The Milestones staff would like to thank Mr. Bill Gehres for his candid photography, Mr. Hap Minhinnett for his school dance candids, Mr. Ralph Langreck for his assistance with the cover design and color layouts, and Mr. Bill Benson for his assistance to the staff.

Individual portraits and group pictures have been taken by Mr. Togue Uchida; color reproductions are by Mrs. T.G. Pennington of Gallery I.

The lyrics to "Sing Our Song" are copyright 1975 John Knowles and were reprinted in the opening section with his permission.

MILESTONES 1982 is a publication of Harpeth Hall School, Nashville, Tennessee, printed by Herff-Jones Yearbooks.

Dedication: Mrs. Joan Warterfield

Mrs. Warterfield, a member of the Harpeth Hall community who has remained unrecognized to some extent for her numerous contributions, has demonstrated sincere dedication to the school both as a teacher and as a club sponsor throughout her ten years here. Many students are aware of her organization and discipline, but those who know her well also recognize her sensitivity to their needs and interests.

She is concerned primarily with teaching girls to strive for excellence both as students and as leaders. The traditional emphasis she places on grammar and term paper protocol benefits students especially in later years. Moreover, as sponsor of the Cum Laude Society, she has helped initiate the tradition of honorary speakers at its assemblies to encourage all students in their personal endeavors. She has also played a key role in formulating the Leadership Conference for student officers and has aided in similar regional conferences.

In supporting student activities, Mrs. Warterfield has served as an enthusiastic Ar-Tri and former Ariston sponsor and has led sophomores on a Winterim sail in the Bahamas. Her love for sailing, which she shares with her husband, has won them the Governor's Cup.

Thus, in appreciation for her commitment to excellence and for her concern for Harpeth Hall, the staff dedicates MILESTONES 1982 to Mrs. Joan Warterfield.

We are one, we are many,
We are you, and we are me.

We are children on a journey;
We are longing to be free.

We are brothers, we are sisters,

And our family is strong.

There is magic in our voices,

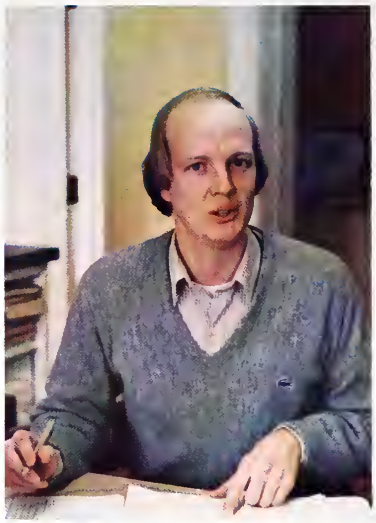

Take our hand,
Sing our song.

We can make the sun shine on us;

We can chase the clouds away.

We can open up the flowers;

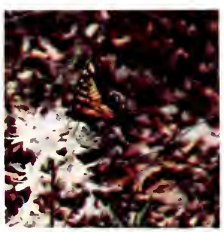

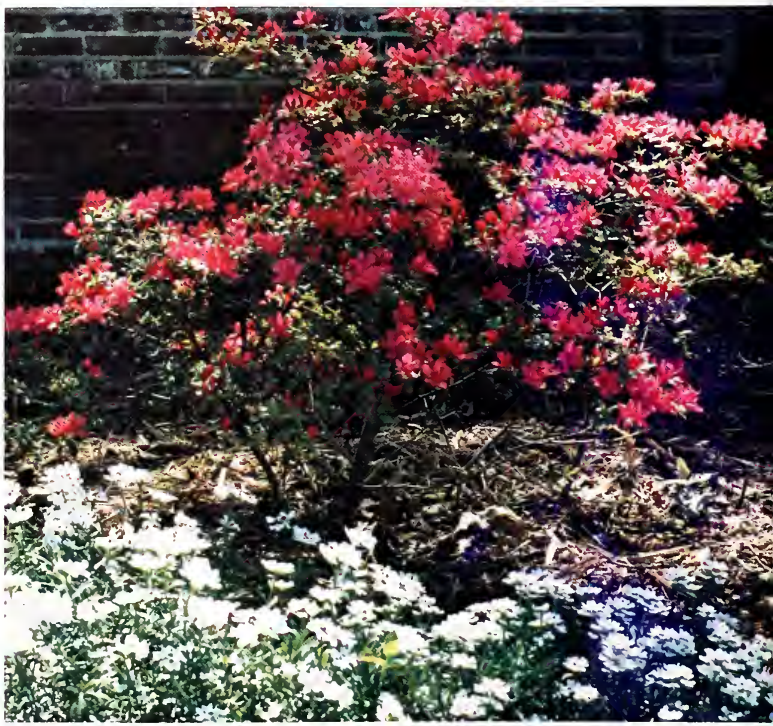

We can bring a brighter day.

Our song has no beginning,
And our song will never end;

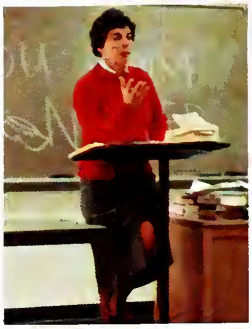

We'll sing it 'til the world is ours again.

David E. Wood: Headmaster

In his second year as headmaster of Harpeth Hall, Mr. Wood has been determined to continue to provide the best academic program for young women in the Nashville community. He has introduced a new school lunch program, taken on the job of college counseling, continued in his devoted support for school organizations such as the Honor Council and Key Club; and most importantly, he has continued to inject his special enthusiasm, spirit, and participation in all the activities of the school. His avid support for the various athletic teams has prompted the student body to become more supportive and enthusiastic as well.

Mr. Wood's accomplishments and talent as headmaster can perhaps be attributed to his vast and varied experience. As a teacher at B.G.A., Director of Admissions at Vanderbilt University, and headmaster of U.M.S. Preparatory School for boys in Mobile, ALabama, Mr. Wood has acquired and shared many new ideas and programs with the school while still upholding many traditions.

Certainly a vital link in the direction of Harpeth Hall, Mr. Wood demonstrates an interest in the well-being of every student.

Polly Fessey: Middle School Director

While working in the Middle School every year but one since it opened in 1968, Miss Fessey has been important not only in directing the Middle School's activities but also in maintaining its unique atmosphere a very caring adminstrator, she continues to be amaded at the efforts of the inventive Middle School faculty to bring interesting new ideas and projects to the students. Besides being involved in all aspects of the Middle School from the play in Interim, Miss Fessey is also very involved in all Fesey is also very involved in her church, serving on the Administrative Board and the Finance Committee.

This year Miss Fessey has devoted a great deal of her time to the re-evaluation of the school. As the chairman of the Steering Committee, responsible for all planning involved in the evaluation, Miss Fessey has enjoyed working in a different relationship with the others on the committee—Miss Hensley, Mr. Wood, Mrs. Clark, and Dr. Marney. Thus, through her various roles in the administration and through her devotion to her work, Miss Fessey is an essential key to efficiency and happiness at the Middle School.

Janet Hensley

Miss Hensley, Dean of Students and Assistant to the Headmaster, has been indispensable for her twelve years at Harpeth Hall. Besides her obvious roles as sponsor of the Student Council, member of the Student-Faculty Committee, and organizer of Winterim, she is also responsible for the daily running of the Upper School. Her little-known tasks include planning the weekly calendar, scheduling exams, and making arrangements for the use of school facilities. On a more personal level, Miss Hensley counsels students, parents, and faculty members. Whenever a problem arises, from ticket sales to academic work, Miss Hensley is always willing to give advice.

Though she says Harpeth Hall has been like her family, she feels that her experience here has given her the desire for new challenges and the self-confidence to meet them. Thus, Miss Hensley has accepted the position of Headmistress of the McGehee School for girls in New Orleans. One aspect of the School that attracts her is its similarity to Harpeth Hall—"from the plaid kilts to its commitment to academic excellence for women." She also likes the warm, receptive people at McGehee who remind her of those at Harpeth Hall who have supported her over the years. Because Miss Hensley anticipates her new position with excitement and some nervousness, she feels that she, as the seniors, must "graduate" from Harpeth Hall.

Polly Nichols

Mrs. Polly Nichols has played several different roles concerning various aspects of the histories of Ward-Belmont and Harpeth Hall Schools. First as a student at Ward-Belmont, next as Director of Alumnae here at Harpeth Hall, and beginning this year as head of the development campaign, Mrs. Nichols has revealed her continuous support for the fine college preparatory education for girls which Harpeth Hall offers. This most recent position acquired by Mrs. Nichols is one which is indeed vital to the survival of our school, for Harpeth Hall cannot operate without monetary support from outside sources. Mrs. Nichols' job involves the active pursuit of donations to the development campaign from private and public contributors who exhibit an interest in Harpeth Hall. Often, Mrs. Nichols travels around the region, seeking these contributions by promoting the basis and benefit of a Harpeth Hall education. Through establishing these successful contacts and through the subsequent raising of funds for the development campaign, Mrs. Nichols helps to ensure the continuation of quality scholarship at Harpeth Hall. As the series of "Lady of the Hall" portraits on her office wall indicates, Mrs. Nichols continues to take an interest in the past and present of the school, as well as influencing the future of Harpeth Hall.

Susie Brown

Susie Brown, an alumna and previous English teacher at Harpeth Hall, now serves as Alumnae and Admissions Director. With a rearrangement in the administration and staff this year, this position combines two compatible facets of the Harpeth Hall organization. As Admissions Director, Mrs. Brown interviews applicants to all grades, arranges tours for prospective students, conducts admissions tests, and participates in the selection procedure. Two innovations in the admissions process this year include group tours for girls from primary schools and an open house in January for prospective students and their parents.

With a Harpeth Hall alumnae body of 23,000 and an equally formidable alumnae group from Ward-Belmont, Mrs. Brown spends a great proportion of her time maintaining contact with these ladies. Through the publication of the HARPETH HALL ALUMNAE NEWS, Mrs. Brown informs alumnae of Harpeth Hall events and class happenings. Mrs. Brown also directs alumnae gatherings such as the Christmas Alumnae Breakfast, the Spring Alumnae Association Meeting, and individual class reunions. Thus, she associates with an extensive group of the Harpeth Hall community, assuring strong support from the alumnae and promising quality from students to come.

Peggy Herring and Lucile McLean

Each year Miss Herring and Mrs. McLean take on the responsibility of administering the finances of Harpeth Hall. However, because of their limited contact with students, many girls under-estimate the vital impact these ladies have on the Harpeth Hall community. Mrs. McLean, as business manager, is primarily responsible for managing the school accounts and for assisting treasurers of student organizations. Besides teaching typing to students in the Upper School, Mrs. McLean directs the fall registration and student book sale and is available to students daily throughout the year.

As manager of school finances, Miss Herring helps to project and administer the school budget; this task requires shrewd money management throughout the fiscal year as well as foresight for the needs of the coming year. Miss Herring handles all school insurance and benefit plans, financial reports, and audits; moreover, she holds overall responsibility for property management.

With such intelligent financial management, Harpeth Hall can be assured of a sound future.

Student Council

This year the Harpeth Hall Student Council, under the leadership of Lala Cochran and the supervision of Miss Hensley, aimed for greater student participation in school activities. The members invited outside support and suggestions through the Social Committee, which organized dances and selected the "Personality of the Month." The Fall Combo, for which the White Animals provided musical entertainment, proved to be an immense success with the theme of "Between the Moon and New York City." In addition, Council assemblies used the ideas and talents of students not on the Social Committee. The group also sponsored Career Week and a square dance, planned in conjunction with the MBA Student Council. In December, the members organized the election of the Winterim Student Council.

By encouraging student involvement in many facets of life in the Harpeth Hall community, the Student Council provided a focus for school spirit. Through enthusiasm and careful planning, Council officers and members offered innovative leadership throughout the school year.

Middle School Council

The Middle School Student Council has been actively involved in sponsoring most of the Middle School events such as the Middle School Talent Show, the Christmas Tree, and the Grandmothers' Tea. In organizing the talent show, the Council furnished a prize to the winner, Dallas Hagewood, for her brilliant piano performance. The group also planned to organize a Middle School Field Day. To encourage class spirit, the group awarded weekly "Spirit Sticks."

Middle School Latin Club

The Middle School Latin Club with its sponsor, Mrs. Ward, held a Latin Banquet February eleventh. Plans included a special Roman menu, decorations based on a Roman atrium, and the election of seventh and eighth grade club members portraying Roman gods and goddesses.

On February sixth at Hillsboro High School, the club participated in a Certamen or contest quiz bowl and missed going to the state by one question.

Middle School French Club

The Middle School French Club, sponsored by Mr. Lauderdale, prepared a French banquet held December eleventh in the lunchroom.

For its service project, the club made plans to give a party at the Tennessee School for the Blind on a Saturday afternoon in April. The club also challenged the Middle School Latin Club to a volleyball match.

Thus, the French club officers aimed to further an understanding of French while encouraging club spirit and unity.

Honor Council

Harpeth Hall created its Honor Council to uphold the Honor Code of the school and to foster a true sense of honor and pride in the community. The Council acts as an intermediary between students and the administration in hearing cases involving Honor Code infractions; the Council then passes its recommendation on to the Faculty Disciplinary Board and ultimately to the administration.

This year's Council set making the student body more aware of the Honor Code as one of its principal goals for the year. Thus, President Elizabeth P'Pool opened the new year with an assembly stressing the significance and benefits of honor for Harpeth Hall, with Mr. Rick Byrd as guest speaker. Also, the group conducted monthly meetings during which any new business could be brought before the Council.

Student-Faculty Committee

The Student-Faculty Committee functions to extend communication among the administration, faculty, staff, and students and is charged with studying and evaluating areas of possible change at Harpeth Hall. Members of the Committee represent all grades in the Upper School as well as all departments. Projects for this year included two Student-Faculty dinners, a Student-Faculty bake-off, and one major service project, all with the purpose of bringing students and teachers into contact outside the classroom.

Athletic Association

The Athletic Association is a group of girls who have participated in varsity and intramural sports and have accumulated fifty points through their various positions as team members, managers, or cheerleaders. The purpose of the Athletic Association is to maintain and to increase the spirit of the school and to recognize individuals who are active in sports. Throughout the year, the Association sponsors fund raising projects to help to support all sports programs, especially intramurals; this year the officers sold gym shorts.

Key Club

The Key Club provides an opportunity for students to become involved in service projects for the school and for the community with the purpose of expanding students' human and spiritual development. Activities include managing the used book sale, helping the M.D. Telethon and Action Auction, collecting food for the Union Mission Food Bank, selling newspapers for Big Brothers, and serving as office help at school. Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Nashville and is affiliated with other high school Key Clubs throughout the nation.

Glee Club

Several times each year, the Harpeth Hall Glee Club entertains the community with musical presentations of different genres. In the fall, there is an assembly for the entire school followed by a Christmas season performance of Benjamin Britten's Ceremony of Carols with the Eighth Grade Chorus and Ensemble. In the spring, the group joins with the M.B.A. chorus in a special performance for Composition Red and Green. Glee Club members also audition for the All-State Chorus in the fall. Meeting twice weekly, the Glee Club is directed by Mrs. Berry and led by the Glee Club Council, which consists of two seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman.

Every Friday, without fail, the MILESTONES staff can be found busily working on a book of memories. Wallace Wing overflows with staff members, layouts, grease pencils, cropping wheels, jokes, and junk food. However, few people realize the many important aspects of publishing an annual. From designing layouts and writing copy to fitting pictures and managing ad sales and accounts, the editors and staff work diligently throughout the school year and into the summer. The girls not only give much of their time and energy to this project but also try to add the creativity and originality that make each volume of MILESTONES unique. They hope to provide the Harpeth Hall community with more than a few amusing candids or a picture of someone's best friend. Their goal is to produce a book that will vividly capture the events, personalities, and spirit of Harpeth Hall. As the years pass, the standards of the staff for its work rise as the members try not only to equal but also to improve upon the work of previous years.

Penstaff

The members of Penstaff share a talent for various forms of creative writing. They enjoy the opportunity to express themselves and encourage other students to become interested in writing short stories, essays, and poems.

In the fall, the club presents a skit during assembly in order to acquaint the school with Penstaff's purpose and activities. Soon afterward, Penstaff votes on the submissions for membership, and the new members are initiated at the annual Christmas dinner.

Penstaff's major activity during the spring is to assemble the literary magazine, HALLMARKS. This task involves many busy meetings during lunches and assembly periods for selecting works submitted by the entire student body. The club encourages submissions not only from Upper and Middle School students but also from alumnae. Thus, Penstaff is fulfilling its objective to maintain an interest in creative written expression at Harpeth Hall.

Junior Classical League

Raising money to send several students to the National Latin Convention held each summer was the main objective of the JCL this year. The group earned most of the money by raffling off china won by the club in a place setting contest. The club sponsored other fundraising activities such as bake sales and duds days as well as participating in AFS Celebrations and the National Latin Exam held in March.

French Club

This year's French Club aimed to instill a better knowledge of the French language and culture in the student body. Their major fall cultural project was creating the scene of a French café for the evening of AFS Celebrations. To further student interest in French daily life, the club planned to sponsor a French movie at Harpeth Hall later in the spring. As a part of National Language Week, a French breakfast of beignets, croissants, and hot cocoa was planned.

Spanish Club

The purpose of the slightly renovated El Clube d'Español was to welcome those interested in learning more about Spanish culture regardless of their knowledge of the language. The primary objective of the club was to raise money to send advanced students to Mexico, a goal accomplished by organizing a nacho bar at lunch and by selling T-shirts printed with a lively Spanish phrase. The club's AFS Celebrations room honored the Dominican Republic, home of this year's AFS student.

Mu Alpha Theta

Mu Alpha Theta is an honorary mathematics society for high school students whose purpose it to recognize students gifted in this area and to emphasize the study of math. With a national charter, the Harpeth Hall chapter requires that members achieve a B average for three years in any math course, and thus the club initiates new members in the spring of their Junior or Senior year. The Club encourages its members as well as other math students to participate in invitational math contests across the city, state, and region.

Playmakers

The Harpeth Hall Playmakers promote theatrical activities in the school community. With two major productions per year, the group seeks to train students in all areas of dramatics whether in acting or in stagecraft; typically, one musical and one comedy are presented. Also, the club inducts students into the Thespian Society as they meet the point requirements for membership. This year's Playmakers have planned to form a Mime Club to explore this facet of the theatre.

Outing Club

The Outing Club has evolved into one of the most popular student clubs in recent years. Members plan outdoor events open to the entire Upper School; and this year's ventures have included spelunking and rock-climbing in East Tennessee, rafting on the Ocoee River, and skiing in Starlight, Indiana. The officers also hope to canoe on the Hiawasee or the Nantahala River and to go water skiing on Old Hickory Lake. The Outing Club trips add special excitement to the school year.

American Field Service

The American Field Service is an international, intercultural exchange organization which sponsors foreign students in educational stays in foreign countries all over the world. This year, Maria Severino from the Dominican Republic, hosted by Michele Kaludis, has been the Harpeth Hall A.F.S. student; and senior Janet McMinn was a summer-term exchange student in Brazil.

Art Club

The Art Club seeks to promote a greater interest for art in the student body, for artists and non-artists alike. To expose the students to a variety of art forms, the club sponsors guest speakers and slide shows and aids in displaying student exhibits in the spring for Composition Red and Green. The Art Club transmits its appreciation for art to students on a more direct level through field trips, club dinners, and projects around the school. This year's club completed the jungle mural on the wall outside the art studio.

Red Cross

The Red Cross Club is open to all Upper School students who are interested in serving others. Red Cross' principal goal is to help others and to be beneficial to the Nashville community. On November 7, members traveled to the Bordeaux Hospital to visit the elderly ladies; and the club has made plans to visit the hospital again in the spring. Red Cross has planned a blood drive for second semester because of the increasing need for this service in this city.

New Club System

In the spring of 1981, a faculty and administrative committee asked the student body to fill out a questionnaire about the four clubs: Triad, Ariston, Angkor, and Eccowasin. Because many students felt that club meeting time was wasted and that competition among the four groups had weakened, the outcome of the questionnaire was strongly in favor of changing the four-club tradition.

After discussing the questionnaire with other faculty members, Mrs. Justus, who had organized the questionnaire, proposed a challenge system. The student body voted in favor of this system, originated for the purpose of raising the level of school spirit. The four clubs, combined at All-Club Picnic as the four new co-captains drew team colors out of a hat, resulted in Eccowasin-Angkor and Triad-Ariston.

These clubs are set up in two parts, the challenges and the intramurals. The challenges, both physical and intellectual, are run by one senior from each club. One club challenges the other to a game held during an assembly time the third week of every month.

Students have no obligation to the club; that is, they do not have to participate or attend required meetings.

The other aspect of the new club system is the intramurals, organized the same way as before. Because competition is now only between two clubs, interest in intramurals has risen. The names An-Eccos and Ar-Tries were originated at the Leadership Conference as were the adopted mascots, the Ar-Tri Alligators and the An-Ecco Polo Ponies. Most students feel that the new clubs offer a vast improvement over the previous four-club system.

Varsity Cheerleaders

This year's cheerleading squad consisted of five seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore. The squad performed its traditional pom-pom routine to the song "Lady" by the Commodores at all major games. The group also decorated the school and the players' lockers for the first home game. For the St. Cecilia home game, they worked to "fire up" the school.

First row: Amanda Oldham, Julia Sawyers, Gina Folk, Colette Moore, Louisa Gibbs. Second row: Morre Moreford, Capell Teas, Beth Thornton, Risa Klein.

The freshman cheerleaders consisted of returning members of the Middle School squad with additions from other returning former Middle Schoolers as well as incoming freshmen. These girls showed their class and school spirit by cheering their team on through their difficult season. The squad also performed a pom-pom routine to Earth, Wind, and Fire's "Get Down Tonight."

Cross Country

Each day last fall, rain or shine, the girls on the cross-country team headed for Percy Warner Park for a rigorous workout. The result of these daily practices was, once again, state leadership of high school girls' teams. Team members repeatedly demonstrated their running abilities as the team competed in local dual meets each week and travelled on weekends to frequent out-of-town invitational meets. With the team leadership of seniors Lynne Kitchel and Melanie Patterson, the Honeybears once again captured a perfect dual meet record as well as the N.I.L., regional, and state titles despite intense competition from others schools across the state. Returning sophomores and juniors rounded out the team along with a very strong group of freshman runners. The 1982 Harpeth Hall Cross Country team has indeed upheld a long tradition of fine running, paving the way for another year of challenges and accomplishemnts.

The Middle School cross country team experienced a growing year, having lost some strong runners to the Upper School; but the Honeycubs won third place in the H.V.A.C. meet, losing to Northside and Ensworth.

Volleyball

With the aid of a new coach, Mr. Jim Adair, Harpeth Hall's Varsity Volleyball Team compiled a season record of 15-5. The Honeybears finished their season as district finalists and regional semi-finalists, losing to Hillsboro and McGavock respectively. Jane Mabry was chosen for the District All-Tournament team while Gayle Smith was named District MVP and regional All-Tourney member.

The Freshman Team, coached by Mrs. Moran, also enjoyed a successful season. With only five players who had had previous game experience, the Freshman Honeybears worked hard to become a solidly productive team. In their tournament, they advanced to the quarter-finals where they were ultimately defeated by Northside.

Coached by Georgianne Moran, the Middle School Volleyball Team was equally as powerful. The Honey-cubs entered the HVAC tournament as the number one seed but lost to their rival Ensworth in the finals. The talent and diligence of these girls should be an asset to the future Harpeth Hall volleyball programs.

Coached by Mrs. Davis, the Harpeth Hall Varsity Soccer team finished another successful season gaining eight wins and only one loss, With star players Gigi Smith as forward and Jane Mabry and Jessica Ward as fullbacks, the team's strength in both offense and defense made many victories possible.

In one of their most challenging matches against Knoxville Farragaut, an experienced and talented team, the Honeybears' impressive teamwork, spirit, and determination enabled them to upset their opponents 2-1. In the game against their traditional rival, G.P.S., Harpeth Hall broke a 1-1 tie at half time to win 4-1.

The Middle School team completed an equally successful season under the direction of Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Hoover, and Dr. Pendergrass. The Honeycubs highlighted regular season play with an 8-0 victory over Ensworth for the first time in eight years, and in the H.V.A.C. tournament they captured third place with Becky Lee and Ali Silva named to the all-tourney team.

Golf

This year's varsity golf team consisted of two returning players, junior Debbie Sheffield and sophomore Lil Bradford. Coached by Miss Reed, these girls prepared for the regional and state tournaments to be held May 10th at Harpeth Hills and May 18th and 19th at Henry Horton Park respectively. Each worked at improving her game on her own time, and Sheffield overcame an added obstacle of a broken ankle. The pair participated in both individual and team competition in the TSSAA region, shooting for the lowest combined score. Each hoped to qualify either individually or as a team for the state tourney in which Harpeth Hall placed third last year led by first place golfer Lissa Bradford.

Basketball

The Harpeth Hall varsity basketball team finished the season with a 6-16 record. Led by seniors Helen Berry, Lisa Crockett, and Melanie Patterson, the team worked hard all season to achieve its victories with strong support from two juniors and five sophomores. However, teamwork problems engendered the young club's disappointing defeats. As the season progressed, the team's skills and motivation improved, which almost led to an upset over top-ranked Waverly in the district tournament. Helen Berry was named a member of the all-tournament team for outstanding play and sportsmanship.

The freshman team ended a frustrating year with a 2-13 record and a disappointing loss in the consolation game of the district tournament. Teamwork problems and player injuries caused a lack of team coherence.

The Middle School basketball team, however, enjoyed a strong 13-3 record, losing only to B.G.A. and Brentwood. With the leadership of all-tournament players Becky Lee and Carey Clark and with outstanding defense by Nancy Brown, the Honeycubs won second place in the H.V.A.C. Promising seventh grade team members included Lezley Dale and Gracie Russell as posts.

Harpeth Hall's Upper and Middle School Varsity Tennis teams proved very strong and skilled this year. As in past years, the Upper School Varsity Team, coached by Mrs. Pat Moran, remained tough competition in the NIL. Senior Helen Berry, junior Trisha Frist, sophomore Elizabeth Arnold, and freshman Diana Cherry led the team to an undefeated season in regular district play. At the Rotary Tournament in Chattanooga, Trisha Frist won her division helping the team to place fourth in over-all competition. At the district tournament, Harpeth Hall captured first through fourth places in singles and first and second places in doubles play. The team looked forward to capturing a high rank in the TSSAA tournament at regional and state levels.

Hilary Warren completed her eligibility last year, but she used her skills to coach the Middle School team which had a very successful season. Number one seed, Buffy Baker, led the team to victory over many talented competitors in the H.V.A.C.

Track

The 1982 Varsity Track team left its mark on each meet this spring. Having lost four key runners, this group of dedicated young athletes surpassed all optimistic expectations in every meet. Outstanding senior runner Lynne Kitchel provided excellent leadership, accumulating many points throughout the season through numerous winning efforts in both individual events and relays. These victories were sustained by a great team effort by all other runners, including girls from all four classes. This year the team members combined rigorous workout schedules and effective coaching leading to record-setting times in several events. According to coach Susan Russ, the girls' deep desire to win has set them apart, having come from behind to capture honors on several occasions, including the Optimist and the Banner Relays. Having qualified for the state tournament by capturing second place in the regional tourney, the Honeybears won third place in the state tourney with Lynne Kitchel winning the mile with a personal best time of 5:09 minutes.

The Middle School Track team, coached by Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Simpson, completed a strong season at second place going into the H.V.A.C. tournament. With Becky Lee running the 220 and Lea Alley in the 880, the team missed first place in the tournament by only one point to lead the Honeycubs to a strong finish.

Middle School Softball

In keeping with its past reputation, the Middle School fielded two competitive softball teams this year. Coached by Mrs. Nelson and senior Jane Mabry, the eighteen girls who comprised the sixth grade team battled against four rival Oak Hill teams and the team from Harpeth Academy. All the members of the team enjoy playing softball, and many will continue in the seventh and eighth grades. This year's seventh and eighth grade H.V.A.C. team, coached by Mrs. Duvier and Mrs. Hoover, challenged Brentwood Academy, Northside, Ensworth, and Battle Ground Academy during the regular season and Harding Academy in a post-season scrimmage. With a 4-2 record near the end of the season, the Honeycubs hoped to gain second place in the H.V.A.C. to Northside.

Upper School Softball

For the first year, Harpeth Hall's Upper School participated in softball at a varsity level. Although this season ran on a trial basis, the results were promising for establishing a TSSAA team in the future. Coached by Mr. Young and Mr. Goodwin, a group of nineteen students, mostly underclassmen, strived to master the basics of the sport. Games scheduled with St. Cecilia, St. Bernard, B.G.A., and Father Ryan provided a testing ground for this new Honeybear team. The girls showed strength in offense but evidenced a need for stronger defense at times. With a freshman pitcher and catcher pair and numerous underclassmen throughout the field this season, the Honeybears hope to have a competitive team in the TSSAA next year; moreover, the strong Middle School teams should serve as a feeder program for varsity teams to come.

Leadership Conference

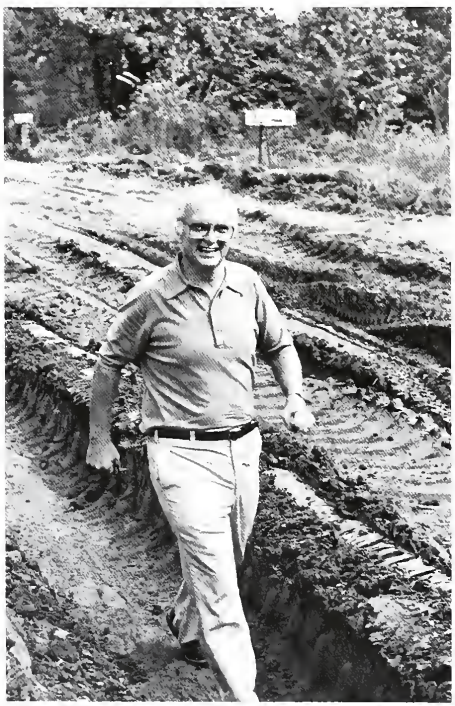

Unlike last year, Harpeth Hall's officers attended two leadership conferences this summer. Davidson College, in North Carolina, was the site of an interscholastic retreat which was held July 15-17. Lala Cochran as Student Council President, Elizabeth P'Pool as Honor Council President, Allison Wills as Student Council Vice President, and Melanie Patterson as Senior Student Council member were the Harpeth Hall representatives. Including student leaders from other independent Southern schools, the conference proved very beneficial as it taught these Harpeth Hall girls about other schools' governments, ideas, and procedures.

In addition to the Davidson Conference, Harpeth Hall's school leaders attended a retreat held in late August at Brandon Springs on Kentucky Lake. Brandon Springs was, according to reliable sources, much more appealing than last year's quarters; it was free of cockroaches, mice, and other assorted vermin. The purpose of this conference was to educate the officers of Harpeth Hall's various organizations about how to become more effective leaders by using parliamentary procedure and the management process. The game "Survival," piggy parties, and charades all added to the success of the weekend. Such events as the bus getting stuck in the mud made the retreat even more full of excitement and surprises!

Square Dance

The evening of October third featured the square dance, a rapidly developing tradition between Harpeth Hall and M.B.A. This event, sponsored by the Student Councils of both schools, offered entertainment of the Old West. Students had the opportunity to demonstrate their agility in dances such as the Four Leaf Clover, the Ocean Wave, and Threading the Needle; however, most students spent quite a bit of time on their "pardna's" feet. Red and white checked skirts, flying petticoats, clicking boots, and artfully positioned cowboy hats provided a decorative atmosphere. Although both the caller and the students were exhausted by the end of the evening, all enjoyed the dance immensely.

Fall Combo

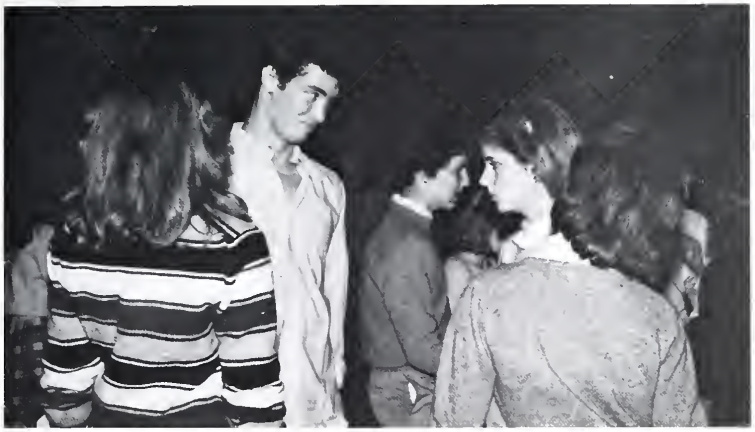

One reason for the success of the Student Council Fall Combo in November was the request of the Council that the entire student body assist in its preparation. The seniors purchased food while the freshmen bought soft drinks. The juniors decorated the gym to accompany the backdrop painted by the sophomores. Decorations of suspended silver stars and an illuminated city skyline backdrop reflected the theme of "Between the Moon and New York City." The band, the "White Animals," played medleys from their album as well as other selections. As usual, many freshmen asked dates to the dance four weeks in advance and were very enthusiastic. Even senior participation was good, considering!

Fall Combo

Club Challenges

For the first year under the new two club system, the challenges proved enjoyable and successful. The challenge system was originated to raise the level of school and club spirit by reducing competition to only two clubs. Each challenge match added five to ten points to the cumulative scores of each club which also included points won in intramural championships.

The Ar-Tri and An-Ecco co-captains designed the challenges as both athletic and academic contests, and they alternated their supervision. For the first challenge, the Ar-Tries proposed a cross-campus bicycle race involving twenty members of each team. Due to player injury, the contest was settled as a partial Ar-Tri victory. The An-Eccos won their first challenge, the kickball game, by a close margin. In the late fall and winter, these events moved indoors with the Ar-Tri sponsored spelling bee, which concluded in a tie, and the An-Ecco games day (including backgammon, chess, and charades), which was won by the An-Eccos. After the Ar-Tries captured the battleball game, each team prepared for the song competition to be held at All-Club picnic.

Grandmothers' Tea

This fall the Middle School students hosted the traditional Grandmothers' Tea. The girls held the event in the Sheridan Gallery, where students, faculty members, and grandmothers (or older friends) shared an hour of chatting, enjoying tea and other refreshments, and taking pictures. The seventh grade entertained guests with a number of songs such as "I'll do Anything for You" from the musical OLIVER! and a selection from the musical ANNIE under the direction of Mrs. Ray Berry. Students, faculty members, and guests were delighted by this special occasion.

A.F.S. Celebrations of Many Lands

Whereas some schools present French, Latin, or Spanish cultural events once a year, the Harpeth Hall A.F.S. chapter offers a glimpse into twenty-seven foreign countries, such as China, Sweden, and Brazil. Over one hundred students at Harpeth Hall belong to the American Field Service Club, a chapter of an international foreign exchange organization. In order to participate in A.F.S. International, each chapter must pay a membership fee. At Harpeth Hall, the principal fund-raiser is the annual "Celebrations in Many Lands," a festival held at school one night in the fall. Parents, friends, students, and teachers visit rooms decorated by students according to the styles and customs of a particular country. Classrooms are full of music, dancing, food, costumes, and decorations. Despite complaints of overstuffed stomachs, everyone seems to enjoy the evening.

OLIVER!

On November 20-22, the Harpeth Hall Playmakers and the M.B.A. Players jointly presented the Charles Dickens classic OLIVER! with a combination of talented actors, singers, and dancers. Harpeth Hall students Lala Cochran as the lead female, Nancy; Sarah Nichols as Widow Corney; and Allison White and Kris Hockemeyer as Nancy's protogées Bet and Nellie gave outstanding performances. Cast members from M.B.A. included Michael Starr in the title role of Oliver, Ed Brown as the crafty Fagin, Dawson Nichols as the Artful Dodger, and Ridley Wills as the Beadle, Mr. Bumble. A spirited group of pub members, orphans, Londoners, and gang members compeleted the cast.

Under the capable stage and musical direction of Mrs. Sandra Davis and Mrs. Ray Berry and with technical assistance of Mr. James Poston, the cast and crew succeeded in presenting a professional production.

Fall Assemblies: Senior Recognition

During the Senior Capping ceremony, which took place during the annual Senior Week early this fall, the members of the Class of 1982 received their red and white beanies. The assembly began as the Seniors processed into the auditorium in their traditional white dresses. After Senior Class chaplain Jennifer Harwell offered a prayer, Louisa Gibbs, the Senior Class president, delivered her speech. Her message expressed the class motto, "We are a part of all that we have met," taken from Tennyson's "Ulysses." Finally, the officers capped their classmates in recognition of their new senior status.

Fall Assemblies

Between announcements of on-campus events and a concert with Joe Bias, fall assemblies brightened every day. For monthly club competition, the spelling bee, kickball game, and bike race raised school spirit. Performances of the Glee Club and Choral Ensemble exposed the talents of the Upper School students. Kathy Lazenby entertained the student body with her music, and Jennifer Harwell inspired students to reach for excellence in her Cum Laude address. Other exciting programs included a slide presentation of the Tennessee countryside taken from the photographs of Mr. Robin Hood in the book, THE TENNESSEANS, and a ski movie to promote interest in the outing club's annual ski trip. In addition to these presentations, assemblies featured scenes from the Drama Club's fall production, OLIVER!

Winterim

At Harpeth Hall, the special January Winterim program provides in a relaxed atmosphere alternative learning experiences in addition to those of the regular academic year. All juniors and seniors as well as a few sophomores spent their Winterim 1982 off campus. These girls had the option of travel or a work-study program. Many sophomores took advantage of a sailing expedition in the Bahamas for the last week of Winterim, a trip organized by Mrs. Warterfield. Among travel programs, the school offered a student exchange program in France, a guided tour of England, a home stay program in Mexico, and an internship under the Honorable Bill Boner in Washington, D.C. A few students opted for Bible study in Switzerland. The rest of the juniors and seniors spent an exciting month working in various fields of study such as student teaching, special education, law, medicine, government, the music industry, volume food services, communication, banking, merchandising, and veterinary medicine.

On-campus programs provided many choices for freshmen and sophomores. One new course offered was "A New Approach to Improving Your Grades." Faculty members also presented such courses as "A Glimpse of Life in France," "Cosas Mexicanas," "The Nuclear Age," "Colleges??!!" and "Fabulous Fifties" (taught by Mr. Wood) as well as courses in money management, jazz, bridge, basic modeling, and typing. All freshmen took a CPR course while sophomores attended conversational art and music appreciation classes.

Interim

The Middle School Interim during the third week in January provided a meaningful and amusing learning experience for sixth, seventh, and eighth graders and offered a relaxing break between semesters. Students had the opportunity to explore new areas of interest while working with girls from other grades and with new teachers. In choosing their courses, Middle Schoolers practiced decision-making and prepared for course selecton in the Upper School. The curriculum provided a balance of academic, physical, and hobby-like activities. The course titles offered for Interim 1982 included Chisambop, Mad Scientist, Historic Nashville, Creative Writing, and Primary Animation. Also offered were courses in careers, Chinese cooking, choreography, tennis, and a history of Harpeth Hall. Students especially enjoyed offerings in calligraphy, personal improvement, and cake decorating, all of which were offered again by popular demand. Some eighth graders learned about education from a different perspective as they spent each morning as teachers' aides at St. George's kindergarten. All eighth graders participated in "Medieval Fest, Frolics, and Frocks," an investigation of medieval entertainment. Interim also allowed time for rehearsals for WIND IN THE WILLOWS and George Washington.

THE WIND IN THE WILLOWS

This year on March fifth and sixth, the Middle School presented a musical version of THE WIND IN THE WILLOWS. Under the talented direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams and Mr. Bill Lauderdale and the musical direction of Mrs. Ray Berry, the Middle School play was a great success. The leading roles, consisting of the Toad, the Mole, the Rat, and the Badger were portrayed by Ann Braun, Carolyn Fischer, Mary Sarratt, and Carol Cavin respectively. Each of the main characters sang solos while the supporting characters composed the chorus. Non-cast members helped in creating scenery and costumes.

THE WIND IN THE WILLOWS relates the antics of the affluent and egotistical Mr. Toad who spends his money in order to finance his wild hobbies. After being jailed for wrecklessness as he is driving his race cars, he returns to his mansion to be confronted and reformed by a group of moles. The Middle Schoolers' hard work along with this classic story resulted in a delightful show.

George Washington's Birthday

As in years past, Harpeth Hall commemorated George Washington's birthday with a celebration of Revolutionary War events and festivities. However, this year, the tradition dating back to Ward-Belmont days was slightly revised in that the seventh grade performed the celebration instead of the freshmen. The seventh graders undertook this project because of its relation to their studies in American History and because of its long-standing tradition.

Under the direction of Mrs. Merrie Clark, the seventh grade was divided into groups to perform the many components of the program. The soldiers practiced their march under the direction of Mrs. Russ while Mrs. Mullins taught the sailors the "hornpipe". Miss Patty Chadwell returned to work with the girls performing the minuet. The girls added a series of popular Revolutionary War songs directed by Mrs. Berry to the agenda.

Carey Clarke and Kristen Kirby, two eighth-graders elected by their underclassmen, portrayed George and Martha Washington. As the first President and First Lady, these two girls reviewed the drills of the first Continental Army soldiers and the jig of the American seamen and joined in the minuet with distinguished Revolutionary politicians and diplomats. The seventh graders' performance recalled the precision of that of past years and added to the tradition for years to come.

Spring Assemblies

Varying greatly in subject matter, the spring assemblies provided a worthwhile break in each day. During the Student Council's Career Week, successful women in professions ranging from medicine to the media presented their views on the different aspects of their careers. Topics raised in formal speeches to the student body continued in informal discussions with students over lunch. In March, two workers at the Rape Center where two Harpeth Hall students had interned over Winterim addressed the student body on this serious subject. At one assembly, the Davidson College Choir demonstrated its talent by performing several popular and classical songs. With the eighth grade participating, Upper School Student Council officer elections were underway by the end of March. In April, the Cum Laude Society of Harpeth Hall initiated its new members; and a meaningful speech delivered by Miss Hensley, the honorary speaker, highlighted this occasion. At a later assembly, select members of the faculty and board were honored by the Harpeth Hall Men's Club. Composition Red and Green, the joint arts week with M.B.A., began at Harpeth Hall with the showing of short film clips, the performance of select scenes of THE CURIOUS SAVAGE, and satirical performances by members of the Gonzo Theater. A part of many days at Harpeth Hall, assemblies enabled the students to relax for a half hour as well as benefit from intellectual enrichment.

Faculty Recognition Day

On April 14, 1982, the Harpeth Hall Men's Club recognized three ladies for their achievements and contributions to the Harpeth Hall community. Each recipient was awarded a Harpeth Hall chair with an inscription commemorating her services. Barbara Fittz Carden, chairman of the French Department, leader of Winterim student exchange trips to France, and sponsor of the Upper School French Club, was honored for her excellence in classroom teaching and for her concern for students. Bettye Curry Abernathy, the eighth grade algebra teacher, received the same honor for ten years of dedication and superb teaching. Mary Elizabeth Cayce, a longtime member of the Board of Trustees, received a chair for her many years of devoted service to Harpeth Hall. Mr. David Ward, president of the Men's Club, expressed the sentiment that the entire Harpeth Hall community had benefitted from the love, concern, and dedication to excellence of these outstanding women.

Composition: Red & Green

Harpeth Hall and Montgomery Bell Academy's arts week, "Composition Red and Green," commenced on Friday, April 16, with the A.F.S. Dessert Fest celebrating foreign cuisine. Visitors then enjoyed a joint student art show and a reception in the Marnie-Sheridan Gallery for Harpeth Hall and MBA student artists. Included in this exhibit were works in oil, acrylic, charcoal, pencil, plaster, and other mixed media. Following the show and again on Saturday night, the Harpeth Hall Playmakers in coordination with MBA students presented John Patrick's comedy, THE CURIOUS SAVAGE.

Later during the week, Harpeth Hall hosted two movies form the fabulous fifties, the academy-award winning film, THE AFRICAN QUEEN, and a 3-D movie, THE CREATURE FROM THE BLACK LAGOON.

Tuesday night, Harpeth Hall and MBA students presented a choral performance in MBA's Wallace Hall with Mrs. Berry and Mrs. Ross assisting. The joint student art show at MBA opened that night as well, and during the reception, a chamber group of students and faculty played classical music.

The highlight of the week, held on Wednesday night in Davis Auditorium, was the Entertainment Showcase, featuring music, dance, and acting. The grand finale was a faculty number in which the participants led the audience back to the 1920's.

THE CURIOUS SAVAGE

Under the direction of Mrs. Sandra Davis, the spring theatrical production took place on Friday and Saturday, April 16 and 17, as the Harpeth Hall Playmakers presented John Patrick's comedy, THE CURIOUS SAVAGE. The play contrasts the ironically sane world of patients in a wealthy insane asylum with the cruelty and insanity of the materialstic outside world. Mrs. Ray Berry and Mr. Jim Bradfield supervised the creation of an extremely elaborate set of a posh sanitarium in upstate New York.

The cast consisted of M.B.A. seniors Ed Brown, and Alex Grimsley as the spoiled stepsons Titus and Samuel Savage, Frank Andrews as Jeffrey, and junior Seth Sharpe as the violin-playing Hannibal. Harpeth Hall contributed such talent as seniors Kris Hockemeyer as the spirited Ethel P. Savage, Tania Trotter as her rich daughter Lilly Belle, Allison White and Lizzie Shayne as patients Fairy May and Miss Patty, Mary Laird Warner as Dr. Emmett, Beth Thompson as Nurse Willie, and junior Sarah Nichols as the patronizing Florence. With such talented direction and an experienced cast and crew, the playmakers presented a performance of which they were proud.

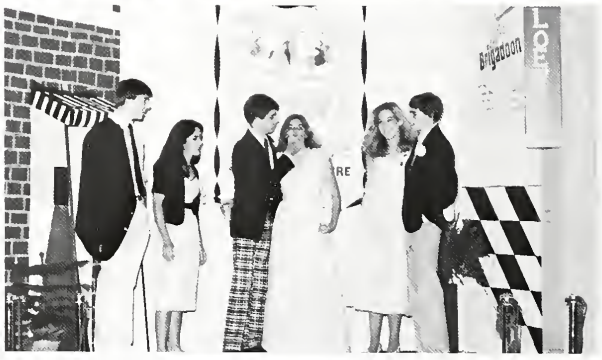

Junior-Senior Prom

Ask any student (especially a junior), and she'll tell you that the 1982 Junior-Senior Prom was the best ever. The theme of the evening was "On Broadway," and the campus was decorated accordingly. The dance lasted from eight until twelve o'clock in Morrison Gym. The band, Square Wave, played a mixture of songs, ranging from late sixties hits to current rock and new wave music.

Presentation, held at ten o'clock, offered an impressive spectacle as the seniors and junior class officers paraded down the aisle. The backdrop for presentation was a scene portraying a Broadway theater. The 1982 Prom Queen/Best Actress was Maria Severino. The court of supporting actresses included: Frances Johnson, Senior Attendant; Morre Morford, Junior Attendant; Lee Ann Calton, Sophomore Attendant; and Scottie Hill, Freshman Attendant. The Juniors provided refreshments and decorated the gallery with playbills of famous Broadway musicals which opened in the 1930's and 1940's and are still being produced. The backdrop for pictures was equally creative, simulating an important Broadway opening. Couples stood in front of a restored Rolls Royce with a red carpet, velvet ropes, and footlights. The evening drew rave reviews from the senior critics, much to the pleasure of the hard-working juniors.

Eighth Grade Combo

Once again the Eighth Grade Combo offered a delightful evening for the Eighth Grade Class. On March 27 from eight until eleven, the girls and their dates danced the night away to the sounds of "The Drones," a popular band consisting of M.B.A., B.G.A., and Father Ryan students, formerly known as "The Tempest." Equipped with wild electric lights and a fog machine, the Drones descended into the cafeteria while playing Charlie Daniels' hit, "Sweet Home Alabama," filling the cafeteria with a dense cloud of fog. The theme of "Party!" accented the lunchroom with colorful decorations including over two hundred helium balloons and streamers. The backdrop for pictures designed by Cecelia Wong and Carol Cavin extended this theme with a wicker chair and giant multicolored letters spelling out "Party!" behind it.

Dance Concert

This year the members of Harpeth Hall's Ballet, Tap, Jazz, and Modern Dance Clubs practiced from January until May under the direction of Mrs. Mullins to produce the Spring Concert. The tap and ballet pieces were choreographed by Mrs. Hamilton, while the modern dance and jazz pieces were choreographed by Mrs. Mullins and the dancers. The music for the two modern dance segments was written especially for the concert by Jim Chappell. One of these pieces, "North Star," included three groups of dancers as constellations and Frances Johnson as the North Star. The other modern dance piece, "Passages," integrated choreography and costume to depict the four stages of a woman's life. Other dances included a tap routine to the music of George Gershwin, a ballet piece to the music of Shostakovich, and a jazz number to "Proud Mary," by Ike and Tina Turner.

The production staff included not only Mrs. Mullins as Director but also Mr. Bradfield as Technical Director and Mrs. Davis in lighting design. Mrs. Mullins cites her collaboration with Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Davis, and Mr. Bradfield as one of the major reasons for the success of the concert. She also emphasizes the diligence and enthusiasm of the many experienced dancers. As Mrs. Mullins states that she has "never been more proud of a concert," she chose to dedicate the 1982 dance concert to Miss Janet Hensley.

Cum Laude

The Cum Laude Society of Harpeth Hall is composed of the top twenty percent of the senior class, the top ten percent of the junior class, and members of the faculty who belong to the collegiate honor society Phi Beta Kappa. Cum Laude's speaker, one who embodies academic excellence, Miss Hensley took this opportunity to express her concern for the future of quality education.

In a time when technology is constantly pushing society toward a complacent attitude, Miss Hensley sees a growing need for students who are "willing to speak out, to defent, to demand a quality education." Upon asking the questions, "Why are you here," she gave several reasons for seeking a quality education, including that of exploring new areas of awareness" as well as that of being unafraid to break down where appropriate as well as to build up. Miss Hensley closed by urging the students "not to be fooled by charisma," but to "seek to know the value of an independent mind." The Cum Laude Society is evidence that the desire for knowledge is alive at Harpeth Hall.

Quill and Scroll

This year, Harpeth Hall received its charter for Quill and Scroll, a national honor society for high school journalists. Sponsored by Mrs. Evans, the group is open to junior and senior editors of school publications who rank in the upper third of their class. Lizzie Shayne, Mary Buchanon, Didi Kaplan, and Beth Clayton received special awards for excellence.

Société Honoraire de Français

The Harpeth Hall Chapter of the Société Honoraire de Francais, a national high school honor society, received its charter this year from the American Association of Teachers of French. Open to juniors and seniors who have maintained an A- overall average for at least two years of high school French, the Société honors those girls who have demonstrated both outstanding aptitude and interest in the study of French.

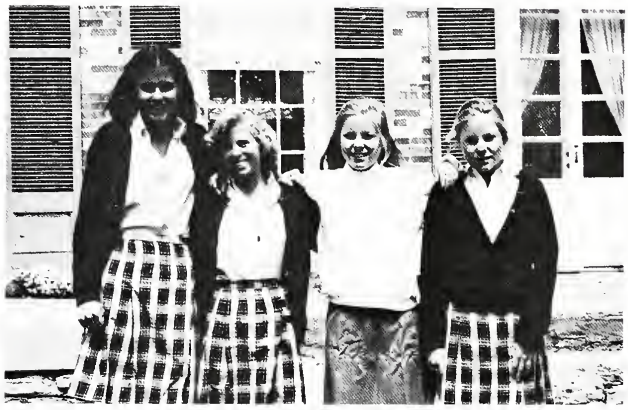

"Togetherness"

There is no way to classify a "typical" Harpeth Hall student. It is rare even to see two people in exactly the same uniform combination. Sometimes the seniors act like the freshmen, sometimes vice versa! We think we know each other well, until one day we find out that the quiet girl in the third row of Chemistry class may have a promising career as a drummer.

Although we have a variety of talents and interests, there is no denying that we are nonetheless a group. We work together on plays, bakesales, backdrops for dances, and sports teams. We also share frustrations; it helps to know that there are others who also hate writing English papers, running the 600, or taking math tests.

Harpeth Hall is a community. It functions so well because it is a group of individuals willing to accept each other's diverse interests.

Hensley Holiday

On Tuesday, May fourth, at 10:15, a seemingly routine fire drill surprised the student body. Student Council President LaLa Cochran then took the megaphone from Mrs. Moran to recommend a safer way of leaving the buildings in case of fire, but instead, she crowned Miss Hensley queen for the day and presented her with a Harpeth Hall chair from the entire student body. After this presentation, LaLa and fellow Student Council members declared the day "Hensley Holiday," and five chartered buses transported the entire Upper School to Edwin Warner Park for the day. This "Holiday" consisted of a sack lunch, a skit with characters chosen from the faculty and student body, and various games typifying Miss Hensley such as "Pin the Cigarette in Hensley's Mouth," a Goo-Goo eating contest, "Hensley Says," charades, and a "Hensley Misspelling Bee." Students enjoyed the break from regular classes but more especially, the opportunity to thank Miss Hensley for all she has meant to Harpeth Hall over the years.

Father-Daughter Banquet

A group of five hundred eighty Harpeth Hall students, their fathers, grandfathers, uncles, and friends dined at the Hyatt Regency on May sixth for the annual Father-Daughter Banquet. Not only present students attended, but also entering students enjoyed the evening. After the invocation by Dr. Richard Sullivan and a fine meal, the "Four Flats," a barber shop quartet including Mr. David Wood, Dr. Jim Warren, Mr. Sherman Newcomb, and Dr. Sam Marney entertained the entranced audience. To conclude the musical portion of the program, the Four Flats were joined by vocalist Sarah Nichols and pianist Erica Fogg. Following this part of the evening, the guest speaker, Tracy Caulkins, was introduced and received a standing ovation. She spoke of the need to tell parents how much we love them before leaving them. Mr. David Ward, President of the Men's Club, then recapped the events of the year and presented the audience with an idea for a fall fund-raising production, MY FAIR LADY, sponsored by the Men's Club and the Mothers' Auxiliary.

National Merit

For the second year in a row, the Harpeth Hall senior class had three of its members named as National Merit Scholars: Bethany Graham, Costanza Tedesco, and Jennifer Harwell. The National Merit Foundation recognizes outstanding scholarship by high school students on the basis of junior PSAT test results. Of the thousands of students who take this exam, the top half of one percent are named semifinalists, of which thirteen were Harpeth Hall girls with two students named as commendees. From this select group, ninety-eight percent receive the finalist status, and forty percent of the finalists are honored as scholars, receiving awards of one thousand dollars from private corporations or from the National Merit Foundation. These outstanding seniors plan to attend a variety of strong universities next year, including Harvard, M.I.T., Princeton, Duke, Davidson, UNC, Virginia, William and Mary, Vanderbilt, and Kenyon.

Commendees: Pat Davis and Elizabeth Reed.

The End of the Year

All-Club Picnic

Although this year the All-Club Picnic was held in Morrison gym, the traditional event was quite memorable. The departure of Miss Hensley, Mrs. Carden, Mr. Byrd, Mrs. Frey, Mrs. Petersen, and Mr. Adair saddened the students; and Maria Severino, this year's A.F.S. student, gave a touching farewell talk.

Among awards presented were the Mathes-Charney Art Award to Emme Nelson and Honor Dancer Awards to Louisa Gibbs and Frances Johnson. After the An-Eccos won the song contest, the Student Council offered a comic skit portraying its activities.

After MILESTONES, Quill and Scroll, and the French Société Honoraire had announced new members, the MILESTONES Staff dedicated the 1982 yearbook to Mrs. Warterfield for her support of excellence. HALLMARKS was dedicated to the versatile Mr. Byrd.

A farewell speech from Miss Hensley concluded the events amid many tears.

New Student Council officers take their oath and receive notebooks.

Middle School Honor Day

The early morning rain which fell on this year's Honor Day did not dampen the spirit of the eighth grade class. The seventh grade honored the graduating class by singing two selections, and then Mrs. Anita Schmid addressed the eighth grade. These opening remarks were particularly special to the eighth grade since this occasion marked the commencement of their friendship with her as their freshman counselor.

Miss Polly Fessey, Director of the Middle School, presented awards for academic excellence in various areas of school life. Besides winning the Athletic Cup and the Club Citizenship Trophy, Eccowasin also won the Challenge Bowl. The recipients of this year's Class Spirit Awards were Annis Marney, Lezley Dale, and Nancy Brown. In academics, Carol Cavin received the Junior Classical League Award for the highest average in Latin. Julie Andrews, Arwen Staros, Carol Cavin, and Carolyn Fischer were honored for competing in the statewide Algebra I contest, while Carolyn Fischer and Arwen Staros received certificates for placing in the National French Contest. The Polly Fessey Award, given to the eighth grade student who has made an outstanding contribution to her class and to the school through her service, loyalty, and leadership, was presented to Margo Teas. Following the awards the graduating eighth grade class received certificates from Dr. Daugh W. Smith, Honorary Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and Mr. David E. Wood, Headmaster. Those attending the ceremonies then stood and sang the Alma Mater with the graduating class. The seventh grade then sang "Irish Blessing" as a benediction as the graduates left of the auditorium to greet a new life of changes ahead of them.

Senior Banquet

This year's Senior Banquet allowed the faculty and the Class of 1982 to relax together and reflect on the past year before the hectic schedule of weekend events honoring the graduates. Following the catered, outdoor dinner at the home of Kathleen Jackson, Didi Kaplan, Kathy Lazenby, Lynne Kitchel, and Lala Cochran entertained the crowd by bestowing a unique superlative on each senior. Class president Louisa Gibbs then thanked her classmates for the opportunity to serve them, and class sponsor Dr. Marney congratulated the members of the Class of 1982 on their strengths as an entire class in the many areas in which they had been involved. Finally, Carol Thackston, Beth Thornton, and Louisa Gibbs presented a slide show set to popular music which depicted the faces and events of the seniors' last two years at Harpeth Hall. The evening ended on a sad note as the seniors practiced their class song in anticipation of Step Singing and graduation.

Step Singing

The traditional Step Singing Ceremony concluded an eventful Sunday afternoon before graduation which included the Baccalaureate and the junior-senior parents' tea. After Dr. Warren, father of graduating senior Hilary Warren, addressed seniors, underclassmen, and their parents on the importance of service to others, the audience convened in the art gallery for a tea honoring Harpeth Hall parents. The festivities then moved outdoors with the Step Singing in front of Souby Hall.

After the Lady of the Hall, Lala Cochran, was presented with her court, the junior class officers arranged the live daisy chain spelling out "1982." The seniors then sang their junior class song and senior class president Louisa Gibbs transferred her notes to the upcoming senior class president, Mary Matter. Louisa also presented the class gift, a check toward the purchase of a sound system for Davis Auditorium. After the class songs, the girls joined in singing the Alma Mater, concluding the special afternoon.

Lady of the Hall

As her title indicates, the 1982 Lady of the Hall, Lala Cochran, truly embodied the ideals of Harpeth Hall. Active in student government, athletics, and drama and interested in the study of languages and political science, Lala clearly merited this title. Her qualities of devotion, enthusiasm, and creativity enabled her to meet many personal goals.

Having served as sophomore Student Council representative, junior Honor Council member, and a class sergeant-at-arms, Lala was elected Student Council president as a senior. She also joined in the chorus of THE SOUND OF MUSIC and OKLAHOMA and portrayed Nancy in the lead role of OLIVER this year. Participating for four years on the varsity track team, Lala captured first place in the NIL in high jump as a sophomore and first place in the state as a junior. For these accomplishments, Lala was awarded the Sophie Dobson Athletic Blanket and was named Most Valuable in field events for two years. She was also active in the Junior Board of Directors for Junior Achievement, the AFS Club, the Key Club, and Christian Fellowship. For her enthusiasm and devotion, Lala received the Sophomore Class Spirit Award, the Margaret Ingram Coble Award, and the Optimist Award. Her abilities as a leader in the many activities in which she was involved and her devotion to others and to her school made Lala Cochran an outstanding representative of Harpeth Hall.

Katie Wray Award
Jennifer Harwell

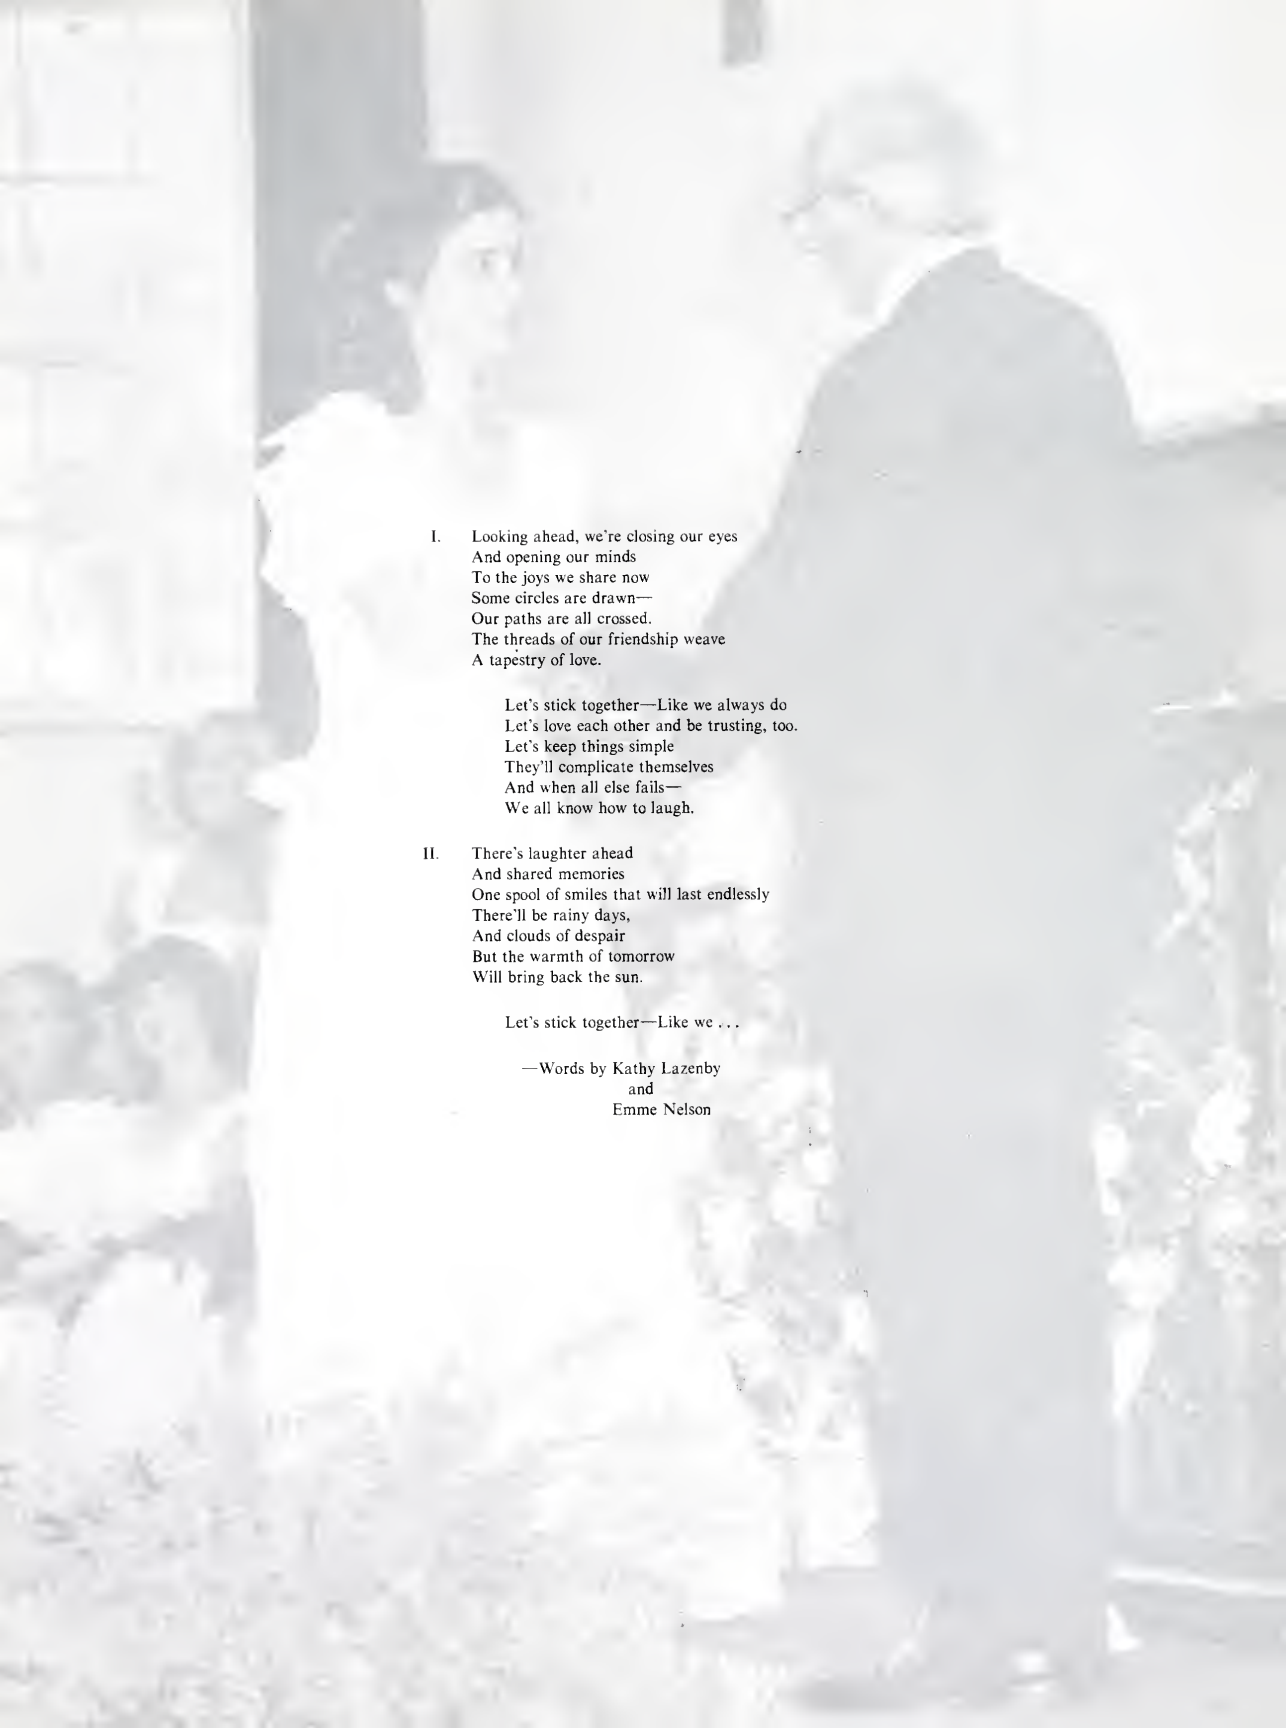

The recipient of the Katie Wray Award, Jennifer Harwell, is the senior with the highest four-year grade average. Having received the Sophie Dobson Academic Award for each of her four years in the Upper School, she was inducted into Cum Laude her junior year, becoming its president her senior year. A member of Mu Alpha Theta Mathematics Honor Society and the Société Honoraire de Français for excellence in French, Jennifer's impressive list of academic honors extends beyond those at Harpeth Hall. Having placed sixth in the state and seventh in the region in the National French Contest, she has also been named a National Merit Scholar.

Her dedication to academic excellence was paralleled by her involvement in all aspects of life at Harpeth Hall. Her interest in creative expression emerged in Penstaff and the Glee Club. She has also been a member of French Club, A.F.S., and the Key Club. The Senior Class demonstrated its appreciation for her special enthusiasm and spirit by electing her class chaplain.

Continuing her studies at Vanderbilt, Jennifer plans to pursue a career in international finance.

I. Looking ahead, we're closing our eyes
And opening our minds
To the joys we share now
Some circles are drawn—
Our paths are all crossed.
The threads of our friendship weave
A tapestry of love.

Let's stick together—Like we always do
Let's love each other and be trusting, too.
Let's keep things simple
They'll complicate themselves
And when all else fails—
We all know how to laugh.

II. There's laughter ahead
And shared memories
One spool of smiles that will last endlessly
There'll be rainy days,
And clouds of despair
But the warmth of tomorrow
Will bring back the sun.

Let's stick together—Like we . . .

Graduation

Even with the unique characteristics of each senior class, the graduation ceremony at Harpeth Hall links all senior classes together—extending back to the days of Ward Belmont and even to Ward Seminary. Mrs. Ginger Justus' commencement address focused on this concept and also offered advice to this year's graduates for applying their experiences at Harpeth Hall to the future. Speaking for her fellow graduates, Kathy Lazenby explained that the same Harpeth Hall education made each of her classmates a whole person by teaching them diligence, self motivation, and aesthetic appreciation.

After two choral presentations by the Glee Club and the commencement addresses, Mr. Wood announced special graduate awards for excellence in various academic subjects and presented certificates for students who placed in national language contests. Graduates who had made unique achievements in their studies outside of Harpeth Hall were also recognized, such as Bethany Graham, Jennifer Harwell, and Costanza Tedesco, who were recipients of National Merit Scholarships; Bethany Graham again who received an Andrew B. Duke Scholarship; and Yi-Fun Hsueh who was awarded a Latin scholarship by the regional Classical Society. Chairman of the Harpeth Hall Board, Mrs. Jeanne Zerfoss, then bestowed a special honor, the Dede Bullard Wallace Award for outstanding service to

Seven Year Veterans

Harpeth Hall, to retiring board member Miss Mary Elizabeth Cayce. Although Miss Cayce had previously recieved a Harpeth Hall chair in recognition of her devotion, her extensive contributions and commitment to the school earned her this coveted award as well. Mr. Wood then conferred diplomas on all members of the class of 1982.

The ceremony concluded with the singing of the senior class song, written by Dan Fogelberg, and the Alma mater. Graduates looked on their commencement with sentiments of accomplishment, of elation, and of loss.

Graduation

Miss Hensley Graduates

Twelve years ago, Miss Hensley began teaching history in the Middle School. She came from a coeducational school in North Carolina where she taught grammar, reading, punctuation, and—unbelievably—spelling! After this school year, Miss Hensley will move on again to be the Headmistress of the Louise McGehee School in New Orleans.

As Dean of Students, Miss Hensley is in charge of Winterim, scheduling, and discipline. She is to be respected for accomplishing this very extensive job with complete dedication. A new freshman usually first encounters Miss Hensley as she organizes Winterim. When the dean approaches the podium to harangue students about late Winterim forms, freshmen take on a general pallor and sink into their chairs.

There is yet another, perhaps more prevalent view of Miss Hensley which students recognize as they spend more time with her—she is fun-loving. At the Leadership Conference, she donned a sheet to join the Student Council in a "song and dance" routine, and she accompanied a group of sophomores to the Bahamas for a Winterim sailing trip.

As Miss Hensley's career progresses, we all wish her the best in her new challenges. Having certainly played a key role in the growth of Harpeth Hall and of its students, she will be deeply missed.

"Sing Our Song"

I. Are you listening, can you hear me?
'Cause I'm gonna sing our song.
There's magic in the music, but you'll have to sing along.
Do you recall the last time that you really sang out loud?
If we ever needed you, we need you now.

Chorus: We are one, we are many, we are you, and we are me.
We are children on a journey; we are longing
to be free.
We are brothers, we are sisters, and our family is strong.
There is magic in our voices; take our hand,
sing our song.

II. As you're moving through your lifetime, does it feel like you're alone?
Have you been a thousand places, somehow never found your home?
Are you lookin' for a song to sing to last your whole life through?
Then come with us and we will sing with you.

III. We can make the sun shine on us, we can chase the clouds away.
We can open up the flowers; we can bring a briighter day.
Our song has no beginning, and our song will never end.
We'll sing it 'til the world is ours again.

—copyright John Knowles, reprinted with permission.

John Knowles' song "Sing our Song" has meant much to me ever since I first heard it several years ago. It is a song of hope and happiness, and its meaning is "tailor-made" for MILESTONES 1982. This book is, hopefully, the most complete and self-contained record that we have of this school year. We have here all of the elements of happiness and hope for our future: good friends, teachers who care, a beautiful campus, and freedom to learn anything we want. As we all move ahead in age and learning, we should not forget how fortunate we really are, no matter how terrible all of the work we have to do may sometimes seem to be!

The words to "Sing our Song" express better than any profundity I could devise exactly how Harpeth Hall must function—as a unified group which is always aware of the individuals that make it up—and what the ideas are to which Harpeth Hall must cling. We are shaping the future of our world. Working as a group and focusing on our opportunities for the future, we can make this world a better place. It is my hope that MILESTONES 1982 will represent Harpeth Hall as it is—an exceptional place of learning—and that those who go to school here will take good advantage of it and spread Harpeth Hall's ideals of education wherever they go.

—Kathy Lazenby, Editor-in-Chief
