Tuesday, Sept. 11. I was in 2nd period, math. Doing nothing, but studying for a test, later that day. All of a sudden Mr. Cantu came back from Mrs. Galvan's room and asked us to go to her room immediately. We all thought we were meeting just to talk about the field trip. When the whole team was settled in her class, she said that somebody attacked the United States. I thought a country was dropping missals randomly throughout the United States, and that we were at war. Later on she explained, that a plane hit one of the World Trade Centers. I knew that people had been hurt, but I didn't know that a lot had died instantly or that most of them were stuck under debris. Then she said another plane attacked the other World Trade Center. We all knew that it was no accident. Later on that day we found out that the Pentagon was hit and that a plane had crashed into a plain field. We also heard that all the planes were hijacked. When we all found out about this tragedy we were all freaked out.
