Letter to Rabbi Brooks on addressing the Annual Christmas Breakfast at the Nebraska Clothing Company:

Dear Rabbi Brooks:

The afternoon of this eventful day is approaching to a close, but before I leave the store I would like to express to you my personal thanks as well as the gratification of the entire organization for your splendid message this morning.

I was particularly happy to hear your thoughts. As you perhaps know, I have been very much interested in the problems which face us unnecessarily because of race, color or creed. An expression such as you gave this morning was such that there was no one there who would not leave with a full understanding of the responsibility we as mankind should have—and a greater willingness to understand and accept all our fellowmen.

Just felt the enclosed check may be of some assistance in some fund for Temple Israel.

Sincerely yours,

W. O. SWANSON.
