Today was real nice weather wise until late afternoon. It was clear until about 10 A.M. & then became mostly cloudy until around 4 P.M. when it clouded up heavily. Then for a half hour or a bit over we had strong winds, thunder & lightening and a hard rain. We had winds around 50 MPH. Then about 6 P.M. it stopped raining & blowing but remained mostly overcast. Temperatures today were low 73° high 93°. This morning Leo Galloway picked me up at 8 A.M. & we headed northwest. Our first main stop was at Honey Creek Wildlife Area. At just one small area there we saw 16 species. From there we went on up to the Squaw Creek National Wildlife Refuge. We found it locked up again today. We found out that the reason for this was that during the storm this past Friday night they had a storm worse by far than the one we had in St. Joseph. About all of the dike roads in the area were blocked by felled trees & big limbs by terrific winds. They are hoping to get them cleaned up this week. We then drove over several roads between Squaw Creek and Big Lake. We then headed home arriving there shortly after noon.

Today was cloudy and rainy all day. Temperatures were low ~~61°~~ 61° high ~~80°~~ 75°. We had bad thunder storm last night. From around 9 P.M. to about midnight we had almost constant thunder + lightning with lots of rain. This this morning we had another strong heavy rain around 5 A.M. to 7 A.M. I showed a total of about 3 inches of rain in my rain gauge. It has rained lightly all day today. Now near 9 P.M. we are still getting a light rain. We have more rain now for the ~~the~~ month of August through the 14th than our normal average is for the entire month. My brother Norman was up this morning for near two hours. He had a large photo album full of snap shots and wanted me to take any of them that I wanted.

Today has been a rainy on again, off again day. We had a pretty good rain this morning around 5 to 6 a.m. and then again late afternoon around 4 to 4:30 p.m. It has been cloudy about all day. This morning David Mead picked me up here at home at 6:30 a.m. and we drove up to the Squaw Creek National Wildlife Refuge. The roads were pretty muddy. We had to get out and we locked the last gate on our way out. We came on home from there via the River Road & past the Honey Creek Wildlife Area. We got back to my house at 12 noon. I stayed home the rest of the day. David Mead is a young fellow 26 years of age who is working at the St Joseph Museum. He wants to learn more about the birds and asked me to go with him today to learn to identify many of the birds. Temperatures today were low 59° high 84°.

Today was clear most of the day and rather nice. The temperatures were low high. I worked outside most of the day. I worked until noon to finish up the sawing of the walnut tree that the wind of about two weeks ago wrecked. This afternoon I spent the entire afternoon & early evening cleaning up the yard of all the little twigs that had blown out of our many trees. I got the two ^{mower} mowers operating & kept Chad busy on the riding ^{mower} and Marlette and Lois kept busy with the push ^{mower} mowers.

Today was cloudy all day but luckily no rain. Bill Bennett, Outdoor Editor for the St Joseph Newspaper picked me up at 9 a.m. We met Jack Hilsabeck at Savannah and the three of us then went to the farm of James Kempa. The farm is just about two & a half miles north of Amazonia. Mr. Jack had seen a white, possibly an albino Killdeer there just a few days ago. We covered the proper areas good and saw about 10 Killdeer but none all white. It was nice to visit a few hours with Bill and Jack. I was back home at 12 noon. Temperatures today were low 60° high 76°. The forecast is for more thunder storms tonight.

Today was mostly clear & cool. Real nice. Temperatures were low 53° high 70°. This morning Lois had to work so I ~~drove~~^{rode} down town with her & then took her car and drove down around Lake Contrary and then back to Browning Lake at the Airport & on home. The last couple of days I have seen quite a few Monarch Butterflies flying south. There should be a lot of birds moving through now. No doubt I am missing many shore birds because I can find no mud flats.

Every thing was staying under cover. Right now at 10:15 P.M. the temperature here at home is 40°. I wrote to Mark Robbins again today. I was so happy with my birding over the past three days I wanted to tell some one about it and Mark is my best birding friend.

This morning I took a quick drive to Lake Contrary and, to the St Joseph Airport. This afternoon I went with Larry and Ragan to the Sherwood Medical Co at the Airport. ~~at~~ That is where Larry works. It was real interesting. They were having open house and giving tours of the plant. There are near 500 employees at the plant. Larry is about 25 from the top in years with the St Joseph Plant.
