

Robert My Baby.

Yes He'll always be my baby boy!

Though doubtless grown to manhood in that better clime

His Baby face, I see it yet Though more than forty years have passed away.
Since I caressed the golden locks
And gazed into those dark brown eyes so like his father's.