

on Tuesday september 11, 2002

during my second period class I heard over the intercom about what happened with the twin towers and the pentagon. At that moment I was speechless, I was really surprised by knowing how many people were in there and around to see everything that happened. I was also scared at that moment, I felt scared for all the people that were in the twin towers, the pentagon, and somewhere around. Also for all the people that were in the airplanes when they crashed.