My Dear Joe. - Though
doubtless rocks, hills
and valleys separate us
this morning, distance
can not check our thoughts or destroy the feeling which exists between us. How Thankful I am for this opportunity of conversing with you even in this silent way. I have thought so much about your long trip, and prayed, that God would watch over you
and keep you in every danger.

2
Your trip will surely be a pleasant one if
nothing arises to make it unpleasant.

I am enjoying my
stay at Liberia very much,
and my work is as
favorable as could be expected. Most of the young people come from the country, and you know
it is quite a busy season there. I sang a solo
at church Sun. "Thou Only Sovereign of my Heart," or at least, tried to, & met both my classes Tues. The junior class consisted of fourteen & the other was not quite so large.
I will meet my classes
on Tues. & Fri. The junior

in the afternoon and the other at night.

The Pres. have a festival and concert Fri. night
at which I am expected to sing. I think I will have to get a new
supply of music if
things go at this rate
very long.

I forgot to tell you
I was keeping up a
correspondence with Prof.
Smith now, he writes
very interesting letters?
I ordered books of him
yesterday.

You asked me to tell
all my troubles so I will just tell them.

The truth is simply this:
I have a "new point" and I did not desire it at all, but you see it is one of my pupils and
as the class was just starting I was afraid
to say "no" for fear
he would leave the class. But Lucy says
if it had not been he
it would have been one of the other boys so I presume it does not matter. I presume the best way to overcome the difficulty would be for you to drop in some time.

However I think I shall
try and not be partial
in my class.

You will surely enjoy
a feast while at Northfield.

May God bless you
in your work and
use you in some
way for the upbuilding
of His kingdom here
below.

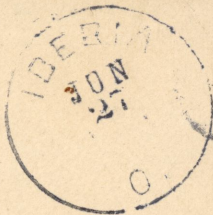

Even if you passed
through Crestline, I
presume with your
reduced rates you
could not stop?

Just use your own
judgment & I will not say pleasure in regard to the matter.

My prayer this morning is that "The Good watch between me

and, the while we are absent one from another
Your true one,
Bertha Lambert.
