

Jessica Hinojosa

PR dy

The day of the twin towers fall was very sad. The day of Sept. 11, 2001 I was in class and doing my work for band. It was first period and then they said over the intercom that to turn on the t.v. in class. Well the bell rang and we went to second period in second period we did not do any thing because we were watching the news and looking at the planes crashing in to the buildings. When I was seeing this I got scare and sad I could not believe what I was seeing. All those people die that day for no reason and it was not ever their fault.