IT SEEMS TO ME . . .

meetings, less activity. More time for reflection and the gathering of inner resources.

Here our summer will be filled with planning for next year's directions, the results of just plain thinking.

Add to this the opportunity for calm judgment, study, wide reading. There will be less talking and, hopefully, more deeply personal thoughtfulness. Maybe that's what everyone needs just now: a period of aloneness and redefinition of goals.

Let us hope that as these days grow warmer men will feel warmer toward each other, that peace will be nearer within our land and everywhere.

I've a long list of things that must be done this summer. Some are personal goals. Inevitably I never get them all accomplished and there are books unread when the fall has come. I wish I knew now which ones those would be and I would start with them!

Maybe you'd like to make your own plans in this vein for the summer. Try it. And may it be a good season for you and your loved ones until we share our thoughts together again.

RARE ITEMS IN THE TEMPLE'S MUSEUM — XX

Many are the memorabilia deriving from the fairly recent Nazi era. But it is also necessary to be reminded that the hate for Jews is a century old phenomenon as this picture proves. It is a special PASS given to a Frankfurt Jew in 1790 that he might view the coronation of a king from a house but not from the street, indicating that he needed special permission to leave the ghetto. Salomon Oppenheimer must have been a prominent person to warrant such an exception.
