

Aola Ohio, Aug. 26. 1895.

We, the undersigned hereby pledge ourselves, to the following agreement from
this date forward

I That we yield ourselves
to each other in all that pertains, to the vow of betrothal, until our wedding day.

II That we hold this vow sacred, to be broken
only by that which
would make our union
unpleasant.

III. The above being satisfactory to both parties
we shall unite in marriage, at such date

2.

as shall be agreed upon by both parties.

IV. That we love each other with a tender affection, and that we will strive to the utmost, to keep that love aglow.

V. That we will honor God in all things whatever the cost may be.

VI. That we will strive to be one in our aims and purposes.

VII. That we consult each other in all our affairs so far as both parties are interested.

VIII. That we strive, to secure a good home
and make it a model
home with pure love
as the corner-stone.

IX. That we will be economical with our means.

X. That we will respect
each others views however widely we may differ.

Signed ~~Joseph Hastings Harris~~
Bertha Elizabeth Lambert

(Original document)
Ada, 8 Aug. 26, 1895.

We, the undersigned hereby, pledge ourselves to the following agreement from this day forward.

I. That we yield ourselves to each other in all that pertains <sup>to</sup> the vow of betrothal until our wedding day.

II. That we love each other with tender affection and that we will strive to the utmost to keep that love aglow.

III. That we will honor God in all things whatever the cost may be.

IV. That we will strive to be one in our aims and purposes.

V. That we consult each other in all <sup>our</sup> affairs so far as both parties are interested.

Signed

VI. That we strive to secure a good home.

VII. That we strive to make that home a model home with pure love as the corner stone.

VIII. That we hold this vow sacred to be broken only by something that would make our union unpleasant.

IX. The above being satisfactory to both parties we shall unite in marriage at such date as shall be agreed upon after due consideration by both parties.

X. That we will be economical with our means.

XI. That we will respect each other's views, however widely we may differ.

Private contents
Please forward without opening to
Miss Bertha Lambert,
Westerville,
Ohio.