Have You Visited Our Web Page?

If you haven't visited Temple Israel's web page lately you'll be surprised at all the information, news, committee events, and Jewish links displayed at the templeisrael-ne.org site.

Whether you're looking for an easy way to connect to the online version of The Jerusalem Post or just trying to find out when that next Tot Shabbat is scheduled, Temple's website can help with a click of your mouse.

There are links to national sites like Jewish Communication Network, complete with daily news updates and discussion groups, and Jewish Family Page, packed with fun holiday projects and recipes. There's a calendar of Jewish holidays for the next few years, and a study link to Torat Hayim, the UAHC's weekly Dvar Torah. Also, there is a link to Omaha's Jewish Federation page.

As the various Temple organizations start up for the coming year, we will publish their schedules and special events. Women of Reform Judaism, for example, already has a busy fall line up on the site. Be sure to check out the schedule for the new Jewish Journey Groups, a series of Adult Education programs, led by lay members of our congregation.

We welcome your comments and suggestions. Just send an e-mail to either willwallace@compuserve.com or colleen@tconl.com to share your ideas. See you online!

High Holy Days Choir Brought Beauty to Services

Cantor Jennifer Blum

"Shiru ladonai, shir chadash, shiru ladonai kol haaretz!" Sing to the Lord a new song, sing to the Lord, all the earth!

Our Kol Rina choir's voices rang out loud and clear, making our High Holy Days worship one of much beauty and grandeur. I would like to offer my deepest gratitude and appreciation to the following individuals for all of their efforts: Jim Anderson, Elyce Azriel, Pam DePorte, Tom Friedman, Hilde Gottlieb, Lonnie Gaul, Jill Idelman, Mark Jacobson, Jon Meyers, Maxine Noodell, Jeff Schweid, Sharon Sobel, Patsy Wallace and Leslie Wolpa.

Special thanks go to Will Wallace for his strength and skill as our conductor of Kol Rina and to Julie Sandene, our congregation's superb organ and piano accompanist. Their hard work enhances our services not only for the Holy Days, but throughout the entire year. For all the work they do to shape our many voices into one unified whole, we thank them.

May this new year of 5760 be one of glorious new song, Shir Chadash, and one of both beauty and completeness

Bible Quiz

Each year, B'nai Brith sponsors a local Bible contest for all students in the Omaha congregational high schools. The purpose of the quiz is to encourage Jewish youth to become more familiar with their heritage – the Bible.

Prior to the Wednesday evening contest December 8, participants are asked to attend five study sessions with Rabbi Azriel. These sessions will help the students familiarize themselves with the assigned books, the Books of Exodus and Ruth.

Awards are four cash prizes that can be applied toward college or Jewish camp tuition. But the ultimate reward is to intensely study Torah!

If the study of Torah intrigues you, give it a shot – you'll learn a lot! Call Elyce, at the Temple office, 556-6536, for dates of the study sessions and to reserve your spot for the study of Torah.

Dr. Mary Pipher to Speak at Student/Parent Workshop

"Ophelia's Family: Across the Generations"

Dr. Pipher, a therapist in Lincoln, Nebraska, has been counseling families for over 20 years and is a national authority on family issues. She lectures all over the country on this subject and has listened to many stories about the cultural assault on families and what is being done, community by community, to save our most valuable institution.

According to Pipher, "In the current family-hurting culture, families must do two things to survive. They must protect themselves from what is most hurtful to the health of the family, and they must connect with what is good outside the family." She explains that time, places, celebrations, connecting rituals and stories all shelter families and that "the protective walls of a family are not made of stone, but of love."

Dr. Pipher's best-selling book about adolescent girls, Reviving Ophelia, emerged as the nation's premier authority on teenage adolescent issues. Pipher brought the same common sense and clear voice to her next book, The Shelter of Each Other: Rebuilding Our Families and once again to her newest book, Another Country: Navigating the Emotional Terrain of Our Elders.

This program has been generously funded by grants from the Milton S. and Corinne H. Livingston Foundation and The Lazier L. Singer Memorial Fund. The program is free and open to the Jewish community.

Tikkun Olam Days

The Jewish tradition of caring for others, part of the broader mitzvah of tzedakah, has always connected Jews to one another and to the rest of humanity.

Doing mitzvot doesn't have to stop with the Bar or Bat Mitzvah. Instead, it can be a lifelong journey of growth and discovery. All it takes is a willing heart, a searching mind and letting God and Torah into our lives. Therefore, we are introducing "Tikkun Olam" days for our 7th and 8th graders to continue the mitzvot that they have already begun in the preparations for their Bar and Bat Mitzvah.

Our students will be part of our ongoing commitment to tikkun olam, "repairing the world." They will have three opportunities during the course of the year to make their collective selves felt in the community.

Our first Tikkun Olam Day will be October 13 with a visit to a shelter; on January 19, we will visit "Quality Living;" and on February 23 we will enjoy the residents at the Blumkin Home. Buses will transport students to and from each location.

These are unique opportunities for students to put into practice Jewish values and traditions which they have studied and acquired.

Middle School Workshop
Wednesday, October 6
6:30-7:30 p.m.
Temple

All parents of middle school students are invited to this workshop which will be facilitated by Dr. Lynda Madison.

Dr. Madison is a licensed clinical psychologist and Director of Family Support and Psychological Services at Children's Hospital.

She is author of Keep Talking: A Mother/Daughter Guide To The Pre-Teen Years.

The middle school years can be both exciting and challenging as parents strive to keep their children safe while fostering their independence. Dr. Madison's presentation will focus on the social pressures and developmental changes of the middle school years and offer suggestions for maintaining a healthy, loving and resilient relationship.

Elyce Azriel

Dr. Anne Lidsky will be leading a workshop for teachers grades PK-12 Sunday morning, October 31. She will be utilizing Partners With God and Living as Parents With God to explore a variety of ways of bringing God into the classroom for children as young as five years through high school graduation. Beginning with an exploration of our own belief systems, we will also discuss those barriers that have kept teachers from encouraging God talk with students.

Dr. Lidsky has been the Director of Education at Temple Jeremiah, Northbrook IL, for 19 years. She is a licensed clinical psychologist, receiving her Ph.D. from Northwestern University.

Known for her powerful workshops on spirituality and God, addressing children and adults alike, Anne has touched the hearts of many.

Her workshop is funded by the Davis Institute/JELS (Jewish Education and Library Services).

Mine The Riches of Adult Jewish Education Mark the Dates of These Temple Israel Sessions

Sisterhood Adult Education – Open to All

Thursday mornings, from 10 to 11:30 a.m., we offer adult education classes, known as Sisterhood Adult Education, but open to everyone. Rabbi Azriel and Rabbi Stiel will teach from September 30, 1999 through January 28, 2000 and will alternate weeks. Fee: $40.

The Sages of the Middle Ages – Learning about the three Rs of Judaism – Rabbi Debbie Stiel

Delve into the writings of Rashi, Rambam (Maimonides) and Ramban (Nachmonides). Have you heard some of these names and wondered who these rabbis were and what they have to teach us? We will explore some of the key writings of these rabbinic giants and talk about how their innovative thinking continues to influence us today.

Scattered Among the Nations – Documents Affecting Jewish History – 49 to 2000 C. E. – Rabbi Aryeh Azriel

Study the laws, commentaries and observations written for the most part by Christian religious and secular leaders. The selected writings deal with a major event or turning point in Jewish history. They document Christian-Jewish relations and show how Jews were considered a distinctly separate nation. The forces behind these documents and the actions that resulted from them had a major impact on Jewish lives over the last two millennia. In a very real way, modern Jewish life is still shaped by them. (Book will have to be purchased)

Chumash Bemidbar – Stories in the Book of Numbers
Rabbi Shlomo Levin
Tuesdays, 10 to 11:30 a.m.
October 5 through December 21, 1999

We will use classic and modern commentaries to study the central stories of the Book of Numbers from an original Midrashic perspective. Why was Moses punished and not allowed to enter the Promised Land? Why did Korach rebel – and why did the children of Israel rebel against the Lord time and time again? Class will consist of textual study along with discussion of how these stories teach us values and relate to the modern world.

Jewish Journey Groups

Synagogue 2000, a nationwide program among selected Reform and Conservative synagogues, seeks to make synagogues more than just places of worship. Through the inauguration of Jewish Journey Groups, we will add new dimensions of prayer, sharing and music to our study.

Living With Illness, Sally Kaplan, L.C.S.W. Thursday, 7 to 8 p.m., October 7 to November 11, 1999.

This group is for people who are living with illness or for those who love someone who lives with illness. We will explore several different themes such as: Sharing our Stories, Communicating with Others, Personal Spiritual Resources, Prayer, God, Death and Cultivating Gratitude.

Jewish Spirituality, Mimi Rogers, Friday, 9:30 to 11 a.m., October 8 to November 11, 1999. We will seek, question and grow in our spirituality. There will be readings, discussion, Jewish meditation and Jewish yoga. Comfortable clothing and a pillow are recommended.

The Sabbath by Abraham Joshua Heschel, Lee Needelman and John Dacey, Thursdays, 7 to 8:30 p.m., October 28, November 4, 11, 18.

We will gain familiarity with the great Jewish philosopher, Abraham Joshua Heschel, through examination of his book The Sabbath. Heschel's concept of sacred time and his vision of the Sabbath as a "Cathedral in Time" will help us bring more meaning into our own Shabbat. Other philosophers' thoughts will help us understand this incredible concept that can add spirituality to our lives.

Ancient Israel: An Historical Perspective, Dr. Michael Walts, Thursdays, 7 to 8:30 p.m., January 20 to February 24, 2000.

Follow the history of the Jews from Abraham to the Diaspora. We will use texts, including the Bible, to reach an understanding of the life and times of the people and the political and social structure affecting the region.

Sorry, there are no facilities for infants.

Jewish Book Fair

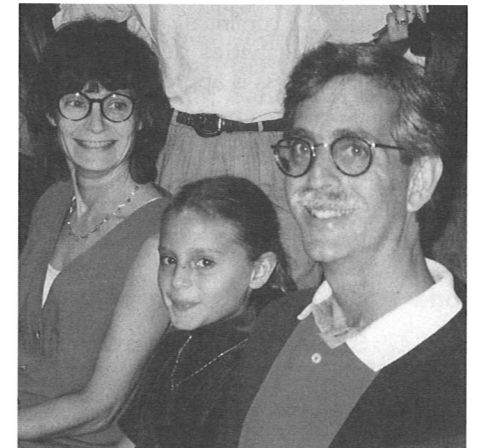

Each year the Jewish Book Council
designates Chanukah and the three weeks preceding it as Jewish Book Month. The aim is to popularize books on Jewish subjects among our adults, youth and children.

Coming as it does during the Chanukah season, it reminds us that there is no better Chanukah gift than a book.
The practice of presenting books as Chanukah gifts to children is especially recommended, for that is one of the ways in which you can help your child learn to enjoy reading. You may not be aware of it, but there is an ever growing library of Jewish books of juvenile and adult interest which is available to you and your family.
From these books your family will not only derive keen pleasure, but obtain a wealth of information, which will give all of us a richer background, a deeper insight, appreciation and understanding of the Jewish people.

This year Temple Israel will be hosting the only Jewish Book Fair in town November 19-23! If you are interested in volunteering for a 2 hour slot
please call Iris Ricks or Elyce Azriel at Temple, 556-6536.

Let Temple Israel help your family deepen and broaden your own and your child's contacts with Jewish literature. We know that you will find this experience
highly rewarding.

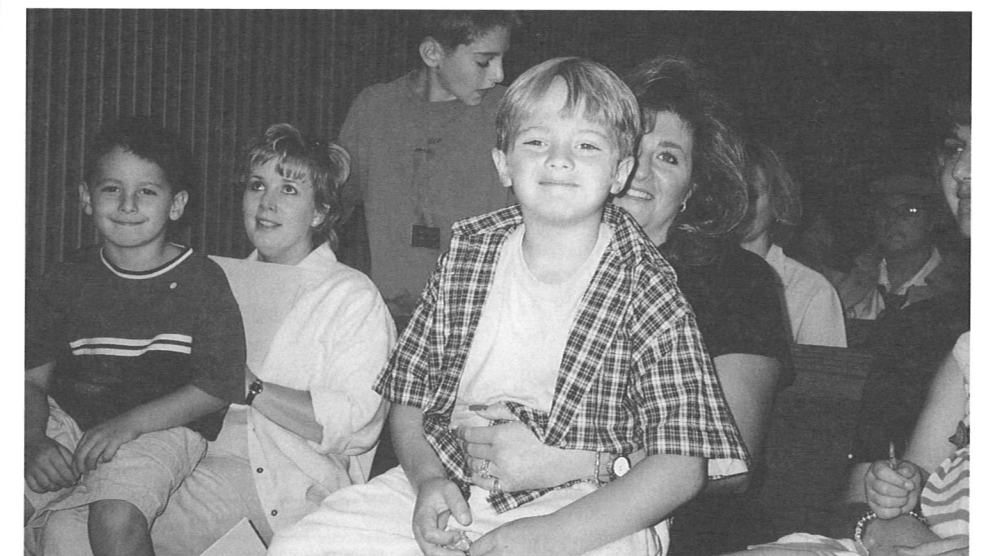

A Great School Year is Underway
