

Chafing dishes will not be allowed in the student's room. A room is provided for this purpose.

Night study hall is open to all who wish it, and is required of those who will not study in their rooms.

Testimonials of character and health must accompany or follow each new pupil's application for admission.

The pupil's needs in personal spending money are fully met in a monthly allowance of five to ten dollars.

Rooms in the boarding department are assigned in the order of application, and early registration is advised.

A tutor is provided at moderate cost for students who need coaching to enable them to keep up with their classes.

A diet table is maintained for those adjudged by physicians or the trained nurse as requiring such special care.

The management reserves the right to dismiss any pupil whose influence is felt to be bad or whose health is a menace.

Every resident student is expected to provide herself promptly with song book, Bible, and other books for regular school use.

Large, modern infirmary in the main building and a remotely isolated detention hospital, both professionally superintended.

Except when they are in the Nashville homes of near relatives, pupils from a distance are required to board in the school.

Classes small enough to guarantee adequate individual attention. Thirty classrooms, besides music studios and practice rooms.

Visiting in the city not allowed, except by written permission from parents, and should not be requested oftener than once a month.

The residence halls and the academic building are entirely separate, a fact which contributes in large degree to home quiet, rest, and health.

Ward-Belmont offers accommodations for four hundred twenty-five boarding students, and there is one resident teacher for every ten resident students.

Every provision against fire—regular fire drills, fire escapes, fire extinguishers, fire hose—though there is no fire in the buildings except in kitchens and bakery

Windows and doors of residence halls expensively fitted with metal weather strips and copper screens, thus protecting against winter cold and summer insect annoyance.

Student body of 1914-15 representative of the best homes in thirty-two States, thus affording the broadening educational advantage of a nation-wide acquaintanceship.

With the exception of a few single rooms, which may be had at extra cost, each bedroom is for two girls, and is furnished with single beds, separate closets, and the usual other comforts.

Ward-Belmont does not lend money to students. Drafts made by students are honored by us only upon the written request from parents or guardians. No accounts should be opened in the city

All permissions of parents or guardians should be written and addressed to the management and are subject to the approval of the management. Even during the visits of parents pupils are still subject to the rules of the school.

Boarding students are under school regulations from the moment of their arrival in Nashville until their departure from the city. Parents should not, without conferring with the school, grant social or other permissions in the city before the student enters or after she leaves school.

Ward-Belmont is so much in favor with Northern patrons that practically every State north of the Ohio River boundary from New York to Oregon is represented. Since the mild climatic conditions and the high educational opportunities are alike ideal, nearly one-third of our student body now comes from the North.

The school bank, with its system of pass books, deposit slips, checks, and monthly balance reports, not only cares for the spending money of students, but teaches them how to keep a bank account, draw checks, and conduct their own financial affairs. We are not responsible for any funds or valuables not deposited in our vaults.

Several members of the household, called "Hostesses," devote their entire time each to the training of a limited number of girls in such questions as appropriateness and simplicity in dress, neatness and order in the bedrooms, and are always accessible for counsel. In a word, they undertake to perform the office of the refined mother in a Christian home.

Parents and guardians are requested to coöperate with the school in securing good regular attendance. Students should be on hand the opening day of school and at roll call after the Christmas holidays, and should remain for the last roll call before Christmas and until the student body has been dismissed after commencement. Much educational value attaches to the commencement season, and no student should miss any part of it.
