This Is VHS

Only a photograph of a building, you say? How mistaken you are! To an outsider, yes, this is just another building - but to the students of Vernon High School it means much, much more. The friends made here, the achievements won, the disappointments suffered (but wisdom gained), and knowledge acquired here have made VHS a very special building.

It would be hard to forget the crowded halls. . . the hours wasted during study halls . . . the pep sessions. . . the excitement of a close game. . . the bumpy bus rides. . . cramming for tests. . . the discussions in class. . . the mad scramble for the door. . .

And so, here is your book, the 1959 V-ECHO, which we give to you so that you will never forget this past year in good old VHS.

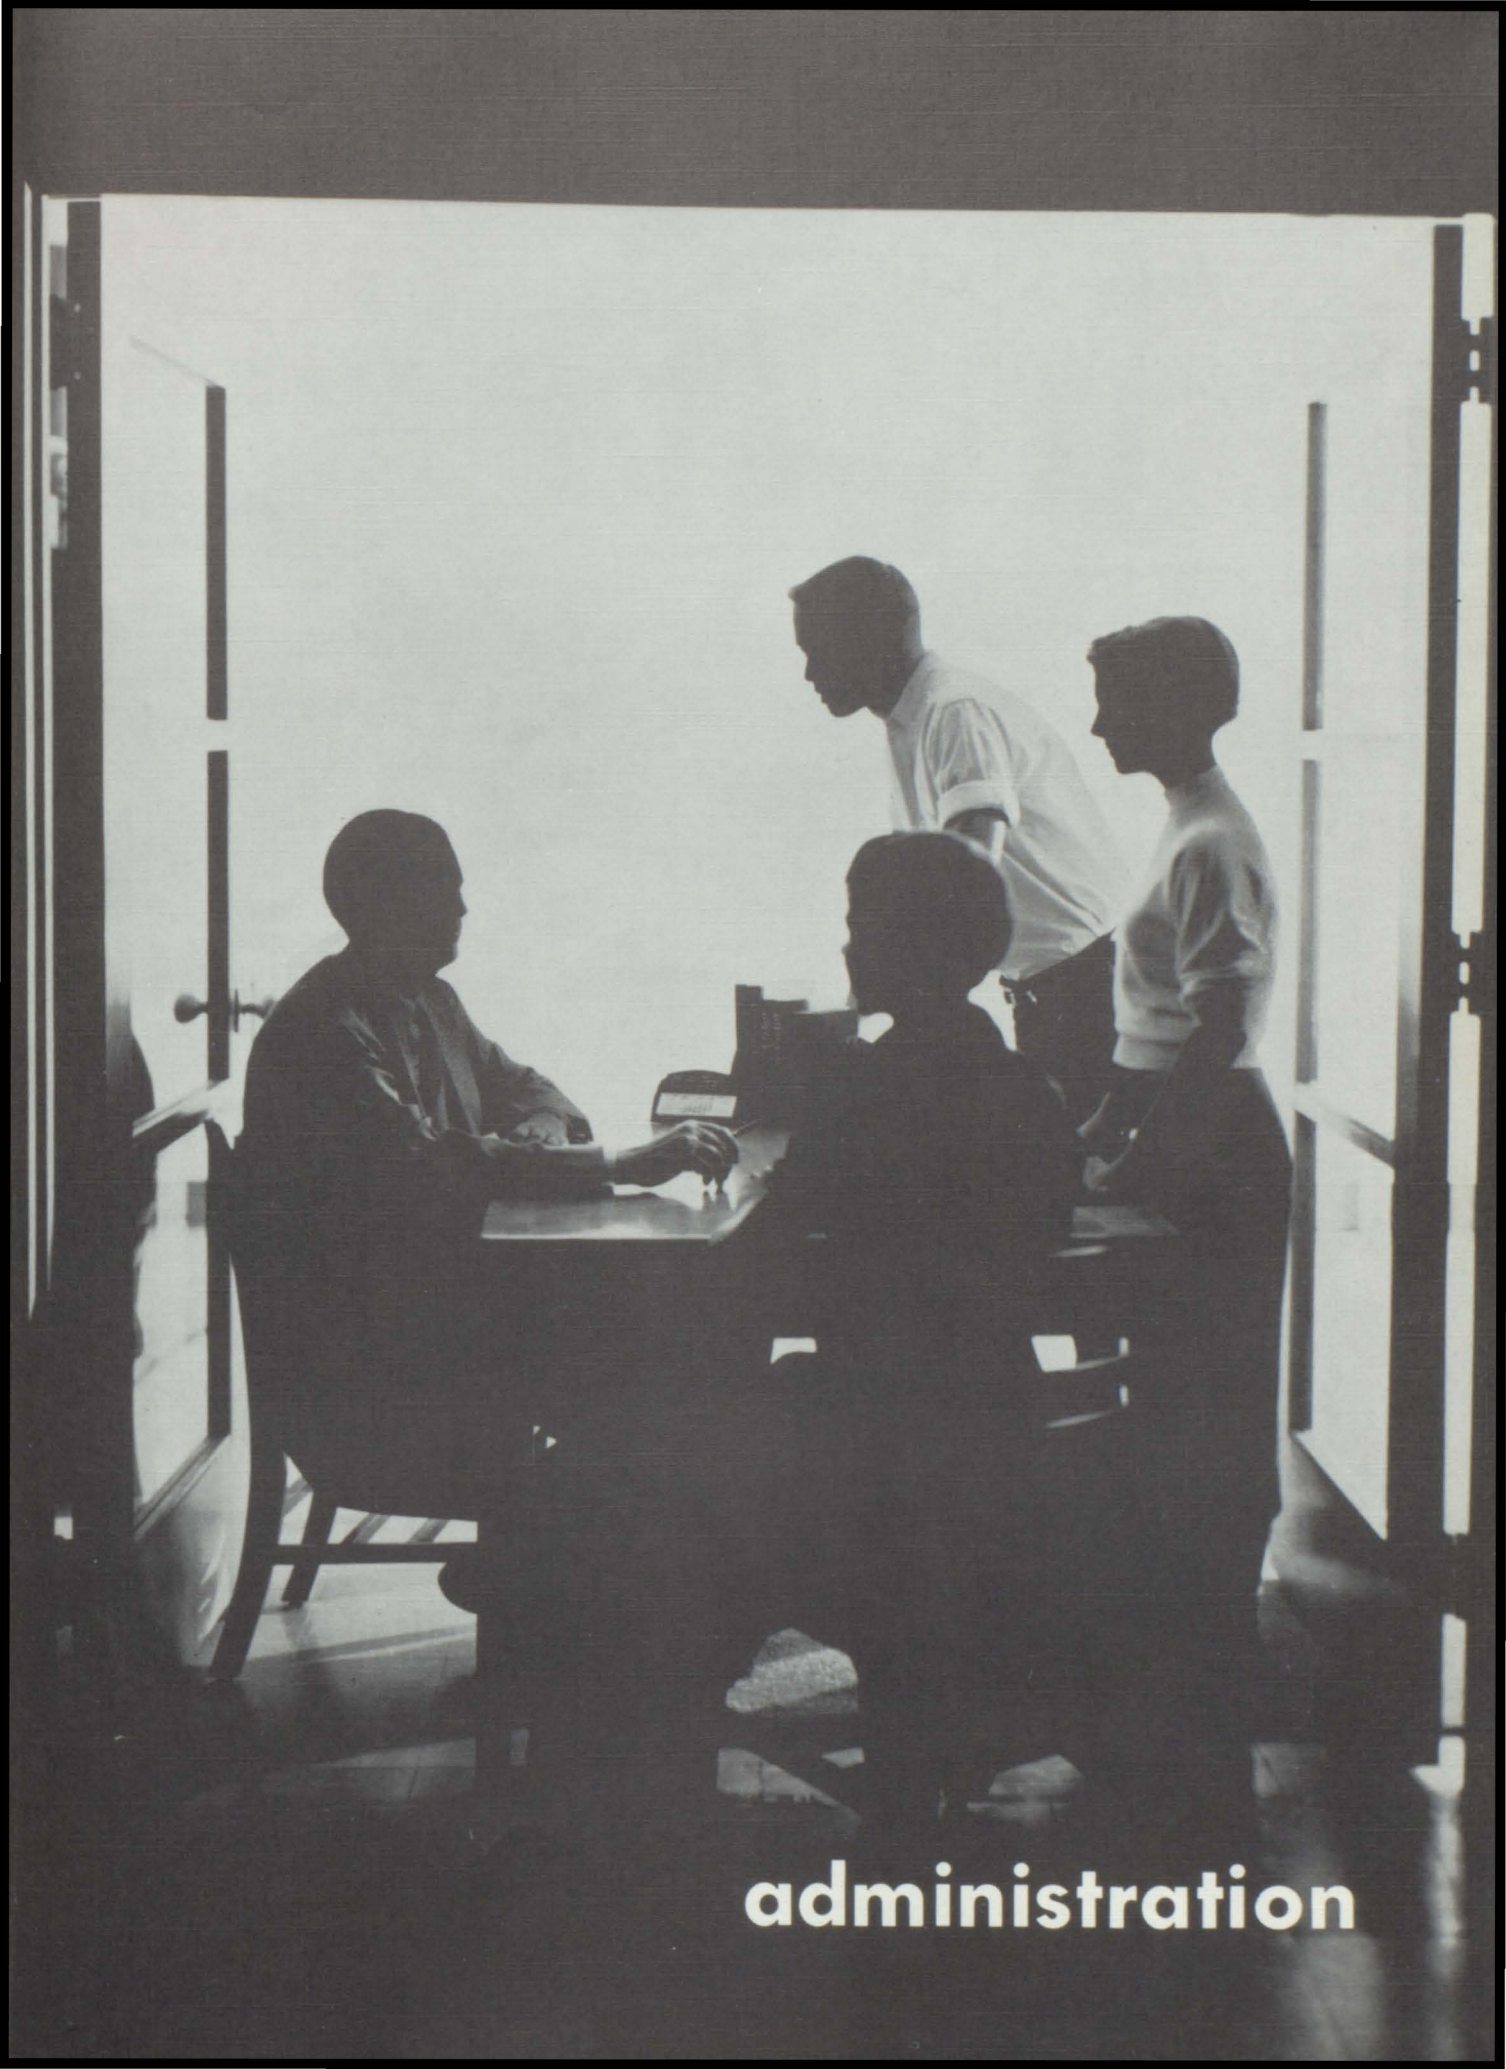

Dedication

Our Parents

Our hearts overflowing with love, gratitude, and admiration, we, the graduating class of 1959, have chosen to honor, in a very special way, those devoted parents upon whom we have depended so completely for guidance and understanding throughout the blossoming years of our lives.

With a spirit of sincere humility intermingled with the joyful pride of achievement, as your sons and daughters our senior class is indeed privileged to dedicate this 1959 V-ECHO to you, Mom and Dad.

Class History

Just twelve years ago in September, 1947, forty-two six year old children entered Mrs. Karr's first grade. Twenty-one of the forty-two still remain with us, and they are Roy Bailes, Larry Bates, Barbara Bloss, Daniel Braden, Paul Burbach, Gordon Collins, Diane Draa, Norman Englebaugh, Betty Griffiths, Frank Hiland, Margaret Hillyer, Dorothy Horodyski, Raymond Jackson, Merle Langley, Joe Mack, Ed Meloni, Roberta Reeves, Tom Tupper, Alan Watson, Jane Wells, and Ronald Wilson. There were so many of us that the very first day we had to be moved into a larger room. After getting settled we began to learn the background for the 3 R's.

In 1948 we were promoted to the second grade where Mrs. Queale was our teacher. The thing that we remember most was the Christmas tree we had that year. It was a branch from a tree, painted silver and decorated with the ornaments that we made. This year Gordon Myers and Howard McMahon joined us.

In 1949 Mrs. Jennings received us into the third grade room. She certainly had a hard time pounding the "time tables" into our thick heads. That was the year that Judy Bush became a member of our class.

The fourth grade was a memorable year, because Mrs. Lucas had the thankless task of teaching us how to write with an ink pen. This grade has the distinction of being that one in which Norman Englebaugh got his name of "Inky", because everytime we used our ink, he got more on himself than on the paper.

Mrs. Hunter taught us in the fifth grade. Here we learned who the musicians of the class were, for she taught us to play the harmonica. In the sixth grade we had Mrs. Seaholm as our teacher. I think the most important event that year was our trip to Pittsburgh to the Planetarium, the museum and the zoo.

We next entered junior high school and what an experience that was! Mr. Furr was our seventh grade advisor and Mr. Whipkey, our eighth grade advisor. These two years were those in which we got into the most trouble. It seemed we were always getting blamed for something. It was in the seventh grade that we acquired another permanent member, Jerry Devine, and then in the eighth grade another, Richard Bloom.

Well, when we finally became "Big" freshmen, we weren't as "big" as we thought we were, and Mr. Watson soon woke us up to that fact. We sponsored our first dance this year and were quite successful.

The next fall all we did was move to the other side of the room and become sophomores with Mr. Watson still our advisor. We had another dance that year and built up our funds in our treasury quite satisfactorily.

When we left the tenth grade and ventured on to next-to-the-last year of school, we didn't think it would go as fast as it did. Mr. Gelsomino was our advisor and with his help we accomplished quite a bit. We put on a play, Miss Mischief, sold autograph books, sold candy in the hall at the noon recess, and had the concessions at the home basketball games. In the spring we received our class rings, had a dance, and entertained the seniors at a very successful Prom at the Mahoning Country Club. In the same year the girls' softball team won two district trophies with Jane Wells and Roberta Reeves from our class helping. John Forsha and Merlyn Smith joined us this year.

And here we are at last in our senior year with graduation approaching. We have Mrs. Glowe as our sponsor who is guiding us along the route of making a yearbook, acquainting us with the many tests for scholarships in the many colleges, preparing for our senior play, getting ready for our senior trip to Washington, D. C., and finally helping us to be ready for the big event - graduation on May 20, 1959.

These past twelve years have been the best years of our lives, even though they were pretty tough at times and without the guidance of our parents and teachers we probably wouldn't have made the grade. We owe them all a great big "Thanks!" and we hope to repay them by becoming conscientious citizens in the future.

Class Prophecy

It is the year of 1979. Let us look in on the Senior Class of 1959. They all look quite different from what they did when we last saw them.

The first one we visit is Roy Bailes, who is the center on the Boston Celtics. He has grown a bit since we last saw him, in fact, he is six feet seven inches tall now and still has his bright red hair. Who is that little man? Of course, it is Larry Bates! We see that he is still driving his old Dodge. It is a miracle that it is still in one piece. He claims he has won the Indianapolis "500" a couple of times.

Oh, we know who this is! It is Richard Bloom and his famous wife, Brigitte Bardot. He is the envy of every man in the United States. Let's visit Barbara Bloss. She is the champion boxer of the world - woman boxer, we mean. She keeps in shape by fighting with her husband, Tom Horodyski. Why, here's Danny Braden. We can't mistake him. He is now very famous for his invention of chairs for kids who sleep in class. Could that thin man be Paul Burbach? Why, yes, it is! He lost his weight while he was a calisthenics instructor in the United States Navy.

Our next visit is to Judy Bush. She is now a model on the "Big Payoff." She models fur coats, no less. If you are wondering how she got the job, Bud is now the M.C. How is Gordon Collins these days? He now weighs 250 lbs. and is owner of Louie's Tavern. We hear that he always donates blood to the Red Cross.

Who are those two men? It must be Jerry Devine and Joe Mack. Shall we see what mischief they have been up to lately? They have sold their invention of a moon rocket to the government and are becoming quite wealthy. Joe said they invented it when they were trying to find something that would outrun Red Davidson's Ford.

Ah, here comes John Forsha, who is now the Speaker of the House, thanks to Mr. Gelsomino's guidance. This beautiful lady approaching is Diane Draa. After she finished her time in the U.S. Air Force (?), she married the owner of the Chunky Chocolates.

Norman Englebaugh has become a horse jockey. He rides in the Kentucky Derby every year. Here comes Betty Lou Griffiths. She is still at the switchboard in Orangeville, but now she own half the company. She is now considered the best news reporter in Orangeville. Margaret Hillyer owns the other half of the company. She now keeps her shade up so she can see Mr. Sakey when he goes past.

Frank Hiland has become quite famous since we last saw him. He is the well known author of a book entitled "Rules for Going Steady," which has won him many awards. Dorothy Horodyski is still as beautiful as ever. She has been Miss America but is now modeling Bikinis at the May Company. Raymond Jackson has never outgrown his way with the girls. All of the women in New York City are chasing him and he like life this way. Merle Langley has followed in his father's footsteps and is known as the best insurance agent in the United States.

Howard McMahon has become a famous rock and roll singer - they claim he is better than Elvis. Edward Meloni has the largest chain of grocery stores in America. He will sell you anything you want, except girls. (Don't get any smart ideas, boys.)

Gordon Myers owns the largest farm this side of the Mississippi, and, to whip the lack of help problem, has bought robots to do the work. He says it is cheaper this way too. Roberta Reeves is now the confidential secretary to the President of the United States. It is said that she is the reason the President is still sane.

Merlyn Smith is now the warden of the Ohio State Penitentiary. They say he gets along with the prisoners very well and is doing a great job. Who are these two men with horn-rimmed glasses? Oh, it's Tom Tupper and Alan Watson. They are professors at Kent State University - following in Mr. Whipkey's footsteps. We hear they are teaching their students two very important subjects: How read library books and sleep in classes. Jane Wells still has her long blonde ponytail, although she now models wigs for Esquire magazine. (The ponytail is not hers.) Ron Wilson has become very rich lately. He owns one of the largest zipper manufacturing companies in the world. He got the idea one day while he was attending good old Vernon High School.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and fifty-nine, being of sound mind (some people wonder) do bequeath the following:

Article I

To Mr. Wasik, we will an automatic paddling machine which will operate with little effort.

To Mrs. Glowe, we will a library of records for her literature classes. (A little rock and roll might help too.)

To Mr. Gelsomino, we bequeath the cost of a marriage license, payable at any time within the next decade.

To Mr. Sakey, we will a 25 pound medicine ball for his future basketball players to help get them in shape.

To Mr. Robbins, we bestow a burglar alarm system for the shop.

To Mrs. McCummins, we will a set of Ford hubcaps with a good looking mechanic to install same.

To Mr. Furr, we leave a cigarette break during each and every class.

To Mrs. Pearce, we bequeath an automatic window adjuster so as to keep the temperature always the same.

Article II

To the Juniors, we will an indestructible pop dispensing machine which will automatically electrocute anyone using pennies instead of dimes.

To the Sophomores, we leave Vernon School in one piece with the stipulation that they keep it that way.

To the Freshmen, we will the homework which we as Seniors never got around to doing.

Article III

Roy Bailes hereby bequeaths his height to Gordon Fenn.
Larry Bates wills a junior boy to take his place with the freshman girls.
Barbara Bloss leaves a warning to all girls to keep away from Tom.
Richard Bloom bequeaths his quiet ways to Tink Wade.
Paul Burbach leaves nothing - he needs everything he has.
Daniel Braden leaves his witty sayings in class to Richard Wells.
Judy Bush wills the book How to Catch a Man to anybody interested.
Betty Griffiths wills her place as counter of noses in the lunch line to anybody under twenty-one years of age, being of sound mind, and with three years of experience.
Norman Englebaugh bequeaths his place in Mr. Wasik's office to Albert Stuart.
Jerry Devine wills his finesse with teachers to Eddie Papsun.
Diane Draa will leave her RDX diet to anyone who can tell her what RDX means.
Gordon Collins wills his car to anybody who doesn't know the way to Sharon - his car knows the way automatically.
Joe Mack bequeaths his Ford to Henry Ford, Jr. for a before and after display. Of course, Joe's is the after part.
Merle Langley wills his ability to stay off the dance floor to Don DePofi. (Who could need it more?)
Raymond Jackson wills his ability to be around when there is trouble to Steve Horodyski.
Dorothy Horodyski leaves her Chevy to anybody going into the junk business.
Margaret Hillyer wills her ability to squeal her tires to John Wolford, who is already proficient in rolling cars.
Frank Hiland leaves his masterpiece Rules for Going Steady to Douglas Rice.
Roberta Reeves bequeaths her charming ways to Joan Reighard.
Gordon Myers leaves his very slightly used books to Duane Wilson.
Howard McMahon was going to leave a pack of cigarettes to someone but decided he better keep them for himself.
Tom Tupper leaves his state test grades as an incentive to the juniors.
Alan Watson wills his shy disposition to Bob Klingensmith - but don't be fooled, Bob!
Jane Wells wills her ponytail to Diane Devine.
Ron Wilson wills his ability to sleep in class to John Hipkins, but remember, John, you must do it with your eyes open.
Signed, sealed, and declared the last will and testament of the Class of 1959 of Vernon High School.

Varsity basketball at Vernon during the 1959 season was not too successful. Lack of experience or lack of spirit, both of which are essential for a good team, caused the team to lose more games than it won. The reserve team, on the other hand, turned in a very impressive record, which points to better days ahead.

Cheerleaders

MARILYN BRAGG JANE WELLS JUDY WHITE

SANDRA COXSON LINDA TUPPER CAROLE LANGLEY

We'll remember them not only for their adept handling of the cheering at the games but also for the clever skits they presented at our pep sessions held on the days of home games.

It is the pleasure of the V-ECHO staff to express appreciation to those of you who have made this annual a success. Without the cooperation of our teachers and parents and without the financial assistance of the merchants and other business persons of our area we could not publish this book as we do. This is your book; we and the students of Vernon High School express our sincere thanks.

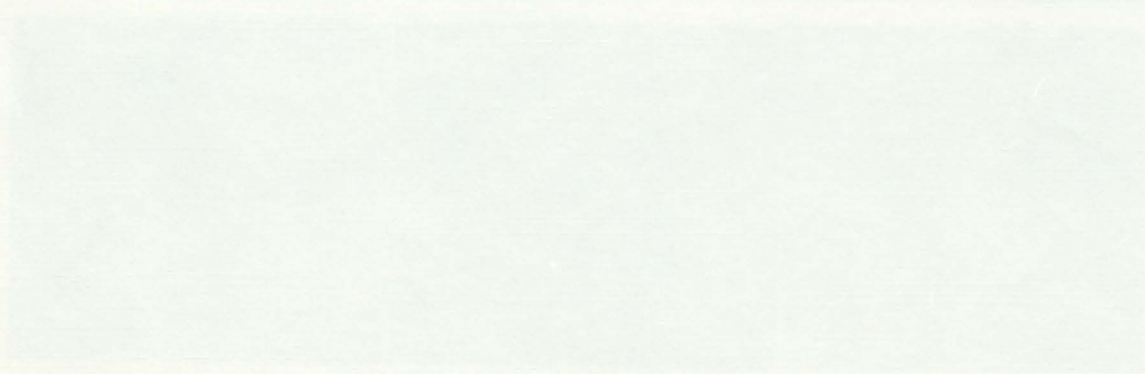

As the Senior Class of '59 leaves to journey down the road of Life, we hope these pages will be treasured as a reminder of their school days in Vernon High School.
