A Day in the Life of a

7:00 Alarm goes off, hit SNOOZE
7:40 Roll out of bed
7:42 As you run out the door, grab something to eat in the car
7:55 Fight over the last parking space, lose, park on street
8:01 Explain to your first period teacher why you're late, "There was so much traffic!!"
8:50 Get note off the board telling you to move your car
9:07 Start to cry about all the work you have to do
9:40 Go to move your car, find threatening note from maintenance men to never park there again
10:30 Sit through an assembly about how valuable all girls education is, substance abuse, or the honor council
10:38 Pull your notes you've discreetly hidden from Mrs. Baughman out of your jacket and study for your fourth period test
11:00 Beg your teacher not to give you the test today and go into great detail about how you are going to fail it because you had no time to study
11:50 Beg your teacher to be kind when grading the test, "You can always give points for effort!"
11:55 Find your friends, cruise to the cafeteria to nourish your body, discover that yet another person has burned popcorn in the microwave, sit outside
12:05 Finish your lunch, then sit and talk with your friends while trying to study at the same time
12:40 Tell everyone in your sixth period class that you ate so much for lunch and that you need to lose weight before prom/spring break/summer/weekend
12:55 Space out during the lecture and pass the time by writing a note to a friend
1:15 Ask to be excused to go to the bathroom and put the note on the board

Harpeth Hall Student

1:30 At last - a free period! Sleep in the hallway until the bell rudely awakens you and you....

2:20 Stumble to eighth period and beg the teacher to let you have naptime, listen to another lecture from your frustrated teacher on your class's lack of energy

3:10 Ahhh, the clean-up bell... Run, well, walk to your clean-up post and do a lame job of vacuuming while thinking about all you have to do after school

3:20 Change clothes in the bathroom for your after school activity

5:00 Trudge to your car feeling hot, sweaty, dirty, and sticky

5:22 Fall down on a couch at home, and ask your mother to bring you a drink as you turn on the TV and catch the last of the "Simpsons"

5:30 Watch "Rugrats" or "Married with Children", whichever tickles your fancy

6:12 Fantasize about taking a nap, but read a magazine instead

6:43 Eat leftovers for dinner

7:00 Watch "Friends"

7:35 Talk about "Friends" on the phone, "I think _____ and _____ should get together"

10:00 Start your homework

10:15 Take a shower

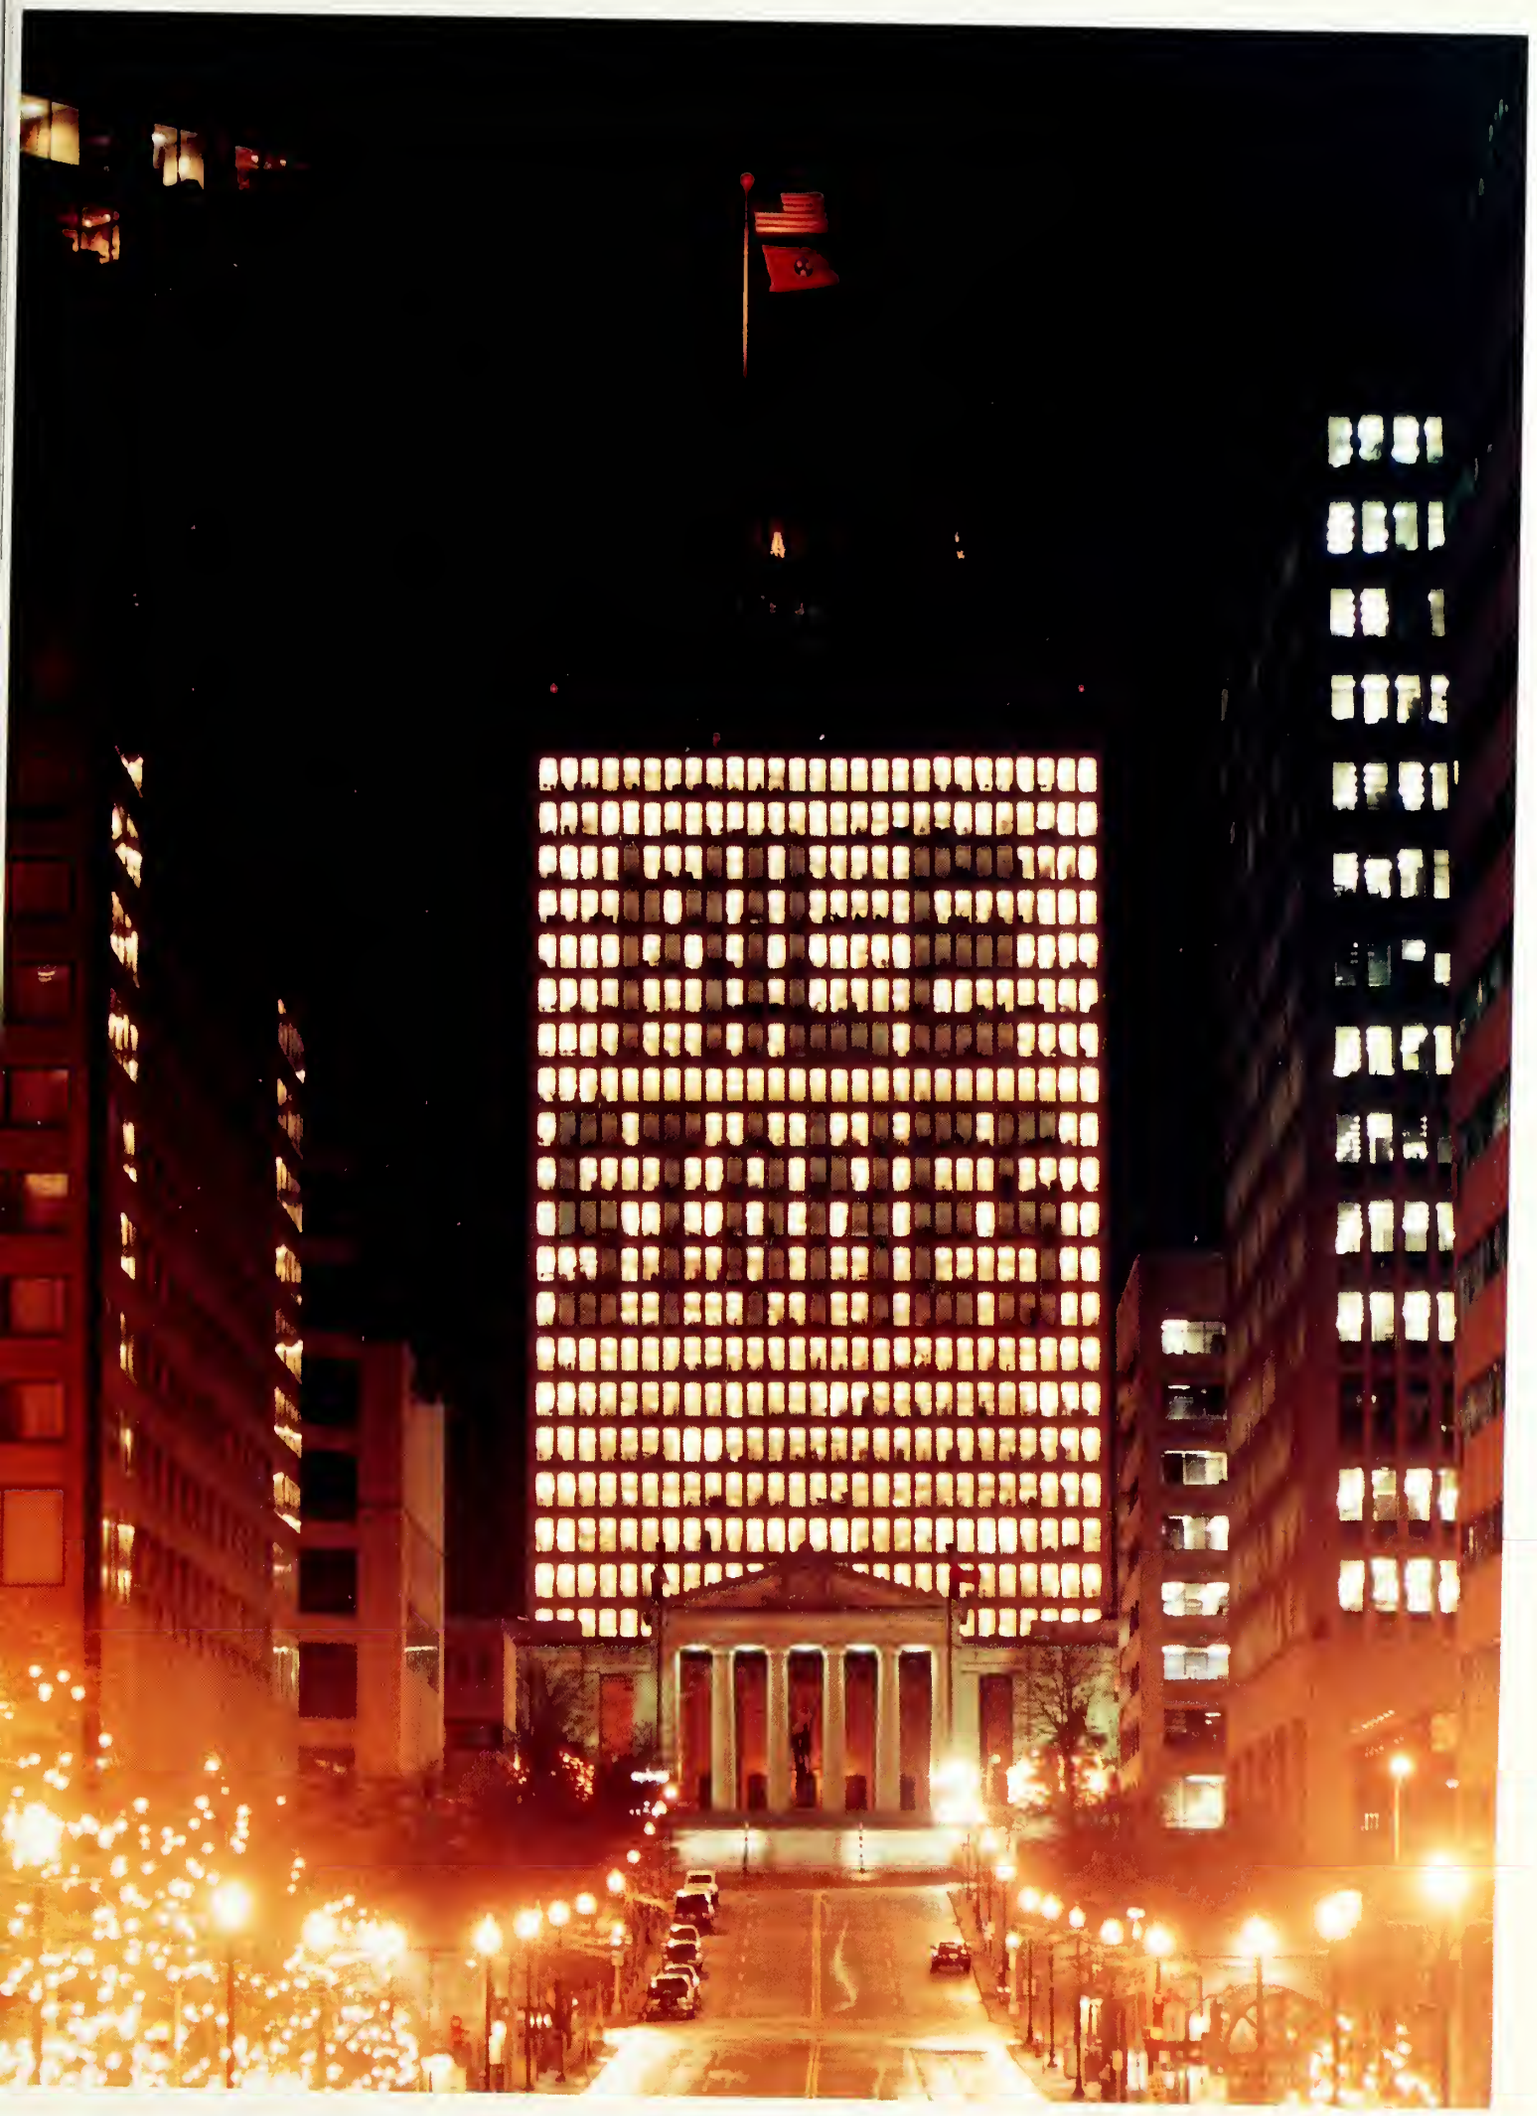

10:45 Work on homework a little more

11:23 Break down, call your best friend and cry "...I just can't do all of this!...."

12:23 Get off the phone and get ready for bed

12:34 Get in bed, debate whether or not to read something

12:50 As you doze off, you ponder ways of getting out of going to school the following day and count the minutes until the weekend....

UPPER SCHOOL DEDICATION

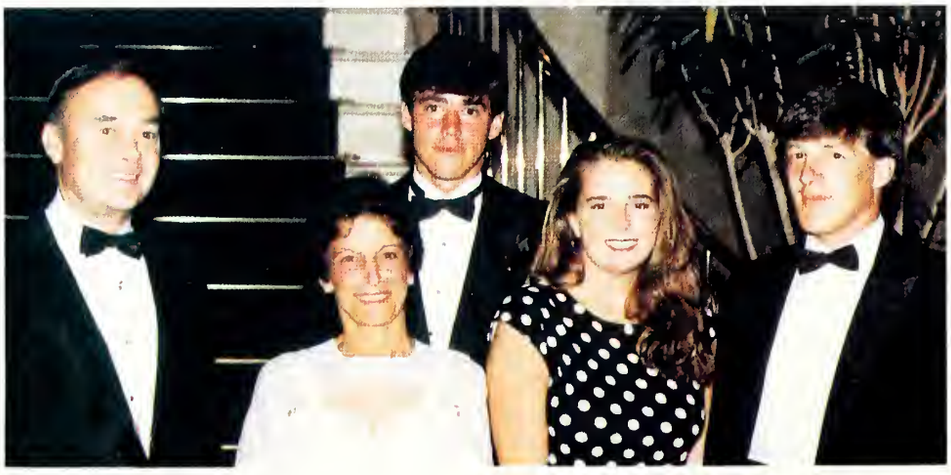

The 1996 dedication of Milestones honors a woman gifted with the ability to inspire. Her genuine friendliness and positive attitude create an atmosphere of honesty and optimism among both students and faculty. In her 10 years at Harpeth Hall, she has proven herself to be a quick thinker and has an uncanny ability to remain calm even in the most trying situations. She is a solution finder and a patient listener. We wonder if there is anything she does not know about school life. Always a whirlwind of activity, this hard-working woman maintains a sharp sense of humor and a perky attitude. She is truly dedicated to this school from which she graduated in 1956. Thus, it is fitting that we can dedicate a piece of Harpeth Hall to one of its finest products, Mrs. Susan Baughman.

MIDDLE SCHOOL DEDICATION

"Ms. Mabry is an amazing lady. I've known only few people who can handle discouraging situations the way she does. This is most likely because Ms. Mabry never seems to see a situation as discouraging, rather she finds some loophole through which it can usually be worked out. Even her powerful voice reflects the energy that she posesses without fail. She is an institution in the Middle School that I'll never forget."

"I'm honestly not sure what we'd do without Ms. Mabry in the Middle School. She's always there to talk to whenever I need a friend. I always enjoy her straght forward attitude towards life and can always count on her to give me her honest opinion."

At any given moment, girls in the Middle School in dire distress can be sure of one shoulder to cry on, that of this inspiring woman who's common-sense view of life can often cut the most horrible of problems down to size. An incredible individual, Mrs. Mabry's sense of humor brightens the days and lives of those who come into contact with her. Not only does she have three children and five grand-children to look after and advise, but she also has a large flock of students and peers who are dependent on her many and varied pearls of wisdom. Meanwhile, she also maintains an extraordinary sense of humor. Then again, anyone who has worked admist the trials and adolescent tribulations of this school for fifteen, going on sixteen, years would definitely need such a humorous outlook on life. Mrs. Mabry serves as the hub around which a complex network of students and teachers in the Middle School revolve. Perhaps it is her firmness and generosity that create the busy atmosphere enjoyed by those around her. Whatever it is, it makes the Harpeth Hall Middle School proud to dedicate this edition of the yearbook to such an astonishing woman, Mrs. Sally Mabry.

MS. PAT MORAN

Throughout her many years here at Harpeth Hall, Pat Moran has touched the lives of many people. It is only fitting that they have a chance to say goodbye. Here are just a few of the wonderful memories and feelings that faculty and students had to share about Ms. Moran.

"I know Ms. Moran is like an institution; there has never been a Harpeth Hall School without her. But I will always remember her for something she did when I was a brand-new teacher here. Mr. Wood held a reception in the garden for all the new faculty, and it was the first time for me to meet most of the other teachers and administrators. I was a little apprehensive, but as soon as I walked up, Pat Moran came over and gave me a big hug, and told me, " I'm so glad you're working here !" That made me feel like I was part of the Harpeth Hall family. And I have always appreciated her for that."

Mr. Tad Wert

"Pat Moran's cheerful, smiling face is going to be greatly missed next year when she retires. I can only hope that she will find retirement so dreadfully boring that she'll drop by and visit us daily."

Ms. LaVoe Mulgrew

"Ms. Moran has a very big heart and when you're down she is always the first one to crack a joke and make you smile."

Megan Youngblood, Sophomore

"Ms. Moran is such a wonderful, caring person. I had so much fun being in her cleanup last year and helping her yell at all the people who tried to escape from cleanup early. She is such a funny, sweet gal, and our school will truly miss her."

Kate Rose, Sophomore

" The thing that I always remember about Pat Moran is that she is a very infectious person. She always wants to make you laugh and is always interested in very real and earthbound things such as gardens and people. She's the only person I know that can get me really excited and inspired about bowling, you know? She talked to me about it , and I just kind of wondered about that class, but she just kept telling me how great it was and how the girls would really get into it and how it is a lifetime skill. Probably more tha anyone here, Pat Moran gives me the long term perspective."

Mr. Thad Persons

" Ms. Moran taught here when I was a student. She was as important then to the faculty as she is now. She was and always will be a wonderful Harpeth Hall tradition."

Ms. Susan Baughman

" Pat Moran is a fabulous fellow Kentuckian, and I wish her well. She is a true blue Wildcat fan."

Ms. Karen Roark

" Some people can never be replaced. For thirty five years, Ms. Pat Moran has been at the center of student and faculty life at Harpeth Hall., She has taught, chaired her department, coached, served on numerous committees, and, perhaps most importantly, never forgotten a single girl. The result is that a highlight of class reunions for alumnae is a visit with Pat Moran. She knows them, their husbands, their children, and genuinely cares about them and their lives. When there was not enough money for reasonable salaries, Ms. Moran remained giving, teaching, laughing, and advising. So, it is a special pleasure that, toward the end of her long anc distinguished career, the school has been in a position to recompense her much more appropriately. We wish her Godspeed."

Ms. Leah Rhys

DR. HEATH JONES

With a smile for everyone and that inexplicable sense of understanding, Dr. Jones has been a vital part of he Harpeth Hall community not only as a "Fizzicks" teacher but also as a friend to both students and faculty. The following reflections were provided by colleagues and students who in these past years have built a lasting elationship with Dr. Jones.

"In twenty years of a professional career he is the only person I know who can teach pre-first students as effectively as AP hysics students. I think the breadth and depth of his teaching experience and his success on so many levels and in so many areas is eally a testament to him as an outstanding teacher."

Ms. Nancy Grimes

"When he was hired, a mutual friend told me that if Dr. Jones said he could do something, he could do it. That's true. My ersonal opinion is that he is a scholar and a gentleman, and we will miss him."

Ms. Carol Oxley

"Dr. Jones makes me want to go to class, and I have Physics seventh period. I recently told him that I want to teach Physics. He laughed and said, 'That's good, because Physics teachers have all the answers.'"

Crissy Wieck, Senior

'Dr. Jones is without question one of the most dedicated teachers I know. We used to run together everyday after school, and our conversations were always about how could we be better teachers of our students. Heath loves the subjects he teaches, nd he will go to any length to impart that enthusiasm to his students."

Mr. Tad Wert

"He is a great teacher, a great olleague, and he is just a great man."

Ms. Karen Roark

"Dr. Jones is a gentleman and a scholar, and he will be sorely missed."

Dr. Art Echerd

"I meet up with Dr. Jones' sense of humor every morning at 7:15, and it keeps me going all through first period. He is the most patient teacher I have ever encountered, never giving up until a topic is thoroughly understood. I'll never forget his impression of a tongue stuck to a freezer door, or his imitation of a first-time driver of a stick shift car."

Val Byrd, Senior

"Well, I like Heath a lot because he's a man. He was one of the first men that I met here, and I wondered if they existed. Heath eems to me to be one of those consummate learners. He could teach a number of courses, he can read Ancient Hebrew and has a octorate in Biblical studies. He's very interested in technology and in trying new things in the classroom. I like that for someone so nowledgeable in his field, he is always seeking to reinvent himself."

Mr. Thad Persons

"Throughout my highschool career I have had the opportunity of working with some of the brightest teachers in Nashville, not he least of which is Dr. Jones. His wit and overwhelming intelligence are perhaps best expressed through his various comic impres- ions of Physics phenomenae. I'll always remember those filmstrips on standing waves which Dr. Jones insisted were 'better than Lady ne'."

Dolly Devgan, Senior

"Dr. Heath Jones was born to teach, and as a brilliant and compassionate master of his profession, is a passionate learner, one who will never be satisfied and who continues to take delight in new understandings, the same delight his students learn to reflect. His enerosity and selflessness have often meant that he carried responsibilities in the school too large and numerous for only one person. He has taught Physics and Math, coached Cross Country and Track, led innumerable committees, and served as Dean of Faculty and cademic Dean. Through all these years, he may have missed as many early morning help sessions with his students that we can ount on the fingers of both hands. For colleagues, he is astonishingly insightful and resourceful. For students, he is Dr. Jones; there's othing more to say. Like all devoted teachers, he remembers each student he has ever taught, and they find validation in his continu- g acknowledgement of them. We'll never forget him."

Wherever I am, there's always Pooh and me, whatever I do, he wants to do, "Where are you going today?" says Pooh: "Well, that's very odd 'cause I was too. Let's go together," says Pooh. So wherever I am, there's always Pooh, there's always Pooh and me. "What would I do?" I said to Pooh "If it wasn't for you," and Pooh said: "It isn't much fun for one, but two can stick together," says Pooh says he. "True, that's how it is," says Pooh.

"There are not many things in life so beautiful as true friendship, and there are not many things so uncommon." I will never forget the friends I have made here. I love you each uniquely and unconditionally. David, I love you and want you to know I'm always here. To David, Matthew, Mom, and Dad, you have been there through everything when no one else was. If we look at the path, we do not see the sky. We are earth people on a spiritual journey to the stars. Our quest, our earth walk, is to look within, to know who we are, to see that we are connected to all things, that there is no separation, only in the mind. - Native American Source Unknown

Faculty Candids

Faculty [illegible] Pg.

Ms. Leah S. Rhys

Have you ever walked into your classroom and noticed your teacher is acting somewhat different? Slowly as you look to the side you see the reason for the sudden change in your teacher's personality embodied in the figure of Ms. Leah S. Rhys. Other than sitting in on classes, Ms. Rhys manages to keep the entire school under control no matter what occurs, including oil spills on Souby Lawn. Her busy schedule includes her responsibilities of overseeing the many committees and boards involved with the Harpeth Hall community. However, no matter how busy her schedule seems to be she always finds time to have a Senior Breakfast at Kirkman House or spend time attending a basketball or soccer game. Ms. Rhys also manages to stay on top of the latest news concerning single-sex education. She is truly a vital part of the Harpeth Hall community.

Ms. Susan Baughman and Ms. Lindy Sayers

Ms. Susan Baughman, the Upper School Director, is a woman who tries to fulfill each girl's needs at Harpeth Hall. Always trying to be of assistance, Ms. Baughman goes out of her way to make each girl feel welcome. If a new student needs encouragement, Ms. Baughman is more than generous in doing the best she can for her. "Just try your hardest," many students have heard her say.

Although Ms. Baughman is constantly on the run, she is always there for her appointments with students or just for talking about everyday concerns. As one of the best Harpeth Hall has to offer, Ms. Baughman has been more than successful in her job and has made a lasting impression on each girl here at Harpeth Hall.

Ms. Lindy Sayers is without a doubt the heart of the Middle School. As Director of the fifth through eighth grades, Ms. Sayers maintains order in what may seem to an outsider a chaotic realm of energetic young girls. Ms. Sayers enjoys becoming a part of each students life and offering them support. In addition to her numerous administrative duties, she finds time to teach the Life Skills course which has such a positive influence on the Middle School students of Harpeth Hall.

Development, Secretaries, Admissions, & Business Depts.

The Development Department is Harpeth Hall's key link to the Nashville community. The members of this department work closely with many groups of supporters to make Harpeth Hall the respected school it is. They have the responsibility of organizing programs such as, the annual giving, the capital and endowment programs and the planned giving programs. Communicating with Harpeth Hall's many friends and contributors make the Development Department's job very demanding.

The secretaries at Harpeth Hall play a very important role in our community. They are always extremely busy with their work but never fail to have a smile on their face and to help and do whatever they can for you. They are always kind and take care of you if you are sick. The secretaries are great at Harpeth Hall and the students could never live without them. They are always there to brighten everyon's day, especially during the most stressful times.

Without the Admissions Department the diverse and vibrant student body at Harpeth Hall simply would not exist. These women lead the Ambassadors Society, a group of students chosen to assist prospective students and families in their descision to attend Harpeth Hall. As Ms. Brown says, "The pleasure I gain from meeting and greeting new families to our community never lessens."

The Business Department at Harpeth Hall is essential in keeping Harpeth Hall's financial stability. Ms. King, Ms. Patton, and Mr. Hayward are key elemnets in the equation that spells success for Harpeth Hall. Without their expert financial abilities this school would surely not be where it is today.

Dept. Chairs, Librarians, & Counselors

The Department Chairs share a special function as each oversees the function of each's department. They are Dr. Hopple, Head of the Science Department, Ms. Oxley, Head of the Math Department, Ms. Moran, Head of the P.E. Department, Dr. Echerd, Head of teh History Department, Ms. Grimes, Head of the English Department, Ms. Rumsey, Head Librarian, Ms. Blackburn, Head of the Fine Arts Department, and Ms. Ward, Head of the Language Department.

This year the library was a source of knowledge and information as the librarians, Ms. Douse and Ms. Rumsey, ensured that the library was at the disposal of all students. All of the computers were available to students as the librarians ensured that the students knew how to use them. These women are a great asset to the Harpeth Hall community.

Ms. Liza Lentz and Ms. Dana Long-Innes share a common goal: helping students solve theri problems. Ms. Long-Innes teaches Upper School Life Choices while Ms. Lentz acts as the Upper School Guidance Counslor. These women are greatly appreciated by all students because of their open door policy which allows students to come in at any time they have a problem.

Anticipation strikes the hearts of all Juniors and Seniors as the question of college enters their minds. However, their feelings are put at ease when the expertise of Mr. Hopper and Ms. Barringer goes into full effect in August. These hardworking counselors spend countless hours consulting students on college choices and applications. It's hard to say what students would do without them.

Academic Deans, Ms. Susan Russ, and Ms. Emily Fuller

This year two of Harpeth Hall's most distinguished faculty members serve as Academic Deans. Ms. Nancy Grimes was selected last Spring to join Dr. Heath Jones and share the Dean's responsibilities. Dr. Jones oversees the Professional Development Committee. The Teaching Fellows Program is headed by Ms. Grimes. Both Deans work together on the school's accreditation through the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. An additional duty is overseeing the faculty evaluation process of prospective teachers. The school can look forward to many more successful years under Ms. Grimes' leadership, though Dr. Jones will be greatly missed.

Ms. Susan Russ, to say the least, is always on the run (no pun intended). As coach of the Varsity Track and Cross Country teams and an energetic P.E. teacher, she is everywhere it seems even if it is just for that warm hug in the hall. The athletic community at Harpeth Hall relys on Ms. Russ to do all the behind the scenes work that allows students to participate in the numerous athletics offered here at Harpeth Hall. No one doubts her abilities to lead her teams to victory. Considered by many to be a "tough coach" she is nevertheless highly respected by her students. She is often found playing the roles of mentor, coach, teacher, and friend.

Without Ms. Emily Fuller, Harpeth Hall would not be the unique learning environment that it is. As Director of Special Programs, she coordinates Winterim, the summer classes such as computer and dance, and this year began the Time to Rise tutoring program at Harpeth Hall jointly with YMCA. Ms. Fuller is actively involved in the Development Office, the Parents Council, and the Tennessee Association of Independent Schools. During Winterim she sponsors all of the travel and independent study programs. The Harpeth Hall Community is lucky to have such a talented and capable leader as Ms. Fuller.

This year's Student Council, under the leadership of President Brianne Frazier, has brought fun and unity to the whole student body. Beginning with the Leadership Conference where girls were charged by Brianne to "serve each other and become leaders": the council has held true to that philosophy. With activities like the Concert on the Lawn, Club Fair, Community Service Day, the Halloween Dance, and the Talent Show, the Council's members encourage everyone to get involved in activities at Harpeth Hall. Sponsors Mrs. Boehm and Mrs. Vest, along with the elected representatives have worked very hard this year to make it the best one ever.

Honor Council

Thirteen girls, all leaders, and a common goal: truth. The Harpeth Hall Honor Council strives to uphold the integrity of the school community. This year President Jennifer Kain has maintained a high level of involvement of the student body in Harpeth Hall's quest for honesty in its students. At the beginning of the year, the Honor Council performed an example trial to inform the students on how they function. Honor Council assemblies also include open-forum discussions and guest speakers. Jennifer Kain summed up the purpose of the Honor Council when she said that "I hope that everyone develops her own personal integrity so that together we can create an atmosphere of trust and respect at Harpeth Hall."

Key Club

The Key Club helps link Harpeth Hall to the surrounding community through the wide variety of service projects the members volunteer to do. Everyone is invited to take part in this organization, and the members are asked to complete a certain number of hours of community service. This year the Key Club has donated its time and energy to local projects such as, The Italian Street Fair, Trees of Christmas at Cheekwood, and selling shamrocks for muscular dystrophy. The Key Club helps to promote the idea of helping the community through local service projects.

Ambassador's Society

Who can you find every summer giving up a day of their precious vacation to mob Souby Hall for free SATCO? Who gets to call total strangers and is recognized for it? Who spends their study halls diligently labelling envelopes? Who else but the Ambassador's Society! This dedicated group of girls is chosen each year to give tours of the school, hold telethons to thank alumni, and help out with various meetings and conferences that take place on the Harpeth Hall campus. It is because of their hard work that Harpeth Hall is known as the respectable school it is.

Art Club

Members of the Art Club participate in a variety of exciting events. Painting and drawing are among the few of the fun-filled activities the Art Club sponsors. Being together with other passion-filled artists, Art Club members are able to create art in a supportive atmosphere. As well as creating art, students have the opportunity to participate in the Art Club's field trips, such as going to Chicago and Cheekwood. Students no longer find art intimidating but rather a truly inspiring experience because of this club.

Amnesty International

Amnesty International, sponsored by Mr. Persons, is a club whose goal is to attain peace by writing letters in order to free prisoners of war. Harpeth Hall's young women become more aware of the cruelties of the environment in many countries through this program. Though they often receive little response, the girls are never discouraged. Their objective is always at heart, and they continue their efforts to make their voices heard without fail.

Beyond Hate

Confronting prejudices and hate, educating about other cultures and religions, and learning to discuss such controversial issues were the main focuses of the '95-'96 Beyond Hate Club. Led by President Damali Booker, members participated in insightful discussions at inviting events such as movie and pizza nights. The Club also went to Camp Anytown, where topics of race, religion, diversity and how society reacts were discussed in an open environment of varied people from different schools. Incorporating fun and creativity into involved learning created a club where everyone could become interested and open minded.

Youth In Government

If you happen to hear girls in the hall debating Free Trade or Tenncare reform, chances are they didn't just walk out of Contemporary World class. Rather they are most likely warming up for Youth in Government. This large and active club takes its opinionated members to events such as Model UN and Youth Legislature. These two events provide opportunities for participants to write, debate, and vote on a variety of bills dealing with issues from elderly drivers to lowering the drinking age. With help from the officers and sponsors Dr. Jim Cooper and Dr. Derah Myers, "YIG" helps Harpeth Hall's young women to find their place in government.

Law Club

Students involved in Law Club are generally interested in pursuing mechanics incorporated in the Law and Justice System. Members include representatives from each grade level. Each year members spend countless hours practicing for the Mock Trial competition. The team is judged on how well they present their case and argue their sides. Mrs. Russell continued to coach the very successful team this year, along with other lawyers who practice in Nashville. Next year the team hopes to be second in state.

Playmakers

L to R: L. Ligon -Sec/Treasurer, A. Horne -President, T. Switter -Activities Coor., K. Irion - Vice President, M. Batchelor -Publicity, Ms. Klocko -Sponsor

Harpeth Hall is known for creating excellent plays. These plays could not be possible without the hard work of a few dedicated drama lovers- the Playmakers. Every Saturday during the productionof a play, Playmakers spend a majority (10 A.M. to 5 P.M.) of their day working. They do everything from painting, sawing, and mopping. All the work that needs to be done, the Playmakers are also the ones responsible for bringing refreshments, selling tickets, and passing out programs in order to promote each play. It can easily be said that the plays wouldn't be a success without the hard work of the Playmakers.

Where else can you find passionate, dedicated, and eloquent girls discussing global issues than in Debate? Found deeply engrossed in "substantially changing American Foreign Policy towards the People's Republic of China", this small team of half a dozen members meets once a week to discuss strategies and collect evidence that they use in tournaments to "tell a story" about their plan for change. Led by Chip frensley, who established the Debate team at Harpeth Hall last year, the Debate team is gradually gaining strength as a major asset to Harpeth Hall's extra curricular activities.

Logos II

Logos II is the newspaper of the Harpeth Hall Upper School. It provides students with team records as well as updates on current school issues or concerns, such as the Souby Lawn oil spill early in the year. However, Logos II is also known for its amusing aspect including articles expressing student opinions and Top Ten lists. Co-editors Sarah Chisolm and Kristen Campbell lead a talented staff and editors work hard to prepare articles and provide pictures for the widely read "word of the hall".

Penstaff

If you enjoy writing poetry, fiction, or even songs, then Penstaff is the place for you. Eacg Tuesday Penstaff members look forward to a relaxing evening sharing their work, drinking hot beverages, or traditionally on Halloween watching "The Woman in Black". As Vice President Beth Hardcastle says, "I love to be there because I get to hear works from my friends that I wouldn't hear otherwise." Penstaff offers a unique outlet for the multi-talented students at Harpeth Hall. Students are welcome to share not only their own work, but also to come and listen to others.

Harpeth hall's Hallmarks brings out the best creative abilities that the student body has to offer. Girls submit artwork, photographs, poetry, and prose. The editors, staff, and Ms. Roark meet periodically to put all of the submitte dworks into magazine form. Hallmarks comes out semiannually and is a always very popular among students. On Awards Day an award is given for the best work of prose and poetry. Hallmarks is a vision of beautyand spirit within the Harpeth Hall community.

TGIF! Not for the dedicated members of the Milestones staff. Each Friday thirty-something girls congregate in the Bear Lair for an extra one of two hours of writing copies, drawing layouts, and eating lots of food. Their hours of hard work amount to this great work which you now possess. This year the "staffers" had a fresh start with a new advisor, Ms. Mulgrew. She did a fantastic job motivating staff and editiors. These determined gals work hard to deliver MILESTONES which holds memories of the entire year.

Chorus

What do "barking," perfect pitch, and pearls of wisdom all have in common? You guessed it - they're all part of daily life in the Harpeth Hall chorus. Under the tutelage of Dr. David Cassel and accompanist Ms. Marion Ross, these girls meet three times per week during the second half of their lunch periods. The grils prepare for both winter and spring concerts as well as a few other outside events such as performing for Belle Meade Methodist Church. The Chorus sings pieces in varied languages, including Hebrew, Latin, German, and Swedish.

Instrumental Ensemble

Once a week the instrumental ensemble graciously gives up a free period to do something they all love, play music. Headed by Dr. David Cassel, these girls and also some members from MBA practice on Fridays after school for one hour. Their talents are showcased in such performaces at the open house, Winter and Spring concerts, and events at MBA. This ensemble is an excellent way to be involved with the arts. In the words of senior member Michelle Daugherty, "this group is made up of students who voluntarily choose to participate beacause of their love for music."

Pep Club

Cheered on by its most spirited president, Meredith McDonald, the Pep Club has noticeably increased school spirit here at Harpeth Hall. Through a system where Pep Club members receive points by attending athletic events, quite a few students have been encouraged to flock to games and meets. By having two representatives from each grade, the Pep Club manages to unite all of the Upper School grades into one spirited student body.

Student Faculty

Whether it's the parking lots, evaluations, the P.E. program, the Library, or quiet study rooms, the Student Faculty committee is sure to have an opinion and solution for anything that plaques the Harpeth Hall community. This recommending body is made up of appointed representatives and members of the faculty. Led by a sponsor, Ms. Baughman, and President Sarah Tomson, this year's committee has successfully handled many sticky situations and found solutions which please both students and teachers.

Spanish Club

Buesnos dias, senoritas. The Spanish club met periodically to discuss events and to talk about their service project. Meetings were always well attended. The club decided to adopt a family and was able to supply them with a Christmas this year. The club also met once each semester to eat dinner at a Mexican restaurant. Throughout the year the Spanish Club contributed to the community by helping to incorporate the Spanish culture into students lives.

The Junior Classical League responsible for promoting the use of Latin, is probably most known for their gifts of Jolly Ranchers accompanied by signs of "Io Saturnalia". Meetings are lead by President Comer Ireland and this year she encouraged members to participate in trick-or-treating for UNICEF as well as other club sponsored projects. They did a fabulous job providing pizza for the annual International Food Fest. Nearly all members have attended competitions all over the state and were very successful thanks to the efforts of sponsor, Ms. Ward.

French Club

Bonjour! Est-ce que tu as faim? This is what is often heard at French club dinners held throughoout the year. This year the French Club joined up with the Art Club to see the Monet Exhibit in Chicago. It also took part in the Food Fest sponsored by all the language clubs and provided a delicious meal for all including this year's french visitors.
Over all the French Club had an exciting year and hopes that next year will have just as many fun and exciting activities.

Science Club

L to R: Sarah Tomson, Crissy Wieck -President, Margaret Bass

The science club this year had much more energy and activities than in recent years. Led by President Crissy Wieck, the club sposored such events as a trip to the Chattanooga Aquarium and a white water rafting trip down the OcoeeRiver. Member Kristen Campbell said of the rafting trip that, "Dr. Hopple had to save me when I fell out of the boat and floated downstream for a while." Obviously the year was full of zest thanks to the new leadership and active advisor Dr. Hopple.

Chess Club

The Chess Club was a new additon for the 1995-1996 school year, thanks to MS. Christine Carpenter and a few dedicated underclassmen. Believe it or not, the team had a fun and successful year. Team member Elizabeth McClellan always had some exciting news about their recent accomplishments. Thanks to a talented, young team, they will go far.

Cross Country

The 1995 Upper School Cross Country team returned with only two seniors, Grace Hodo and Jennifer "Whips" Kain, to lead the way for an exciting year. The team looked to be youthful and inexperienced. However, through the leadership of these two outstanding seniors and hard, grueling work in 100 degree August heat, the season proved to be a success. Harpeth Hall took first place in the District and Region meets, and finished second in Metro and State. Paced by Lindsay Gaston, Ruth Duncan, and Lauren May, the team gained the respect of everyone they ran against. Above all, by the end of the season the team had bonded and become great friends and teammates. With many top runners returning next year, HH looks foward to having another memorable season under the wise coaching of Susan Russ.

When June arrived Harpeth Hall girls fled the scool leaving the campus silent. But there was one place that was far from empty; the soccer field was packed with enthusiastic, talented, and exhausted girls pushing themselves at 1996 Soccer tryouts. Because of the early tryouts, the team was able to go to Vanderbilt Soccer Camp and bond as a team. August rolled around and the team started vigorous morning and afternoon practices. By the time school started again, the team was on their way to a victorious season. With wins over both USN and Father Ryan, the team went on to defeat arch rival Saint Cecilia in the District Tournament. Seven returning seniors and fantastic, persevering coaches made the year a very rewarding.

Golf

The 1995-'96 Varsity Golf Team, led by coach Nan Reed, had a terrific season finishing undefeated. Margaret Horton, Kristine West, and Anne Nicholas Weiss played as individuals in the regional tournament. Margaret Horton placed second among the qualifiers and Anne Nicholas place third. At the state, Margaret was quite successful, shoting the best round of her competitive career (77!). Anne Nicholas also did well, competing in her first state tournament. Coach Nan Reed had nothing but praise for all of the team members whose skills improved dramatically through their hard work and determination.

Varsity Volleyball

After a long, hard week of doing nothing but playing volleyball in Bell Buckle, TN, the varsity volleyball team was focused and ready to concentrate on the season ahead of them. The ;loss of 6 key seniors from the previous season led the team to try new people at different positions. The team bonded well and ended up third in district. Seniors Adair Holiday and Michelle Daugherty received All-District honors. The Honeybears had great success, and great senior leadership led the squad to bump, set, and spike its way to victory.

Freshmen Volleyball

The Freshmen Volleyball team "spiked" their way to success. Their determination and enthusiasm led them to their victories over local high school teams. Don't underestimate these girls just because of their youth. These girls bring an extreme sense of dedication to the court that will surely take them far in their highschool volleyball career. Next year's varsity team will be lucky to receive the addition of these talented girls. As one freshman said, "Working together as incoming freshmen was a great opportunity to promote unity both on and off the court."

Freshman Basketball

Harpeth Hall's Freshmen Basketball team once again had a stellar performance. Their record shows their great effort, and they demonstrated great teamwork on the court. Coached by Susan Trzkowski, the girls played beautifully and carefully. This year the Freshmen Basketball team showed great talent and Harpeth Hall spirit this season. The varsity and junior varsity teams look forward to playing with them next year.

Varsity Basketball

This year's Varsity Basketball Team entered the season with new faces and a new offense. With only one returning Senior, Jennifer "Whips" Kain, it looked like a long, hard winter was in store for the Honeybears. However, with a large group Sophomores and hard-working Juniors, the team felt sure that they would turn a few heads. The highlight of the season was scoring the first point, making the first basket, and winning the first game ever played in Hillsboro's new Ed Hessey gymnasium. The success did not end there. The Honeybears advanced tothe Region Tournament at Montgomery Central, and ended the season on a good note with a valient effort. Go bears!

Cheerleaders

Led by two devoted captains, Elizabeth Ahern and Susanne Davis, the Harpeth Hall Varsity Cheerleaders supported the basketball team with spirit and enthusiasm. The cheerleaders got the whole school excited by initiating two pep rallies and, wiht the help of the Pep Club, a very successful "Pack the Gym" night which brought people out to a game despite the threat of snow. Even during Winterim when their number dwindled down to five, these committed girls did their best to shout out words of encouragement to the players. Having mastered synchronized kicking, the "toe touch", and two dances, the 1995-1996 were the definition of spirit.

When June arrived, Harpeth Hall girls fled the school leaving the classrooms, halls, and cafeteria silent. But there was one place at Harpeth Hall that was far from empty. The soccer field was packed with enthusiastic, talented, and exhausted girls. Soccer tryouts for the 1996 fall season wee held early this year. This gave all the players the opportunity to go to Vanderbilt camp in July and bond as a team. August rolled around, and the team started vigorous morning and afternoon practices. By the time school started and the halls were once again filled with boisterous Freshmen and nostalgic Seniors, the soccer team was on their way to a victorious season. With wins over both USN and Father Ryan, the team went on to defeat St. Cecelia in the district tournament. No one is sure to forget the amazing success of the Soccer team.

Swim Team

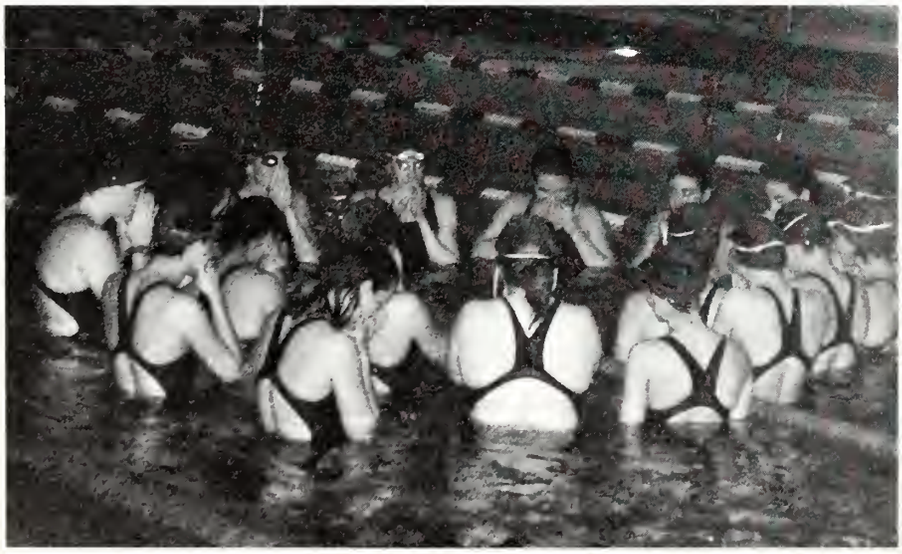

One thing can definitely be said about the Harpeth Hall Swim Team: they are not flounders in the water, but rather ferocious bearacudas. This year they tore up the water by making waves with one of their best records yet. Not only did the Bearacudas perform well as a team, but individually Harpeth Hall swimmers showed their fantastic swimming capabilities. Harpeth Hall even had a diver place first in state. Overall it was an exciting and eventful year for this talented group of girls.

Last Seen: Vanderbilt...the Rifle Range...with coaches Ed Stevens and Bob VanCleave

These girls are trained to hit almost any target (including pennies). But, don't worry, their main goal is to beat other teams in Saturday morning competitions. From November to March, these girls meet every Wednesday night to perfect their aim. Just remember, the next time you cross one of their paths - they are armed and can be dangerous.

Riflery Team

Tennis

The 1995-1996 school yaer marked an important year for Harpeth Hall's Tennis Team. This year was Ms. Moran's 40th and final year as the tennis coach. During her forty years as coach her hardwork and dedication have helped the team to victory. This year was no exception. Following Ms. Moran's lead, the team once again made it to sub-state. In this competition the team has a very good chance to come in first. The team's spirit has skyrocketed, and it was hard for the team to say goodbye.

Through wind, rain, and dead of night, the Harpeth Hall track team prevails. Meets may run on 'til dark, and injuries may plague its members, but nothing keeps this large group of girls from running, jumping, throwing, an dwinning. This 1996 team has enjoyed a wide range of victories under the leadership of the Seniors and the wonderful coaches, Ms. Susan Russ, Ms. Jan Barton, and Dr. John Hopple. This well-rounded team has huge depth and talent at all grade levels and in all events. They have proven themselves against teams from all over the state and fight hard to maintain their status as defending state champs.

Leadership Conference

Early one hot summer morning, the Knights of the Round Table boarded thier bus and van chariots and headed to their Camelot:Lake shore Assembly in Eva, Tennessee. The 1995-1996 Leadership Conference began when we put on our armor and planned our battle strategies for the upcoming year. Emblazoned on our shields was the motto: "In Serving Each Other, We Become Leaders". Through finding our personality traits, making skills about our goals, and even canoeing, we prepared ourselves for the obstacles we may face. Led by our school's own King Arthur, Student Council President Brianne Frazier, the conference was a victory for everyone as students aquired the qualities of leaders ready to take on the 1995-1996 school year.

Art Show

The Upper School Art Show was a fantastic success this year as many talented girls got a chance to showcase their outstanding artwork. Students displayed photography, paintings, drawings, and sculptures. The art was varied and displayed the unique talents and characteristics of each student. Perhaps the most unique piece of artwork was the bath tub sculpture by Ashley Horne. One student was moved to say, "This has to be the best art show I've seen so far. Without the Art Show I would never have known that we had such talented girls at Harpeth Hall."

Seniors Kristine West and Jennifer Kain admire the artwork of their peers.

Ms. Paschall and Senior A.K. Dettwiller share a tender moment at the Art Show.

Observers admire students' artwork.

Freshman Retreat

The annual Freshman Retreat took place earlier this fall. Traditionally, this retreat is a chance for the new Freshman class to get aquainted, elect class officers, and, of course, bond. When they arrived, they unpacked and then participated in a Ropes I course designed to stress teamwork and good communication. After dinner the girls played Drama In A Bag, which some Freshman thought helped them to become more comfortable with each other as a class and as individuals. They came back home with a newfound sense of familiarity and togetherness. All in all, the Freshman reaction can be summed up by one question asked: "Do we get to have a Sophomore Retreat?"

Senior Recognition Day

Held on September 21st, Harepeth Hall's Senior Recognition Day was truly an event all will remember. Brianne Frazier as Student Council President gave an excellent, humorous speech joking that the assembly was held in honor of her birthday. Kristine West followed up with an eloquent speech that seemed to capture the spirit of Harpeth Hall. Kristen Smith's speech embodied the mind and soul of the Senior Class of 1996. At the end of the assembly, the group, dressed in white, put on their traditional Senior hats; this year they were purple and grey. After departing from the stage, the girls started singing the Junior Class song instead of the Senior Class song. Able to laugh at their own mistake, the class ended with the singing of the Senior Class song. To this day however, some still say, "Hey, we meant to do that!"

Excuse me, we're Seniors; you can bow down now!

Upper School Community Service Day

On October 27th, over three hundred Harpeth Hall girls were set out into the community with one mission; to make a difference. This Community Service Day Harpeth Hall was represented in many Nashville organizations. The morning was spent everywhere form the Cumberland Science Museum to Animal Land. Junior Heather Small, who went to St. Luke's Community Center, said, "Community Service Day enriches the heart because you are giving your time to someone who needs your help." This sentiment is shared by many girls who were happy to do their part in Nashville. The student council event led by Brianne Frazier is a concept created by our own teacher, Ms. Lillian Roe, when she herself was student council president. Obviously, the day was a huge success, and we are already looking forward to next year.

Renaissance Banquet

This year's Renaissance Banquet was a delightful surprise to Seniors who had often heard of it but never experienced it. Held every year by Dr. Myer's English classes in order to take students back in time to see what the culture was truly like, all Seniors are invited to take part in an evening of fine dining, fine clothing, and fine entertainment. Accompanied by two musicians who played typical Renaissance music, a family performed traditional Renaissance dance steps, which everyone later learned. It was truly a night all Seniors will remember.

Choral Concerts

Where would we be without "Miss" Ross?

This year the Upper School Chorus has graced the Hall with not one but many exhibitions of their singing grandeur. Each year this lovely group of girls prepares for their Spring and Winter concerts which are done in conjunction with MBA's choral ensemble. Chorus members practice weekly during their lunch periods in order to maintain their excellent voices and singing capabilities. These hardworking members form close ties with each other as they go through the weekly preparation for their concerts. Choral concerts provide the Harpeth Hall Upper School Chorus with their only time to showcase their wonderful talents to the community. Therefore, the concerts are always well received. Senior Val Byrd says, "Our Spring concert this year was the best one we've ever given. I think that the chorus is really starting to come together, though we could definitely use some more practice time.

Winter Formal

Julia, Melissa, Britany, Rebecca, and Co. are picture perfect

T'was the Thursday before Christmas,
and all through the town,
Every student was prepping for a night on the town.
The decorations were hung in the Gallery
with care,
In hopes that a crowd would soon be there.
The couples arrived in dresses and ties,
And danced to Clifford Curry till the sun
started to rise.
Many a picture were taken,
So the memories would not be forgotten.
And as always everyone had a good time,
And this is the end of the Winter Formal
Rhyme.

Special Assemblies

These guys are really singing their hearts out during the Alma Mater

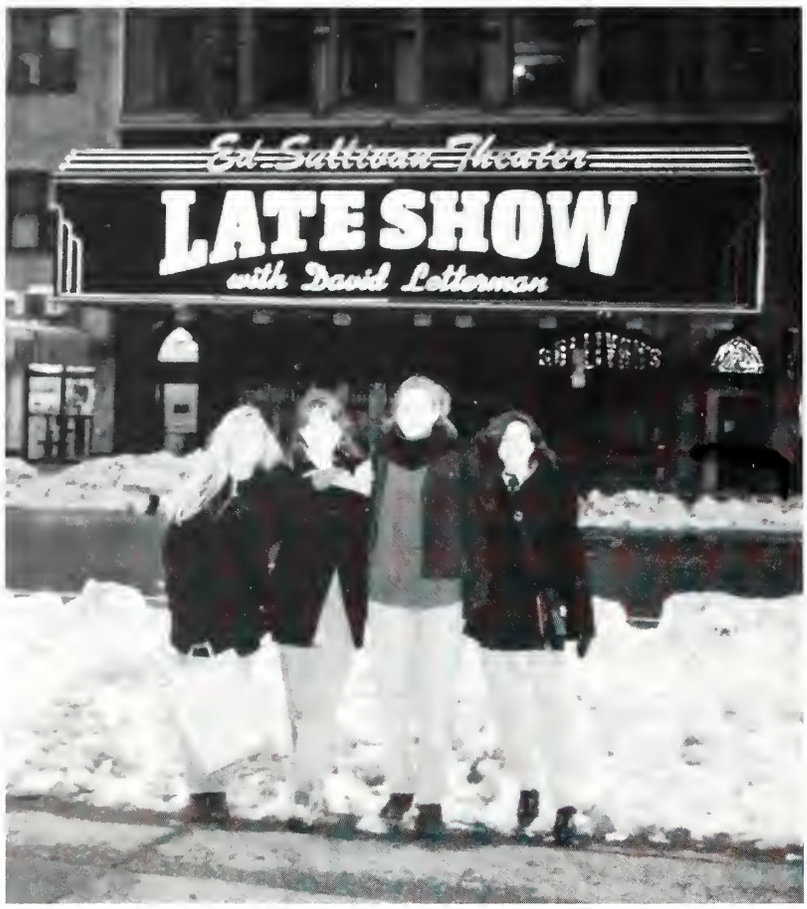

This year the assemblies were wide and varied. They included serious discussions on whether or not TSSAA should allow public and private schools to continue to compete together to the Princeton Tiger Tones singing romantic ballads to awed students. These special assemblies, along with various others, are appreciated by interested students and teachers. Perhaps the most interesting assembly for students was the one in which Mrs. Rhys introduced the school to all the new improvements and changes that will be occurring in the layout of Harpeth Hall. These changes are being made this summer in an attempt to make better use of the space that is available to the school. Students appreciated the attempts made by Mrs. Rhys to incorporate students views in the descisions made about their school.

Winterim

Mary Moragn, Meredith, Leslie, and Lauren camped outside the Ed Sullivan theater hoping to catch a glimpse of Dave

This year during the month of January, Freshmen and Sophomores returned from the decadence of Christmas break to throw themselves with renewed exuberance into the on-campus Winterim experience. For two and a half weeks students engaged in classes that ranged from the ever popular bowling to the more serious study of non-Western religions. Students were also able for the first time ever to travel to Walt Disney World to study computer graphics. On the whole, the students seemed to wish they could stay in this winter wonderland forever, enjoying the freedom of less structured classes and a few snow days.

Each year Juniors and Seniors leave campus to pursue the adventures awaiting them in the real world. Girls can choose between interning at local businesses and organizations or going on exciting trips to foreign countries or New York and D.C. January is always an amazing time for thses girls as they take a break from their classes and learn more about possible professions. Each girl treasures her unique Winterim experience.

One-Acts

Let's take a bow, shall we?

This year Harpeth Hall made a first by giving students for the first time ever a chance to direct one act plays. Four students applied and were chosen to take a class on directing taught by Mr. Persons. They were then sent on their own to select a play and hold audtions for their characters. It was truly a unique experience for some of the girls as they had to learn the art of directing. Student directors included Megan Curb and Beth Hardcastle who directed "Carwash"; Sarah Costonis who directed "Sure Thing" and "Phillip Glass Buys a Loaf of Bread"; and Terri Beuerlein who directed " A Date With a Stranger".

Father Daughter Banquet

Who is the best date with whom to spend hours dancing the night away on the General Jackson? Your daddy, of course! The 1996 Father/ Daughter Banquet was held on a chilly April evening, but the cool wind did not stop the crowd from singing and dancing all night long. The night was trluy special for the Seniors this year as a few of the Senior chorus members sang sweetly into the night air. Students always look forward to this annual event as girls share a special evening with their dads.

Faculty Recognition

The Faculty Recognition Assembly is a special time to honor all teachers. Students show their appreciation for all their contributions and recognize their hard work. Annually, the Owen chair is given at the assembly, and this year the recipient was Ms. Marie Burr. Teaching in the Middle School for many years, Ms. Burr has contributed much to the Harpeth Hall community. In the Middle School she teaches Prealgebra. Cheers rang out in the auditorium when Ms. Burr's name was announced; everyone was delighted that Ms. Burr, a recognized baseball fanatic, received this distinct award. Also in honor of Dr. Heath Jones an award was established, and it's first honoree was Ms. Margaret Bean. This award includes a stipend for the recipient who is selected based on how closely that teacher demonstrates the unique teaching abilities of Dr. Jones.

Prom 1996

Underage gamblers spotted in Vegas.

This year the Junior class, to the delight of many students, put on a gorgeous prom. They managed to turn the gym and gallery into a the glittering world of Las Vegas, complete with chips, Elvis, and a wedding chapel. Students came with their best dress and their best man (or rather the next best thing they could find) and danced the night away to tunes like the Violent Femmes' "Blister in the Sun". While presentation was a special time as always for the Seniors, the main attraction occurred when a young Elvis impersonator took the stage (or was that the real Elvis?). Students raved over the fantastic decorations making this year's prom one of the best ones yet. Everyone is sure to remember their Night in Vegas.

Dance

The 1996 Dance Concert was one of outstanding quality and professional calibur under the direction of Leslie Matthews and Stephanie Hamilton. With eleven Senior dancers and two Senior techies, the leadership was phenomenal and allowed the four dance clubs to pull off what was considered by many to be one of the best dance concerts at Harpeth Hall. In a very poignant modern piece entitled "Conversations with My Mother," the dancers explored text within dance and managed to bring tears to many eyes. The jazz and tap dancers captured the crowd's attention with their bright smiles and energetic movements just as the ballerinas won their hearts with their grace. The audience found a true appreciation for dance as the Senior dancers finished their long years of hard work with a stellar performance.

Athletic Banquet

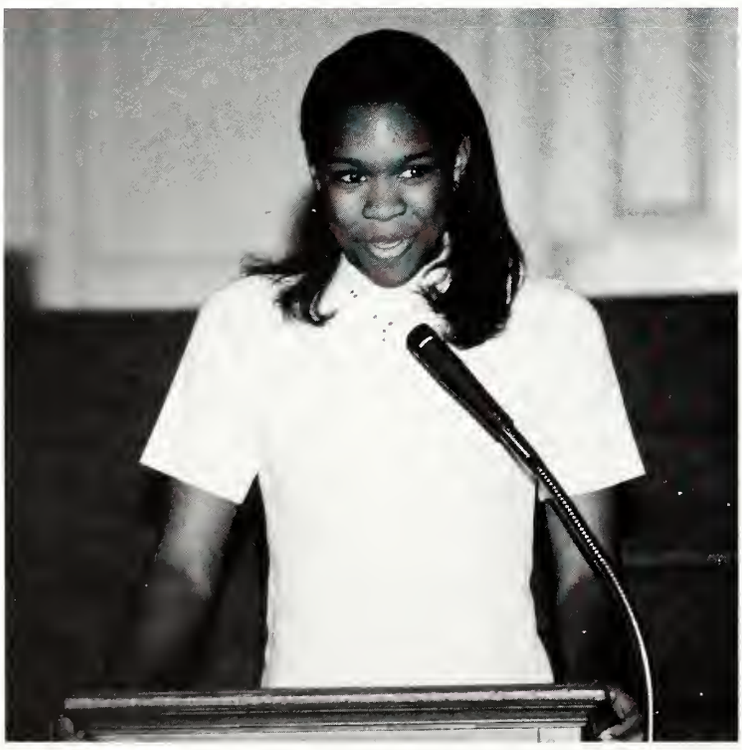

Student athletes were honored for their hard work at the annual Harpeth Hall Upper School Athletic Awards Banquet. This year Seniors gave moving speeches as coaches and teammates said goodye to another year. This is also the time when outstanding student athletes are given awards for their achievments in ta certain sport. The Awards Banquet also allows athletes and coaches to share some time together off the court, field, or track. Teammates are always happy to come together for a final night of bonding with the team. The banquet is always a special time that all girls are sure to remember.

Awards Day

Mary and Ms. Roark share a moment

This year masses of Upper School students, teachers, and parents gathered on Souby Lawn for the annual celebration of Awards Day. This is the day when outstanding students were honored for their achievements in academics, arts, and community service. Every student was in a joyous mood as it was the last day of school and cheered as their friends received awards. It was an especially moving time for Seniors and friends of Dr. Jones and Ms. Moran as tearful goodbyes and memories were shared. Seniors said goodbye to the hallowed halls and highschool buds as they look forward to the excitement of college. Ms. Moran' s brief speech was the most tearful moment of the day. This day is always special in the hearts of students as it is for some the last day of highschool and for others the last day of stressful classes, but for all it is a new summer and a time for new chances.

Senior Banquet

It was a Saturday night, May 25th. What was the Class of 1996 doing? They were having dinner with their teachers and other faculty at the home of Wentworth Caldwell. Yes, it was loads of fun. One table was even lucky enough to be honored with the presence of College Councelor Phil Hooper (because there was no more room at the "teacher table"). After a delicious dinner catered by Bread & cCompany, the seniors and faculty crowded into the house to listen to the senior roasts and watch part of the senior video. The senior banquet was the last time for the class to be together as a whole (in non white-dress mode, anyway), and it was enjoyed by all.

Step Singing

The crowd was intent until the rain began.

The Step Singing ceremony was quite an eventful one. For the first time in fifty years, the festivities had to be moved inside to Davis Auditorium from Souby Hall. The Juniors and Seniors processed outside in white followed by the introduction of the Lady of the Hall and her Court. The Seniors had bgun their Senior song, "I will Remember," when it started to sprinkle. As the skies opened up and the rain came pouring down, everyone moved inside. Once inside, the seniors again sang their song. Jennifer Kain, Lady of the Hall, gave inspiring remarks. The guest speaker, Ginger Justus, was a Harpeth Hall alumna and a former teacher at Harpeth hall. She delivered a captivating speech, never losing the audience's attention. The ceremony ended with the singing of the Alma Mater, the last time for the class of '96 to sing it as Harpeth Hall Students.

Senior Rep. Sarah Chisolm crowned Lady of the Hall Jennifer Kain.

Graduation

The 1996 Graduation ceremony was held in the Davis Auditoriun due to inclement weather. The graduating class made the best of the situation, thanks to Mrs. Baughman and her rain plan. Clad in long white dresses, the soon to be graduates made their way from Morrison Gym through the crowded Gallery and into the packed Auditorium to take their place on stage. After the Invocation, the chorus saturated the auditorium with beautiful noise, and immediately following Senior Speaker Brianne Frazier took her place at the podium. Brianne dleivered a fantastic speech, and even managed to ge in a last word with Ms. Rumsey concerning her overdue library book. Each Senior received her diploma with excitement. For all those graduating, it was truly a bittersweet moment. Once again, the Seniors sang their class song, "I'll Remember". Everyone joined in to sing the Alma Mater before the Class of '96 processed out into the Gallery for a crowded reception. Although it was not outside, it was a beautiful ceremony.

Katie Wray Award

This year the distinguished Katie Wray Award went to Sarah Scott Chisolm. Each year this award is given in recog nition of the Senior with the highest G.P.A. in her four years of highschool. Sarah Chisolm meet and exceeded these qualif cations by not only having the highest G.P.A., but by taking the most rigorous course schedule and participating in numer- ous extracurricular activities including Hallmarks and Logos II. Respected by her classmates and teachers, Sarah Chisolm has made a unique and definite impression on the face of Harpeth Hall.

Second Honors: Kristine Margaret West Third Honors: Meredith McDonald

Lady of the Hall

Lady of the Hall is a distinguished honor that is bestowed each year on a Senior who exemplifies the qualities of larpeth Hall. Each year a Senior is elected by the entire student body to be Lady of the Hall. This year Jennifer Berry Kain as chosen for the special honor of Lady of the Hall. A three season athlete, Jennifer Kain has been elected every year to e her class maid to Lady of the Hall. She is known by her fellow classmates and teachers for her incredible sense of honor nd respect for others as well as for her warm friendly smile. She truly best exemplifies the qualities of Harpeth Hall.

Student Council

The Middle School Student Council has the responsibility of keeping the interests of the students well heard in the Middle School. These girls are the leaders of the Middle School who must make decisions concerning student life. These girls have the immense responsibility of hearing what issues are most important to the Middle School. The members of the Student Council gain a great sense of responsibility and will someday become the leaders of the future.

Art Club

The Middle School Art Club is responsible for promoting the importance of art on the Middle School campus. Members take part in meetings where they not only produce various pieces of art but also learn about the pieces of famous artists. These girls share a genuine love and understanding of art that is unique to this club. The Art Club provides an environment that helps stimulate a love for art and a greater understanding of it.

Middle School Book Club

These girls share a common interest: a love for reading good books. Each month the members of the Middle School Book Club meet to discuss books that each girl has read. Every girl has a chance to share her own opinions about a book and discuss with other classmates common themes or characters in a book. Truly this is a unique club which is a special tie for those who share the love of reading.

Leadership Team

The members of the Middle School Leadership Team are a dedicated group who strive to serve their fellow classmates to the best of their ability. These girls are elected by theeri classmates to serve on this board which has the responsibility of ensuring that theneeds of students are met. These girls gain experience serving others in their leadership role and a necessity for the Middle School to flow as smoothly as it does.

Middle School Latin Convention

The Middle School Latin Convention was a great success this year as many Middle School Latin students won various awards for their achievements in Latin. Held every year, the Latin Convention is always a time for Middle School students to dazzle their colleagues as they demonstrate their superior understanding of the Latin language. Students always manage to bring back many awards and accolades to Harpeth Hall for their outstanding performances at the Latin Convention. Truly, the Latin Convention will always be a fond memory in the minds of Middle Schoolers.

Geography Club

The Geography Club is a new addition to the Middle School's varied list of extra curricular activities. It provides an environment where girls who share a common interest in learning about the location and environment of different countries can meet throughout the year. Sponsored by Ms. Bean and Ms. Kaplan, this new organization has an impressive amount of members which enforces the belief that these are not just a bunch of Middle School girls, but rather, a group of highly intelligent girls.

French Club

The French Club has been a tradition in the Harpeth Hall Middle School. Each year these girls come together to expand their knowledge not only of the French language, but also of the French culture. Each year the French Club meets in the cafeteria to sponsor their annual French Banquet. This provides the members with a chance to submerge themselves in the French culture for one evening as they enjoy fine French food and decorations that include the red, white, and blue of the French flag.

Junior Classical League

Middle School Latin Students find a common bond in the JCL, or Middle School Latin Club. Members include almost every Latin student in the Middle School, but is open to all interested Middle School students. These talented girls participate in Latin competitions in the surrounding region, and Harpeth Hall Latin students are known for their outstanding achievements in these regional, city, and state competitions. These young Latin acievers help to promote the Latin culture on the Middle School campus.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club is comprised of a variety of Middle School students who share a common fascination for the Spanish language and culture. These girls hold meetings throughout the year to discuss upcoming Spanish Club sponsored events. Sponsored by Ms. Chopin, these girls manage to bring the Spanish culture to life in the Middle School. They are responsible for exposing all Middle School students to the unique Spanish culture.

Whispers of the Hall

Whispers of the Hall is the Middle School's literary magazine. This piece of literature allows Middle School students to take an active role in the community and contribute their own works of literature. Each student who contributes to this magazine has their work published in the editions of this magazine throughout the year. Not only do students contribute their literature but also their own pieces of artwork to make Whipers of the Hall a truly unique and artistic showcase of student work.

Cub Chronicle

The Cub Chronicle is the Middle School student run newspaper. Sponsored by Ms. Girgus, the Cub Chronicle helps to inform Middle School students of the latest events and stories concerning Middle School life. With a responsible and hard-working staff, this newpaper is dedicated to keeping the Middle School on top of the latest issues. There is no doubt that these girls will becom the future reporters of America.

Seventh Grade Trips

This year was full of excitement as the Seventh Grade prepared to visit Lakeshore Assembly in Eva, Tennessee; go on a river trip; and see the Carnton Mansion. The Carnton Mansion, located in Franklin, Tennessee, was overrun with interested Seventh Graders as they learned about the mistress of the plantation who dug up mass graves of civil war soldiers in an attempt to identify them and give each a proper grave. The Seventh Grade year was definitely full of exciting trips and adventurous learning experiences.

Carnton Mansion. We love it!

Seventh Graders bond on the steps of Carnton Mansion.

Fifth and Sixth Grade Events

The Daugh W. Smith Middle School is always a flurry of activities, especially for the fifth and sixth graders. This year was no exception as the young middle schoolers held events ranging from Colonial Day celebrations to trips to local daycare centers. Each event was unique in its own way because while the activities may have been planned by the supervisors, it was the girls who added their own distinctive flavor to it. The fifth grade went to Glengarry Shool to work with visually impaired children. Their visit was a great success as the fifth graders touched the hearts of many children. The children also made quite an impact on the fifth graders as they realized they had made a difference in the lives of the children. The middle schoolers also participated in a Native American Day where students learned about the lives and cuture of the Native American Indians. Middle Schoolers dressed in the traditional garb of the Native Americans as they constructed various replicas of Native American artifacts.

Eighth Grade Trip

The Eighth Grade, Class of 2000, went to the now infamous Jekyll Island for their class trip. In honor of the class that will take Harpeth Hall into the next century, this page presents an alternative format of a yearbook page.

Grandmothers Tea

This year Harpeth Hall Middle School held its annual Grandmother's Tea.. During this special event Harpeth Hall upheld the tradition of inviting students' grandmothers to come and visit with their granddaughters at tea. Each year grandmothers truly enjoy visiting with their granddaughters and those who are Ward Belmont or Harpeth Hall alumnae especiallly enjoy visiting their old almae mater. This is truly a special event that is a unique tradition to Harpeth Hall.

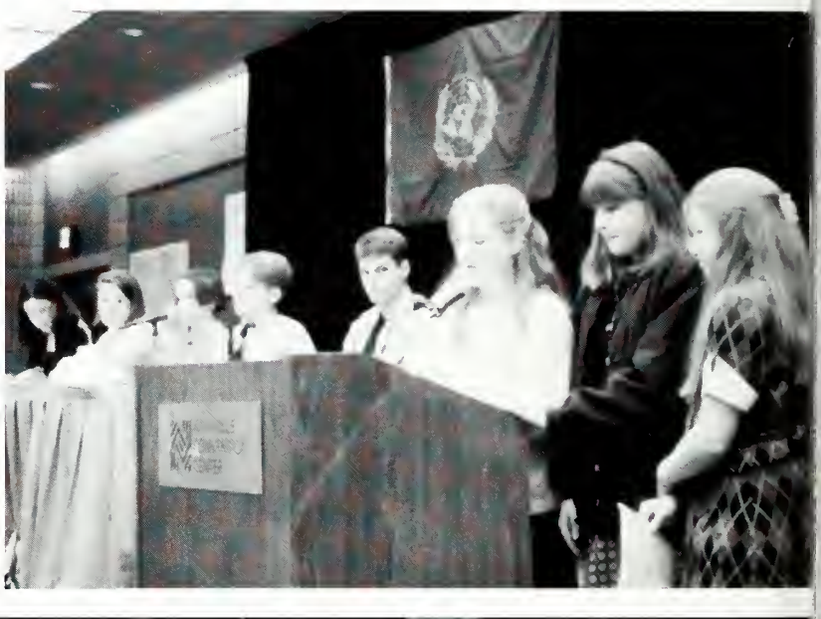

Middle School Model United Nations

This year Middle Scholers invaded the Model United Nations and came home knowing more about countries such as Istanbul, Sweden, and Afganistan. Model UN is a time for young Middle Schoolers to come together and experience what it would be like in the real UN. Students must prepare a presentation for their designated country and persuade the UN that their demands are valid and necessary. It truly is an experience that most students will remember for the rest of their lives.

Middle Schoolers invade the Model UN.

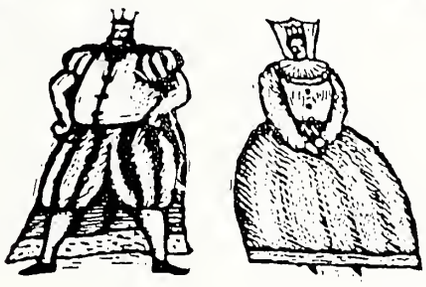

Middle Schoolers enjoy a moment of silliness at Model UN.

Middle School Athletic Awards

Miss T. and Miss Bean shine in the spotlight

The Middle School Sports Dessert was thoroughly entertaining, and well deserved awards were presented to persevering fifth through eighth grade athletes. For example, seventh grader Margaret Martin and eighth grader Tricia McWilliams were presented with awards for being the best all around athletes. Numerous other awards were presented to players of specific sports. For example, Meghan Campbell received the MVP award for seventh and eighth grade basketball, and Alissa Abkovitz received the Most improved award for Soccer. Margaret Martin also received awards for being MVP in Volleyball and Most improved in Basketball. Tricia McWilliams was presented with the MVP award for Soccer, and Molly Moore was named MVP for Softball. As many, many awards were handed out, not all can be mentioned in such a brief paragraph as this. The girls deserve many congratulations on a year full of dedication to athletics

Honor Day

As the Seventh Grade takes the lead of the Middle School, the Eighth Grade bids it a soft farewell. Honor Day celebrates the Eighth Grade students accomplishments as the graduate from the colorful halls of the Middle School to the large and crowded halls of highschool. This is a special time for Eighth Graders and their famililes as they head down a new path and say goodbye to the Middle School. The Seventh Grade also shares in the joy and tears of the Eighth Grade a they become the leaders of the Middle School. This is always the most exciting time for the Middle School as some say goodbye and some scream for joy with the beginning of a new era.

Congratulations, Alyssa

The Editors of Milestones could not have completed such an enormous task as the production of th yearbook without the help of several generous people. In particular, the editors would like to thanl the following:

-Mrs. Susan Baughman, for her time on Saturdays and her unfailing support-

-Ms. Nan Reed, for her prompt message relaying and ever-smiling face-

-Ms. Tracy Moor, for all of her computer knowledge and for not giving up on us-

-Ms. La-Voe Mulgrew, the most fantasic, involved advisor that ever got stuck with Milestones-

-Ms. Sayers-

-Ms. Mabry-

-Ms. King and Mr. Hayward-

-Mr. Buz Watson and Bess Oswalt (the editors new best friends at Herff Jones)-

-All coaches and club sponsors for their patience and help-

-Dr. Jones for making several efforts to fix the same computer problem-

-All of the Milestones Staffers-
(and honorary staffers Leslie Caldwell and Jason Bartlett)

-All students who contributed photographs to our cause-

EDITORS NOTE:

The Editors of Milestones gave up many, many afternoons, teacher- in-service days, and Saturdays in order to produce this yearbook. Kristin Smith did a fantastic job producing layouts, and spent hour after hour putting them on th computer. Anne Elizabeth McIntosh and Lauren Melkus were dedicated photography editors, and diligently organized picture days, took photographs, and dealt with our photography company. Beth Hardcastle lived up to her duties of being darkroom editor, and went even further by producing technical things such as endpages and cropping pictures. Jill Schoenblum was as organized as a business editor could ever be, always taking care of the money that no one else really took the time to understand. Dolly Devgan, as Copy editor, found herself in front of the computer until 6:30 on many school days, until the maintenance men had to kick her out because they had to lock up the building. Leila Holscher and Meredith McDonald were fabulously organized, and took care of every aspect of those all-important Senior half pages. The two of them together were probably more organized than anyone. Lola Blackwell, I wish you the best of luck in your endeavors to produce the 1996-97 yearbook. I hope you find time to have a social life and remember, it's "just a yearbook."

A Blessing for Going Away to College
May the autumn leaves carpet beneath your feet And the angels lead you through the class day maze. May your homecoming time be extra sweet And your heart warm with Indian summer days. May you grow in wisdom, age, and grace And learn to read and write and think and sing. May you swiftly run in learning's rapid race And God's kind love to all your roommates bring. May God hold you in the palm of his hand Until we meet again.

I knew a woman, lovely in her bones,
When small birds sighed, she would sing back at them;
Ah, when she moved, she moved more ways than one:
The shapes a bright container can contain!
Of her choice virtues only gods should speak,
Or English poets who grew up on Greek
(I'd have them sing in chorus, cheek to cheek)...

8:01 Explain to your first period teacher why you're late, "There was so much traffic!!"
8:50 Get note off the board telling you to move your car
9:07 Start to cry about all the work you have to do
9:40 Go to move your car, find threatening note from maintenance men to never park there again
10:30 Sit through an assembly about how valuable all girls education is, substance abuse, or the honor council
10:38 Pull your notes you've discreetly hidden from Mrs. Baughman out of your jacket and study for your fourth period test
11:00 Beg your teacher not to give you the test today and go into great detail about how you are going to fail it because you had no time to study
11:50 Beg your teacher to be kind when grading the test, "You can always give points for effort!"
11:55 Find your friends, cruise to the cafeteria to nourish your body, discover that yet another person has burned popcorn in the microwave, sit outside
12:05 Finish your lunch, then sit and talk with your friends while trying to study at the same time
12:40 Tell everyone in your sixth period class that you ate so much for lunch and that you need to lose weight before prom/spring break/summer/weekend
12:55 Space out during the lecture and pass the time by writing a note to a friend
