Yearbook Staff

Penny, Heidi, Heather, and Misty working to meet the next deadline.

The Badger Yearbook may not look very thick, but composing a yearbook, no matter how many pages it has, is no simple task. There are layouts to be drawn, pictures to be cropped, captions to be typed, deadlines to be met and an endless amount of decisions to be made; however, the hard work soon pays off when the publisher sends back authentic yearbook pages and the yearbook begins to take shape. A big thanks is in order to those who helped in making this yearbook.

White House again
struck by gunfire

Hi! My name is Gaby, like all the people call me. I'm 18 years old and I'm from Ecuador, a small warm country in South America. I came here because I think being an exchange student will be an experience that you only have once in your life and you will never forget. To know other people of a country is hard but at the same time wonderful. I am never going to forget this experience. It will be unforgettable and will always be in my mind. I want to say thank you to all those people who helped me during this year far away from my home; my host families, friends, teachers, and Jason Morgan for helping me in Government class.

Love,
Gabriela Serrano

Hi, I'm Gabriela Romero from Venezuela. The reason I'm writing this short message is to thank all the people; teachers, and students who were at my side during the school year, which has been one of the most difficult for me. With their companionship, they made it wonderful and more meaningful for me. I especially want to thank Mr. Harris and Mr. Dobosh for all their attentiveness, thanks to Kevin Setterberg and Jason Morgan, my two tutors, and thanks to my family the Benetts for being such nice people.

Much love for everybody, I won't ever forget you, and you all will be welcome in Venezuelia always.

Your Friend,

GABY

SENIORS

CLASS OF 1995

Late night phone calls. Whispered secrets. Hours of fun spent together. Endless laughs. A shoulder to cry on. Just being together. What do all of the above have in common? All are memories that we've made with our best friends.

Soon we will go our separate ways, but the memories we've made will always be with us. The four long years of high school will eventually come to an end but the friendships we've made will last forever.

Senior Class Officers

President:
Lisa Alfonsi

Vice-President:
Ryan Kalas

Treasurer:
Kim Siekkinen

Secretary:
Travis Hoffman

Through the past twelve years we have all experienced changes in our lives, some more drastic than others — from coping with the loss of a loved one to having problems that at one time seemed so tragic that it felt things would never get better. But, somehow our friendships to each other seemed to overpower these troubled times.

Now it is the time in our lives when we must go our separate ways. I know it may be one of the most difficult changes we have to face in our lives, but the memories of our friendships at B.H.S. will always keep us close at heart.

Best wishes to the class of '95 and God bless.

Seniors — Membership has its privileges

Thirteen years. Thirteen long years to get out of high school. Senior year hits and we wonder where all 2,340 days have gone.

"All we really needed to know, we learned in Kindergarten." Life was good when all we had to worry about was learning the Letter People and staying in the lines. After an enriching show-and-tell session, a nap was in order. Cookies and milk were definitely needed to revive our senses after our little snooze on the colorful mats. Sometimes cookies and milk were not enough to satisfy, so some little kid had to dig into the paste.

As we progressed to elementary school, the paste was replaced with Elmer's School Glue and naps were replaced with recess. The "Stop, Drop, And Roll" technique was emphasized in case of fire. These survival techniques and many others were helpful during sixth grade camp.

New building for some. New school for others. Middle School was quite an adjustment. All of a sudden, we had lockers and a different teacher for each subject. Talk about culture shock! Going to Washington D.C. as seventh graders and to Toronto in eighth grade was exciting. Suddenly, we were trusted in foreign cities without our parents!

Something happened that summer between eighth grade and freshman year. No one really knows what exactly, but our bet is that it had something to do with hormones. The girls do not notice the change in the guys because they are too busy worshipping the demigods in the senior class. The boys, on the other hand, noticed anything female that happened to turn them down. That is, until they got a car! Stay off the sidewalk! New drivers dominate the parking lot.

Those same cars got people into trouble when we would drive around Kinsman, Gustavus, Orangeville, and Hartford with no particular place to go. They also proved to be useful as transportation to dances and parties rather than being dropped off by our parents like those deprived underclassmen.

Bang. Summer rolls by and we're starting senior year and all the fun that goes with it. Filling out job and college applications can become quite a task, especially while trying to enjoy ourselves at the same time. After the first day, everything went by so quickly, that it's a blur. With the countdown beginning with the new year, graduation doesn't seem so far away.

With the final toss of our caps, the new phases in our lives begin. We've waited so long for this moment, but we're almost sad to see it go. We wonder what will happen to each and every one of us, but we'll have to wait another ten years to find out.

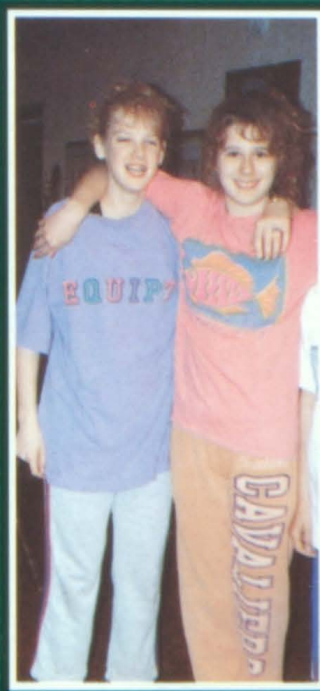

GOOD LUCK TO THE CLASS OF "1995"

Ryan Hegedus
"Hugga"
Captain

The players and the coaches should feel pretty good about what happened in our program this year. We are the only team in Badger's history to have a winning record. During this past summer we had the chance to go to a team camp and learn more about the game and how to play better, not only as individuals, but also as a team. (Not to mention the fact that Hugga and I both got trophies for being the most exceptional players that the coaches had ever seen before.) But on a serious note, this helped us to learn more about our own strong points and our weaknesses. Camp also helped us to develop confidence in ourselves. When the season began this year we felt that we could overcome anyone. Next year the soccer program will be losing twelve seniors. I only hope that they can rebuild themselves and follow in our footsteps.

Badger Baseball

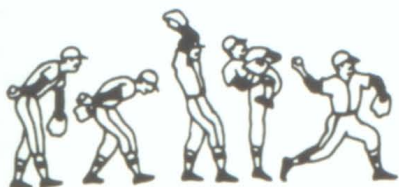

What is Badger Baseball? Badger Baseball to me means hard work and dedication. To be a Braves player you need a combination of skill, talent, and hustle, and these past years I believe we as a team have accomplished all of these necessities.

As a player and a representative of the team, I would like to thank all of our supporters and fans. A special thank goes to all of the people and small businesses who helped support us financially this past season.

Keith Stanney

Softball Team

Although at times the season was a little rocky, we pulled together as a team and with an 11-9 record became sectional champions. We accomplished this under the special leadership of our only senior, Chris Davis. We all have come to know and love Chris and we would like to thank her for all the wonderful times. We would also like to thank Coach Bill Bell, and his father Bill Bell, Sr. Although we didn't know it at the time, last year was Coach Bell's last season with us, and we owe him and his father a lot of appreciation and thanks. We have learned a lot and benefitted greatly from their experience and knowledge. Thanks again everyone for a terrific season.

ECOLOGY TEAM

Well, this was it, our last chance to prove that we truly are one of the elite — that is, when you're talking Ecology. Most of us have been competing since 6th grade and believe me, there have been plenty of humorous memories. We started our winning streak in April with the meet at Joseph Badger Meadows. Then came the area meet in which 88 teams competed. We placed 2nd at this meet. Next destination was the state meet at Malabar Farms. This was the meet that we were really worried about. Only the first place team goes on to Nationals. Boy, were we nervous, especially after the competition was over and waiting for the results to be tallied. Our parents were about ready to kill us because we wouldn't shut up. We won. . .barely! We left in August for 5 fun days at the University of North Carolina at Ashville. We got to do many different and interesting things there. We hiked up Mt. Mitchell and even went white-water rafting. Earning 10th place overall was well worth the studying and hard work. Over the past 5 years we have all gotten into numerous fights, had tons of laughs and lots of fun while still learning a lot. The 1994-1995 team will find it a challenge to fill the shoes of Tom, Sam, Jess and Jen. Thanks for the memories!

Care

BTC is a club consisting of concerned teenagers who deal with everyday problems, such as: drinking, drug abuse, violence and other issues. We passed out Red Ribbons for Drug Awareness Week, we made posters, and put up bulletins in our neighborhood about domestic violence. Five of our club members went to receive basic training on peer mediation, which is helping to solve conflicts between two or more people.

LATIN CLUB

Between our service project of cleaning out the baseball bleachers and our several parties, the fall semester was a success for Latin Club. In the spring, we look forward to our annual softball tournament, the Ides of March, and especially Lupercalia. I would like to thank Mr. Patterson for being our advisor on behalf of the whole club. From the seniors, I'd like to say thank you for putting up with us for four years; we know it wasn't always easy, to be sure.

ACADEMIC TEAM

The 1994-95 Badger Academic Team began the year by winning the South Range Invitational Tournament. After coming in second for two straight years there, they defeated Canfield in the finals to take first-place laurels.

The Trumbull County Prep Bowl was next. After two straight first place wins in '92 and '93, last year had been a disappointing finish. They were ready to avenge their reputations, but came up a little bit short when they finished third to long-time rivals Liberty and Howland.

The team has a couple more competitions before the state tournament, which they qualified for with their win at South Range. They will also be appearing on WEWS-Channel 5's "Academic Challenge."

Three seniors will be departing this year after long-running careers as teammates. Kevin Bresnahan, Travis Hoffman, and Ryan Kalas have been on first-place Trumbull Prep Bowl teams in four out of their seven years together since sixth grade. The torch will be passed on to Seth Kretser, Shawn "Bucky" Kephart, and others. Mr. Mitchell, to be sure, will remain the dauntless mentor.

Painting the Town on Prom Night

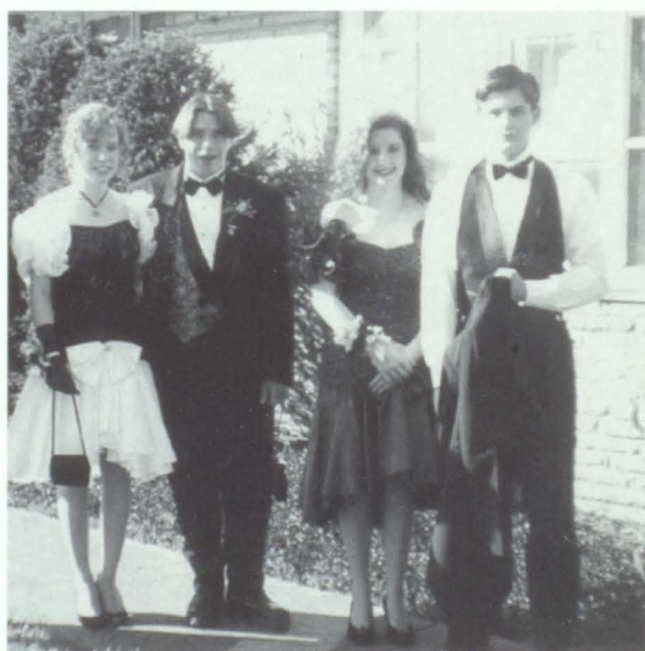

As the couples entered the prom, one thought raced through their brains: "Everyone is looking at me!" He panicked, "Is my fly down?" She freaked, "Is my garter showing?" It never occurred to these two that people were actually admiring them until the kind chaperone at the door smiled and said, "Wow! You look spectacular."

Often students are so preoccupied with the way they hope to look at prom, that they forget just how much hard work goes into planning a successful prom. The Junior class actually began fund-raising their freshman year and raised so much money that they were able to give the seniors an amazing prom at DiViestie's Banquet Hall. Prom goers agreed that the class of '95 did an extraordinary job!

One of the highlights of the prom is the announcing of the "Royal Court." In 1994 Shannon Kumher was chosen as Prom Queen and John Crosby as the King. The Court led in dancing to the theme song "Amazing", by Aerosmith.

Commencement Aides are juniors chosen by the graduating seniors to help with the graduation ceremony. Some duties of the commencement aides were to pass out programs at the door, seat parents, relatives, and friends, pass out flowers to the administration, and help the seniors get ready for the ceremony. The commencement aides were a very important part of the graduation ceremony.

GRADUATION 1994

Seniors pacing in caps and gowns. The band tuning for "Pomp and Circumstance." Parents with their cameras at the ready. The valedictorian practicing her speech. All of these actions point toward one event-GRADUATION!

Commencement is the moment that we all await. The seniors have been dreaming of this short ceremony all year. Senior year passes by so quickly that it all seems like a blur. From decorating for Homecoming to senior skip day, all of the year's exciting and sad moments suddenly rush through everyone's minds as the class ascends the stairs to the stage. The class sits together, listening to their classmates' speeches: first a welcome by Thomas Goodhart, a welcome by Michael Baird, a valedictorian speech by Stacey Kohlmorgan, salutatorian speeches by Greta Betts and Jessica Mistak, a reading of Dr. Seuss by Aimee Paroz, a farewell speech by class president Kevin Stanney, and finally the closing remarks of Chris Davis. During this time, students anxiously awaited their diplomas, while doing some reflecting of their own high school experiences. Finally the moment of truth comes and as soon as that diploma is pressed into the hands of each graduate, we realize that graduation is not only the end of an era, but also marks the beginning of a new segment of life, full of more excitement and opportunities.
