Award Given To Anne Frank's Protector

Victor Kugler, the man who risked his life to hide Anne Frank from the Nazis in Amsterdam in World War II has received the first presentation of the $10,000 Roger E. Joseph Prize by Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion.

The award is given each year to "an individual or organization whose conduct or work enhances or encourages the values and ideals which derive from religious teachings." The award to Mr. Kugler was made by Dr. Gottschalk, president of the college, on June 4 — the day before Mr. Kugler's 78th birthday.

The Roger E. Joseph Prize was established by a grant from Burton M. Joseph and his sister, Mrs. Betty Greenberg.

Mr. Kugler was an associate of Anne Frank's father in the spice importing business in Amsterdam at the time of the Nazi occupation of the Netherlands. To enable them to avoid apprehension by the Nazis, Mr. Kugler hid Anne Frank, her sister and parents and four other Jews in an annex of his office.

After 25 months — in August of 1944 — the Gestapo found them. They were sent to concentration camps where all but Ann's father, Otto, died. Mr. Kugler was sent to a labor camp. During a prisoner transfer to Germany, he managed to escape and he remained in hiding until the end of the war, when he returned to Amsterdam to pick up his life. In 1955, he emigrated to Canada and lives now in retirement in Weston, a suburb of Toronto.

Of his role with regard to the Franks, Mr. Kugler says today: "What I did I did for my friends. I only regret it was not more successful."

Festival of Biblical Art and Archaeology at the JCC

A Festival of Biblical Art and Archaeology, "Climbing the Steps of Time," a major new exhibit showing the life and culture of Bible times through the exciting discoveries of modern Biblical archaeology, will be held at the Jewish Community Center, 333 South 132nd Street, Omaha, Nebraska from October 29 to November 21.

Presented at the Jewish Community Center for the public, the Festival is a cooperative, community-wide event co-sponsored by the Center, the University of Nebraska at Omaha, Creighton University, Bellevue College, Dana College, the College of St. Mary, Joslyn Museum, Omaha Public Library, Lutheran Metropolitan Ministries, Lutheran Church in America and individual Omaha churches with considerable financial support from Omaha businesses.

The Festival is an interpretive exhibition of priceless and rare artifacts from the lands of the Bible (Israel, Syria, Jordan, Iraq, Iran, Lebanon, Egypt) along with accompanying lectures, films, workshops and demonstrations, designs for an adult audience.

The display will feature more than 500 authentic objects from Bible Lands dating from 3500 B.C. to 500 A.D.

The exhibit's purpose is to increase public understanding of the Biblical past through the viewing of rare and beautiful objects dug from the lands of the Bible; to respond to public interest in cultural history and fascination with its "roots;" to bring outstanding scholars, artisans and archaeologists to Omaha; to promote an ecumenical feeling among Christians, Arabs and Jews by recounting the numerous ways we share a common artistic, cultural and philosophical heritage.

A 30-person, city-wide committee has been working for almost two years to plan the Festival and exhibit, arrange for speakers and artifacts and raise money. A library-quality, art book catalogue will be prepared to compliment the exhibit and preserve it, and will be on sale at the Jewish Community Center.

There is no admission charge and all people are invited to "Come and
