NEW RELIGIOUS SCHOOL
CURRICULUM

Parents of all children in our Religious School have received copies of the revised course of studies for the current season.

There have been a number of radical changes designed to promote both greater interest on the part of the students and greater depth of study.

Of necessity, Grade 5, formerly meeting on Saturday mornings, will meet on Sunday mornings. Grades 6 through 9, formed into a Junior High School type of instruction including a number of elective subjects, will meet on Saturday mornings. The Confirmation Class meets as formerly on Tuesday afternoons. We believe the curriculum and the schedule are improved.

It is debatable whether Judaism can be taught at all! Judaism can certainly be learned! Whether it is learned depends not only on teachers and curriculum but equally upon students and parents.

IT SEEMS TO ME . . .

A Personal Message from Rabbi Brooks

The renewal of life is a ceaseless wonder. Sunset and sunrise. Death and life. Sorrow to joy. Season to season. Once again our New Year approaches. Some will say: "That again?" But for many reasons it is not the same. Not ever. Nor is life and death, joy and sorrow, or any of the words which describe the apparently repetitive experience of living. For each of us lives in his own private world and together in our common world of the ever changing moment. Our Hebrew blessing has it better when we speak praise of God for "renewing daily the work of creation." Life is never the same; it is renewed, refreshed, changed.

That's really the over-arching test of our time: how to live creatively with change so rapid, so stunning, oftentimes so threatening that we strain for the spiritual strength to cope with that change.

IT SEEMS TO ME

So this year quite more than than any other will be different. In the hour of this writing the civilized people of the world are sickened by the piracy in the air and the forcible use of human beings for political blackmail. But this is the world in which we must live. And we will. We will, as partners of God, try our best to "renew" life in better forms than we have known it.

In our congregational association the season which now begins takes on historic dimensions. We will be celebrating the 100th anniversary of our founding. This will, of course, direct our thoughts in part to the past and to wonderment as we learn of the tenacity and loyalty of our predecessors who built in so different a society than ours, a Congregation of Temple Israel.

The real questions, of course, are those we dare not fail to articulate: What will be said of us 100 years hence? Will our congregation be here? What will it be like?

To this end we shall in the course of the year mark our centennial with the advantage of listening to a number of distinguished voices who will address themselves to various aspects of our spiritual and moral directions. For the only meaningful way in which to celebrate is by finding out how to "renew" ourselves and to do so in such a way that is in keeping with the realities of our times.

We are grateful. We are blessed. But let us also seriously and studiously probe the meaning of our times in the light of our Judaism. This is what I propose we do together this year. Thereby may we be "renewed" in wisdom and strength.

BOUQUETS:

To the many parents of our religious school children who were vitally interested in the religious schooling of their children. Parents offered criticism, help and suggestions in the hope of improving the school for all who attend. It is hoped that due to the work of many people during the summer, we will continue to have a school which offers a sound Jewish education of which we may be proud. Your continued support is vital throughout the year.

KUDOS FOR OUR RABBI

Early this summer Rabbi Brooks attended the sixteenth International Conference of the World Union for Progressive Judaism at Amsterdam, Holland, as a member of the United States delegation.

The World Union for Progressive Judaism was founded in 1926 in London to promote the growth of Reform and Liberal Judaism and maintains affiliations in two dozen countries. The World Union helps organize and support new congregations; assigns and employs rabbis; publishes prayerbooks, texts and religious literature in several languages; aids educational institutions; convenes international conferences of Progressive Jews; and sponsors a youth movement.

— AND FOR PAUL VERET

Temple Israel would like to take this opportunity to salute Paul Veret for his 33 years of devoted service to the Jewish Community and the resulting benefits accrued to the City of Omaha.

Among his most outstanding achievements too numerous to mention we will always be indebted to Mr. Veret whose concept of Jewish Education resulted in the Omaha Federation being the first in the country to provide financial support to all synagogue schools.

In his new position as Executive Vice-President of the Federation Mr. Veret hopes to channel his activities in areas which will intensify the Jewish cultural level of the community.

Among his greatest contributions will be to continually update statistical data of the Omaha Jewish population enabling expert planning for its future needs.

We wish Mr. Veret continued success in his many outstanding endeavors.

RABBI PHILIP H. KRANZ TO ASSIST AT HIGH HOLY DAY SERVICES

We are indeed privileged to have with us this Holiday Season the personable, articulate young man to assist Rabbi Brooks during worship services.

Philip H. Kranz will receive his Masters degree in Hebrew Letters and ordination from Hebrew Union College in June 1971. This interesting young man has already had much experience in the congregational rabbinate. He has served High Holy Day congregations in Youngstown, Ohio, Baltimore, Md., and Bainbridge, Georgia. For the past two years he has served as Student Rabbi of the South Street Temple in Lincoln, Nebr. For the past six summers Rabbi Kranz has had a rabbinical internship at the Temple in Cleveland, Ohio. Immediately after leaving Omaha, Rabbi Kranz will serve as Rabbi of Temple Shalom in Cincinnati during the recuperation of its rabbi. Particular interests of Rabbi Kranz are modern Jewish history, and American-Jewish history. So it is without question that he will bring to our pulpit depth of knowledge and a contemporary viewpoint.

Temple Members in the News —

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Sindelar. Mrs. Sindelar is the former Linda Ann Orkow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Orkow, and Mr. Sindelar is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Adolph G. Sindelar.

Mr. and Mrs. Todd Alan Greenstone. Mrs. Greenstone is the former Marsha Elkon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Elkon, and Mr. Greenstone the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Greenstone.

RARE ITEMS IN THE TEMPLE'S MUSEUM — XXI

Another item deriving from the Nazi era is a Concentration Camp Jacket. Monuments to the Jewish martyrs have been erected in many lands to honor the memory of the six (6) millions Jews who died for the sanctification of God's name. But no memorial, however impressive, can demonstrate the misery and degradation of these infamous years as an actual item used by an inmate of a concentration camp. The above pictured jacket was worn for three years day and night in Auschwitz by Bernie Sommer until his miraculous escape from captivity. Bernie donated the jacket, ragged as it is, to the collection of memorabilia already in the Museum.
