

Westerville O., Dec. 8. 1873.

Mr. J. H. Harris,

Ada O.

My Dear Joe: - I come again to spend an hour with you. Your letter containing its usual inspiration was received in due time.
The past week has been a busy one but pleasant.
Our literary society held their public session last Thursday evening. Every one says it far eclipsed the Philelethean session, so as a result we feel pretty well over it.

Today we had one of the finest treats I ever enjoyed. I presume you have seen accounts of the "Mills Meetings" which are being held in Columbus. One of the speakers, Mr. Pedernolf, held a service in the chapel this morning, and such a service I never heard. The chapel was crowded and he just held them spell-bound. Before he closed about a hundred had asked for prayers. I believe I never saw such power manifested.

A great many here attend the meetings in Columbus. Every body is talking about holidays, and in about two week I would expect Keatsville to look like the "deserted village if you were not coming."

We are also looking for father, Butterbin, Abra's and Ella Edgerton but do not be frightened for we have some room engaged with our neighbors if we have not sufficient.

and perhaps they will not be here when you are.
I think your Thanksgiving dinner must have been fine, I had the honor of preparing ours.

I will be glad to comply with your wishes. How weak we are when we try to stand alone. I realize my weakness so much but I surely believe our Bible-study has done
me a great deal of good.
It seems like a long time since I looked into your face, but I hope it will not be long.

3.

until we may enjoy
talking face to face.
Some of the girls asked me how I expected to spend holidays. I told them all my folks
were coming home.

D. I. has a Cicero so you need not bring yours, but I thank you just the same.

Happy dreams to you.

Your loving one
Bertha.
