

My last entry in my last book was made on Tuesday, June 29, 1962. In that evening I had a Heart Attack here at home at about 8 P.M. and was taken by ambulance to the St. Joseph's Hospital. I spent four weeks there from June 29th to July 28th on Saturday noon when the ambulance brought me home. I spent almost all of my time at the hospital in room 514 on the 5th floor. I was high enough that all I could see was the sky so I couldn't see enough birds to warrant me keeping a list of light. Every day I would see Chimney Swifts and Rock Hovers. Most every evening I would see a night hawk or so. Occasionally I would see a sparrow or a flock of birds late of an evening that could have been Starlings and Grackles or possibly a few Red-wings flying over. On two different days I saw a Red-headed woodpecker. Most of my thoughts while in the hospital were of course toward getting well and getting home but my birding was almost constantly on my mind. In my day dreaming I travelled thousands of miles and walked many miles doing my birding. Surprisingly most of it ~~was~~ was in Kopp Park, around Lake Canterbury and along the ~~Metrolink~~ Easton Road.

Today for the first time I had permission to get out of bed & roam about the house a bit. I am very weak though.

Today Simon Rositzky and R. A. Brown stopped by to see me on their way to Squaw Creek. It sure made me feel bad not to be able to accompany them. The Doctor was out to see me last night and told me I couldn't even go out of the house for 2 weeks yet.

Monday. August 13, 1962

R & A. Brown called me this morning to tell me that they saw a Sandhill Crane yesterday at Squaw Creek. Three other species they saw yesterday that I don't have on my 1962 list were Little Blue Heron, Solitary Sandpiper and Cliff Swallow

Spent all of that time sitting down in the shade. It is my first time outside since June 29th, except for coming home from the hospital in ambulance. Temperature this morning was 56°. In the 45 minutes that I sat outside this evening I would estimate that I saw 1000+ birds flying over. In rate of abundance I would say that they rated about 400+ Starlings, 400+ Grackles, 100+ Robins, 400+ Redwings. Each specie seemed to have its own particular route to fly. |

I believe that 25,000 birds would be a conservative estimate of the birds that I watched last night flying in a southerly direction from ~~the~~ east to Southwest in one hour from 6 P.M. until 7 P.M. I would say that Grackles predominated with Starlings a close second Redwings a close third for about 8 to 90% of the birds. Apparently most of them fly south and then west to roost in a large thicket of willows along the Missouri River. I don't get up early enough to see them in the morning, but my father in law says that early in the morning they fly back north.

 Birded at Sg. Cr. with Simon Rositzky, Bob Brown, Harold Burgess and another young fellow who was a friend of Si's. Counting near an hour to drive up and an hour to drive back it left us only about 3 hours to do our birding so no doubt we missed several species. Burgess had seen both Willet and Ruddy Turnstone during the A.M. I was most happy to list the Knot. It is a new addition to my life list and new on the refuge list. I think we saw at least 2000 shore birds but didn't have time to study them carefully. We saw probably 500 to 1000 ducks but most were in eclipse plumage and many far enough away to make identification impossible. Most no doubt were Blue-winged Teal. Clear. Temp. about 70° to 78°. Sun was extremely warm.

I went to the doctor this afternoon. He was very pleased the way I am recovering. He suggested that starting this next Monday I get back to work for just about an hour a day just to start getting used to it. He told me that if I continue on the way I am, follow his instructions and take care of myself that although I had a bad "heart attack" I would make full recovery.

The two young Mourning Doves that were hatched in a nest in our pine tree last Sunday were found, beneath the tree dead this morning. They were very nearly half grown. I think they were either dislodged from the tree & nest by other birds or else they may possibly have fallen from the tree. The nest also was on the ground. It was very flimsy even for a Mourning Doves nest.

This afternoon Pearl, Larry and I took about a two hour drive around Lake Conroy and Mud Lake. Except for going to Kong Park a couple of times this was my first time out on my own, under my own power. It felt pretty good.

Mostly cloudy, damp & chilly all day. Temp. in mid 60's
 Pearl & I birded 8:45 a.m. till 10:45 a.m. at K.P. and Ashland Cemetery. Simon Rositzky and Bob Brown then picked me up at 11:15 P.M. & we headed for Squaw Creek. The gates were all locked because of hunting season coming on Oct 8th. so we had to bird around the edges. We went to Big Lake but left for many swallows there wasn't much else there. We got back home at 6:30 P.M.

This AM Pearl & I started at 8 o'clock with a nice walk in Kong Park. Then we drove through Ashland Cemetery, then over to the airport and then came home at noon for lunch. We left for Alices (Pearl's sister) at 1:30 PM. & came home about 9 PM. It was cloudy & cool this morning in the Park but clear & rather warm this afternoon. Birds were very active this morning at the Park. In almost every tree we looked at, there were either warblers, kinglets, chickadees or woodpeckers. The Myrtle warblers were thick everywhere.

Today, Donald Gillespie, another bird enthusiast from Lamoni, Iowa called me from here in town. He and I have corresponded before. He happened to be in town & just called to say "Hello." Lamoni Iowa is just a few miles across the Iowa-Missouri line on Highway 69. He said that he had Bobolinks nesting there this summer.

We (Stuppy Floral Co) are moving our wholesale from 720 South 6th St. which is only seven blocks from the heart of Blount town St Joe to our Greenhouse location which is out in the northeastern part of town so therefore there will not be many birds listed after today as down town. Our new location is only two miles or 6 to 8 minutes drive from my home.

Pearl & I took our morning walk in Krug Park about 8:30 AM to 10 AM. Then drove through Ashland Cemetery. We spent the afternoon and evening at Ralph & Alice Jacksons. Pearl & I probably walked at least 5 miles today. The day started off nice but late this afternoon it was windy & getting much colder. The large concentration of Robins were all flying in to a north easterly direction in the a strong north wind from about 4 PM to 5:30 PM. From the size of the flock and the continuous way they flew it was more like blackbirds. Of the Bluebirds we saw 18 in one group near Amazonia. In a weed patch near Amazonia I flushed at least 50 sparrows but because of the dense brush most of them escaped recognition. Pearl saw one Harris's Sparrow.

Today, Larry, and a friend of his, Reed, and I went to the bluffs. Reed is a police officer. We were target practicing along the Mississippi river bluffs. At one place where the boys had dug some dirt away from the bank they saw the dist. start moving and they say they heard a hissing sound. Knowing that Rattlesnakes are found there during the summer they thought maybe it was a snake so they both started firing their rifles into the area. Then on digging it out they found out that it was a bat that had been hibernating there. I would like to know what kind it was but they said that it was shot up to bad to bring home.

Pearl + I took our Sunday morning walk in Krug Park + then drove through the Ashland Cemetery. We spent the afternoon at Alice. It was mostly cloudy windy + cold all day today and yesterday. The wind with gusts up to 40 + 50 m.p.h. yesterday and today with the temperature near 20° probably accounted for the scarcity of birds.

Bear, her Dad and I drove down around Lake Contrary then along boulevard from Hyde Park to east end, then stopped at Ashland Cemetery. 1 P.M. to 4 P.M. My greatest surprise of all was the Solitary Vireo seen at close range in good light with my 10X binoculars. There was no doubt what ever or I would not have listed it. It was with G.C. Kinglets in a stand of evergreen trees.
