White Animals Ride Again

Recent galloping fame of the White Animals, Nashville's own nationally known group, promises to rustle up even greater excitement from the crowd this spring than it did at last year's Round-up (above). The group's return engagement at Harpeth Hall is open to the public April 18 in Bullard Gym 8-11 p.m. White Animals' albums, produced by Dread Beat Records, include Ecstasy and Lost Weekend.

Fund-Raiser Family Fun

Harpeth Hall Spring Round-up, the Auxiliary's only fund-raiser, is an evening of varied enjoyment for the entire family. A delicious country supper with fried chicken is served to all ages from 5:30 until 7:30 in Morrison Gym. A Silent Auction accepts bids nearby in the foyer of McMurry Center.

After winning tickets are drawn by Headmaster David Wood at 7:30, Morrison Gym becomes a bustling Auction Room. Many tantalizing items are placed on the block by fathers/auctioneers Frank Crowell and Gus Wood.

Meanwhile, younger and probably more energetic family members adjourn to Bullard Gym at 8 p.m. There they "do their thing" to the sounds of Nashville's now-famous group, the White Animals, until 11 p.m.

April 18th promises to be a very special evening for Harpeth Hall families to join together for the sheer fun of it and for the direct benefit of Harpeth Hall students.

'86 Auction Shoots For Highest Bids

A live auction featuring exciting bargains and one-of-a-kind opportunities will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Morrison Gym after the Country Supper. Items certain to corral the interest of bidders include art, furs, vacation spots, water skis and a cellular phone. Descriptions of all items begin on page 3.

Frank Crowell and Gus Wood will once again serve as auctioneers roping in the highest bids at this Auxiliary fund-raiser for the direct benefit of Harpeth Hall students.

Crowell, father of 9th grader Mary Margaret, is author of the Vandy slogan "Show Your Gold" and Wood, former Tennessee Commissioner of Safety and now an attorney with Bone, Langford and Armistead, is father of 10th grader Nancy.

Auxiliary Backs Hit

Thousands of "parent hours" (i.e. time spent planning, meeting, organizing, executing, etc.) go into Harpeth Hall's only major fund-raiser.

Auxiliary members, directed this year by Judy Simmons and Nancy Johnston, work all year to make the Spring Round-up a financial smash hit and a social event not to be missed.

Judging from a sneak preview of the Country Supper menu, auction items and entertainment, this year's production should get rave reviews!

$500 Drawing, Free Tuition

There will be two lucky drawing winners Round-up night when Headmaster Dave Wood reaches deep into the ticket barrel.

A $500 cash prize goes to the holder of the first ticket drawn. These tickets are now being sold by Harpeth Hall students around the community for $1 each.

The second exciting prize, a full year's Harpeth Hall tuition, goes to the one girl whose name appears as the seller on a second ticket drawn from the barrel.

And if the prospect of free tuition is not enough incentive, there are additional prizes for girls selling the most tickets.

Honey Bears Shop McClures At a Discount

McClures at Harpeth Plaza has invited Harpeth Hall students to shop at a discount March 8 and April 12 (both Saturdays) from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Each girl receives a card entitling her to a 10 percent discount. McClures will give an additional 10 percent of the purchase price to Harpeth Hall. Sale items are not included, and charge cards may be used.

As a bonus, the name of one lucky discount shopper will be drawn Round-up night to receive $100 in free merchandise.

To further whet the appetite of Harpeth Hall students for the great shopping Saturdays, McClures presented a style show of junior fashions March 5 at the school.

The Harpeth Hall community is grateful once again to McClures for its continuing support and enthusiastic assistance in making the Spring Round- up a smashing success!
