Grant Thornburgh,

Purchasing Agent and Traffic Manager.

Lincoln, Neb. April 14th, 1914.

Mr. Harry L. George,

St. Joseph, Mo.,

Dear sir:-

Replying to your favor of the 13th in reference to the pictograph robe.

As per your request I am sending this robe to you by Wells Fargo express and trust that same meets with your approval. I think you will agree that this painting is done excellent, the horses having the long slender necks that is a characteristic in Indian painting, the Buffalo are also well proportioned and I consider the whole painting a piece of art. The party from whom I secured this pictograph told me that the indian from whom he got it brought it to him and had it wrapped up very carefully and carried it very carefully and he had to dicker and talk with him a long time before being able to secure it. The indians name was Hump and is his own painting or work, it represents a hunt the he was in himself at which time he was gored in the back, which caused him to change his name from Plenty Meat to Hump, as indians do on occasions where some thing unusual happens.

I trust you will change your mind in reference to some of the other articles which I sent you but which have not been returned yet, I believe you should use the hide scrapper and quirt at the prices I offer them at.

Yours very truly

Grant Thornburgh
