! Also, the squad received brand new uniforms, which were greatly needed, and adorable honeybear emblems on them. The Middle School cheerleaders were ebullient and enthusiastic as they practiced about once or twice a week. With each kick, jump, or hurray, these talented bunch of cheerleaders increased the spirit of the entire Middle School.

Good Time Had By All

The small but mighty sixth-grade team had a fun-filled season this year. Kathy Stumb and Carol Stephenson did a great job coaching. The seventeen member team enjoyed several victories this year, being especially proud of their win over St. Bernard's Academy. The members of the team said that they had a great time on and off the court, and they felt it was a wonderful experience. The girls also thought that the coaches did a really good job and hope that Ms. Stumb and Ms. Stephenson will continue to coach the basketball teams in the future.

Swinging to Success!

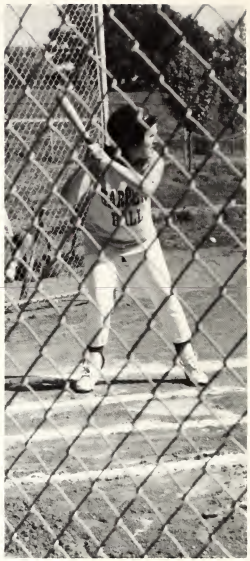

The 1989-1990 soccer team, coached by Tad Wert, had fun together and had a successful season. The team mainly consisted of younger players from the sixth and seventh grades that can continue to play for the team next year. The leading scorer, Katherine Wray, had this to say, "We really had a great team, and it was lots of fun!". Claire Thornley was the goalie, and Mary Pillow Kirk was the lead defense. Each honeycub learned how to work hard and get along with other teammates while both practicing and playing. Obviously, the Middle School soccer team is alive and kicking!

Stealing Home

This year the Middle School softball team had a wonderful season. With the help of their new pitching machine and their supportive coach, Nancy Duvier, the team pulled together, played well, and had fun. Challenging games against other teams in the league instilled a great deal of Honeycub spirit in the entire Middle School. Next year everyone is looking forward to an equally enjoyable season.

The team was very excited to defeat Ensworth in the HVAC final meet. The eighth graders particularly played a major role in leading the team to a victorious season. In addition to the thrill of victory, the Middle School girls also enjoyed getting in shape for the summer. One team member commented, "Although it was hard work, I had work, I had a lot of fun!"

The Harpeth Hall Middle School Tennis Team really came through this year in a terrific season. Throughout the tennis season, seventh graders Katherine Wray and Muffin McNabb led their team to many victories. They both were seated first and second on their tennis ladder. Did It Make a Difference?

On August 18, faculty and student leaders traveled to Land Between the Lakes for the tenth annual Leadership Conference. In small group meetings students dicussed ways to "Make a Difference" at Harpeth Hall. The girls held club and class meetings and attended workshops focusing on parliamentary procedure and other skills. The conference also gave participants free time to enjoy activities such as Trivial Pursuit and the ever popular "cup" game. All in all, everyone agreed the conference was valuable and entertaining, and the upcoming year would be successful.

Join the Club

Well . . . HELLO!

For thirty minutes once a year, Bullard Gym can remind you of the grocery before a big storm. It was not a snow storm, but it was Club Fair. This is the time of year when clubs, like the French Club or Playmakers, advertise their organizations. Trying to intice old and new members, some clubs dressed outlandishly or had their booths decorated extravagantly. Science Club officers dressed in lab coats, and Playmakers adorned themselves in costumes. With freshmen signing up for everything in sight, the Club Fair was a great success as usual with a lot of noise and fun. We can all look forward to Club Fair once again next year.

Get a Little Closer

The Advisor/Advisee system is a great chance for students to get to know a teacher in a relaxed atmosphere. Every year, Mrs. Lentz assigns each Upper School student to a teacher. Most groups have about ten students. This is smaller than a class size, therefore bringing more attention to the individual girl. The groups meet during assembly periods and also plan fun outings such as Advisor/Advisee dinners. If a student has any problems, she can feel free to discuss it with her advisor. Most students seem to think that the Advisor/Advisee system is a great idea. One student commented, "I think the groups are fun and especially helpful for new students."

Cookie Monster

You've Come a Long Way, Baby

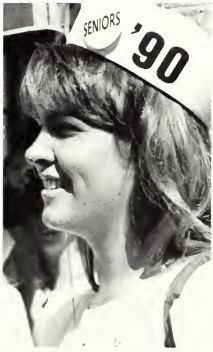

Are you a Senior? Cause I'm a Senior. S-E-N-I-O-R! Seniors are the best! The Class of 1990 roamed the school dressed in white on Septmember 18, Senior Recognition Day, the day they received their coveted beanies, white nautical hats with the class colors, flourescent green and black. A tradition originating at Ward Belmont, Senior Recognition Day gives the school a chance to honor the Seniors. Only yesterday they were bewildered sixth graders below the library. Finally they moved up to the Senior House, previously forbidden territory. Leaders of the school, the Senior Class sets the standard for the year, and this Senior Class is full of spirit and enthusiasm.

You're never fully dressed without a smile

Little Cabin in the Woods

On September 16th, the Freshman class loaded up for Camp Cedar Crest. When they arrived, they were divided into many cabins. Then the fun began. There were many activities to help the freshmen get to know each other. Some of these were Freshman Olympics, skits, and watching Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure. One freshman commented, "I was amazed at how many people I got to know better than I had before. I thought it was really helpful." Another freshman agreed, "I loved it. I made a lot of new friends." On Sunday morning the buses, full of tired freshmen, rolled into the Harpeth Hall parking lot. Although they were exhausted, they were happy knowing that they had all gained something from the retreat.

Rise and Shine!

Take the Money and Run

And they're off!

Run for the Green II was as successful this year as it was two ago. On a sunny October 15, Harpeth Hall students, faculty members, and alumnae walked or ran around the track. The goal of this event was to raise money for Harpeth Hall by having sponsors pledge a certain amount of money each time a participant completed a lap. Prizes were awarded to the students who received the greatest number of pledges or the highest pledge per lap. "The Honey Bear Grill" was a new feature which served hamburgers, hot dogs, and many other items to the exhausted and famished participants. Runners, walkers, and by-standers all had a wonderful time.

Future Honeybear

. . . And St. Cecilia Came

Harpeth Hall and M.B.A. students huddled around a huge bonfire on a cold October evening at the second annual Harpeth Hall/M.B.A. cookout sponsored by the Student Councils. Beside the M.B.A. track, hot chocolate and hot dogs were served to the shivering bystanders waiting for the M.B.A. cheerleaders to begin the pep rally. One student commented, "Because we go to an all-girls school, we don't get to see our other guy friends very often. At the cookout, it felt like we went to a co-ed school — it was great!" Everyone agreed that the cookout was a great way to start off the three-day Homecoming weekend, and it put everyone in high spirits for the football game the following evening.

Shake it, Marge!

The Price Is Right

And it's sold to the girl in the kilt!

Going once, going twice, going three times . . . and sold! One might wonder what was going on in the auditorium on the day of the Senior Lunch Auction because of the chaotic atmosphere. With Mr. Tuzeneu the auctioneer, the screaming bidders, and the jeering seniors, this fast-paced exchange of money for exotic lunches has grown to be one of the year's most anticipated assemblies. Much support was shown for the class of 1990 at this year's auction. Those who bought lunches were pleased with their assortments of food, drink, magazines, toys, and condiments. Though there was not enough time to sell all the lunches, the auction was a great success.

Foreign Indigestion

With the help of the officers and members, president Julia Kirk and sponsor Mr. Tuzeneu made the FEC celebration a great hit this year. FEC is the Foreign Exchange Club which finances exchange students that come to Harpeth Hall. The celebration is one of their major fund-raisers. Many countries such as France, Italy, Japan, Jamaica, Spain, and of course, America, were exhibited. There was more food than anyone could imagine, ranging from small hamburgers to croissants to spaghetti. There were bright costumes and colors everywhere in sight. This celebration is fun each year and manages to make Harpeth Hall students more aware of different cultures outside America. This club has made some great accomplishments.

Freshmen feeding frenzy

Trick or Treat!

Becky discovers a new outlet for school frustrations!

The Student Council added a twist to October 31st this year. Instead of the traditional party during assembly, the Upper School was treated to a Halloween Carnival at the end of the school day. The Carnival got off to a great start with a ghost story told by Ms. Myers. Afterwards, you could find out your future at the fortune-telling booth, decorate your own cookie, bob for apples, or if you were really daring, go through the haunted house. For a little inter-class competion, there was a pumpkin carving contest. Those involved did some talented carving, but (as if you hadn't already guessed) the Seniors came out on top. By general consensus, everyone had a good time at the Carnival!

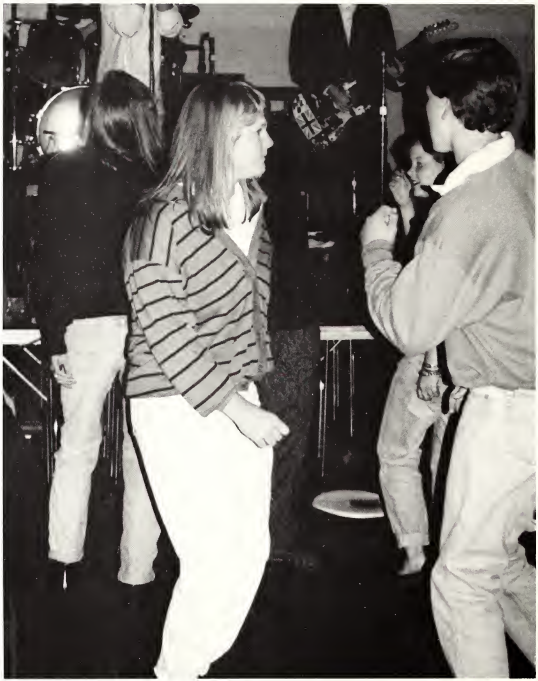

Dancing in the Zomby Zoo

Don't get too excited, Mark.

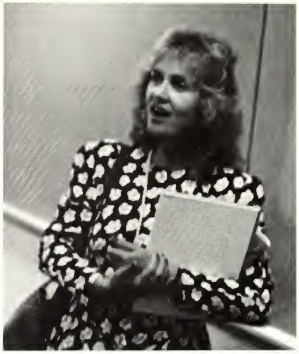

On Saturday, October 28th, the Student Council hosted its annual fall dance in Morrison Gymnasium. The decorations were fantastic, and the gallery could have been mistaken for a haunted house thanks to the workers who decorated beforehand. The theme "Full Moon Fest" was well represented by the talented and enthusiastic band "The Revellers." They rocked their way through the night with a medley of old and new songs. Senior Cami Monk said, "I love to dance, and coming to the fall dance was a special night to spend with my friends. It made me feel as if I was at a real Full Moon Fest." It was obvious that the dance was well enjoyed by all who attended.

Announcements, Anyone?

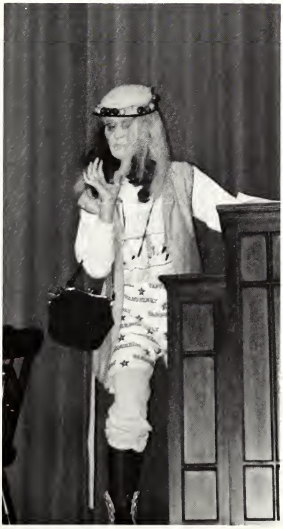

Fair and Tender Lady

It's 10:30 — assembly period, and a stream of enthusiastic knowledge-seekers are headed for the auditorium longing to acquire more information to store in their cerebrum. During the first semester, this information consisted of general announcements and Run for the Green II specifics. In the cultural department, there were teasers for the plays as well as the choral concert, a reading by author Lee Smith, and a presentation of poetry and photography. To the delight of freshmen and sophomores, there was a handbook test — and retest. The cheerleaders held a pep rally. The seniors were recognized and auctioned a veritable smorgasborg of lunches. Whether in an assembly or a meeting, during the first semester, the aforementioned enthusiastic knowledge-seekers got ample portions of information as well as fun.

La.

On October 29, Harpeth Hall Upper and Middle School Choruses presented their annual Fall Choral Concert. This year's concert was a great success, and the audience really enjoyed the various selections. It had a little bit of everything ranging from pop to Broadway to opera. The sixth and seventh grade delighted the audience with their renditions of "Surfin' Safari" and "Rockin Robin." The Upper School Chorus left some members of the audience in tears with their medley from the Broadway musical Les Miserables. It featured selections such as "On My Own" and "Castle on a Cloud." Under the leadership of the Chorus Director McLauren Foster, the choruses have become a much stronger part of the Harpeth Hall community.

Play it again, Sam!

Club Combo

This question is worth one million dollars!

Angkor, Ariston, Eccowasin, and Triad are Harpeth Hall's four intramural teams which participate in a variety of competitions and activities throughout the year. Tennis, basketball, badmitton, bowling, and volleyball are among the intramural sports in which students can compete. In cooperation with the Student Council, the clubs host a quiz bowl and a battleball game. Every spring, each club performs a song for the rest of the school at All Club Picnic. After the performances, trophies are awarded to the teams. These clubs are not only fun, but they also provide school unity.

I Want to be Happy

The Fall musical, No, No Nanette was presented for two consecutive weekends in November. Directed by Mrs. Klocko, Mrs. Hamilton, and Mrs. Foster, the performances were huge successes. Nanette, played by Julia Sutherland, is a young girl living with her aunt and uncle in New York city in 1925. She wants to break away from her protected lifestyles before marrying, so her Uncle Jimmy suggests a vacation to Atlantic City. Three ladies to whom Jimmy gave money appear at his doorstep. He and his friend, Billy Early, whisk them off to Atlantic City, fearing their wives' suspicion. What a surprise when their wives appear in Atlantic City! The exciting play was definitely worth all the hours spent rehearsing as everyone enjoyed it.

Coffee, Tea or Milk?

Like grandmother, like granddaughter

As usual, the Grandmother's Tea proved to be a huge success for both Middle Schoolers and their grandmothers. The Middle School Student Council sponsored the annual Grandmother's Tea. The tea took place in the Marnie Sheridan Art Gallery in November. As 6th, 7th, and 8th graders chatted with their grandmothers, munched on goodies, and sipped their tea, the 7th grade chorus performed many songs in honor of the special occasion. This social gathering provides both generations with the opportunity to become closer; it was definitely a memorable event for all.

The Many Moods of Christmas

"Joy to the World," "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," and "O Little Town of Bethlehem" were a few of the selections sung in the performance of The Many Moods of Christmas by the combined choruses of Harpeth Hall, MBA, and St. Cecilia. The festively attired chorus members proceeded down the aisle of Immanuel Baptist Church, singing under the direction of Mr. Michael Kemp. Codirected by Mrs. Janice Kemp, Mrs. McLauren Foster, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Love, the chorus, along with a professional orchestra, captured the audience with their finesse, skill, and Christmas spirit. The individual choruses of each school began working in September and had several rehearsals together leading up to their performance on December 7. Their dedication paid off, however, as they sang to a full house and received a standing ovation.

The Maestro and his prodigies

Mistress Mary Quite Contrary

Once upon a time, in Mother Goose Land, Mistress Mary Quite Contrary and the handsome Allen fell in love. All of their storybook friends thought they were perfect together, but Allen's uncle, the ruthless Barnaby, loved Mary, too. To escape Barnaby, Mary and Allen braved the spider's forest and marauding gypsies and fled to Toyland. When they reached Toyland, even the Toymaster could not hide them from Barnaby's thugs, Roderigo and Gonzorgo, but true love conquered all . . . The Middle School's musical, Babes in Toyland, had a cast of forty-nine and a production as exciting as the show's plot. On opening night, December 8th, the roads were icy, and school had been closed, but the show went on and was a huge success!

Winter Wonderland

Green taffeta, black velvet, and red bows, it was all there on December 16. What a big change the Holiday Dance looked like compared to the crazy outfits girls wore to exams the week before! Everyone definitely deserved a celebration. Thanks to our own chorus teacher, Mrs. McLauren Foster, Honeybears boogied down to her husband's great music, and we even got to hear Mrs. Foster herself. Decorations, music, and food were perfect, and it was all due to the Student Council and Mother's Auxiliary. Neither students nor their dates will forget rockin' around the Christmas tree at the wonderful Holiday Dance!

Smile, you're on candid camera!

Star-studded Evening at Harpeth Hall

"It's Delightful. It's Delicious. It's Delovely." And so it was on December 27 when performers from Harpeth Hall musicals of the past twelve years gathered and honored Marian Ross in a musical tribute. Mrs. Ross has been the accompanist for Harpeth Hall productions since 1978. Mr. Wood felt it was time for this talented woman to be recognized for her devotion, love, and dedication. Choosing to play for the performers, Mrs. Ross recaptured moments from the past. The tribute consisted of numbers from the past shows including Oklahoma!, Anything Goes, Oliver!, My Fair Lady, and 42nd Street. The evening concluded with a sing-a-long led by the school chorus of 1986. All in all, it was a wonderful night, and Mrs. Ross herself declared that it was a highlight in her life that she will always cherish.

Mrs. Ross tickles the ivories all night long.

Welcome to

On Broadway, Harpeth Hall dancers meet the real thing.

For three weeks in January, the juniors and seniors turned over the school to the underclassmen and then headed out into the real world. This year, some juniors and seniors packed their bags for a journey "en France," a wild trip to the way west, a climb up Capitol Hill, or a bite out of the Big Apple. Although the Winterim travel programs were very successful, many girls stayed home and worked for various companies. They were involved in fields such as law, teaching, or sales. For people whose interests branched out beyond the basic Winterim structure, there was also an independent study option in areas such as art, science, or photography. Off-Campus Winterim is an experience that is valued by every junior and senior.

the Real World

A night at the theatre in the Big Apple!

Home on the Range

This January freshmen and sophomores spent three fun-filled weeks on campus for Winterim. The Winterim Program makes it possible for students to learn things they might not experience during the rest of the school year. While math and science courses were required, electives were offered from bowling to psychology to silkscreen and batik design. Students spent many days crying through great tearjerkers while others sang in their private voice lessons. Students really enjoyed the assemblies — especially the sing-along with the Village and the performance by the Sweet Adelines. Students also became more enviromentally aware during assemblies about recycling and landfills. The PG-13 Players presented Harpeth Hall with some important issues and started informative discussions. On-Campus Winterim was a rewarding experience for everyone who participated this year.

Middle School, You Deserve a Break Today

After first semester exams and before second semester begins, the Middle School students enjoy a fun-filled week called Interim. Some classes offered this year were gingerbread house making, bowling, and stenciling. While some students tried animation with flip books, others tasted foods from different countries in international sampler. In the midst of the fun, the seventh graders were practicing for the annual George Washington Celebration which is in February. On the last Friday of Interim, the students celebrated both a basketball win over Brentwood Academy and the beginning of second semester with a Victory Party complete with pizza, a DJ, and seventh and eighth graders from M.B.A. Interim offered the Middle Schoolers a chance to relax after exams and to get to know their teachers and fellow students better.

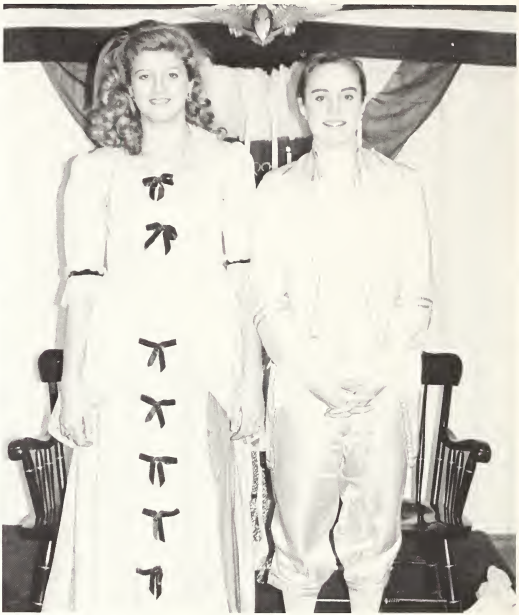

Future Homemakers of America

If Buttercups Buzzed After the Bees

Parents, faculty, and students proudly rose from their seats in Morrison Gymnasium on February 22 to honor President George Washington and his First Lady, Martha, on the occasion of his birthday. Each year, the seventh grade carries on this tradition using the same costumes, music, and scripts to celebrate this patriotic event. To entertain the President, soldiers marched with precision to the command of the drill sergeant who gave orders to keep them in line. The President's guests gracefully waltzed and twirled around the dancefloor after the sailors had danced a gay jig. Then much to the President's delight reenactments of the Revolution were performed to remind us all of the United States heritage.

So Happy Together

After weeks of hard work, the eighth graders and four of their teachers took off to Wesley Woods in east Tennessee for a three-day trip. The purpose of the trip was to unite the class, to test the individuals' mental and physical capabilities, and to become educated about the environment. Many compared it to an Outward Bound program. The girls split into four groups and did rappelling and rock climbing, took a two-and-a-half mile hike through a hilly terrain and a rocky creek, and participated in activities called Ropes One and Ropes Two. These last two activities began with group problem solving and led to complete group trust when using ropes to climb up thirty feet and walk across ropes, cables, and logs. Although the weather was wet and chilly, the girls thoroughly enjoyed the learning experiences. They were especially pleased that Mrs. DesJardin, Mrs. Nash, Mrs. Sayers, and Mrs. Wills accompanied them and participated in all the activities.

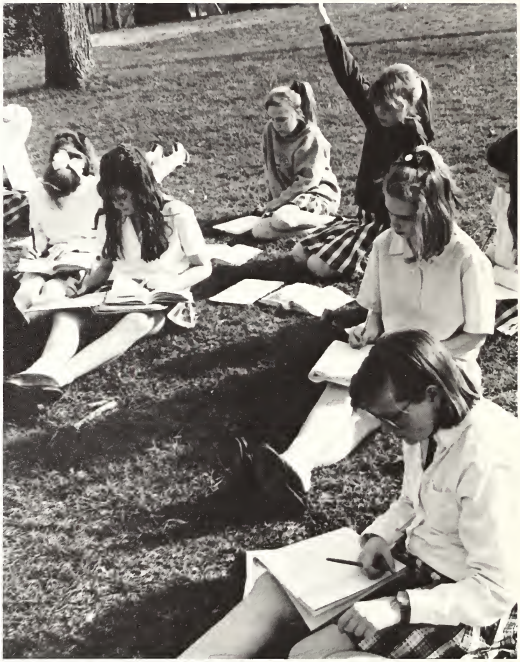

Mt. Everest, here we come!

Middle Schoolers See Changes in the Nineties

Muffy: Where are we? Buffy: I think we're at the Harpeth Hall Middle School. Wow! It's really changed! Come take a journey of sight and sound to the Middle School zone . . . This year at Harpeth Hall, the Middle School has turned over a new paw. Probably the biggest change has been the new Middle School Director, Mrs. Sayers. She has brought fresh and innovative ideas which have been eagerly received. New activities include a newspaper and a Garden Club, which cleans the Leigh Horton Garden. There is a renewed interest in cheerleading, and many more cheerleaders were added to the squad. Lock-ins are very popular among Middle Schoolers, as well as the friendly rivalry of intramural competition. Free time during Homeroom is particularly a big hit with students to catch up on the good gossip or cram for tests. Overall, the Middle School has really changed, but for the best!

Writer Mrs. Mary Pope Osburne autographs some of her work with Middle Schoolers.

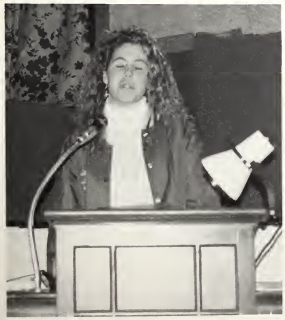

La Bamba

Take it away, Mrs. Couch!

From March 4 to March 9, students were enriched with the activities of Foreign Language Week. The week began with an assembly including a slide show presentation of the 1990 Winterim-en-France trip and an update on the Spanish Club from president Susie Creagh. Throughout the week students were able to satisfy their palates with various foreign cuisines provided by the cafeteria. Students enjoyed the delicious French, Italian, Greek, and Mexican lunches and desserts. The Foreign Exchange Club, which sponsors this exciting week, went on an outing to the Spaghetti Factory to experience the atmosphere of Italian culture and enjoyed a wonderful meal. Students participated in a contest that challenged their knowledge of other foreign languages, in which they were to guess the various languages that were posted on Mr. Tuzeneu's door. Foreign Language Week is a time for students to learn more about other cultures and to expand their knowledge of different countries.

May It Please the Court . . .

Harpeth Hall's two Mock Trial teams were very young this year, consisting of only four seniors, and the rest were sophomores and juniors. Some people only joined two weeks before the actual competition, but everyone put on a great show. They all spent two days a week at night meetings lasting several hours. It was hard work, but it was definitely worth it. Neither of the teams placed this year, but both of them learned a great deal about the way the law and the courtroom work. The competition was on Saturday, March 4. Each team presented one side of a case that was given to them earlier. They tried the case and were given scores on their performances. Both Harpeth Hall teams scored very well, and they are ready to go next year.

What's Your Type?

Kiss me, I gave blood today!

On March 30, 1990, the American Red Cross made a visit to Harpeth Hall School to get blood for their bloodmobile. Many girls came down to the Bear Lair to give blood. In order to give blood, each person had to be at least seventeen years old and had to weigh at least 110 pounds. Some girls got enough courage up to agree to be a donor, and then many found out that they had an iron deficiency and were unable to give. Others bravely sat in lawn chairs in the Bear Lair and contributed to the Red Cross. After it was all over, the nurses gave all of the donors stickers that said, "Kiss me. I gave blood today." Students and teachers who gave blood also received cookies and tee shirts in appreciation of their efforts. This event was a worthwhile one at Harpeth Hall because it probably saved somebody's life!

Who Done It?

Harpeth Hall's spring drama was a great success. The plot of the show revolves around Elaine Wheeler who believes she has seen a dead body in the appartment across the street. Did she really? Is she slowly losing her mind, or is someone plotting against her? Nothing is as it may seem. Maybe the culprit is the strange Curtis Appleby next door, or the rude deli owner, Sam Hoke, who prepares lethal potato salad. It could be John, Elaine's doting husband who is actually having an affair with her best friend Blanche. Or is it Helga, the German maid desperately in need of money. Who is behind the "hideous peepshow" across the street? Maybe Elaine really is going insane. The audience was kept in deep suspense until the chilling conclusion.

Spring Fever Hits Harpeth Hall

Lissa finds a friend in the Soviet Union.

Spring Break this year was met with excitement and anticipation by everyone at Harpeth Hall. The overworked Honeybears relieved their stress by taking off to all parts of the world. Some juniors went college hopping with MBA for a headstart in the college scene. As always, Florida was a popular choice for those who wanted to have fun in the sun. This year, there were a few girls who did something very different for Spring Break. Through the Citizens Exchange Council, one senior and three juniors broke through the Iron Curtain and experienced Russian culture. They went to an environmental conference with Russian students, and they had an experience they'll never forget. Spring Break in Nashville, except for the snow, was a good chance to sleep late and rest up for the hard work ahead. The break had much diversity and gave students a chance to kick back before heading into the final weeks of school.

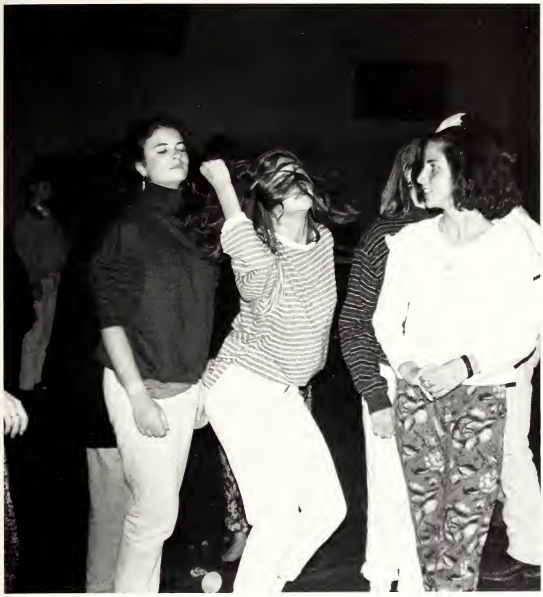

Oh what a feeling, Spring Break!

Mothers Score a Knockout at the Main Event

Shake it up, baby! Twist and shout.

This April, the theme for the Mother's Auxiliary annual fundraiser was "A Santa Fe Weekend." On April 6, the auction party was held at David and Mary Proctor's house. Parents and teachers dined and danced the night away. They also bid on many different items. Some were vacations, jewelery, and live entertainment such as the Dixieland band. On Thursday, April 5, the students bid on items at the Silent Auction in Bullard Gym. Some of the items offered were a motorcycle ride with Mr. Tuzeneu, a plane ride with Mr. Sellers, and a picnic with Mr. Hayward. On Saturday night, students partied in Morrison Gym to the music of the Unitz. Teenagers from a variety of schools came to the dance, and it was a huge success.

2nd Semester Assemblies . . . the Saga Continues

An entertaining second semester of assemblies was secured upon the commencement of the student body's beautiful rendition of "La Bamba" at the Foreign Language Song Fest. In keeping with the Spanish motif, the Spanish Club later conducted its annual pinata bust. A short play and discussion session were presented by the Cumberland Museum at the Women in Science Assembly. Another play of sorts, the mysterious teaser for Nightwatch, filled us with anticipation as did the teasers for Spring Choral Concert and the Dance Concert. Right after Spring Break, students heard speeches from a variety of candidates in the Student Council elections. In their assembly, the Key Club brought in a speaker who spoke about the importance of service and then next year's officers were introduced. The Cum Laude Society inducted its newest members. At the Faculty Recognition Assembly, outstanding faculty members received chairs in recognition of their contributions to the Harpeth Hall Community.

Tall Paul Rocks the Hall

Whenever I see your smiling face, I have to smile myself!

Concert on the Lawn, sponsored by the Student Council, was a great success this year. For the first time in the past three years, it was held on the lawn instead of in the gym. The singer was Tall Paul who played various songs ranging from James Taylor to the Byrds on his acoustic guitar. However, Tall Paul was not our only singer because students from Harpeth Hall sang a tune or two with his accompaniment. On Thursday, April 12 from 5:30 to 7:30, many students brought a picnic and relaxed on the lawn while listening to Tall Paul. Concert on the Lawn provided a fun and enjoyable evening full of good music, friends, and sing-alongs. It provided a great break for all students in the middle of spring.

Did You Clarify Your Values?

On Thursday, April 12, Middle and Upper School students gathered on Souby Lawn for an afternoon of "values clarification." To the students' surprise, Mrs. Lentz, Mrs. Fuller, and Mrs. Sayers hopped out sporting bunny ears and announced that there would be a play day instead. The entire school enjoyed a picnic lunch on the lawn. The girls then divided up into the four intramural clubs for some fun competition. There was a Middle Schooler/ Senior piggyback relay and a pyramid building contest. Then the whole school formed a line and bunny-hopped around in a circle. Next everyone raced to the gym to welcome The Village, an African drum band well-loved by many Harpeth Hall students. This play day was a huge success and a welcome break for all!

The Pony Express

Why do Fools Fall in Love?

This year the Spring Choral Concert had a variety of music suited to a variety of tastes. Selections included original music by the seventh graders, Broadway medleys, golden oldies, and a Robert Frost suite. The Upper School Chorus also sang a classical Latin piece, with excellent solos by Seniors Cari Yates, Meghan Scanlon, and Brooke Graham. The sixth graders performed very well, but the seventh graders definitely stole the show. Their ingenious use of "choral"ography in the song "Hats" was definitely different, and as one remarked "It was great!" The entire evening, directed by McLauren Foster and accompanied by Marion Ross, was a huge success.

This year, the junior class put on what some say was the greatest prom ever with a theme of "Escape to Egypt". Juniors decorated the gym in a canopy of stars falling from the ceiling. The greatest part of the entire evening was the presentation. Each couple walked out of an authentic Egyptian pyramid, equipped with an Egyptian guard dressed in a loincloth. After the junior officers and the senior class, the prom court was presented. Freshman Natasha Schneiderman was escorted by Chris Peebles, and Sophomore Jennifer Duck was escorted by Joe Underwood. The Juniors Lissa Smith and Diane Miller were presented by Lindsay Cooper and Brock Kidd. Senior attendants were Sarah Roberts presented by John Faber, and DeDe Carroll escorted by John Shea. The 1990 prom queen was Susie Creagh escorted by Kevin King. Underclassmen and Seniors were impressed with the Juniors creativity and success with "Escape to Egypt!"

Daddy's Little Girl

On Thursday, April 26, hundreds of Harpeth Hall students and their fathers gathered at the Vanderbilt Plaza for the annual Father/Daughter Banquet hosted by the Men's Club. Before dinner, the fathers and daughters socialized with friends and took pictures. After dinner, a sports commentator from ESPN spoke to the girls and their fathers focusing on the aspects of Harpeth Hall, which he believes makes the students so fortunate. Finally, the band Sound Therapy, which consists of several physicians, played music that both fathers and daughters boogied down to. The guests also enjoyed hearing Senior Julia Sutherland sing. One Harpeth Hall student commented, "I always enjoy the Father/Daughter Banquet, but this year was one of the best!" The Banquet was over by ten o'clock, and everyone went home with fond memories.

Like Father, like Daughter!

More than an Apple for the Teacher

Finally after 11 years . . .

The Faculty Recognition Assembly is a time to recognize the many contributions that all teachers make to Harpeth Hall, as well as honoring a certain few with a school chair. This year special recognition went to Mrs. Russ, Mrs. Mabry, and Miss Wynne. Miss Wynne, who teaches Reading and Ancient History in the Middle School, has been here for twelve years. Mrs. Mabry, the Middle School's Administrative Assistant, came to Harpeth Hall in 1979 intending to stay only one year, but she liked it so much that she decided not to leave. Most former and present students agree that both these ladies are great assets to the school. Mrs. Russ, Director of Athletics, has been teaching and coaching at Harpeth Hall for eleven years, and summed up the reciprocal spirit of education in saying she feels fortunate to be teaching at Harpeth Hall because though her students learn a lot from her, she feels she learns equally as much, or more from them.

So, should this go in the living room or in the den?

I'm Taking My Act Apart . . .

Watch out Broadway, here I come!

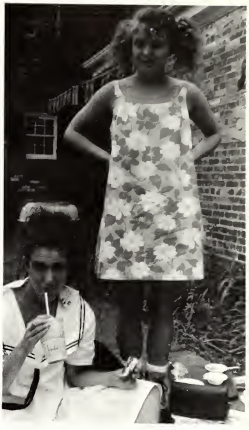

On Friday, April 27, twenty-two students presented two one-act plays directed by Janette Fox Klocko. The one time only show was titled, "I'm Taking My Act Apart and Putting it in a Real Dark Room." The students, from Harpeth Hall and various other schools worked hard on this show, portraying thirty-five characters in several David Mamet sketches and the two one-acts. The first one act, "Limbo," depicted a group of characters, none of whom were acquainted, who suddenly found themselves in a dingy waiting room. One by one they escaped as groundskeepers and built a coffin around the audience. In "Roomers", a plethora of strange characters ran rampant in a run-down boarding house. These one-acts will be a tough act to follow!

War and Peace

Stop or I'll Shoot!

The infamous Junior/Senior week is a week geared towards spotlighting the relations between the Juniors and Seniors. To start off the week, the Seniors have a cookout for the Juniors so that the Juniors can hang out on the senior patio in preparation for next year. In addition to grilling burgers and weinies, the Seniors dress differently each day of the week. They wear their Senior colors one day, and move on to wearing the colors of their future colleges. The most anticipated day for the students and the most feared day for the faculty and administration is Junior/Senior Day, when the Seniors dress as cute little girls and the Juniors as devious little boys, transforming the campus into a watery battlefield. Warring aside, Junior/Senior week is a great tradition and a really fun week.

After the attack from the seniors, Jane was found unconscious behind the school . . .

I Could Have

On Friday, May 4, the months of grueling work done by Harpeth Hall's four Dance Clubs culminated in a spectacular event that thrilled the audience and the dancers alike. For the dancers, that weekend had been studded with special and emotional events. Special permission was given to wear a Dance Concert t-shirt to school, and the dancers sat together at lunch to sell tickets. After a tearful cast call, the show opened with the Ballet Club's "Theme and Variations". The dancers, in their beautiful swirling black and white dresses, were applauded by the wildly enthusiastic audience. Another piece that will be long remembered was the Modern Club's "Dreams", in which the movements evoked the feelings of various dreams, from nightmares to flying fantasies. The members of Modern 2 performed their impressions of New York City to Billy Joel's "New York State of Mind". Wearing rainbow-colored unitards, the Jazz Clubbers danced energetically in "Off The Beat", and the Jazz 2 members danced with pizazz in "Isorhythms". The Tap Club performed a patriotic dance called "Taps" without the burden of cursed "fly-away" clothing that had plagued them during dress rehearsal. They were joined onstage by all the other Dance Clubs for a triumphant "red, white, and blue" finale.

Whatever Day it is, Be Prepared

Tons of people gathered together for the annual Sports Banquet on May 22. The Banquet is given to recognize not only the best athletes of each sport, but also the most improved. It shows how all their "blood, sweat, and tears" have paid off. Each coach gets a chance to gloat over their team, and smile when everyone claps for its members. Mr. Wert clinched it for the soccer team when he slipped up in saying, "We play not only to keep from winning . . ." In all seriousness, it actually is a special night for the seniors. At the end of the banquet, senior athletes often recall memorable stories and thank their team members and coaches for great seasons. From Megan Smithwick's final female warning to Ellen Ozier's tearful words of Wordsworth's "Splendor in the Grass," Senior athletes ended the sports award reception on a positive note, saying a final goodbye to their sports careers and encouraging underclassmen to become excited about next year's seasons.

The All Club Picnic was held again this year on Souby Lawn. This sunny day started off with the club song competition, which Ariston won with their song "Poems, Prayers, and Promises." Mr. Lauderdale accompanied Ariston on the guitar, and Mrs. Foster accompanied Eccowasin on the synthesizer. The girls with the top five averages in each class were presented with the Elizabeth Pope Evans Awards, and Murray Polk was announced as Lady of the Hall. Dr. Echerd was presented with his Humanities award, and Brooke Graham was announced as a Presidential Scholar. The dedication of the yearbook was presented to Mr. Tuzeneu. The new Milestones, Penstaff, and Logos editors were also announced. This was a great way to celebrate the last day of school!

A Movable Feast

On Thursday, May 31, the Senior Class gathered at the home of Marguerite Nielsen for food, fun, and relaxation after a grueling week of exams. Harpeth Hall faculty also joined in the festivities celebrating the Seniors' graduation. The MILESTONES editors gave out the Senior Book which consisted of one page designed by each senior with funny and meaningful quotes, Senior Superlatives, college choices, and memorable pictures. While laughing and puzzling over their books, Seniors and teachers dined on a feast provided by Mexican caterers and proved their culinary talents in the fine makings of sundaes for dessert. After supper, the guests watched a very entertaining and touching slide show created by Courtney Coker and Clark Elam. One teacher commented, "This Senior Class really gave a successful and fun-filled banquet. It wasn't just another boring dinner which previous Seniors had to drag themselves to." The Class of 1990 agrees!

OK, when does the real party start?

Upperclassmen Move Up A Step

On Sunday, June 3, Juniors and Seniors engaged in the longstanding Harpeth Hall tradition of Step Singing. After the procession of the upperclassmen, the 1990 Lady of the Hall, Murray Tate Polk, and her court were presented. After both the Junior and Senior classes sang their songs, class president, Carrie Oliver, handed over the Senior books to the 1991 Senior class president, Becky Burke. Carrie then presented the Senior class gift to Mr. Wood. The Seniors gave $1000 for a new lighting system and $3000 to the scholarship fund. Mrs. Susie Brown, Class of 1960, gave a speech which challenged the Seniors to "earn, learn, and yearn." Other alumnae classes presented their gifts to Harpeth Hall, and the event ended with the singing of the Alma Mater and a reception in the gallery. The 1990 Step Singing carried on another successful Harpeth Hall custom as well as respectfully honoring the Lady of the Hall.

Honeycubs Turn

On Friday, June 1st at 8:30 a.m., forty-eight eighth graders in white dresses officially graduated from the Harpeth Hall Middle School and became high schoolers. The ceremony began with the Invocation given by Lacey Galbraith, and then the chorus sang "Like to Sing About Sunshine" and "Turn Around." Mrs. Mary Lee Manier gave the address. Earlier in the year she had surveyed the eighth graders on trivia about themselves, and her speech centered around the data she collected. Director of the Middle School, Mrs. Lindy Sayers, presented the awards, and then Mr. David Wood handed out the diplomas. The event concluded with the singing of the Alma Mater, and then the chorus sang "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." There was a reception in the gallery following the ceremony to honor the graduates.

Please, let my diploma be signed

I Wouldn't Have

For fifty-nine Harpeth Hall girls, June 4th marked a milestone in their lives as they moved from being Harpeth Hall students to alumnae. Whether girls had been Honeybears for two or seven years, all Seniors felt the mixed emotions of sadness yet excitement in leaving their school. Senior class chaplain, Katherine Bomboy, gave the invocation, and then the chorus sang "While We're Young" and "You've Got a Friend." Brooke Graham then gave a touching speech which challenged the Seniors to be risk takers as they begin their future. Mrs. Baughman honored Murray Polk as Lady of the Hall as well as the recipient of the Third Honors Award for third highest grade point average. Lihbin Shiao was Salutatorian, and Brooke Graham was awarded the Katie Wray Award for the highest grade point average in the class. Wendy Sellers was also recognized for her academic achievement during her two years at Harpeth Hall.

As they walked up in their beautiful white dresses and roses, Mr. Rick Oliver, president of the Board of Trustees, presented the Seniors with their diplomas. The Class of 1990 then sang their class song, "I Wouldn't Have Missed It for the World." Mr. Wood gave some closing remarks about this outstanding senior class which had definitely come far since Mr. Gordon Turnbull's remark their freshman year that they must channel their excessive energy. Graduation finished with the singing of the Alma Mater led by Cari Yates. The graduates shared tears, laughter, smiles, and hugs as they were congratulated by friends, family, and faculty. This class brought much more to Harpeth Hall than just its neon green and black class colors. The Class of 1990 gave individuality, spirit, and zeal which definitely will be missed next year.

You learned very early that if you wanted something badly enough and worked hard enough, you could achieve it.

From Cupey Doll to All-State
With lots of sweat and tears in between,
You can be what you want to be.
Go For It!

Lots of love from:
Mom, Dad, Mary Ann, Kathryn and John

watching you

Into

When all the world is young, lad
And all the trees are green:
And every goose a swan, lad,
And every lass a queen;
Then hey for boot and horse, lad
And round the world away:
Young blood must its course, lad,
And every dog his day.
