Dear Malcolm,

Thanks again for your generous contribution and help in my endeavor. I hope the materials I am sending you will be a small part of my repayment. Actually, we should not consider the "balance of trade" aspect in this relationship since we're in this family history "thing" together - - - all of us!

Please note that in certain cases of documentation I cited the Lambert Family Bible as the most authoritative source. The statement that the Bible is owned by me is merely standardized documentation of sources. I feel a bit guilty making that statement because I don't believe anyone owns it and I regard my present role with it as a caretaker. I just felt that I needed to say that to you.

Should be enough here to keep you busy for a while. Now that I have "published," I expect to hear from you about any mistakes, typo or otherwise.

Best regards,
