at Krug Park

Weather today was terrible and I was lucky to see even

the 32 species

I left home at 7:30am

and got back about

10am. It rained on

me the whole time

and the visibility

was very poor.

It was pretty

foggy at times

Went up to Squaw Creek with Roy E. Coy where we met Simon Rositzky and Dr. Saver. Our bird watching was confined to looking from the cars as we drove around the refuge. With the exception of several hundred White Pelicans the Ducks and shore birds were very scarce. Saw my first Rattlesnake but it was dead. We were gone from home 12:30 P.M. to 5:30 P.M. The skies were clear and the weather was pretty warm, about 85° to 90°. Ground was pretty dry but lots of water at the refuge.

was surprised to see so many birds at Krug Park today after seeing so few this past Thursday. It may be because my trip today was in the A.M. and Thursday was P.M. & warm. This A.M. Kenneth Hawman saw some warblers that we did not identify. I was surprised to see the Grosbeaks, House Wren, Kinglet, Field Sparrow and warblers. We still didn't cover all of the territory that we generally cover. It was hot for this late in the ^{season}.

For some reason or other birds seemed to be very scarce today, especially at Krog Park. The weather was unusually warm & windy. Saw a couple warblers but was unable to identify them.

Bert, Viola, Pearl, Larry and I. We went to fish but the fishing was no good. I could probably have seen a few more birds at the Refuge but we just drove through there. I saw a few more that I did not recognize. My only new bird was the Duck Hawk. It was windy & overcast most of the time we were gone. We drove over 100 miles.

Hope the Myrtle Warblers are here to stay all winter. Today was windy and the birds were hard to see. Was most happy to see the Red-breasted Nuthatch in Pines on the North side of Krug Park. I wore a jacket today and it felt very comfortable. After dark while driving through the Park we saw a coon in about the center of the park.

Left St. Joseph at 6:30 A.M. in group of twelve cars for Squaw Creek. I drove George Stuppy's car. Pearl, Lois and Larry went with me. Simon Rositzky ~~went with me~~ led the group. I drove to Big Lake getting there at 12 noon where we ate lunch and then came home arriving here at 1:45 P.M. Two new birds for me were White-fronted Goose and Leconte's Sparrow. I think I saw a Marsh Wren but wasn't sure as I got only a glimpse of it. Estimated a total of 20,000 geese, mostly Snows, Blues, Canadas & Wh. Fronts in that order.
