Mr. Harry L. George.,
 St. Joseph, Mo.,

Friend George:-

Under separate cover we are sending you to-day photos (10) of lots of Curios. Photo #53-54-55-56-57-58-61-and 62 are all of goods of which we have not submitted you photos to you before, all of these are old tools, or ornaments, some of them are broken, while others are in good condition. All except those in photo 54 and 58 are Eskimo and Aleut stuff., this however does not include photo #55 which is Thlinget.

These are the odds and ends, small pieces, that have accumulated during the time we have made your collection, and as you will note by the price on the back of each photo that I have put an extremely low price on each set to facilitate cleaning them up. Think that you could use these to better advantage than anyone else. If you take these lots will give you all of the data that I can with reference to the articles in each photo.

The two pieces in photo #58 are goods that we have gotten in recently. The dancing Girdle is of light color and trimmed with Deer toes, similar to one that we submitted you photo of before which you concluded that you did not want, think that the Gambling device is very similar to the one that you have already purchased.

Photos #59 and 60 are of an Old Russian Coffee Samovar, the only one of its kind I have ~~ever~~ seen. Made of Brass, the Ivory Handle screws on locking the two drums together. Is a nicely made piece of work. A harmless looking concern but one that has been used by the Natives for distilling hootch.

Photo #59 shows the Samovar taken part showing the different compartments. Photo #60 shows the Samovar in condition when being used as a Still, with the spout hanging down from which they catch the drip.

Thanking you for past favors and trusting to hear from you in the near future, wishing you and yours the very best of health, happiness and prosperity., we remain.,

Very Respectfully Yours,

P.S:-

Think you are laboring under a misapprehension when you were speaking of our being frozen up during the winter as far as Transportation is concerned, on the contrary our service is just as regular now and later as in the summer.
