May Day Festival

LORELL McCANN, college senior from Taft, Texas, was crowned May Queen in the annual May festival held on May 14.

Preceding the appearance of the Queen's court were the singing of the national anthem and the procession of heralds, class banners, club pennants, dancers, TOPS, and the preparatory senior class dressed in white formals. Announcing the carriage of the queen were two heralds, followed by the college senior class and pages. The seniors wore pastel formals of pink, yellow, blue and green and carried bouquets of gladioli and roses. The queen was seated on a raised platform from which she presided over the dances and demonstrations which constituted the festival. Her attendants were MAXIE DICKENSON, Nashville, Preparatory Maid, LUCILLE ANDREWS, Chevy Chase, Maryland, College Maid, and Alma Knight, aged three, Crown Bearer.

A varied program of dances was presented. The festival was closed by TOPS retreat, led by the officers. After the lowering of the flag the audience joined in singing the last verse of "America."

Fine Arts Week

The annual Fine Arts Festival was held the week of April 29 to May 3. Oil paintings by various Nashville artists constituted the first exhibit. This was assembled by Miss Mary W Schackelford, director of the art department.

On Tuesday evening a concert was given by the Ward-Belmont orchestra under the direction of Kenneth Rose, with Kathryn Rose as piano soloist.

On Wednesday evening, Miss Elizabeth Wall, Mr F Arthur Henkel, and Miss Elizabeth Adams were presented in recital.

Thursday evening, the Ward-Belmont Choir and Glee Club, with Sydney Dalton as director, gave a concert. Emma Cornelia Pitt was the guest soloist.
