Noted Educators Bring Expertise on Concerns of Teens, Adults

Rabbi Eric Weiss To Conduct Community Workshops October 28, 29, 30

Rabbi Eric Weiss has the rare ability to "connect" with children and older adults alike. In his presentations, he brings together extensive educational experience and Jewish spiritual care.

Rabbi Weiss is on the staff of Ruach Ami: Bay Area Jewish Healing Center in San Francisco, affiliated with Mt. Zion Health Systems and the Goldman Institute of Aging. One of his areas of expertise is how spiritual and religious experiences influence our lives. He has been a leader in developing programs on how to use Jewish resources and rituals for spiritual healing.

The congregation and community are urged to participate in these workshops and the healing and renewal service.

Children's Sabbath Events

October 16 7:30 p.m.

Temple Israel will join thousands of other congregations across the nation in the seventh annual National Observance of Children's Sabbaths. This observance is sponsored by the Children's Defense Fund (CDF) in cooperation with 200 religious organizations nationwide—including the Religious Action Center of Reform Judaism. The service will focus on the needs of children and how people of faith can respond through prayer, education, community outreach, service and advocacy.

The 1998 national theme will give special attention to how we, as communities of faith, are raising our children, acknowledging and calling forth their blessings and responding to their critical needs—in our homes, within our congregations and communities and throughout our entire country. This focus coincides with the Child Care NOW! Campaign spearheaded by CDF in collaboration with numerous other children's advocates who are working for increased quality and affordability of child care and after-school programs for our children. The Children's Sabbaths will encourage us all to get involved in our local communities and work to assure that children receive the developmental care and attention they need to grow, learn and achieve their God-given potential.

At Temple Israel, we will join in this united voice for children in this Shabbat service. All are invited and encouraged to participate. For more information, please call the Temple office, 556-6536.

A Note From the Cantor
Cantor Jennifer G. Blum

David, the sweet singer of Psalms wrote:
"My heart is firm, O God; I will sing and chant a hymn with all my soul... I will praise you among the people, O Lord, sing a hymn to you among the nations."

The Kol Rina choir of Temple Israel, in the spirit of David's psalms, has already begun what promises to be a wonderful year. Their glorious sounds which filled our sanctuary during the High Holy Days both moved and inspired us. My friends, it is never too late for you to join in the fun! Perhaps you never envisioned yourself being active in a choral organization. For years you have told yourself, "Sure, I sound great in the privacy of my own shower, but singing with other people?!?!?" For all of those to whom this scenario sounds familiar, you, too, can join us! Just give the choir a chance and you will come to see all of the many benefits to be gained from such an experience.

Firstly, on the physiological level, singing fosters overall well-being. The physical act of singing can relax a person and bring about a state of euphoria quite similar to the infamous "runner's high". Proper breathing skills learned during vocal warm-ups only add to the efficiency of your circulatory system and internal organs.

Secondly, there is an educational benefit to choral involvement. Perhaps you generally feel "lost" in your sanctuary or in your Shabbat service. Members of choir learn about the meanings of our prayers and liturgy and come to a better understanding of the structure of our prayer service. Together, we sing music that is at the very core of our worship and is the foundation of our choral repertoire. Before you know it, you will come to know more of the music of the service and will be more apt to participate.

Thirdly, the Kol Rina choir provides an avenue for getting to know other members of the Temple Israel community. Choir participants share an instant bond and come to develop a genuine care and concern for fellow singers. The opportunity for new friendships and camaraderie is a guaranteed benefit.

Finally, involvement in choir provides an important service to the congregation. Singing for our High Holy Days, Shabbats and festivals enhances both the mood of worship and the meaning of our prayers. It is yet another way in which we are able to share of ourselves and to give back to our community and to God.

Choir membership does not require the ability to read either Hebrew or music. There is no entrance audition; there are no fees assessed. All you need is an open mind and the desire to have a wonderful time.

I'll see you at our next rehearsal !!

Simchat Torah

CONSECRATION
Sunday, October 11
7 p.m. Worship

Kindergartners and older students who have never been consecrated will participate in the special Simchat Torah service that formally recognizes their families' commitment to Jewish education.

Each child receives a miniature Torah and flag from the congregation and is called to the bimah, with his/her parents, for a blessing by Rabbi Azriel. Continuing a tradition at Temple Israel, parents will design and create a unique Torah mantle for their child. Later, children and parents join the congregation in the joyous boisterous Hakafot (processions) around the sanctuary.

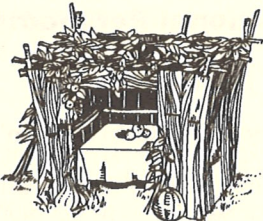

Torah and Tuffy
Sunday evening, October 11

The joyous tunes of the Fabrangen Fiddlers, Tuffy Epstein's group, will add to the merrymaking at our Simchat Torah celebration.

The service begins at 7:00 p.m., but the fiddlers will begin playing and leading a sing-along at 6:45 p.m. The sanctuary fills quickly, so come early, as we dance, sing, and begin "In the beginning..." once again.

After the service, enjoy the continued "Fraylach" sounds of the Fabrangen Fiddlers in our Social Hall.

The Sukkot and Simchat Torah worship will be enhanced again this year by the magnificent Sukkah built and given by Ajon Farber and adorned beautifully by Bakers Florists.

Sukkot Family Service and "Box Dinner"

A Sukkot Family service will be held Sunday, October 4, 7 p.m. Bring the family at 6 p.m. to make your own Sukkah decorations and add to our outdoor Sukkah, followed by a "Bring Your Own" Dinner. Drinks will be provided by Temple.

Everyone is asked to bring a can of food, for the Food Bank, to the 7:00 service.

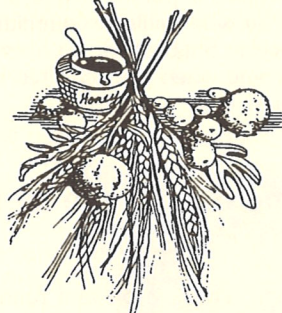

Please phone the Temple office, 556-6536, by Tuesday, September 29, to make your reservation.

What is "Lulav"?

In Hebrew, "palm branch," the lulav is a three-sectioned holder with a single palm branch in the center, two willow braches on the left, and three myrtle branches on the right.

What is "Etrog"?

"Citron" in Hebrew, this aromatic lemon-like fruit is combined with the palm, willow and myrtle branches to be called "the four species." They are waved together in all directions to acknowledge symbolically that God is sovereign over all nature.

Why Read Ecclesiastes?

We read from the Book of Ecclesiastes (Kohelet, in Hebrew) on the Shabbat of Sukkot. Like the Sukkah, it reminds us of the transitory nature of life.

The purported author of Ecclesiastes, King Solomon, wrote that there is "nothing new under the sun" that has not been seen, said or felt before. He therefore advises against the temptations of momentary pleasure and advocates obedience to God's moral and spiritual commandments which are far more the source of happiness and inner peace than is the fruitless pursuit of inane pleasures.

"Another Trip to Heaven"

In Jewish folklore there is a concept that when a baby is born, the mother has to go to heaven to get it. It takes a long time to come back from heaven and that is why young mothers seem to have a special glow. Last month I took another trip to heaven and now I have a new daughter. No, I did not have a late-in-life baby. My son Mordy married Esther, who shares his values and goals in life. The young couple are very much in love and seem to be made for each other. To those who know them well, it is clear that they truly complete each other.

Also complete is my own joy. I hope and pray that each of the parents in our Religious School will one day feel this kind of happiness. I sincerely believe that it is within the reach of every parent to see a child marry well. All a parent need do is make regular trips to heaven.

By trips to heaven, I don't mean births or marriages of children. I mean the weekly trip to heaven that is available to every Jew. Making Shabbat every week can be a weekly trip to heaven. In the hectic world in which we live, with so many demands upon our time, you might say this is asking too much; this is impossible. Indeed, it is not easy. Shabbat is truly something you make. It requires advance planning, preparation and considerable work. However, all of these efforts will be well rewarded with the time you have made for your family and friends to sit, to talk, to share values and to draw closer to God and to each other. I make a personal guarantee to every family who fulfills a commitment to take a weekly Shabbat trip to heaven: the day will come when your children will rise up and bless you.

Come one, come all !!!!

Jennifer Meyerson,
Jewish Family Service

Jewish Family Service is offering a new and exciting program combining Jewish values of parenting and parenting preparation in general.

This program is geared for first-time expectant parents as well as first-time parents with an infant under one-year old. The sessions will run for four Thursdays in October for approximately 2 hours per session: October 8, 15, 22 & 29. Sessions will begin at 7:00 p.m. Speakers include Rabbi Aryeh Azriel and Rabbi Debbie Stiel, as well as others.

For more information and to register, please call the JFS office: 330-2024.

Sitter Service

Sitter Service is available each Friday evening, Saturday mornings when there is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah and Sunday mornings when there is Religious School. Sitter Service is also available Sunday mornings during Religious School hours. Please make a reservation through the Temple office so we may plan accordingly. Cost is $2.00 per family if reservations are made prior to Friday. Drop-ins will be $3 per family. Sorry, there are no facilities for infants.

OTYG

Nikki Flatowicz

NFTY Summer Institute

Morgan Denny, Jen Gates and I attended this institute held August 11-16 at Camp Guci in Zionsville, Indiana.

The regional Boards of Ohio Valley and Missouri Valley NFTY planned the week of programming.

What types of things do people do there? Well, we had educationals, climbed towers, had water balloon fights, a Beit Café and more. The three of us had so much fun; I hope everyone goes next summer.

Leadership Training

Eleven OTYG members went with advisor Stephanie Grossman to the Regional Leadership Training Institute held at Tall Oaks, Kansas, Labor Day weekend.

Morgan Denny and Amy Willensky helped plan the weekend.

We learned what other youth groups are doing, learned about creativity and teamwork and how to communicate effectively within our youth group.

OTYG is off to a great start this year. I hope the weekend helped strengthen what knowledge the group already has.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTNOTES

Elyce Azriel, Director

"Is It Too Soon to Think of Summer?"

This summer, 1999, our present classes of freshmen, sophomores and juniors will have a wonderful opportunity to participate in an Israel experience sponsored by the JCC. This adventure is playing and learning, laughing and crying, sharing and growing with other Omaha teenagers. One aspect that has especially drawn me to this particular Israel experience is the preparation that takes place well before the participant takes off for Israel.

Why is Israel so important for our teenagers? Israel offers the unparalleled opportunity to make contact with the people, Am Yisrael - Jews of different backgrounds from over 70 different lands. The concept of the peoplehood of Israel moves from the abstract to the concrete when our young people are given the chance to see and meet Am Yisrael in its own land.

Rabbi Eric Weiss to Lead Workshop and to Participate in Healing and Renewal Service

Gesundheit: The Chicken Soup of Jewish Spiritual Care

Thursday, October 29
11:45 a.m. J.C.C. Auditorium

Each of us confronts pain and loss during a lifetime and we often ask the question, "WHY?" "When people face a crisis, then it's natural to look at one's life and to ask questions which we might think of as the ultimate question. We look for answers that are beyond our daily experiences. As medical care helps to heal the body, Ruach Ami (spirit of my people) helps to heal the spirit. We look to Jewish texts and resources as we struggle with these questions," says Rabbi Weiss.

He will lead a participatory lecture that will help us explore our own source of spiritual strength. The program is sponsored by Temple Israel, Beth El, Beth Israel, Jewish Senior Services and Jewish Family Service.

A brown bag lunch with soup is available for $6. Reservations must be made for the lunch and program. Call JSS, 330-4272, by October 23. Transportation is available for $3 through JSS; call Shane Kotok, 334-6529.

Jewish Healing and Renewal Service

Thursday, October 29
7:30 p.m. Temple Israel

A Jewish healing and renewal service is about creating a space in which people can begin a process of finding wholeness. It does so by feeding, nurturing and restoring hope.

The service helps people feel the presence of God and the community in their lives.

Rabbi Azriel and Cantor Blum, along with guest Rabbi Eric Weiss, will lead us in this moving service.

Our lives are lived in relationship to others and to God. None of us can do the work of healing alone. We need the presence of others. We know we are not alone in our struggles. The presence of the community around us, in prayer, reminds us that we all feel struggle, we all have challenges and we are all in need of some kind of healing.

Please join the community in this service.

High school programs begin at a very critical time in the development of our students. It is a time when characteristics of the future adult emerge and a time of social, intellectual and moral growth.

The Jewish supplementary high school must therefore not only provide a course of academic Jewish study, but it must also seek to offer students choices that will strengthen their Jewish identity. Our guiding principle at Temple Israel must be a commitment to the development of the Jewish teenager as a knowledgeable, caring and active member of his or her family, Temple and the greater Jewish community.

Complementary to the more formal aspects of the high school program, we offer several student/parent workshops.

The first of these programs will be

Wednesday, October 14
6:30-8:30 p.m. Temple Israel

"Are We All Created in God's Image? Educating Oneself on Gay and Lesbian Issues and Challenges in our Jewish Community."

This workshop is a combined effort of all Omaha congregational high schools, the Anti-Defamation League and Jewish Family Service.

Dr. Joyce Hunter, a Staff Clinician at the Columbia Center for Lesbian, Gay and Bisexual Mental Health, will facilitate this workshop.

She will weave into her lecture/discussion a video, "Working It Out: Stories from the Lives of Gay and Lesbian Youth." This video is a series of powerful vignettes portraying adolescents' interactions with one another, with straight friends and with other families. The vignettes that have been selected will be used as discussion catalysts.

At a follow-up session Wednesday, October 28, 6:30-7:30 p.m., we will address the Reform perspective on this issue. Regular classes will be held 7:30-8:30 p.m. Rabbi Eric Weiss (see Tidings article on page 1) and Rabbi Aryeh Azriel will conduct another student/parent workshop.

Howard Kaiman Endows Fund in Memory of His Parents

The Samuel and Ida Kaiman Endowment Fund has been established at Temple Israel by Howard Kaiman to honor the memory of his parents.

It will be used for Jewish programming, in particular, scholars-in-residence and in general, for choir-related purposes and Jewish education.

Our congregation thanks Mr. Kaiman for his generosity in endowing this fund.

Tax Lid Constitutional Amendment 413

Omaha Together One Community OPPOSES the proposed TAX LID CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT 413.

"OTOC supports efficient government but 413 is the wrong solution. After careful study, including consultations with the authors of the bill, Creighton professors of economics and law school board members, the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce and many others, OTOC's tax research committee concluded that this amendment would be harmful to children and families. It will hurt schools, libraries and public safety."

OTOC reports state "Limitations which tie spending increases to the rates of inflation and population growth seem reasonable until one looks at recent history. During the period 1990-96 when inflation totaled 24%, the cost of employees' health insurance went up 52% and the cost of books went up 58%. Schools and libraries will have to cut salaries and books to make up the difference."

OTOC believes "The bill permits government to raise taxes in regressive ways including tuition (UNL projects 20%) and other user fees such as wheel taxes and school activities fees."

OTOC says "Laws are not always fair but Constitutional Amendments certainly should be. When spending cuts are needed, the pain should be shared fairly. This bill was not written fairly. It limits how much we can spend on school, police, and fire protection, but allows unlimited spending to have streets and roads built."

Congregants are urged to study and discuss the ramifications of this amendment which is on the November 3 ballot.

You will be notified about a pending Temple Israel forum presenting opponents and proponents of the amendment.

Worship Services for 1998-99

Once again we are trying to offer a variety of worship experiences in a fairly regular format. With holidays, it is not always possible to remain true to this schedule, so please check the Tidings or Jewish Press for the most up-to-date information.

Friday Night Services:

Regular Service – 8:00 p.m. service will occur every Friday night except when there is a Family Service.

Tot Shabbat – first Friday of the month, 7:00 p.m. Abbreviated service with songs and a story, designed for toddlers through children in the primary grades.

Early Service – third Friday of the month. This short 5:30 p.m. service includes a D'var Torah (word of Torah) and the liturgy of the old Union Prayer Book.

Family Service – also offered on the third Friday of the month. This 7:30 p.m. service is perfect for families with young children. The service includes an abbreviated liturgy, the music of the Temple Tones, a story and birthday blessings.

In general, the month will look like this:

First Friday	Second Friday	Third Friday	Fourth Friday
7:00 Tot Shabbat	8:00 Regular Service	5:30 Early Service	8:00 Regular Service
8:00 Regular Service		7:30 Family Service

Saturday Morning Services – all at 10:30 a.m.

Simcha B'Shabbat – This weekly chapel service in the round has a somewhat informal tone. It includes a half-hour study and discussion period. Starting in October, the study will be of the weekly Torah portion.

Regular Shabbat Service – On the occasion of a bar or bat mitzvah, there is also a formal Shabbat service in the sanctuary. All are invited.

New Beginnings

Mimi Rogers

A New Beginnings Group is forming for those who are converting to Judaism at Temple Israel. The rabbis will recommend individuals and couples who are in the process of becoming Jews.

A letter will be sent to those asked to take the class which will meet in the Temple library once a month on Sundays, October 4 through May, 1999.

The New Beginnings Group will deal with issues surrounding the conversion process such as Family, Community, A Changing Identity and Being a Minority.

Co-leaders are Stephanie Grossman, Lee Needelman and Mimi Rogers who recently studied at the first UAHCCAR Outreach Fellows Program in Cincinnati.

Stephanie, Lee and Mimi will bring what they learned to our congregation as its first Outreach Mentors.

Ninth Grade Retreat

Top Right going counter-clockwise: Adam Waldbaum, Rachel Javitch, Lauren Feigin, Daniel Moshman, facilitator Doug Combs, and Adam Gerber were among those who recently participated in the Ninth Grade Challenge Course. Ninth Graders, along with their teachers Melany Weinstine and Rabbi Debbie Stiel, spent this afternoon learning communication and cooperation skills and solving fun problems together.

Igor Ginzburg, Max Goldberg and teacher Melany Weinstine listen to directions for the next challenge.

TREE OF LIFE

Commemorating the joyous moments in families' and friends' lives.

The following leaf has been added to our Tree of Life:

In honor of 80th birthday of Leo Eisenstatt

Love from, Helen and Milt Glazer, Jane, Harlan, Sara and Anne Rips

In memory of....
In honor of....
In appreciation of....

These donations that honor and remember families and friends are an important source of support for our congregation's activities and programs.

The Board of Trustees has now established four categories above our $6 donation for those who wish to contribute at a different level to any of the Temple funds.

A special card will be sent for donations of $25 and above.

We now have an adequate number of prayer books, so the inscribed prayer book fund has been discontinued.

Thank you for your continued support of our friends.

Yizkor

If you would like to have names of your loved ones read at the Morning Yizkor Service, Monday, October 12, call the Temple office, 556-6536, with the names to be read. Please phone by Thursday, October 8.

Healing

Mi Shebeirakh, the prayer for physical and emotional healing, is recited at the Friday evening Shabbat service. If you are ill and would like a mi shebeirakh recited on your behalf, please call the Temple office (556-6536) before noon, Fridays, so the congregation may offer its prayers for you.

If you know another person who needs the same, please ask the individual for permission to read his/her name before calling the office.

A special thanks to members of our congregation who participated in the Yom Kippur Ethics Panel Discussion: Rabbi Aryeh Azriel, Bob Freeman, Evelyn Zysman, Larry Gendler, Gary Kaplan, Maynard Telpner and moderator David Jacobson.

Remember Our Funds

Your contributions to the following funds ensure the continuation and support of many vital activities of the Temple. Your thoughtfulness is appreciated.
