I N M E M O R I A M

To have known Katie is to know that the first four years of Harpeth Hall's existence were made richer by her living example. To have known Katie is to understand why our memories of her are indelible, abiding in our hearts as well as our lives. A soft smile floating into quiet laughter, sweeping away trivialities. A firm yet gentle hand on every shoulder, guiding some, following others. A spirit, courageous in the face of suffering, determined in the threat of defeat. A calmness so deep that it steadied those about her. A strength so strong that it taught others to accept life's failures and triumphs, to live life to the fullest even in anticipation of the loss of it. This was Katie—more to us than just a classmate or a friend.

The study of Latin is a living experience at Harpeth Hall with Mrs. Ottarson to open our eyes to the beauties of its history and literature. Scholar, teacher, and friend, in her we find the understanding counselor, sharing in our successes and sympathizing in our failures.

Mrs. Ottarson will find a special place in each of our hearts as we look back on our school days at Harpeth Hall. Some will remember her seated at the piano in the early morning, or watering her plants before the bell; the seniors will cherish her guidance and unfailing devotion to the class of '55; the Honor Society members will remember her as a constant source of inspiration. But we will all recall her little black "Chevy" occupying its special place in the parking lot, the familiar plaid knitting bag swinging from her arm as she waves a friendly "hello." So to Mrs. Ottarson, scholar, teacher, and friend, we dedicate with growing appreciation the MILESTONES of 1955.

Dedication

Mrs. Souby

For four years Mrs. Souby's friendly advice, charming manner, and sincere interest have been the object of deepest admiration to every girl at Harpeth Hall. Years of experience in teaching have not only qualified her for her administrative position, but also instilled in her a personal interest in the scholastic problems of each individual student. Little is she aware of the vital inspiration she has been to her girls and of the profound affection and respect they hold for her. It is with loving appreciation that we say, "thank you," to our friend and director, Mrs. Souby.

Throughout the year '54, '55 the Angkor Club has marched forward triumphantly. By the work of each girl and the excellent sponsorship of Madame Fountain, the ideals of good citizenship, scholarship and sportsmanship were stressed.

After elections many of the new campus leaders wore the blue and white. In the ranks of these were Ellen Russell, French Club President; Linda Edenfield, Art Club President; Carol Campbell, Science Club President; and Florence Stumb, Vice-President of the Athletic Association. Mary Cornelius served as a Junior Classical League officer. Also Ellen Russell, Fran Keltner, Michael Larson, Elise Dobson, Cynthia Hastings, and Margaret Ewin helped to lead their respective classes. Two members represented the Club in Penstaff, and Florence Stumb and Irene Jackson were on the MILESTONE Staff.

Through good sportsmanship and exuberant spirit the Angkors pushed forward to make their Club tops. Among the sports enthusiasts were Elizabeth Ewing, Carole Minton, Ashley Whitsitt, and Tillie McNamara.

By the interest and participation of members in all school activities, everyone applauded the year '54, '55 as a highly successful one for the Angkors.

During the year '54, '55 the gold and white waved high. Each member through her participation in club activities showed her spirit and enthusiasm.

In the classroom, such girls as Katie Wray, Linda

Christie, Pam Parker, Carol Lansden, and Merilyn Hovey sparkled for the A's.

At election time, the club was well represented by Betty Caldwell, President of Penstaff; Mary Knox Berger, Athletic Manager of the Senior Class; Katie Wray, President of the Honor Society; Toni Wuest, Business Manager of MILESTONES; and Suzy Johnson, Treasurer of the Senior Class.

On the athletic field the club boasted such players as Mary Lindsay Polk, Gretchen Gardner, Mag Teas, Connie Carrier, and Nancy Harris.

Thus, under the guidance of Mrs. Mann, Sponsor, and the leadership of Ray Napier, President, the year '54, '55 has been an outstanding one for the Aristons.

"Eccowasin Club Forever" was the phrase that led the green and white to victory in every field. Well deserved honors in athletics, scholarship, and citizenship marked the Eccowasin record for 1954-1955.

From hockey through softball the skill and ability of such athletes as Susan McKeand, Caroline Boyd, Betty Shwab, and Beth Creighton pushed the club to victory with the help of the enthusiastic rooters cheering them along.

When elections rolled around the green and white was well represented with Elizabeth Smith, leading the school as president of the Student Council; Eunetta Mayberry, president of the Spanish Club; and with three class presidents—Freshman, Evie Davis; Junior, Polly Akin; and Senior, Rosalie Adams. Among those representing the club scholastically were Penstaff members Beth Creighton, Polly Akin, and Lissa Luton. The club also boasted two Honor Society members, Rosalie Adams and Lissa Luton.

A prevailing spirit of co-operation and loyalty to the club helped to make the year of 1954-55 one of which the Eccowasins can well be proud.

The past year has been a successful one for the red and white. Led by Bitsy Thomas, every member by her spirit and co-operation proved herself worthy of her club.

At election time the Triads furnished a number of leaders. Harriet Husband was elected vice-president of the Student Council and Ann Huddleston, secretary-treasurer. Mary Ann Braden was chosen president of the Sophomore Class while Concille Tidman served as president of the Glee Club. Jane Clark wielded the gavel of the Athletic Association.

On the basketball court and hockey field Triad spirit was outstanding. Carolyn Carmichael, Carol Beaman, Nancy Hardison, and Kathy Starr sparked the Triad Victories.

Scholastically Triad ranked high. Frances Keister, Betty Daniel, Margie Maughan, and June McCoy brought classroom recognition to their club.

By her enthusiasm and participation, every Triad girl helped make 1954-55 a glorious year for the red and white.

During the past four years, each Annual Staff has attempted to add another milestone in the development of the Harpeth Hall yearbook. In appreciation of the hard work and unceasing efforts of those who have gone before us, we give recognition to the previous annual staffs. It is our hope that you of Harpeth Hall will enjoy reading your annual as much as we, the staff of 1955, have enjoyed working on it.

The Student Council, the governing body of Harpeth Hall, is composed of its officers and two representatives who are selected semi-annually from each class. Each year the Student Council sponsors a dance for the student body. This year an informal tea dance was held in the gym. The duties of the Council are to impose penalties on those who disregard rules and regulations. Its members endeavor to guide the student body to higher ideals of citizenship and to bring about a closer unity between the teachers and the pupils.

The Penstaff Club endeavors to stimulate the creative ability in girls who are interested in the field of writing. By original compositions, the members seek to improve their own style, and by constructive criticism to aid each other. Those girls interested in becoming a member of Penstaff submit two manuscripts to be judged at an annual contest. This year the bimonthly meetings were held at Miss Kuykendall's home where the informal atmosphere stimulated creative thought.

Those girls seeking to uphold the high standards of citizenship, leadership, and scholarship are chosen to be members of the Honor Society. By personal achievement, aid to her fellow students, and loyalty to her school, a girl represents the ideals of this organization.

One of the functions of the Honor Society is to plan the chapel programs at Harpeth Hall in which the members participate. In the spring the Honor Society sponsors a program in which the requirements for membership are stated and the new members "tapped."

Honor Society

Presidents' Council

The Presidents' Council is composed of the presidents of the social clubs, the classes, the Student Council and the Honor Society. It is the responsibility of this organization to work with Mrs. Souby on matters concerning the student body and to emphasize the importance of leadership.

The Athletic Association providing a wide variety of sports, enables each girl to take an active interest in athletics. The functions of this organization are supervised by the athletic board which is composed of the officers of the Athletic Association and a representative from each club and class. To become an active member of this group a girl must earn either a varsity letter or three club letters. Trophies and letters are awarded for outstanding achievement in various sports. Although athletic ability is stressed, the main goal of this organization is to promote good sportsmanship among the students.

The Science Club, composed of chemistry and biology students, has carried on many activities during the past year. The outstanding features of this year's activities were a trip to the American Museum of Atomic Energy at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and a scientific exhibition put on by the members of the club for the enjoyment of the rest of the school. Under the leadership of Carol Campbell and the guidance of Miss Mountfort, the club has had a profitable year.

The Junior Classical League is a member of a national organization whose purpose is to foster an interest in the Latin language and civilization. Under the excellent leadership of Mrs. Ottarson and Miss Mims, all Latin students except first year girls participated to make the year '54-'55 a rich one. During the year the members enjoyed learning a four part Latin song, presenting a skit to the student body, and singing in Latin many of the well known carols at Christmas time. These are a few of the activities that contributed to a successful year for the Junior Classical League.

Guided by the able leadership of Mrs. Litkenhous, the Art Club has endeavored to promote appreciation of the fine arts. For a project, the members designed various pennants and seals, and one of these will be selected as the school emblem. The girls drew place cards for a luncheon at the Centennial Club as another project. During the Christmas holidays, the students had a tea for their parents, and they displayed their work at this time. The better drawings of each member were also displayed at Harpeth Hall at the close of the year.

The Glee Club, sponsored by Mrs. John Breast, has grown in size and popularity. Not only has the club given very enjoyable programs at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter for Harpeth Hall students but also has given numerous programs outside school activities. Every member, inspired by Mrs. Breast, has learned to love good music and to convey her enthusiasm through her voice.

The French Club does much to promote an interest in the French language among all the students. Any girl who takes French may become a member and attend the meetings held once a month. An emphasis is placed on the spoken language; thus the business and the entertainment, including games, plays, and songs, are conducted in French. Under the guidance of Madame Fountain the club presented a chapel program at Christmas which embodied the interest and enthusiasm of all the members.

During the past year, the Spanish Club, under the leadership of Miss Mims, has endeavored to incite in the students an interest in the Spanish language, by acquainting them with the customs of the Spanish-speaking countries. A program on Pan-American Day and a special Christmas program were outstanding features of the past year. The highlight of the events sponsored by the club was a party to which all the members came dressed in native costume.

A large, stylized cursive logo for "Joy's". The word "Joy's" is written in a thick, flowing script. The "J" is very large and loops around the "oy's". The "y" has a long, sweeping tail that loops back under the "oy's". The "s" is also large and loops around the "y".
