Breaking

As Harpeth Hall celebrates 50 years of education and tradition, the Milestones staff found it only appropriate to go against the grain and BREAK TRADITION. Were you a Triad? Ariston? Eccowasin? or perhaps an Angkor? What part did you play in the annual George Washington celebration? Let's not forget white dresses, plaid skirts (of varying lengths), and the tucked in/rolled up white blouse. How many years have you worn your one pair of saddle oxfords? When asked your mascot what do you say? I am a Bear or I am a Honeybear.

Above: When the saddle oxfords were removed from the mandatory uniform, Harpeth Hall lost it's "sole."

Tradition

Souby Hall, standing to greet a speaker, Senior House, step singing, outside graduation, class songs and Senior Recognition Day all stand out as favorite traditions. Sometimes traditions change. Once, every senior class received the "Beanie" on Senior Recognition Day. Once, saddle oxfords were a part of the every day uniform. Once, students actually wore plaid skirts more than fingertip length. Once, the school didn't have any computers. Just this year 8th graders are the pioneers of our new laptop program. By the time school starts in 2001 all students, excpet Seniors will have a laptop. Remember the old, celebrate the new!

Left: The annual George Washington celebration was originally performed by the Upper classmen, but now it is a tradition of the seventh grade. Photo dated 1947.

Above: The tradition of the beanie hat for the Seniors was replaced with the Seniors being able to choose their type of hat now.

Magnificent Martha

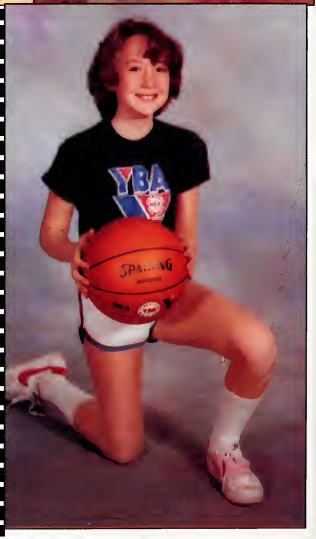

Grace Under Fire

We look up to you
For wisdom of the game.
To help us find our passions
And to help us find our hearts.

Your dreams for us are in your fighting strength.
And built within your presence,
Lies a raging temper rarely heard-
With a soft heart of endless encouragement

Even on the worst of days,
You help us see the finish line-
The joy that emanates from inside you
That blind men could undoubtedly see.

You must be the greatest sister with your fun laugh everyday
The greatest Vandy fan to ever come from UK.
We know Binkley, Thomas, and Slam love you, too
And we close by saying - Ms. Martha Grace,
- the Middle School dedicates this book to you. -Kara Huffstutter

TONY THE TIGER

His mind is a steel trap. - Ashley Shields

His real life stories in psychology make me feel normal. - Suzanne Brown

His willingness to do well in the classroom exemplifies what every teacher should strive to be like. He never once gives up on any one of his students because he knows and believes they can succeed. -Jennifer Price

He is more than just the fire chief of the Harpeth Hall School. Mr. Tony Springman has worn many hats here.He has done everything from Asst. Athletic Director to teaching Psychology and American Government to serving on the Diversity Comittee for the Board of Trustees. He is a father to Emily, Rachel, Austin and Nate, husband of Lisa. He coached the Varsity Basketball team from 1987-1998. As one of the members of the male posse, Mr. Springman has survived 14 years at HH, and we hope he survives many more. The Upper School would like to dedicate the 2000-2001 Milestones to Mr. Tony Springman.

Harpeth Hall girls hold an immense love not only for their prestigious education but for the food that comes along with it. Carrying a plateful of brownies through the hallway is simply asking for scavengers, while advisee meetings and long blocks of classes are nearly always accompanied with a tasty treat. Senior Emily Dade affirmed this fondness by stating that her favorite tradition at Harpeth Hall was "...anything that involves FOOD." At the beginning of the school year, students arrived to find several obvious changes in Harpeth Hall's physical appearance, but perhaps the most talked-about was the new dining program. When surveyed, students chose everything from pasta to "those little green apples" as their new favorite cafeteria food. The Cart, a new junior-senior privilege, made food even more accessible by bringing lunch directly in front of the Senior House. These changes have not altered the excitement a student exerts when a gracious classmate brings cake to class. Freshman Laura Wright exemplifies the typical Harpeth Hall student by admitting that the phrase she says too often is, "Where's the food?"

Our 6th sense

Most Harpeth Hall girls are quite fashionable, but there are always exceptions! Whether momentary lapses of insanity or innate problems that will be faced for eternity, these sorry souls were caught on camera in their disgraceful duds.

Right: Through sleet, rain, and snow-the sandals prevail!

Fashion in the hall

drawing by Alice Fort.

The wide variety of tastes in fashion is realized on the campus of Harpeth Hall. Every style from trendy to classic to gothic is modeled by this diversely dressed community. Often observers can see all the latest styles just by dropping in on a casual day. The uniforms themselves are given personal touches by those who wear them through unique splashes of their own fashion flavor. Formals are characterized by not only beautiful long flowing evening gowns, but one of a kind dresses with wholly new approaches. Let it be known that these girls definitely know their stuff!

The crazes of the year have included suede and leather materials, funky cable knit sweaters, and bright colors. The fashion styles of the 70's also made their way back into the mainstream with flowing materials and oversized "aviator" glasses. A mix of old and new was a characterization of the 2000-2001 year in fashion. Classic looks were modernized with new-age fits and cuts. Unique scarves and hats made a very practical revival this winter, allowing for an up-to-date look that also keeps you warm. Whatever the new craze, it never passed through Harpeth Hall's campus unnoticed.

Students a "dress" the real issues...

Q: What is your typical weekend outfit?
A: "cowboy boots." -Tori Tucker, 10th grade

Q: What is your favorite pair of Jeans?
A: "Ummm...Mavis. I'm loyal to the Mavi industry." -Betty Elrod, 12th grade

CAMPUS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

New Handrail, wider, less steep stairs, a tile enterance, columns, trophy cases... It is hard to remember what it use to look like. Phipps construction was responsible for the Gallery and Auditorium remodel and Snake Steel, the handrail.

"Construction, no matter how inconvenient, is a sign of a vibrant place that is alive and going strong! I LOVE it!"
LaVoe Mulgrrew

A flat patio, new carpet in the Gallery, trophy cases as you enter the gym, no spray paint on the outside wall of the senior house, green chairs in the auditorium, a massive hole where there use to be a library... These are just a few of the many changes that greeted students as they entered campus for the new school year.

Upper school students stepped smoothly on to the Gambill Courtyard. Here a welcoming new enterance was created complete with limestone caps for sitting and stepping. No longer is senior house identified with green spray paint, but rather a more dignified limestone plaque.

Imagine entering Marnie Sheridan Gallery and stepping on black and white tile. Then, as you look to the left you know that there really is a gym. To the right, new columns introduce a revamped auditorium. Here the burnt orange seats (circa 1977) are replaced by a more comfortable green. Pictures of the life of Frances Bond Davis hang in the rear.

And, how could you not drive on to campus and not notice the big hole in the ground. Over the course of the year, a state of the art library rises before our eyes.

Just outside Souby Hall, dump trucks, bull dozers, gravel, dirt piles, and wood pilings become a familiar site. Carl Johnson, the masonry contractor, and his men worked tirelessly over the summer to complete the project. Cumberland Stone fabricated the limestone seats, steps and signs.

Orion Construction began work just after graduation 2000 so our new library would be complete, at least on the outside, for graduation 2001. Many subcontractors are a part of this project, include Landmark and Sanke Steel.

We look forward to sharing the complete picture of the new Ann Scott Carell Library in Milestones 2001-2002.

Where there once was softball field, there is now a mound, and I don't mean pitching mound, of dirt. Hard hat area, construction enterance, do not enter... all were familiar sites and signs on campus. Great measures were taken to keep students and faculty safe. A little bit of extra noise, a few plumbing problems, a detour here and there, all are worth it in the long run. Photo taken by Lauren Coleman.

Does this look familiar? Do you remember this carpeting, perhaps the textured walls, the windows without automated curtains? (left)

One can never fully appreciate construction until you have lived through it. No job site would be complete without the ever present dumpster and Port-O-John. (above)

All About the Frosh

1. What is the most popular thing to do on the weekends?

Well...because I am a freshman, and no one has a car. The only place we really go is the Movies...Fun Scape -Courtney Dunn

2. On average how many times do you go see the same movie at Funscape?

Once or twice, if the movie is really good -Macie Garrett

3. Who is your favorite freshman teacher? Why?

Mr. Springman definently. He relates to us, and isn't afraid to be himself! He's awesome - Nancy Sisk

4. How many HH sporting events have you attended? How many MBA sporting events?

Uh oh, I have attended one or two Harpeth Hall events, and ummm... most of the MBA football games. I know, I know, I need to work on that school spirit a lil bit. - Caroline Ramsey

5. What is the best part about being a freshman? The worst?

The best part is that you can use the excuse that because you're new you did not know you had to be in class. The worst you are the smallest!! One word.. upperclassmen - Hannah Menefee

6. What do you look most forward to as a Sophmore? Junior? Senior?

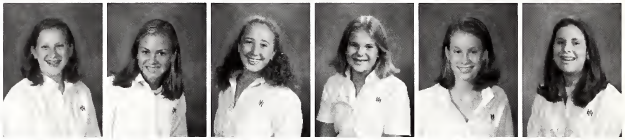

The guys in our grade will HOPEFULLY be a little more mature than they are now! -Grace Johnson

7. What will your grade be remembered as when you graduate?

Hahhahahaha, probably "disrepectful" even though most of us are not. -Leslie Toth

Eight is . . .

Algebra I, IPS, Romeo and Juliet...all part of being an eighth grader. Their leadership and strong personalitites helped set the tone for students above and below them. These diversely talented girls found time to participate in many clubs, sports, plays, and other activities. An occaisonal trip to the bowling alley, TPAC, and of course, Chicago, were some of the highlights of the year. Perhaps what the class of 2005 will most be remembered for is being the innaugral Laptop group.

From waking up around 6:00 to spending hours upon hours slaving over the books, the 5th and 6th grade girls are not just a bunch of rowdy children. They are the youngest members of our stuend body. Though they tire of hearing "Aw, how cute", they too will one day be saying those familiar words. Or perhaps say, as many upper schoolers have, "I was never that small!" With six to seven years to go, these Harpeth Hall stars are the future of our HH world!

Faculty Un-Plugged

Ms. Ross gets excited about the lovely addition of choral dresses.

This year the faculty was more prevalent than ever. With basketball games and male posse outings to the bowling alley, these teachers were often found to be the center of attention, both on and off campus. These talented men and women are the skeleton of the school and without them the students would be ever so empty. Their smiling faces and rich encouragement is admired and much appreciated.

"Yes, all of your schools are infact sending notifications informing us of your denial".

Have you ever seen a more perfect woman??

Mr. Wert stomps out all enjoyment with this deadly glance.

Dr. Echerd studies up in preparation to meet Regis.

Croker breaks from his vigil at the IMac to scrutinize the usage of the word "crap".

Mrs. Primm laughs deviously as she asigns seniors to stain glass making.

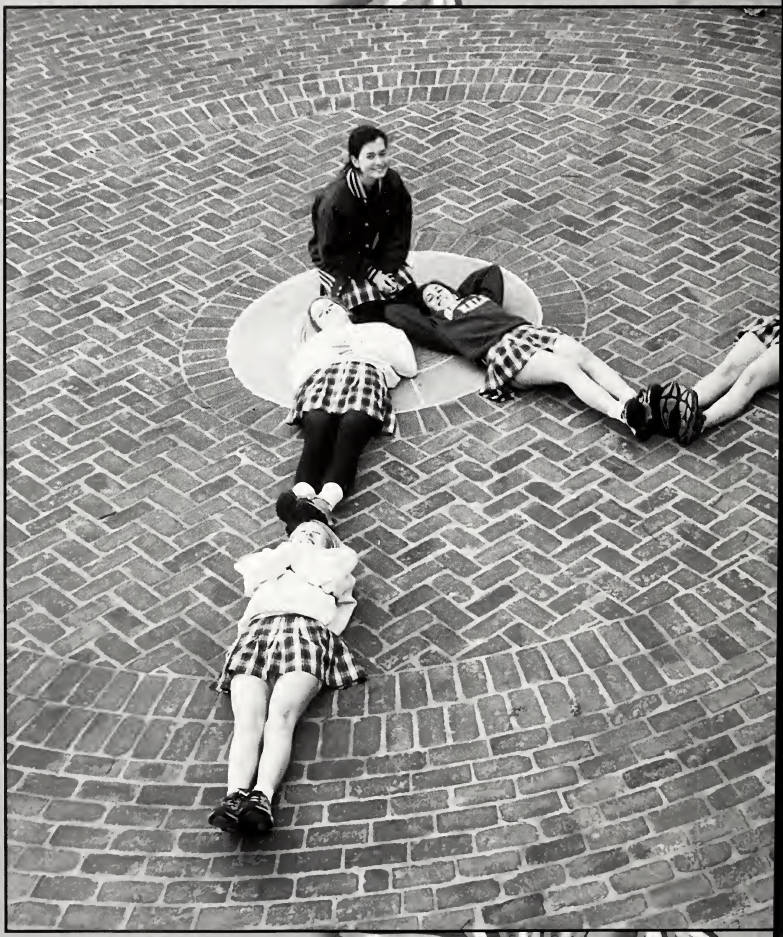

Martha Grace turns tricks.

We asked:

Where does the faculty go when the school day ends?

- Watch JACK HANNA'S animal house
- Practice for taking over the world (or at least Mulgrew's job)
- Hang out on the Cumberland plateau
- Go to sleep
- Stay far away from work
- Grade PAPERS!
- Live my second life as Don Juan
- Read the newspaper and drink coffee
- Get over the heckling I endure from my students
- Roll it with my hommies?

Reporters in the Making

Cub Chronicles, the Middle School newspaper, had a great year producing issues. All of the girls on the staff learned a lot about working as a team to produce strong work and better their skills. Emily Fisher, an editor on the staff says, "The Cub Chronicle meetings are a wonderful place for girls of different grades to get to know each other, while working on improving their writing. As an editor, it's so interesting to see the various works of different age levels." Most of the girls plan on remaining active in the school newspaper in their future years spent here at Harpeth Hall, and they will owe their beginning to the Middle School Cub Chronicles.

The dedicated girls who form the core of the Middle School Ensemble devote much of their time to rehearsing with their instruments. Aside from practicing on their own time, the girls practice during their free periods at school. They had a number of performances this year, leaving their audiences enchanted every time. Ms. Calloway has coached these girls all year long, allowing them to develop their skills, and their dedication to practice resulted in a great year.

Middle School Studs

The Middle Scool Student Council is at the heart of all middle school activities. Their responsibilities range greatly. They can be found doing anything from welcoming new students to organizing field day. They took on many tasks this year, always with enthusiasm. The student counci is run by the officers. Two representatives are elected from each seventh and eighth grade homeroom, serving as the body.

Lookie, Lookie, Here come the Bookies!

The seventh grade book club is off to the races with a great start. The girls can't help but be hooked with books like A Separate Peace and The Old Man and the Sea. They meet once a week during lunch to discuss the book, life, and horses.

Junior Numerators

The numerators have flooded the Harpeth Hall campus, and the middle school is no exception. The math team spends their lunches preparing for fierce competition among other schools. Got a tough problem in your neighborhood? Who you gonna call? Math busters!

The Spelunkers

Under the leadership of Amy Stallings and LaQuinta Smith, Lab Top technicians, and the bear cave girls come together in meetings to help solve students' computer problems. They are a nice group to turn to when the computer just does not want to cooperate. Emily Fisher, a member of the Bear Cave team, says, "With all the different experiences, the Bear Cave is a fun and exciting environment! We learn everything from re-imaging to removing the keyboard and the hard drive."

"Guys, look like I am saying something really funny 'cause the girl with the camera is here."

"Why are we taking our picture in front of such an ugly background?"

MINI CHEFS

With their leader, Madame Climer, the Middle School cooking club had a great time this year. They ended their meetings a bit early in the year but hope next year to continue cooking together until the end of school. The list of their culinary accomplishments is quite impressive, and these little chefs have much promise in the cooking arena.

"Look, girls, this is what you call a s-p-o-o-n."

MIDDLE SCHOOL CHORUS

The Middle School Chorus had a successful year full of many performances. They sang at the Winter and Spring Choral Concerts, Grandmother's Tea, and Thanksgiving Assembly. The girls practiced and performed under the direction of Lynne Rothrock. She was impressed witht the girls as a group, saying, "This year they have been dedicated and hard-working, lots of fun to work with." Whether they were practicing during the day or on stage at night, these girls graced the school with the beautiful sound of their voices.

The girls keep a close eye on Ms. Rothrock's direction in fear of her post-concert wrath.

Elta beams after spotting her boyfriend in the audience.

Ambassadors

Ambassadors is a very select group of exceptional Harpeth Hall girls who are eager to tell prospective HH students what they love about their school. As a member of Ambassadors each girl is responsible for attending the fall Open House and Alumni Weekend in the spring in order to be of service in addition to helping out the admissions office whenever necessary. The Ambassadors also lead tours for prospective students throughout the year. Ms. Primm organizes and sponsors the Ambassadors.

The Book Club

The members of the Book Club ponder their latest selection...

The 2000-01 Book Club consists of Ciana Pullen, Anna Guengerich, Elisa McCabe, Seema Kanwar, Lena Kravtsov, Katheryn Larson, Courtney Thomas, Rachael McCord, Christine Ekrem, Erin Williamson, and Shirley Li. The Club officers are Shirley Li (President), Lena Kravtsov (Vice President), Courtney Thomas (Secretary), Seema Kanwar (Treasurer), Ciana Pullen (Spirit Leader), and Elisa McCabe (Secretary of War). The girls meet once a week and read all that their mind will possibly hold (and that's a lot!) Some of the selections which they have read are Bound Feet & Western Dress : A Memoir by Pang-Mei Natasha Chang and Bless Me, Ultima by Rudolfo Anaya. The Book Club is sponsored by Ms. Girgus.

Shirley Li and Ms. Girgus share their love of books.

The officers do their best to keep the Book Club at its highest standards..no trashy romance novels!

Environmental Club

The Environmental Club, formerly known as Recycling Club was revived this year by a group of students who are eager to recycle the massive amounts of paper and cans used every day at school. Headed up by Anne Sanders and Dr. John Hopple, the Environmental Club added new recycling bins all over campus and helped to raise awareness about the program. The members of the club include Abigail Markham, Leslie King, Sarah Britt, Megumi Matsuda, Victoria Doramus, Kate Lainhart, Stephanie Tidwell, Alice Fort, Ellen Fort, Lauren Coleman, Haley Crumbo, Cornelia Rowe, Emmie Granbery, Jenny Paris, Kara Frisch, Elizabeth Stout, Kimia Ferdowsi, Maria Molteni, and Heather Brim.

Keepin' it out of 'da gutta

"Bowling Rocks!" were the sole words that came out of senior Frances Lewis's mouth when asked about the H.H. Bowling team this year. This stellar group of girls spent countless hours this winter at Melrose Lanes, polishing their form and showing competitors that "bowlers in plaid" are something not to be laughed at. With sponsors Mrs. Girgus and Ms. Roark and seniors Dacia Beard, Stephanie Beatty, Kate Blackmon, Chelsea Carter, Margaret Jones, and Frances Lewis leading the way, the bowling team took first in district for the first time ever. Even MBA chose to forfeit a game to H.H. due to their fear of defeat to these lean, mean bowling machines. Captain Dacia Beard had this to say about this group of bowlers, "Compared to last year, our team's commitment and dedication has greatly improved".

Did you find yourself bored every Tuesday afternoon? Well you wouldn't if you had been in the Badmiton Club. This winter, every Tuesday after school the Badmiton club, led by President Jenny Paris, practiced their highly competitive badmiton skills. One of the highlights of the season was the always anticipated Student Faculty Tournament. There, a level of high competition was shown as Croker and Goodwin put on thier shortest shorts and snazziest sneakers. It was truly a sight to see. Thanks to the badmiton club, students could play and learn more about that clever sport all the time.

A game, a group, and a man named Joe who enjoys wearing leopard. This description can be of no other but the amazing chess club and their sponsor Mr. Croker. During the year, this group of eight enthusiastic girls met every Friday after school to learn new strategies, eat some snacks, and have a lot of fun. They were even able to go to a tournament in Bellevue where they took third place. President Lena Kravtsovk, current MVP of the team, remarks, "The chess club is open to anyone who enjoys playing the game, or just wants to learn more about it." Jenny Paris sumed up the benefits of playing chess saying, "Now we know battle plans".

All You Need is Love

A group loyal to its purpose, the Beyond Hate Club made this year's goal to show everyone that hating is not an option. President Sarah Schwaber and vice pres. Dacia Beard helped spread this message throughout the school by organizing affective assemblies, having movie nights, and displaying informative posters and flyers. They even managed to make time to sell some studly t-shirts. When asked about the club, Maria Molteni commented, "By being in Beyond Hate, one can acheive a personal staisfaction as well as encourage others to accept and respect each other."

Just ask Dr. Echerd a question about honor, and you'll immediatley hear a strong scottish accent quoting the movie Rob Roy: "Honor is what no man can give ye, nor no man take away." At Harpeth Hall the honor code makes the school stand out in the community as one where lockers remain unlocked, book bags are left in the hallways, and students respect each other. Each year the honor council, led by Margaret Martin, faces cases dealing with honor violations, such as plagairism or cheating, but they are rarely busy.

Honor is also apparent when Harpeth Hall seeks to recognize students who have done well in academics. Cum Laude recognizes those students within the top 20% of their class in GPA. Mu Alpha Theta is the math honor society, for those students who have obtained an A average in all of their math classes for their high school career. Quill and Scroll recognizes those students who are an editor or high achiever for one of the school's publications and also are in the top third of their class.

NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARS

What do Julie Cato, Rachel Chisolm, and Margaret Martin have in common? No, this is not a three-way tie for the record holder with the most demerits accumulated in one year. These three intelligent girls qualified as National Merit semi-finalist. Based on their preformances on the 1999 PSAT, Julie, Rachel, and Margaret were selected from more than one million test-takers. Harpeth Hall also has five commended scholars: Ann Stewart Banker, Frances Lewis, Katie McKinley, Elizabeth Ramsey, and Sarah Fleming. Congratulations to these eight girls and their outstanding achievements!

Don't look too happy, girls! I mean, it's only National Merit.

The Numerators

The match club plays with shapes at Frances' tyrannical demand.

"Don't you just love calculator black jack, Susan?"

"Then, Hope told Bo that she had been seeing another man while living in Russia..."

Led by senior president Frances Lewis, the math club brought math pride to a new level this year. It seemed as if the club's spirit permeated throughout the math wing and even the whole school. With a record number of members attending meetings, the club was able to achieve much. They represented Harpeth Hall at math competitions, always making their team proud. And who could forget the ever-popular math club t-shirts? Their slogan on the shirt sums up their sense of pride: "Numerators: we're always on top."

They Blinded Us With SCIENCE

he Science Club models the latest twenty-first century fashion.

The members of the science club all have one thing in common: a passion for science, whether it be biology, chemistry, physics or even all three. This year the science club has strived greatly to make everyone realize the importance of science in their lives. Their activities have ranged from monthly meetings to adventurous field trips. No matter what they are doing, Harpeth Hall can be sure the science club is helping improve our earth while learning more about it simultaneously.

Doing It On Stage

very production Harpeth Hall uts on seems to be a uaranteed success. This would ot be true without the strong orce of the Playmakers behind em, working in the ackground to make sure verything goes perfectly. Every aturday during the production f a play, dedicated members of e club drag themselves to chool and paint, lift, saw and ean until they have the stage et. They are also responsible r the publicity and the selling f tickets and refreshments. tage Door and Damn Yankees re among the plays that have een preformed this year.

Calvin Coolidgettes

While the answer to the question isn't always Calvin Coolidge, the Quiz Bowl team at Harpeth Hall always guesses it just in case one day it is. Despite this, the quiz bowl team does exceptionally well, competeing against other teams across the state in a jeopardy-esque challenge. They buzz in to answer questions with lightening quick reflexes and take show off their impressive ability to retain random bits of knowledge.

The Harpeth Hall Honey Bear cheerleading squad had another great year supporting athletes in all areas and yet there is still no answer. Who did let the bears out?

Community Service

The Key Club operated under a new name this year but didn't stray from its purpose. Probabaly the biggest organization on campus, the Community Service Club maintained a goal of helping others in the city. Whether cleaning up neighborhoods, talking with children or teaching the blind, these girls worked hard toinstill the practice of good will in Harpeth Hall. The school as well as alums contributed over 50,000 hours this year. Way to go!

Survivors

They may not have tikki torches and have only eaten grubs out of choice. The Out door program plans year round trips into the depths of the wilderness to see who has the strength to survive. Trips this year have included white water rafting, rock climbing, caving, and back-packing to name a few. No, they're not going to give up; they're survivors!

The STUDS

Ever wonder who that crazy girl with the magenta hair leading assemblies was? She was probably Leah High, the president of this year's amazing student council. Composed of three freshmen, three sophomores, four juniors, and four seniors, this group serves as a direct link between the students and the heads of school. One of the things the student council is most known for is organizing the many dances including the Halloween Dance, Winter Formal, and the oh so exciting Valentine's Dance. The duties of this group actually do go beyond planning and throwing those big shebangs. This year, these studs spent countless hours organizing the end of the year elections and relaying dozens of questions and ideas from the students to the faculty. They are also in charge of the brightly decorated "Suggestion Box". Fearless leaders Leah High and vice president Meg Ragland have made sure that students at H.H. can feel free to voice their opinion and have the satisfaction that others are listening.

The 'Stoners

Stressed, annoyed, and possibly a little insane. Who are these people? No one but the incredibly dedicated milestones staff. Under the dictatorship of senior editor Lisa Shipp, assistant editor Becca Durnin, and sponsor Martha Grace, these girls work like an army all year to produce H.H.'s amazing year book. But of course the work isn't as all glamorous as it appears to be. By the end of the year, the milestones staff has clearly realized the ruthlessness of computers, the deadly words "sell ads", and what a deadline really means. When asked for a quote about the incredible milestoners, Martha Grace replied "They're great, except for all those freakin' procrastinators." It's obvious Ms. Grace must have had a fever when she answered, for the staffers on milestones don't even know the word procrastination. In fact, most pages were turned in at least one month before their deadline. Next time someone looks at your H.H. yearbook, and says, "Wow, what a great representation of your school", you can thank the awesome milestones editors.

Bonjolalve!

The Spanish Club, under the leadership of President Casey Potash, explores the meaning of the Spanish culture.....especially their food. Spanish clubbers participated in the annual food fest in the fall, as well as sponsoring many dinner outings to various Spanish restaurants. They also watched several movies relating to the Spanish culture at different members' houses. In addition, they also have strong hearts. They raised money from a Duds Day to buy Spanish/ English dictionaries for Spanish-speaking women at the Woodbine Community Center. They also made stockings with candy for the children there.

The French club this year was led by Rachel Chisolm, president, and Mellisa Pinsly, vice president. The French club also participated in the Food Fest in the fall. The French club sponsored a Duds Day, raising school supplies for underprivileged children. Another highlight of this school year was the guest speaker, Amelie de Gaulle, an interior designer. She moved to Nashville in 1989, and has two children. Amelie worked with Bella Linea and also on the Junior League Show House. Now, she works on her own as an interior designer.

What could be better than a group of Roman-wanna be's donning their homemade togas? This is such a scene viewed on the evening of initiation at Raleigh Anne's house. With Satco and tradition, the new JCL members were initiated into the club by lighting candles and repeating an oath. The Junior Classical League (the pride and joy of Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Hagan) joined in the Food Fest activities and also puts on its own Roman Banquet. Also, the Latin classes raised money to buy gifts for the Angel Tree during Christmas time.

Youth In Government

Youth in Government is a club at Harpeth Hall designed to engage students interested in debate and government. Led by president Stephanie Beatty, vice-president Rachel Chisolm, and sponsors Dr. Myers, Mr. Springman, and Mrs. Ward, the club prepared themselves for the two annual conferences in which they participate each year. The first of these was Youth Legislature, a mock state government weekend conference held downtown at the capitol. Students occupy positions as senators, representatives, press, lawyers, judges, and lobbiests. Also, YIG members attend Model United Nations, a mock running of the UN at which students represent countries (or are on press), write proposals to solve world problems, and then debate (and of course have fun staying at a hotel, eating out, dancing, going out downtown). YIG works to keep the school up to date on political news around the world, the United States, and Tennessee. Youth in Government is a wonderful opportunity for Harpeth Hall students to explore their interests in debate, research, and journalism.

Mock Trial

Once again, our Mockies dominated the courtroom in the Mock Trial City Championship for the fourth time in the last 5 years. Not only did they win the entire competition, but successfully managed to beat MBA not once, but twice in the same day. Led by President Frances Lewis and attorneys Amy Everhart, Louise Fontecchio, Edie Stump, Josh Perry, and Sal Hernandez, the Mock Trial team had an amazing year. This was the first year that the club had two teams, one of which was made entirely of Mock Trial "Rookies." Frances Lewis was named team MVP, and Katie McKinley and Frances received the advocacy award. The members spent countless hours at the courtroom practicing, but and the hard work paid off when they were named 2001 City Champions.

The Team that Jack Coached

MS Cross Country

If there was ever a year for the Harpeth Hall middle school cross country team to win the HVAC championship, this was it. This incredible team coached by Dr. Jack Henderson and Kristen Jones only lost one meet the entire season; that lost partly due to the fact the seventh graders weren't there. At the HVAC championship at Percy Warner Park, HH had six of the top fifteen finishers, including seventh grader Mary Katherine Bartholowmew and eighth grader Morgan Stengel in first and second place, proceeding to break their own record as the fastest one-two punch in HVAC history. In addition, Mary Katherine broke the school's record, previously held by Mandy Larence, by five seconds. The girls' hard work paid off when they won the championship for a second year in a row, a feat never done by a team in the HVAC. In addition to the hard work, the girls managed to have a fun time running. Eighth grader Sarah Rowe remarked, "Dr. Jack made tough stuff fun." Every girl on the team managed to improve their time during the season, contributing to the record breaking season of this "long green line".

Front Row (L to R): M. Tipton, E. Grote, G. Herbert, A. Phipps, M. Walker, C. Crouch, R. McLaughlin. Second Row: A. Dixon, S. Rowe, M.K. Bartholomew, L. Nicols, L. Riegle, M. McCord, C. Norwood, S. New to the middle school for the 2000 season was the creation of a separate B team. This allowed the A team to narrow its focus and the younger players of the B team to get more playing time. Little did Coach Myrick know what he was getting in to as he moved from high schoolers to 7th and 8th graders.

When asked thier funniest volleyball moment, more than one 8th grader replied "When we played DCA and Ms. Grace totally lost it. 'Words cannot express how mad I am right now, NO, NO, Proper words cannot express how mad I am right now.'"

In summing up the season 8th grader Cacky Tate said it best "Even though I wish we could have won more games, we ALL improved individually and as a whole. At our last game we came together as a whole and even though the score didn't show it, we won"

This amazing team of sixth, seventh, and eighth graders showed enthusiasm throughout a successful year. "Our soccer season was awesome!" Catie Reid says. The soccer team felt the team and individuals improved. "We...got eliminated in quaterfinals of the HVAC tournament in a very closely matched division-it could have gone either way," Morgan Stengel comments about the season. She continues, "It was really fun while it lasted and I really miss the team, the closeness." The team was made up of A and B teams; the A team lead by Coach Jeffords and Coach Rody. Mary Scott Wall and Tom lead the B team. Hays McWhirter commented, "All of the teams that we played were so evenly matched that it made the competition harder." The Soccer Team finished the season 2-5-3.

Hoop Dreams

Middle School Basketball

The Middle School Basketball teams, lead by Coach Grace and Coach Simmons, both had an exciting year. The "A" team ended the season with a record of 12-10 and finished second in the HVAC tournament. Another title that could be added to this teams name is first place winners in the Bellevue Holiday Tournament. The "B" team also had a great year and came out on top in 12 of their 14 games. Way to go girls!!

Mini Champs

5/6 Basketball

With only 2 returning players many did not expect a spectacular season from the youngest group of basketball players at Harpeth Hall. At the start of the season losses seemed to be the norm. As it is often said, "It ain't over til the fat lady sings." The little bears turned out to be the fat lady and sang to an undefeated Brentwood Academy team and handed the Eagles their first loss of the season. The bears won 4 straight games to capture the St. Paul Tournament Championship.

In just its second year of existance the middle school golf team again hit at high standards. Under the guidance of Coach Marees Choppin, these three girls, Candace Clippard, Emily Stewart, and Kendall Toarmina, practiced daily at the green. A new sport to the HVAC, the middle school bears continue to make thier mark.

Ready to Run

Middle School Track

An appropriate title, the Middle School track team was, indeed, "ready to run". Ironically, the team would belt out this Dixie Chicks song to gear up for victory. They must have been on to something with this ritual! At the HVAC "AA" Track meet the girls came away with the 1st place trophy. "The Bears accept no defeat; as they rise to their feet; To win this Championship meet," freestyled Coach Dale. Coaches Tiffany Dale and Marti Jeffords were "beaming with pride" in reaction to the teams victory. The girls were hardworking and dedicated to success, which provided them the reward of a victorious season.

A League of Their Own

MS Softball

Under the direction of new head coach Brad Ungrait, the Middle School softball team equaled their record of the past season. With 7 returning 8th graders this group survived through the third day of the HVAC tournament. Day 1 - 2 innings, day 2 - rain, day 3 - they finially got to finish the game. No matter what thier record, the bears played hard every game and practice and surprised many of their opponents with the skill and speed.

This year's cross country team, coached by Mrs. Susan Russ and Mrs. Tiffany Dale, was strong and diverse consisting of six freshmen, five sophomores, three juniors, and an amazing ten seniors. This team won almost every meet, bringing home the STATE TITLE. But not only is winning important, it's also about having fun. The runners started their season off with a retreat to Marion Granberry's lakehouse where they enjoyed wave runners, speed boats,jumping off a bridge, and watching movies (keep in mind they ran twice a day!). As Mary Diane Bartoe said, "The cross country team is really close because we all work together in practice and in meets." Katheryn Dennison enjoyed the senior workout practice the most. "We had birdseed and mustard and chocolate all over us," she says. It was not all fun and games, however. Their hard work paid off on November 4, when the team won the championship state title. Also, Jamie McGee, Marion Granberry, Allie Bohannon, Jennifer Burn, and Katheryn Dennison made 1st Team All Metro, with Tippins Stone, a sophomore, making 2nd Team All Metro. As their cross country t-shirts say: "Who let the bears out? Grrrr"

Vol-Ley Way to State

S-E-N-I-O-R-S...yeah we love our seniors. Rachel, Kazzie, and Margaret celebrate their last home game.

"Get on the floor" was how Freshman Nancy Sisk described her overall volleyball experience this year. The volleyball team, led by coaches Karen Schwartz and Jennifer Pledger, began practicing August first, and all of their hard work paid off when the beat Father Ryan to advance to the semifinals of Division II. This was the first time that Harpeth Hall had beaten Father Ryan in eleven years. Senior Margaret Martin commented, "We learned what it meant to come together as a team and give our all. When we did, we saw that the will to win cannot be beat, and Father Ryan saw this also. They admitted that they did nothing wrong; we just refused to lose." This year's team was led by three seniors Margaret Martin, Rachel Chisolm, and Kazzie Zerface. They each contributed a little something special to the team; for Margaret leadership and tenacity, Kazzie hard work and comic relief, and Rachel the will to win and determination. Congratulations to the 2000-2001 Volleyball team!

Wimbledon?

NO, it's the Harpeth Hall.... Tennis CHAMPS!

HVAC CHAMPIONS! The MS Tennis team started off their season with matches against USN, Ensworth, and Christ Presbyterian and started the season off with a winning streak. The rest of the HVAC opponents, minus BMS, suffered the same fate to the Bears. As the tournament approached the Bears entered as a number one seed. Their trip to the championship match was rather painless. Both of our doubles teams were seeded number one in the Championship round. The team ended up taking home the gold, winning the HVAC championship and two of the five individual championships. Mary Katherine Bartholomew captured the number three singles title and Candace Clippard and Alison Milam won the number two double titles. First year coach Robert Benson and the unreplacable Miss Patty have once again showed that the Bears are a force to be reconed with!

The 2000 Harpeth Hall Soccer Team had yet another enjoyable and successful season. The team began the season facing many obstacles such as injuries, illness, and as the loss of seven starters. However, Seniors Susan Oliver, Lauren Toth, Kathleen Serck, Cayce McCain, and MaryCres Szarwark led this team to a 15-5-2 record, qualifying the Bears as 11th in the state and 3rd in Division II. Ms. Seiters joined Tim Wallace as Assistant Coach. For the fourth year in a row, the Harpeth Hall Varsity Soccer Team advanced to the state semi-finals of Division II, a claim which no other team in the division can make. The team received several honors, including Harpeth Hall/St. Cecelia Fall Classic Champions, Division II Middle Region Runner-Up, and an All State Tournament Team member, Abigail Markham. The success of this team was due to the senior leadership, love of competition, and a passion for the game.

Upper School Basketball

The Varisty basketball team ended the year with a 21-8 record and made another trip to the TSSAA State Final Four Tournament in Murfreesoboro. Highlights of the season included big home wins against rivals Father Ryan and Brentwood Academy. The team finished second in the Region Tournament only to give up the number one seed by 2 pts. The team began its season early in the summer attending camp in Louisville, KY. Of course you can't go to Louisville with out going to Kentucky Kingdom for team bonding. Who ever thinks that Harpeth Hall doesn't have school spirit has undoubtably never come to a Harpeth Hall sporting event. From basketball and volleyball to swimming, bowling, and track, you can always count on someone decked out in green and gray! This year, the cheerleaders have improved their cheers and have added many to their list. Not only are there new cheers, but many more people too! They get the crowd excited and enjoy every chance to show a new move. These girls are definately unique, always having their "spirit box" ready for every bear fan. With a paw on each cheek, this year's team has been the best ever! And althought the uniforms don't match and the cheers aren't perfect, our cheerleaders are one of a kind! From the half-time shows to the dancing mascot, we have taken cheerleading to a totally new level!

Party Of FIVE

Five girls, three months, and one coach. What more could the Upper School Golf team ask for? It all started one summer day at Bellevue Golf Range when it seemed as though Emmy Powell had prior social engagements, Dru Nelson was at a professional lesson, leaving Molly Moore, Minje Whitson, and Lauren Hills to battle it out with their coach, Ms. Burrus, for a better swing. On and on, they complained and complained, but in the end, they complained again. "Hurry it up! Ya'll havin a tea party down there?!*," was a constant question the girls heard at almost every practice. Though this was the golf team's second year since its rejuvenation, they were able to beat St. Cecilia in the Regionals, advancing the team to state, thus, finishing their season better than expected. It was an exciting season with two freshmen, Dru Nelson and Emmy Powell, two juniors, Minje Whitson and Lauren Hills, and last but not least, the lone senior, Molly Moore, the lone senior who led the team to victory.

Bearacudas win StateTitle

Senior Ann Stewart Banker defines swimming as "a sport made up of hard work, dedication, Fazzoli's, and friends." She continued to say, "The best thing was the unity across all grade levels." The swimteam works together, and their hard work paid off by winning state and beating GPS. This was the first time Harpeth Hall had won state since 1981, when Tracy Caulkins was a member of the team. The team was coached by Polly Linden and Jack Hazen and led by seven seniors: Ann Stewart Banker, Evins Cameron, Juile Cato, Amy McDuffie, Elizabeth Ramsey, Lizzie Smith, and Lauren Trent. Congratulations to the 2000-2001 State Champs: The Harpeth Hall Bearacudas!!

Running in circles

Harpeth Hall won its eleventh State Track & Field Championship making it the second highest total of individual sport team championships. With an undefeated 2001 season, the team were Doug Hall Champions, Shoney's Track & Field Nashville City Champions, and Region champions. The freshmen team had a successful year while maintaining their title as Ninth Grade City Champions. Runners, throwers, and jumpers leave time for play and the "senior workout" despite the tremendous amount of work during the four-month season. The time, skill, and committment was rewarded with medals and championships.

FIRST INTRODUCTIONS

Ninth Grade Retreat

The freshman headed out for Hillmont Camp in White Bluff, TN. They were joined by 40 upperclassmen who were attending the Leadership Retreat. These leaders gave the freshman advice on how to have a fun and a manageable first year. They did a ropes course and an exciting championship game of Trivial Pursuit. Not only did they play games, but they met in their advisor groups, spent time learning names, and helped in understanding theexpectations of Upper School students. The freshman retreat was a huge success!

Following registration, the seniors boarded buses for the Inn at the Walking Horse Farm in Franklin. Most of the day was spent discussing college acceptances. Then they split into groups and discussed the acceptance and denial of some fictitious students. Surprisingly, the groups did not agree on which students to accept or deny. The evening ended with a candlelight dinner and a return trip home.

That Damn Stage Door

Fall Productions 2000

Damn Yankees

This fall's play, Damn Yankees, was a collaboration directed by Dr.Cal Fuller.The Faust drama was a hit, and the show sold-out on opening night! Practice for the play started before school and continued until the shows which were September 21-24. Damn Yankees had a huge cast and was a great performance.

Stage Door

The Fall Production entitled Stage Door written by Edna Ferber and George Kaufman was presented by the Harpeth Hall Playmakers November 2-4. The play tells the story of a female boarding house for aspiring actors in New York City during the 1950s. The story discusses the timeless argument of whether film or theater is better. Stage Door was an amazing script that was performed very well by both Harpeth Hall girls and MBA boys as well. The production was dedicated to Ms. Klocko's grandfather, Sam Segal who passed away the week of the performance.

HALLOWEEN DANCE

This year the Fall Dance was swarming with excited honey bears, all of which were dressed in full Halloween gear. The band was a hit and they got the colorful crowd involved in a wide variety of songs. But no doubt the most anticipated portion of the evening was the costume contest. Some of the most remembered costumes were Anna Derryberry (03'),dressed as a character from XMen, and the Grace Clayton (01') Julie Cato (01') duo, dressed as some overweight, over-served, sunbathers. The great decorations, provided by the student council, were fabulous as always. Although the refreshments were slurped up pretty quick, the crowd stayed cool. Without a doubt, it was a fabulous night for ghouls, goblins, and dancing.

Daddy's Girl

Each Spring, Harpeth Hall girls bring their fathers and special friends onto the General Jackson for an exciting evening of fun. The night includes a scenic boatride down Nashville's Cumberland River, a live band and dance floor, and a delicious dinner featuring the mysterious but infamous General Jackson stuffed chicken. Everyone is eager to dance and crowds the dance floor awaiting the appearance of the Blues Brothers. LIVIN' SINGLE

Like the past Valentine's Day dances, this year's was a success. Among the rad DJ, incredible H.H. dancers, and irreplaceable chaperones, the most memorable part was Singled Out. This traditional game involved setting up a freshmen guy, a sophomore girl, a junior guy, and a senior girl with their ultimate dream dates. Sophomore Lauren Salerno and senior Lisa Shipp (someone close to the heart of all yearbook staffers) were hard on the contestants, but managed to catch their hot guys. Lisa's dates (yes, she won two boys) even traveled from England just to win the contest. After the candy heart poems and singing boys, everyone was ready to hit the dance floor. Wow, it sure was a night 'o fun.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

Above: Student director Liz Edwards and Mrs. Klocko show us that they can also act, as they do their best "happy faces"

This year, on May 12, for the second time, the students of the Advanced Theater class got the chance to direct their very own one acts. Cristen Mills chose "The Lady of Larkspur Lotion", while Mickey McKee directed "Specter". "15 minute Hamlet" was directed by Jennifer Harrison, and Liz Edwards chose "The Lover". The one acts had a twist this year in that four segments from the musical "Dream Girls" were performed in between acts. The numbers were directed by Mrs. Klocko and featured Jennifer Harrison, Cristen Mills, Gina Calloway, and Lynne Rothrock. These four finished the night off with their incredible performance of "One Night Only", where Mrs. Calloway showed everyone that not only could she sing, but could also really get down with her bad self. The four student directors were very excited to get the chance to direct fellow students. Liz Edwards comments, " We were really fortunate to have this opportunity to direct. It showed us a different side of theater." Although the girls enjoyed directing, they decided it would take a great deal of practice and experience to master it. The student actors were amazing, the singers all had soul, and the directors successfully displayed their incredible talents.

Painting Ladies

In the tradition of past years, Harpeth Hall's Upper School Art Show opened in April, and numerous guests came on campus to support the artists and see the work.

Everyone who took art this year in the upper school had work in the show, except for the seniors in AP Studio Art, who had their own show a week later.

This year's show was an extremely impressive mix of painting, sculpture, drawing, and photography. What can we say? Harpeth Hall girls are just so multi-talented!

Dinner: Renaissance Style

If you had asked a senior what kinds of food, clothing, and hobbies were popular in late fifteenth century Europe, they probably would not have known the answer...that was until Dr. Myers's annual Renaissance Banquet.

In March, the senior class gathered in the gallery for a night of eating, drinking, and being merry. Of course, the night was not complete without a friend of Dr. Myers, who provided the entertainment for the evening by demonstrating some Renaissance dances and musical instruments. Let's just say the entire evening was an educational experience...

Masterpieces

Harpeth Hall and MBA Spring Production

MASTERPIECES is an imaginative reconstruction of the lives of the Bronte's. Directed by Ms. Janette Klocko, the production had a small cast of seven students: E.A. Manier, Audrey Ball, Melissa Pinsly, William Kaminiski, John Voigt, Liz Edwards, and Tommy McGinn.

The stage for Masterpieces was suspended from the ceiling. This effect was used because the majority of the play takes place as a dream.

Both the Middle school and the Upper School Chorus had a very successful year. Harpeth Hall was proud to send the Upper School Chorus to New York, but the blew the audiences away in Nashville as well. Cuttin' Footloose

This year's Spring dance concert was a huge success.It was held over the 50th anniversary weekend, which provided many alums with an opportunity to come see one of the four performances. This year was only the second time in spring dance concert history to include the Middle School companies, and also the second time to have live musicians accompany the dancers. The second act was called "You are So Nashville..", which included music either written or performed here. Seniors Helen Martin, Cory Chockley, and Cristin Mills had grand finales on the revamped stage!

Tempting

Amanda Lawrence is the special host of Prom Theme Temptation Island. Faculty members Brad Ungrait, Dr. Jack, Tony "the Tiger" Springman, and Tuz get tempted and are dismissed by the themes. Victoria Doramus was heard by many saying that it was definately the "shoes" that did it for her. Dr. Hopple demonstrates the real reason he is moving to New York...

This is Mardi Gras

Temptation Island was here at Harpeth Hall. With a variation of the reality T.V. series Temptation Island, juniors teased seniors with a variety of prom themes such as Dance Party USA, Toga, Western and Mardi Gras. Mardi Gras survived the temptation and won out as theme. Seniors were then treated to a feast of King Cake and other sweets.

Highlights of the temptation were a butt dance by Becky Brown, Melissa Pinsley was captivating as Vanilla Ice Ice Baby, and several members of the male posse debuted their acting/standing talents on stage. Dr. Hopple even DJ'd the "Doc Hop."

As every senior likes freebies, juniors delighted them with beads thrown out in to the audience.

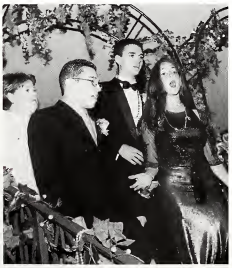

Bourbon Street

...comes to the gallery. Juniors transformed the traditional look of the gallery and gym into the streets of New Orleans. Guests could not even go to the rest room to escape the great city. Flowers, bright lights, and a Bourbon Street backdrop were just some of the creations by the class of 2002. Even a jazz band greeted everyone as they entered .

Wilderness Girls

Surviving with Seventeen and Pimple Cream

Leaving Harpeth Hall to visit Camp Laney allowed the incoming and returning seventh grade students to unite. They managed to survive the trip on pizza and chocolate pudding while using their energy in a challenging high ropes course. This adventure, including rock climbing and repelling off of a sixty foot cliff, taught cooperation and teamwork. The class celebrated their accomplishments around a campfire with funny songs, skits, silly games, ghost stories, and s'mores. Canoeing, ping-pong, and making arts and crafts for Head Start pre-school students were the favorite spare time activities. Conversations and dancing were enjoyed in the cabin and luckily the girls were not endangered by the bobcats that robbed their food during the night. The retreat was a rewarding adventure for both teachers and students.

Where Is Ferris?

A Visit to the Windy City

Above: Melissa M., Emily F., Allison W., and Danny C. perfect the windblown look.

"The best part [of the Chicago trip] was being able to have fun with my class in an environment different from school for three days. It gave us a chance to see the personalities of those we don't always hang out with outside of school," said one eighth grader. A boat tour between the skyskrapers and front row at Blue Man Group, complete with banana slime and tissue paper wars, were two of the incredible activities on the three day agenda. Students split up in small groups to tour museums, dine out, and sleepover at the Knickerbocker. Like Ferris, they rode to the top of the Sears Tower where they too could press their foreheads against the glass to view the city below. Rude encounters with the Ed Debevic's Diner waitresses, an educational visit to the Board of Trade, and human pinball games at Disneyquest concluded the fun-packed trip.

Land Between the Lakes

5th Grade Trip

Each year, the 5th grade takes a trip. This year happened to be their lucky year - the infamous Land Between the Lakes was their destination. Departing on April 2nd and coming back on the 3rd, these lucky girls got to miss 2 days of school. Among their activites were going to the nature center, making s'mores, putting on hilarious skits, learning about animal tracks, going for hikes, and really "roughing it" by sleeping in cabins. Students and teachers alike agreed this was a great bonding experience!

Washington, DC

6th Grade Trip

Each year, the sixth grade travels to the big city of Washington, D.C. First, they went to the U.S. Capitol and had their picture made with Congressman Bob Clement. They toured all the famous monuments and memorials and went to Ford's Theater. They also went to the Holocaust museum, the National Zoo, the National Cathedral, Arlington National Cemetary, and the Smithsonian Institue. Ms. Lee said "the trip was a great bonding time for all the girls, and also a chance for them to see much of our nation's history all in one city."

If you're wondering what the title means, take each word and reverse the letters....Yup, that's right, its Colonial Day, one of the traditions we observe each year during the fall. The gallery is transformed into a living museum with a tavern, bakery, school, town square, garden, and trading post. Outside, they have boothes for crime and punishment, courtship and marriage, children's games, an African slave auction as well as for witchcraft. It is a day that is always fun, entertaining, and educational. However, one thing that's incredible every time is oranges with peppermint straws, one of the many goods sold in their museum shop in the gym. After much preparation and organization, the 7th grade displayed a great show of their expertise on various topics concerning colonial life. Colonial Day is one of the many projects that is done during the year and definitely a favorite!

WIDE open Spaces

Native American Day

Above: Ashley Norman, Ellie Maloy, Liz Barcus, and Kathleen Catherall pose infront of their projects.

Hard work, research, costume -making and memorizing lines are just a few of the many things that the fifth grade must complete in their assignment for Native American Day. This year, like in years past, the fifth grade preformed "Clamshell Boy" as well as presented many aspects of Native American life. The stations were set up in the gallery and were very well designed and thoroughly researched. However, not only was there a great effort on all parts, but the artwork created was fantastic. The colorful creatures in an array of clothing are something that is always an anticipated display. Astounded by the amount of knowledge gained and every girl's outstanding outfits, Native American Day was one of the many highlights of the year. It is a performance that is a part of tradition, but is different every year with each class. This year's fifth grade was one of the best and on behalf of the entire school and community, "Hats off to a job well done!"

Halloween Carnival!!!!

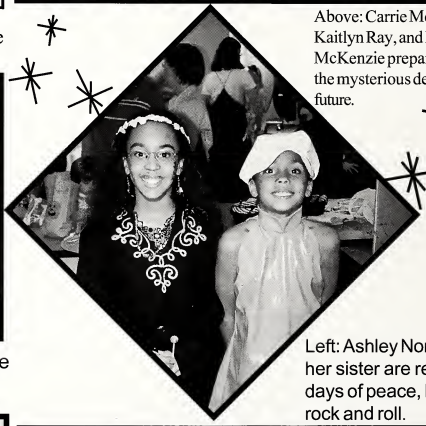

Anyone who has been to the Middle School on Halloween has seen first hand the excitement of the fifth and sixth graders as they prepare for their annual Halloween Carnival. Each year the girls prepare an afternoon of amusement for the children of Harpeth Hall alumns. The event culminates in a terrifying Haunted

Above: Carrie McDonald, Kaitlyn Ray, and Rachel McKenzie prepare to delve in the mysterious depths of their future.

Distinguished Women

What do Coco Chanel and Cleopatra have in common? oth found themselves represented by Harpeth Hall sixth graders s Distinguished Women. Each sixth grader dressed the part of a oman that has played an important role in history, and shared eir research on that woman with fellow classmates and parents. Whether representing a geisha from Japan or a nineteenth century ritish author, these girls showed the tremendous impact women ave had on the world we know today.

SNOOPY!

The rest of Harpeth Hall was awed by the talents of the cast of Snoopy, the Middle School musical directed by Lynne Rothrock and choreographed by Stepthanie Hamilton. This musical allowed the audience to revisit the wonderful world of Charlie Brown, Linus Salty, Peppermint Patty, Lucy Woodstock, and of course, Snoopy. The ensemble supported the characters wonderfully, adding animation to the classic adventures of Charlie Brown.

George Washington Day

The Seventh Grade of '00 - '01 helped to carry Harpeth Hall into the new millenium with the continuation of a famous Harpeth Hall tradition: George Washington Day. Even in Ward-Belmont days, one day out of the year, you could find girls dressed as sailors, soldiers, elegant ladies, and of course our nation's forefathers. This year, as always, under the unparalleled guidance of Merrie Clark and Leslie Matthews, a superb show was given. George Washington was played by Morgan Stengel, while Anna Gernert played his other half, Martha. Talylor Parrish was Captain of the Guard and this year's dedication went to the always fabulous Sally Mabry.The Seventh Grade did an excellent job of celebrating not only our first president's birthday, but also a long-standing tradition for Harpeth Hall's fiftieth birthday.

Grandmother's Tea

Time to iron the white blouse and check your skirt length

The Grandmother's Tea this year was a great success! A long standing tradition at the 'ole Hall, grandmothers and special friends traveled from as far as California to spend time with their families over the Thanksgiving week. All the girls spiffed up in their dress uniforms and waited for their grandmother or special friend in the gallery. Once everyone arrived, all made their way to the auditorium for several productions put on by middle school students. Performances included "Fun" from the middle school dance company, directed by Stephanie Hamilton. The 5th and 6th grade chorus performed a few numbers. As well as the 7th and 8th grade chorus. Even the middle school chamber musicians played for the crowd. Traditionally, awards are handed out to the grandmother or special friends who travels the farthest and who has the most grandchildren attending HH. After the performances, the crowd moved to the gallery where they enjoyed the punch, cookies, and finger food. Everyone socialized, met some teachers, and had their picture taken. All in all, the girls had a great time spending the afternoon with their grandmothers.

Clair Berry, Ana Nettles, Ashleigh Robinson, Molly Proffit, someone blocked by Ali Berryman and Cordelia Landstreet, members of the middle school chamber ensamble perform a few tunes for their grandmothers and special guests.

Kristin Mattus and her grandmother (can't you tell) enjoy traditional punch at cookies.

5th grader Ashley Norman shares time with her family and friends.

Fun was the name of the game as the middle school dance company performed. Fifth through 8th grades gather under the instruction of Stephanie Hamiliton.

Mrs Malone spends the afternoon meeting and greeting the many visitors to campus. She is getting ready to give the prize for grandmother with the most grandchildren at HH. It was actually a tie this year. Who do you think it could be???

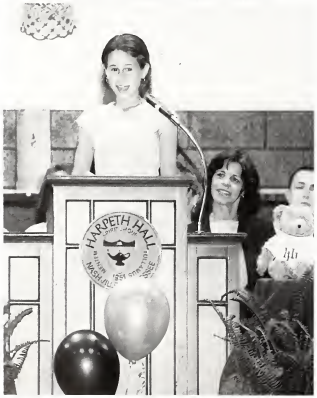

Becca Hill shares some stories with Jess's mother-in-law.

Graduation

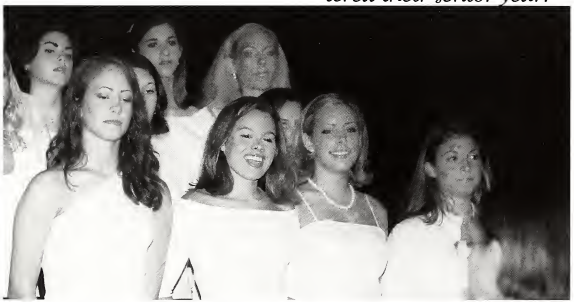

The Class of 2001 suffered yet another blow as they awoke on the morning of May 28th to thunder clouds and pouring rain. Despite the many inconveniances surrounding this year's commencement exercises, however, graduation was a success.

From the inspiring words of graduation speaker and fellow classmate, Frances Lewis, to the sentimental singing of the senior song, the ceremony was both a joyous and meaningful occasion.

The Lady of the Hall, as well as the girls with the three highest honors were recognized. There was also a portion of the ceremony dedicated to the memory of a friend and the late head of the Board of Trustees at Harpeth Hall, Carol Elam. The Class of 2001 exited the school year with the same vigor with which they entered their senior year.

To Molly, our child of a million faces and voices...
Through all your ups and downs with school and sports, you never quit, and you cannot imagine how proud we are of the strength of character you have displayed. And in the future, just in case you start missing your daily dose of parental wisdom, here it is again for you:

Say your prayers, clean your room, study hard, don't be a grump in the mornings, drive slower, always tell us where you are and what you're doing, don't argue, keep up with your stuff, wear the clothes we like, don't taunt your little brother, AND BELIEVE IN YOURSELF.

We love you so very much and hope you know what a gift from God you are to us.
Love, Dad, Mom, Claire & Spencer

Say that you'll never run too far away
Even with all the answers out there
Where it's brighter but no one will care
Half as much as we care about you

Build us a daughter
Who will be strong enough to be tender
And brave enough to face herself when she is afraid.
One who will know courage and dignity in failure
Yet learn tolerance and kindness with success.

Build us a daughter
Whose heart will be joyous and idealistic,
And whose soul will know music.
Give her humility and empathy.
Help her learn to prepare for the future,
Yet, respect and learn from the past.

After all these things are hers,
Add, please, a glorious sense of humor for,
While life is serious, we don't dare take it too seriously.

May she always remember the open mind of wisdom,
And the open heart of love.
Then we, her parents, will dare to whisper:
"We are proud and happy."

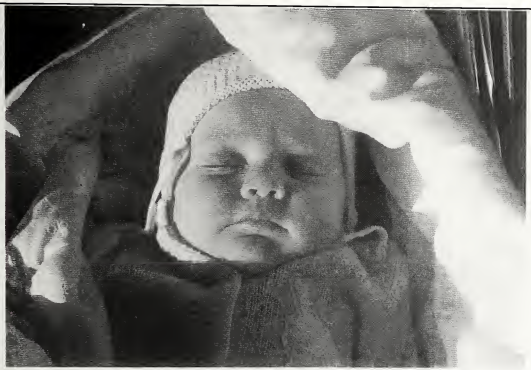

Congratulations, Chelsea!

From the time that you were a little girl, it became apparent that you would choose the road less traveled. Your strong sense of self took expression in many ways—your hair color, your art, the choices you made. With great respect for the young woman you have become, we thank you for all the joy you have brought into our lives; and we wish you great adventures and success as you continue your journey. LIFE'S LITTLE INSTRUCTIONS

Don't be afraid to ask.

Jump into new challenges with both feet.

Clothes don't always make the person.

Don't lose sight of your goals.

Dress warmly on cold days.

Keep your eye on the ball.

Music is good for the soul.

Believe in magic.

Your family will always be there for you.

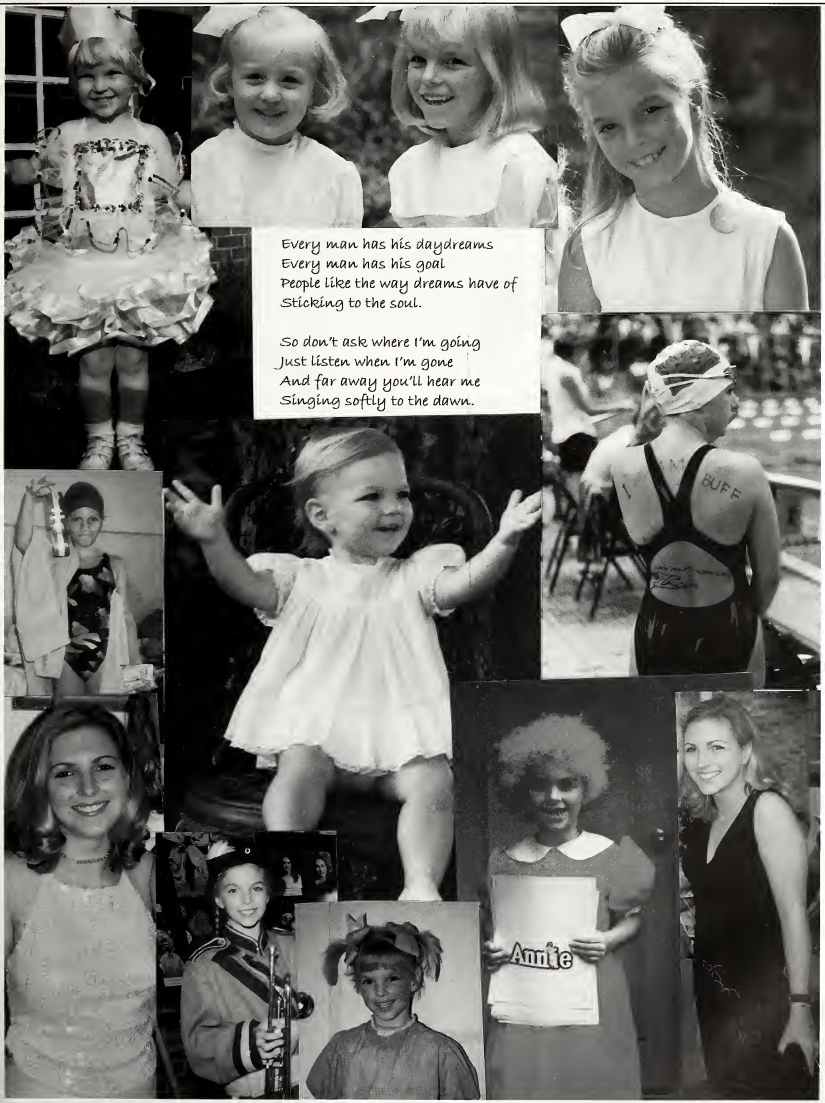

Smile and the world will smile back.

Dear Kathleen,

The most important things to remember are that we are proud of you and love you better than any young woman in the whole wide world!!!

Mom, Pat, Chris, and Matt

Every man has his daydreams
Every man has his goal
People like the way dreams have of
Sticking to the soul.
So don't ask where I'm going
Just listen when I'm gone
And far away you'll hear me
Singing softly to the dawn.

Dear Ivana,
If you can simply learn to think well, you will have plenty of career and education options to choose from.

Synergy doesn't just happen- it's a process. You have to get there.

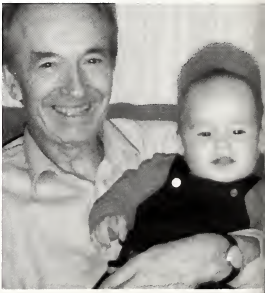

Keep your heart free from hate. Your mind free from worry. Live simply. Expect little. Give much. Forget self--think of others. Do as you would be done by. Do all you can for people with no thought of personal gain. Fill your life with love. By following these guidelines, you will be well on your way to happiness.

You achieved a lot. We are so proud of you..

Your father and I will be with you always.

Love,
Mother

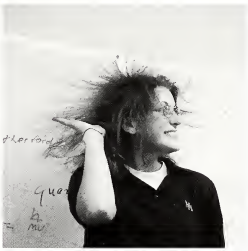

The eternal is my light and aid; whom shall I fear?
The eternal is the fortress of my life; whom shall I dread?
When evil men assail me with their slanders,
'tis they, my enemies and foes, who stumble to their fall.
Even though an army were arrayed against me,
my heart would have no fear;
though war were waged against me, still would I be confident.

Election 2000

George W. Bush selects Dick Cheney, former Wyoming representative, and former secretary of defense as his vice-presidential running mate on the Republican ticket.

The 2000 presidential election was in many ways decided by not just the voters but the courts. Five weeks after election day, the US Supreme Court blocked Al Gore's request to have disputed Florida ballots recounted. George W. Bush and Dick Cheney won the election after being awarded Florida's 25 electoral votes.

Antiquated voting methods in this age of technology threw the presidential election into turmoil. Punch card ballots, and the accompanying "Votomatic" system were first created in the 1960s. Disputed ballots had chads, or paper fragments hanging from the punch card that made it difficult for voting machines to read the ballots.

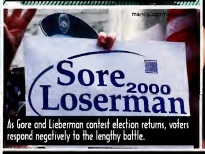

Painstaking manual recounts are performed by several Florida counties.
