SUBJECT: Property numbering and street naming east of Lynn Creek.

At the request of property owners in the Deep Cove and Dollarton areas, we now have under way a house renumbering study covering the whole of the area east of Lynn Creek. This work should be completed within the next few days.

When new numbers have been allocated and put up by the property owners affected, the Post Office has indicated that it will, within two or three months thereafter, institute improved postal delivery service, which, in some areas, will involve door to door delivery.

In this area there are a number of conflicting street names - as well as confusing and conflicting numbering <sup>systems</sup> ~~service~~, and it seems appropriate that street names be changed where necessary at the same time as number changes are being effected.

Attached for your information is a report from the Street Naming Committee consisting of Messrs. C.E. Davis, M. Chesworth and A.W. Hopen. I asked these members of the staff to review the names of the streets in the eastern part of the District with a view to determining which streets should, at this time, be considered for renaming.

It is proposed that this Committee tentatively select names for the streets or portions of streets which they suggest should be renamed and that the appropriate Ratepayers' Associations be contacted to review the renaming proposals and if they wish, to submit alternate names. These in turn will, of course, have to be checked against the metropolitan directory so as to avoid any further confliction.

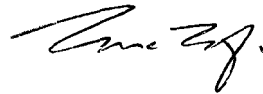

There will, undoubtedly, be a certain amount of opposition to this proposed program, but it should be minimized in view of the improved mail service in the offing.

Once the ratepayers have been given an opportunity to express themselves in regard to the proposed renamings, we would draft an appropriate by-law for Council's consideration.

As I would like to use the Building Department's staff to implement this renumbering and renaming program during the relative lull before this year's construction season opens up and because I am sure the property owners affected will be very eager to receive improved mail service as soon as possible, we are endeavouring to deal with this program as expeditiously as possible.

May I have your Committee's approval or comments on this proposal.

C. McC. Henderson,
MUNICIPAL MANAGER.

As you know, the Planning Committee has concurred with my recommendation of January 5th.

After further discussion and consideration of this matter, I am convinced that it would be worth our while for the Committee to invite the President, Secretary or some other representative of each of the affected Ratepayers' Organizations to a meeting at which they could assist in the process of selecting alternate names. Before calling such a meeting, of course, you should have a few - more than one anyway - alternate names ready for each street or section of the street which has to be re-named. It would be better, however, if the alternate name could come as a suggestion from the Ratepayers' representatives. It goes without saying, of course, that whatever name is chosen or whatever groups of names are proposed by this joint committee, they should be cleared so as to avoid conflict with other names within the metropolitan area.

Could you please arrange for one or more meetings to accomplish the objective of participation by members of the ratepayers organizations in this process of renaming. The representatives can then take these names back to their ratepayers groups if they so wish.

C. McC. Henderson,
MUNICIPAL MANAGER.

On February 11, 1960, a map showing all proposed street name changes for Deep Cove, was submitted to the Deep Cove and District Ratepayers Association, by the Street Naming Committee. They were given 30 days in which to suggest alternate choices of their preference. As a result, 3 or 4 changes were made and the plan returned to us on March 17, 1960.

Our stencils for the list have now been cut and part of it has been run. We are therefore, unable to consider any further requests for changes at this time. However, a petition for a change of street name may be submitted at any time and will receive due consideration.
