Today was was a beautiful day It was clear, cool & very nice! The temperatures were low 36° high 57° at 8:00 AM Pearl & I drove to Ashland Cemetery where we took a one mile walk but it was birding. We walked slow & stopped quite often to look at birds. We then came home & had Lois take us one mile out on the b/v d. where we took our one mile walk in 21 minutes
I stayed in the rest of the day mostly watching television.

Today was clear + nice. The temperatures were low 31° high 65° . Today we started a $1\frac{1}{2}$ mile walk. We rode that far down the bvd, with this on the way to work. Then Pearl + I drove down town to pay some bills. We got them paid we drove to Lake Contrary. Leo Galloway saw a Common Loon there yesterday. We then got back home just in time to pick Chad up at school. He is in Kindergarten now. As of October 28th we had 1.93 inches of rain for the month. This year to date we had 21.43 inches to date. As of this date we were -11.48 inches below normal.

Today was clear & cool. The temperatures were low 19° high 48°. At 7 a.m. Dave Freeman called me from the airport & said that his brother who had work there during the night told him that a Snowy Owl had been along one of the runways all night. I drove over right away and sure enough I saw it. I called Leo Galloway from the airport and he came over right away and he got to see it

It was a new state bird for him. I then came home and I called John Hamilton & told him about the Owl, Pearl and I then took a one mile walk on the boulevard. It took us 20 minutes. We cut it to one mile because we then went to Ashland Cemetery & took a one mile walk there. We then drove out east of town as far as Easton, Mo. & then on back to St. Joe. We then drove up through the river bottoms to Amazonia, Mo. We got home at 12:15 P.M. Nannette Johnson from Kansas City called me about 1:30 P.M. & told me that they had on Black Scoter and four Surf Scoters on Lake Jacomo. I called Leo Galloway again to tell him about the ducks. I also mentioned the Longspurs. He did go out and found the Longspurs which was also a new state bird for him. That made 2 new birds today for him. The Snowy Owl and Lapland Longspurs.

Today was clear and nice. The temperatures were low 37° high 54°, Pearl + I got up this morn. at 5:15 A.M. we ate our breakfast and then we left home at 6:35 and headed for Perry Lake in Kansas. We arrived there at 8 A.M. I was really disappointed at the lack of water birds there. If you took away the Mallards, Mergansers and Gulls there would have been practically nothing else there. Of course the big thrill was the Jaegers. They were there two weeks ago but I didn't dream that they would still be there. One of them I saw very well and quite often for about an hour. The other one I saw only twice. When I did see it these two were together and they looked much alike. Some one said that one was lighter than the other. When I saw the two together they were quite a way off. This is the first time I have missed my morning walk since I first began on October 20, 1976,

Today was clear and cool all day. The temperatures were low 28° high 43°. We took our two mile walk this morning on the bvd. 8:03 a.m. to 8:42 a.m. in 39 minutes.

After our walk we went to Ashland Cemetery & walked through there which is one mile. We then stayed home the rest of the day. This afternoon about 4 p.m. it clouded up real dark and for a few minutes it snowed about as hard with big flakes as I have ever seen it snow before.

Today was clear and cool all day. The temperatures were low 21° high 38° . My bird listing of only two species today is due to my going to work today. I went to work at 7 A.M. so it was fairly dark when I went to work and I worked until 4 P.M. I didn't ~~see~~ see a single bird until I went out to my car at 4 P.M. when I saw the Starlings and I had House Sparrows at home when I got home about 4:5 P.M. Because of going to work at 7 A.M. and being busy all day I did not take my walk today.

After breakfast Pearl and I left home at 7 am. and headed for Pleasant Hill, Mo. Pearl had a wreath for her Mom + Dad's grave. We arrived at the Cemetery at 8:45.

After leaving there we drove to Lake Jacomo. Was very happy to see the Crossbills. We stopped at the Burroughs Club Library for awhile as it is at Lake Jacomo. Esther O'Connor was taking care of it. After leaving there we drove by the Trimble Wildlife Area. The water area was very low and almost all frozen over. We got home at 3:15 P.M. We will now get ready for our Christmas bird count which we will take tomorrow.

Today was clear and cold. The temperatures were low 15° high 13° . Because of Christmas falling on Saturday this year we are observing a three day holiday. It will be tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday. In the 46 years that I have worked for the company this is the first three day holiday I have had unless in a case of where the holiday occurred on Monday and I happened to get Saturday off.
