

Indian Burial Pit, SALINA, KANSAS

INDIAN BURIAL PIT
SALINA, KANSAS

M 4

INDIAN BURIAL PIT

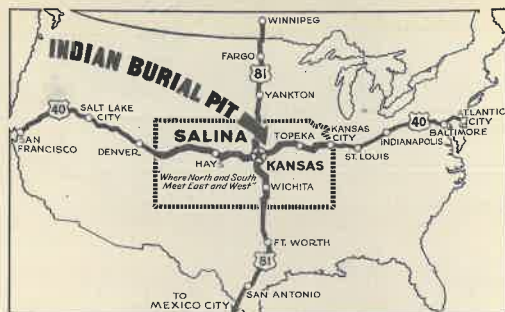

SALINA, KANSAS

M-2

The Hunchback

In the Heart of the Nation

NEAR SALINA, KANSAS

Located some four miles east of Salina just off of Highway US 40, the Indian Burial Pit is one of the most important archaeological discoveries in the middle west. Since its discovery in 1936 the Burial Pit has been visited by thousands of interested visitors. Prominent names from every state in the Union and several foreign countries are represented on its guest books.

When visiting, or traveling, in the middle west it should be a "Must See" on your list. Open daily from 8 A. M. to 6 P. M. or by appointment for groups. Special rates to school children.

INDIAN BURIAL PIT
AT PRICE BROTHERS' FARM
Salina, Kansas

Outstanding Archaeological Discovery of the Plains Country

Not extremely large, the Indian Burial Pit near Salina nevertheless contains the skeleton remains of 146 Indians. Uncovered and left just exactly as they were placed there many centuries ago, they present an interesting sight. That so many skeletons are found in a pit of this size is due to the fact that they were placed there in layers, and in a flexed position, knees drawn up and hands resting close to their faces. Some of the skeletons are quite large, measuring well over six feet in height, others are of small children.

Artifacts such as pottery, ceremonial flint knives, necklaces made of clam shells, clam shell pendants, grinding stones, etc. may also be seen throughout the pit.

Above, one of the many large groups to visit the Burial Pit. At left, views of the Pit itself. In circle, a clam

