Westerville, O. July 14. 97.

Mr. J. H. Harris

Athens O.

My Darling Joe.- Bye & bye I am at my dear old dear home once more. We left Lake Geneva yesterday morning, came to Chicago and spent the day shooting around in the city. I left Chicago last evening at 7 and got home today about 10:30 A.M. I am feeling well but am quite tired. Home seems so nice after living away, although there is a certain strangeness about it after living in a tent. The folks are well here and were somewhat surprised to see me today.

I surely have never spent such a two weeks as the last two. I can not see how my life could be otherwise than bitter for the sad experience. I have so much to tell you but will leave it until a better opportunity.

How is that finger? I hope it is much better. When are you coming to Waterville?

I am to sleepy and tired to write very much this time. So I will close hoping to see your dear face soon.

You spoke of being tanned. You can not be much worse than I am.

Your own true one

Bertha Lambert
