Extra Fareboxes Placed Aboard Bi-State's Buses

The Bi-State bus system is putting a second farebox on every bus — a steel box about the size of a cigarette carton that will be used when the electronic farebox jams or breaks down.

Transit manager Michael H. Setzer said the steel boxes would solve a dilemma. "If we stop the bus to repair the farebox or send for a replacement bus, our passengers are inconvenienced," he said Thursday. "And if we keep the bus in service, the passengers are on time, but we lose money. Neither situation was really acceptable."

The second farebox is attached to the main box but can be opened only in the Bi-State garage, Setzer said. The driver must break a seal before it can be used, he said. Bi-State is borrowing the farebox idea from the Indianapolis bus system, Setzer said.

Ferguson-Florissant Picks A School Superintendent

Daniel B. Keck, superintendent of public schools in Paducah, Ky., has been picked as the new head of the Ferguson-Florissant School District.

Keck signed a three-year contract, effective July 1, to succeed Superintendent Warren M. Brown. Brown has held the post since 1964 and is retiring.

Ferguson-Florissant is the third-largest district in St. Louis County, with 12,500 students and 25 schools.

Keck, 43, has been superintendent of the Paducah Independent School District for four years. The district has 4,400 students and eight schools.

"In a recent interview, Keck said his educational philosophy was closely linked to producing verifiable results. For that reason, he said, the Ferguson-Florissant district is on the right track in pushing for an 'instructional management system' — one that teaches specific objectives and then tests students to see that those objectives have been learned."

Keck was born in Long Beach, Calif. He and his wife have three children.

The other finalist for the post was Norman D. Mullins, an associate superintendent in South Carolina.

Suspected Leak Leads To Detection Of Bug

Presiding Judge Richard M. Green of the administrative St. Charles County Court thought his office had sprung a leak. And, sure enough, sheriff's deputies turned up a listening device during a search this week.

The bug was found Tuesday after Green became suspicious and asked for an examination of the office premises. Sheriff Edward J. Uebinger confirmed Thursday evening that his deputies had discovered and removed the device. He said FBI agents were assisting in the investigation.

T. L. Adelman, first assistant U.S. attorney in St. Louis, said installation of a listening device was a felony punishable on conviction by up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Green said he had suspected the presence of a bug. "All these strange things have been happening to me, and I started getting paranoid about the information getting out," he said. "It seemed there could be no other source other than from my office."

The tiny transmitter was reportedly found attached to a ceiling tile. Green's office was remodelled recently.

Uebinger said he had no suspects in the case.

Few Clues So Far In Killing Of Ladue Man

By Lisa Gayle and Phyllis Brasch
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

A careful search for clues has yielded little insight into the killing of Alvin A. Segelbohm, the retired owner of an optical company, authorities say.

Segelbohm's body was found Wednesday evening in the trunk of his burning car in a wooded area off Highway 30 in Jefferson County. He died of a blow to the head, an autopsy showed.

Segelbohm, of the 2190 block of South Watson Road, Ladue, was 68.

The St. Louis Area Major Case Squad was trying to trace Segelbohm's movements in the hours before he was killed, Jefferson County Sheriff Walter "Buck" Burger said. Segelbohm was last seen about 2:30 p.m. Wednesday after having lunch at Busch's Grove Restaurant, 9160 Clayton Road, Ladue. But what he did after that has not been determined.

Burger said today that news stories about the killing had generated a "good response" from the public.

"Every lead we get we're running down," Burger said.

One of the 19 detectives from the Major Case Squad assigned to the case added, "It's a house of dominoes: One lead leads to another."

This morning, the detectives were waiting for laboratory reports as they continued the investigation.

Lt. Don Lassing, deputy commander of the squad, said the fire in Segelbohm's car made it difficult to find clues. The car was badly burned, he said, and water used to put out the fire made the road muddy.

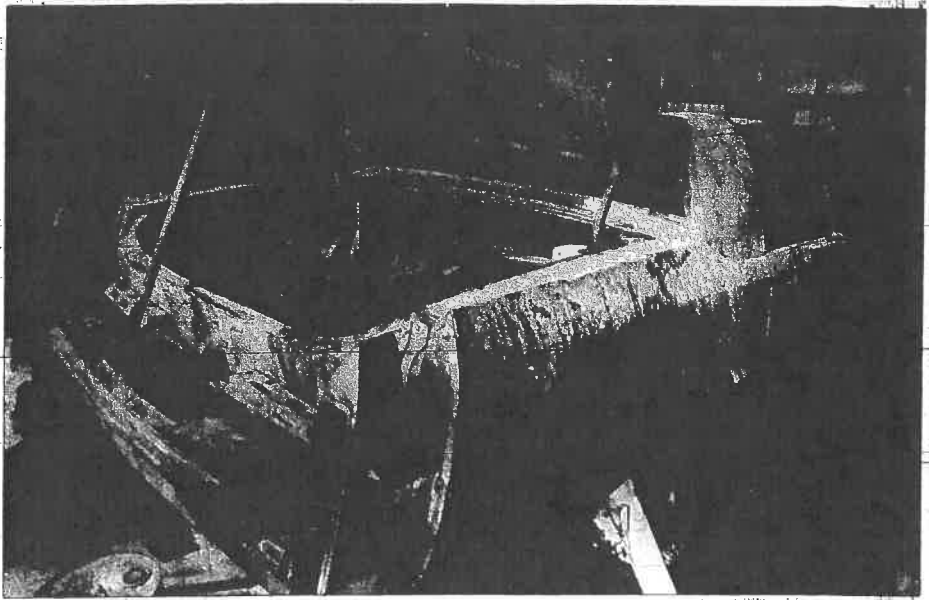

A fire truck from the High Ridge Fire Protection District extinguished the fire. The department was called about 8:15 p.m. by Betty Seeley. The car had been burning in the gravel driveway that leads from Highway 30 to her home, about a quarter-mile up a hill.

Mrs. Seeley said she and her husband, Norval, were watching television "and we heard what we thought was a dynamite explosion."

"When they looked out, she said, 'it looked like a woods fire.' While they were at the house, the Seeleys heard two explosions. When they got down to the car, they heard another, she said.

"The whole car was engulfed by flames," Mrs. Seeley said.

Seeley and her husband saw no one leave the scene, she said.

Funeral services for Segelbohm will be at 10 a.m. Sunday at Berger Memorial Chapel, 4715 McPherson Avenue, St. Louis.

Lassing said authorities would like to hear from anyone who might have seen Segelbohm's car on Wednesday afternoon or evening. The car was a four-door, chocolate-brown 1981 Cadillac.

The body had been wrapped in a blanket soaked with gasoline. An autopsy Thursday morning showed Segelbohm had a fractured skull and five broken ribs, said Dr. Gordon Johnson, the medical examiner for Jefferson County. Segelbohm apparently was dead before the fire, Dr. Johnson said.

A wallet, rings and a watch that Segelbohm was believed to have been carrying were not found.

Segelbohm was known to dress well, and he typically carried more than $300, said a close relative. He probably had been wearing an expensive diamond wedding ring and a Masonic ring, the relative said.

"Everyone's in total shock," the relative said. "We've all been aware he had a weak heart; we could have accepted it if he had died from that. The rest of this makes no sense. This is absolutely horrifying."

Segelbohm retired about eight years ago after selling the Alvin Optical Co.

Relatives said Segelbohm was a family man with strong religious ties and civic commitments. He was a member of the board of directors of Boys Town of Missouri, a past president of the St. Louis Exhibitors Horse Show Association and the Advertising Club of Greater St. Louis.

Lowering Of City Schools' Rating 'Premature,' Jones Says

By Sally Bixby Dettly and Linda Eardley
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

St. Louis School Superintendent Jerome B. Jones has described as "premature" the State Board of Education's action Thursday in lowering the city district's classification to Double-A from Triple-A.

Jones noted Thursday that the state's action "is in direct conflict with the U.S. District Court's plan to correct many problems, including large class sizes. The state board had cited overcrowded classrooms as the main reason for changing the rating."

"If our proposal to the court addresses these problems, it seems premature to change the rating at this time," Jones said.

The proposals also include repairing buildings and restoring sports and arts programs. They are part of a 270-page appendix to the final settlement of the 11-year-old desegregation case.

Jones was a superintendent in Connecticut and Rhode Island before coming here a month ago. He said he had never heard of a rating's being lowered without written warning.

"It is always a matter of saying, 'Here are your deficiencies, and here is how long you've got to correct them,'" he said. "Then, if the deficiencies are not corrected, it is totally appropriate to revoke the rating. I am not quarreling with the merits of whether or not we meet AAA standards but of how this was done. If we had been told, there might have been some way to marshal the funds or say that effective Sept. 1 we pledge to correct the deficiencies."

The state's commissioner of education, Arthur L. Mallory, said, "I have met Dr. Jones and I find him very impressive, but if it was a shock to him, it wasn't to anybody else in the St. Louis system. Last year, we noted that there were a large number of deficiencies. I have expressed many times my concern that they must be resolved."

When the rating was lowered Thursday, Mallory said he the city school system had enough money to regain Triple-A status, if it really wanted it. Mallory and P. J. Newell Jr., assistant state commissioner for instruction, said the city system was top-heavy in administrators.

Jones said he was "assessing the nature and structure" of the administration in terms of the appropriateness of our use of administrative staff. I assume the state board can document that charge that we are top-heavy; I would like to have any information they have to back that up."

An official in the department said that on a per-pupil basis, spending for administration in St. Louis made up a higher percentage of the budget than in any other large district in the state.

The state's rating system has three levels — Triple-A, Double-A and unclassified. In St. Louis County, all but one of the 23 regular districts has a Triple-A rating. The exception is Walliston, which is unclassified. From 1975-76, the city system was rated Double-A. It got its Triple-A rating back in 1980.

School Board president Penelope Alcott said she was disappointed at the lowering of the rating. "I thought they knew we've been through a very trying period," she said. "I feel we've tried. We are a creature of the state, and they should recognize that."

She said out that if voters approved a 27-cent school tax measure Tuesday, class sizes would be decreased.

Mrs. Alcott denied that the district had too many administrators. About a year ago, the board laid off 26 percent of its administrative staff, she said. Now, she said, the downtown administrative offices at 911 Locust Street are operating with a "skeletal crew."

Board member Donald Williams said the lowering of the rating came as no surprise. He said class sizes would be decreased if the tax increase was approved Tuesday. But the decrease will not be enough to restore the Triple-A rating, he said.

In response to the charge that the city system is top-heavy in administrators, Williams said, "A charge like that is a cheap shot. I could make that charge about any school system, and who's to challenge it? I could say it about the state Department of Education. I could get rid of P. J. Newell and hire two people who would be more productive and provide more service to the state of Missouri. Are they a leader in school legislation? No. They don't lobby successfully for anything."

A Possible Witness In The Killing Of Man From Ladue Is Being Sought

By Phyllis Brasch
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

Police officers from the Major Case Squad are looking for a man they believe is a possible witness in the killing of Alvin A. Segelbohm, a wealthy retired businessman from Ladue.

Segelbohm's badly burned body was found in the trunk of his 1981 chocolate-brown Cadillac on Wednesday night. The car was parked on a private, gravel road in Jefferson County about three miles west of High Ridge.

Lt. Donald Lassing of the Major Case Squad said the potential witness is a black man between 30 and 35 years old, 6 feet tall, weighing about 200 pounds with a short Afro-style haircut. He wears dark plastic-frame oversized eyeglasses.

"We are looking for him as a witness not a suspect," Lassing said Saturday. "We don't believe he committed the crime or was an accomplice. But he may have seen something we need to know about."

Lassing declined to be more specific.

He said that less than an hour before Segelbohm's body was discovered by firefighters on Betty Hill Road, a man fitting the witness's description asked the clerk at a convenience store in High Ridge for directions to a street with a similar name.

"He didn't ask for directions to the crime scene," Lassing said, "but to a Betty Drive. We just want to know why he was looking for a Betty Drive."

Officers from the squad spent Saturday afternoon canvassing the several streets with the name "Betty" in the High Ridge area.

Lassing said the potential witness also aroused questions because he apparently walked into the U Gas service station and convenience store. The store is at the intersection of Highway PP and Missouri Highway 30, about four miles east of where the car was found.

Alvin A. Segelbohm
Murder victim

"No one saw him get in or out of a car," Lassing said. "It was just odd he was in the area."

After a composite sketch of the potential witness was released to the press late Friday, officers questioned a man from St. Louis who fit the description.

"But he wasn't the fellow we were looking for," Lassing said. He said the man questioned had a full beard that would have been impossible to grow in the several days since Segelbohm was killed.

Lassing called the search for the witness a long shot. But he said it was the only clue officers had after four days of almost round-the-clock investigation into who killed Segelbohm.

Lassing said interviews with hundreds of Segelbohm's friends, neighbors, business associates and possible witnesses had failed to piece together the final hours of his life.

"We've got nothing," Lassing said. "We don't even know if it was a man or a woman who killed him."

Segelbohm, 69, was the retired owner of an optical company. He was last seen leaving Busch's Grove restaurant, 9160 Clayton Road, Ladue, after lunch Wednesday. "We don't know where he went from 2:30 p.m. until his body was found around 8:14 p.m.," Lassing said. "We can't pinpoint his whereabouts. We just don't know."

Firefighters discovered Segelbohm's body in the trunk of his charred car. The body had been wrapped in a blanket soaked with gasoline. An autopsy showed Segelbohm died of a fractured skull and five broken ribs and apparently was dead only a short time before his body was burned.

Lassing said a check of service stations along Highway 30 provided no leads as to who could have bought gasoline for a portable container late Wednesday afternoon.

"There was no suspicious person getting gas Wednesday because everyone was buying it in tanks, cans and drums to beat the 5-cent federal tax that went into effect the next day," Lassing said.

Lassing said robbery is still a possible motive. Segelbohm's ring, watch and wallet with credit cards and about $300 were missing.

Lassing said if no leads were uncovered within the next two days, the squad would turn the case over to the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office.

Investigation 'At A Standstill' In Killing Of Man From Ladue

A spokesman for the Major Case Squad says four days of round-the-clock work by investigators has failed to yield any substantial leads in the killing of Alvin A. Segelbohm, a wealthy retired businessman from Ladue.

"We're at a standstill," said Lt. Donald Lassing. He said the 16 detectives working the case had spent Sunday "just waiting for leads."

Lassing said the Major Case Squad would return the case to the Jefferson County sheriff if no new leads were developed by late today.

Segelbohm's charred body was found Wednesday night in the trunk of his 1981 Cadillac on a private road in Jefferson County about three miles west of High Ridge. An autopsy showed that he had died of a blow to his head.

Unless a major break occurs,

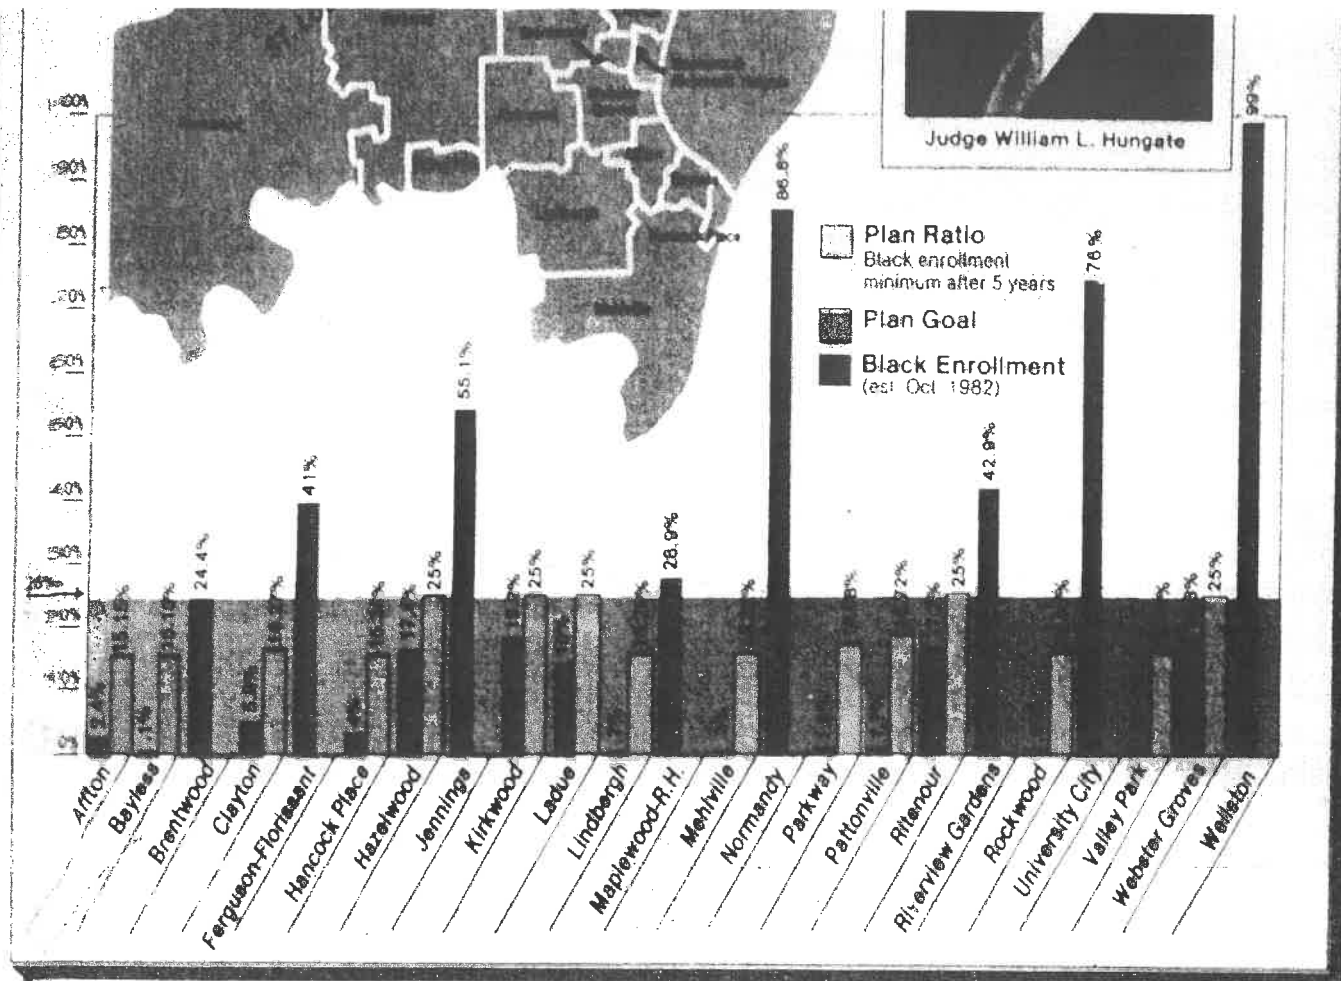

Lassing said, "It may take a long time to solve the killing."

"Somebody had to see something, but they're not saying," he said.

Over the weekend, investigators concentrated on finding a man who they believed was a potential witness. He is described by authorities as black, between 30 and 35 years old, 6 feet tall, about 200 pounds, with a short Afro-style haircut. He was last seen wearing dark plastic-frame oversized glasses.

The man was reported to have asked directions to a Betty Drive less than an hour before Segelbohm's body was discovered on Betty Hill Road. But a door-to-door canvass of streets in High Ridge turned up nothing.

"We found that no one knew the witness or anyone that looked like him," Lassing said.

The chart shows the current black enrollments in St. Louis County schools, the minimum black enrollments expected after five years of a proposed interdistrict desegregation plan, and the goal of the plan — 25 percent black enrollment in county districts that are now less than that. The plan is subject to the approval of U.S. District Judge William L. Hungate.

Body Of Man Found In Burning Car

Alvin A. Segelbohm

Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

The body of Alvin A. Segelbohm, 69, of Ladue, the retired owner of an optical company, was found Wednesday night in the trunk of his burning automobile on an isolated driveway off Highway 30 in Jefferson County.

Segelbohm died of a blow to the head, an autopsy disclosed this morning. Gordon Johnson, the Jefferson County medical examiner, said his examination had disclosed that Segelbohm had five fractured ribs in addition to a fractured skull.

A wallet, rings and a watch that Segelbohm was believed to have been carrying were not found.

Segelbohm, of the 2100 block of South Watson Road, was the retired owner of the Alvin Optical Co., an optical lens manufacturing company.

The St. Louis Major Case Squad was called in Wednesday night to investigate the case.

Jefferson County authorities said a woman called the High Ridge Fire Protection District about 8:15 p.m. to report that an auto was on fire on Betty Hill Drive off Highway 30 three miles west of High Ridge.

Firemen extinguished the blaze, and then discovered Segelbohm's body. Segelbohm was fully clothed except for his shoes, which were found in the car. His body had been wrapped in a blanket and then saturated with gasoline, authorities said. The car was Segelbohm's 1981 maroon Cadillac.

The area where the auto was parked is heavily wooded. The car apparently had been driven in and pulled off to the side of the single-lane gravel drive.

Relatives believe that Segelbohm may have been abducted and taken to the area Wednesday night. "It wasn't someplace he went frequently," a relative said this morning, referring to the area where he was found.

Segelbohm was last seen having lunch about 12:30 p.m. Wednesday at Busch's Grove Restaurant, 9180 Clayton became bored in retirement and Family members suspect that Segelbohm was visiting clients Wednesday afternoon when he was abducted and then killed.

"I am totally unaware of anyone who disliked him" a relative said. "He wasn't a violent person. I never saw him lose his temper."

Relatives said Segelbohm had been robbed in the last year of money and jewelry as he got out of his car to go to a restaurant in the Central West End.

Relatives said that if robbed again, Segelbohm, a man of slight build, "would have cooperated fully and put up no resistance whatsoever."

They said that after the robbery, Segelbohm wore an inexpensive watch, but that he probably had on several expensive rings as well as credit cards and cash when he was out Wednesday afternoon.

Segelbohm, relatives said, was a family man with strong religious ties and civic commitments. He was a member of the board of directors of Boys' Town of Missouri and a past president of the St.

Louis Exhibitors' Horse Show Association.

Segelbohm had also been a member of United Hebrew Congregation for many years, said Rabbi Jermome W. Grollman, spiritual leader of the congregation. "He was a loyal friend and a man who was close to his family," Grollman said.

Segelbohm served as an officer in World War II.

He and his wife, Goldie, had been married for about 35 years. They had one daughter.

The body of Alvin A. Segelbohm, 69, of Ladue, the retired owner of an optical company, was found Wednesday night in the trunk of his burning automobile on an isolated driveway off Highway 30 in Jefferson County.

Segelbohm died of a blow to the head, an autopsy disclosed this morning. Gordon Johnson, the Jefferson County medical examiner, said his examination had disclosed that Segelbohm had five fractured ribs in addition to a fractured skull.

A wallet, rings and a watch that Segelbohm was believed to have been carrying were not found.

Segelbohm, of the 2100 block of South Warson Road, was the retired owner of the Alvin Optical Co., an optical lens manufacturing company.

The St. Louis Major Case Squad was called in Wednesday night to investigate the case.

Jefferson County authorities said a woman called the High Ridge Fire Protection District about 8:15 p.m. to report that an auto was on fire on Betty Hill Drive off Highway 30, three miles west of High Ridge.

Firemen extinguished the blaze, and then discovered Segelbohm's body. Segelbohm was fully clothed except for his shoes, which were found in the car. His body had been wrapped in a blanket and then saturated with gasoline, authorities said. The car was Segelbohm's 1981 maroon Cadillac.

The area where the auto was parked is heavily wooded. The car apparently had been driven in and pulled off to the side of the single-lane gravel drive.

Relatives believe that Segelbohm may have been abducted and taken to the area Wednesday night. "It wasn't someplace he went frequently," a relative said this morning, referring to the area where he was found.

Segelbohm was last seen having lunch about 12:30 p.m. Wednesday at Busch's Grove Restaurant, 9180 Clayton

THE EASTER GOAT IS ON HER WAY:
Melissa (right) and other zoo youngsters will help celebrate Easter at the St. Louis Zoo. Easter happenings in St. Louis are proposal of Nov. 18, 1981, "for the complete elimination of the entire category of longer-range land-based INF (intermediate nuclear force) missiles remains the optimal solution."

Igor Dmitrev, a commentator on Radio Moscow, said: "It's not the number of missiles that counts. It's the idea of exporting U.S. missiles to the Soviet doorstep."

Calling Reagan's plan a "pseudo-new initiative," Dmitrev said the ideas were "not as fresh as one would think they are. They're a new edition of the notorious zero option, but only in a new wrapping."

Reagan's zero option calls for NATO-to-scrap plans to install 572 medium-range missiles in Western Europe in exchange for the Soviets' dismantling their 500 or so missiles aimed at European targets.

The Radio Moscow commentator said Reagan's latest proposal still ignored the 162 British and French missiles already in place, as well as U.S. warplanes and submarines carrying weapons that can hit Soviet territory. Britain and France maintain nuclear arsenals independent of NATO.

"All that we hear in the Soviet Union is that the United States has the right to bring modern missiles to our doorstep," Dmitrev said.

He complained that Soviet intentions to respond to a NATO deployment had been denounced by American officials as "Soviet expansionism."

Soviet officials have not spelled out what steps they will take to counter a NATO installation of new missiles in Europe. But they apparently are suggesting deployment of submarines off the U.S. coast.

Dmitrev's commentary was the second on Reagan's latest proposal.

In an authoritative article in a state-run newspaper, Valentin Falin, the Soviet Union's former ambassador to West Germany, said Tuesday that any proposal seen by the Soviets as a program for their unilateral disarmament would be a "waste of time."

"Nothing will come of it, and no intermediate variations of the zero option will help," he said. He also called Reagan's appearance of flexibility a farce.

Man's Body Found In Flames

The body of a 56-year-old St. Louis man was found in flames Saturday morning on the pavement outside his parked car on 13th Street near O'Fallon Street.

St. Louis homicide detectives have decided that it was a suicide but have withheld the dead man's identity pending notification of his family.

Officer Robert Porter said he had spotted the flames as he was driving south on Tucker Boulevard at 7:45 a.m. "I thought it was a rubbish fire, so I drove over and then I saw the subject burning from his waist to his head," he said.

Porter said he had grabbed an evidence bag from his patrol car and tried unsuccessfully to smother the flames. Another policeman tried to put out the fire with a fire extinguisher that was brought to the scene by an employee of a nearby business.

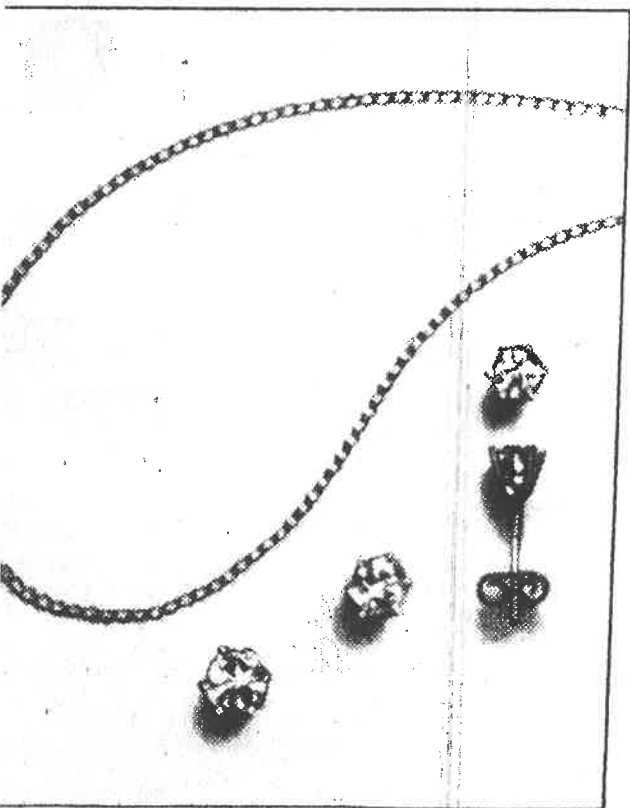

Firefighters arrived moments later and extinguished the fire, authorities said.

YOU HAD BETTER GET YOURSELF DOWN HERE" SO I DROVE MYSELF DOWN TO W.M.O. MENTAL. AND IMMEDIATELY THE CASE WORKER YOUNG LADY SAID "IF YOU DON'T SIGN THESE COMMITAL PAPERS TO ST. SOE, WE WILL GET A COURT JUDGE TO DO IT" SO I SIGNED THEM AND ABOUT A WEEK LATER, A BED BECAME AVAILABLE WHEN ADMITED TO ST. SOE. WE TOOK OFF OUR STREET CLOTHES AND PUT ON NAKE OVERALLS, THEN WENT TO A CLOSED WARD FOR 2 WKS.

ONE DAY, AND I GUESS I WAS RELEASED FROM CLOSED WARD INTO C-2, I ~~WAS ENTERING~~ SAT DOWN AT A TABLE IN HOSP. EATING ROOM, AND A YOUNG MAN QUICKLY SAID "YOU CANT EAT AT OUR TABLE MAN!!" SO I GOT UP AND MOVED, SO AS TO NOT CAUSE TROUBLE. AFTER BEING RELEASED 6 MO'S LATER, I WAS ASK TO SHOW UP IN DOWNTOWN K.C. WITH A CASE WORKER, SO I WENT, AND LOW AND BEHOLD THIS SAME YOUNG MAN SAW ME WALK IN AND SAID "MAN, I WANT TO APOLOGIZE TO YOU ABOUT HOW I ACTED" ~~HE~~ SAID "OH, THAT'S BEEN SIX MO'S AGO, AND I HAD

"BOB-
 FORGOT ALL ABOUT IT; -- "IT

April 6, 1973 - DISCHARGE NOTE

The client is a 34 year old, white, married, male who was admitted to St. Joseph State Hospital for the first time on June 8, 1971. The client has diagnosis of Schizophrenia, Schiso-Affective, Depressed.

This client was placed on Trial Visit on January 21, 1972. At that time we dictated a Trial Visit note concerning his condition and medication. Please refer to the Trial Visit note for more detailed information.

Since his placement on Trial Visit it appears that the client has made a very satisfactory adjustment in his community, and according to last note he had moved to St. Louis where he is doing very well on his new employment. The client's wife also plans to move to St. Louis as soon as suitable housing can be located. In view of satisfactory adjustment of this client he is being discharged from our hospital rolls effective April 6, 1973.

Discharge Diagnosis: Schizophrenia, Schiso-Affective, Depressed.

July 8, 1971 - PROGRESS NOTE - Mr. Sandy went home last weekend for a three day visit over the fourth of July Holiday and his wife reports that he got along quite well except that he did not want to take his medicine and "missed about two pills". Since admission here, Mr. Sandy has said that he realizes he was spending too much time on his own special interests, astronomy, and not enough with his family. He apparently made a special effort last weekend and his wife said that he wanted to go places and that they attended a baseball game one night, played miniature golf one night, and visited a married couple who are their friends and also Mrs. Sandy's mother. The patient's three year old daughter was delighted to have him home and "wouldn't let him out of her sight" and he seemed to enjoy his daughter rather than her making him nervous as she had previously. Mrs. Sandy will be on vacation next week and plans to take him for a three day visit July 16-18. The patient had hoped for a longer visit but Mrs. Sandy has been under considerable strain since onset of his illness and particularly since his suicide attempt in May and is in need of a rest.

August 13, 1971 - PROGRESS NOTE - Mr. Sandy has been going home for weekend visits with his wife and she reports that he does fairly well at home, is more alert than previously and better able to carry on a conversation but that he wants to sleep too much. She has been uneasy about leaving him unsupervised and has arranged for one of his parents to be with him whenever she had to leave home for a short time. He did spend six hours at home alone last weekend while his wife worked without incident and this is apparently the first time he was left unsupervised since his suicide attempt last May.

10/20/71 PROGRESS NOTE

Robert Sandy is a 32 year old married male that was accepted into the Rehabilitation program on 9/13/71. His first job assignment while on the Rehab. unit was to work in the escort service. He started this job on 9/15/71 but on 9/29/71 he requested to go to the Workshop because the escort service was boring to him. He is currently involved in a group therapy session with his counselor Mrs. Miriani where he seems to be functioning quite well. No psychotic processes are in evidence and his periods of deep depression that brought him initially into the hospital have all but disappeared. When Bob first came on the unit he tended to keep to himself but this changed somewhat and he is starting to interact at a better level with the staff and other clients on the unit. Bob is currently being evaluated through psychometric instruments and counseling for possible job training in the field of electronics or possibly to be placed back into the optical profession which he was engaged in before coming into the hospital. At present he is still undecided as to exactly what he would like to do as far as employment is concerned. There are also some problems developing regarding his integration into the home setting. Plans are being made to involve him and his wife in family marriage counseling eventually.

Louise B. Sleezer
Louise B. Sleezer, Ind. Ther. II

Robert Sandy was admitted to this hospital for the first time on June 8, 1971, as a transfer from Western Missouri Mental Health Center. At admission he was still very depressed and suicidal. He gradually improved and was transferred to Vocational Rehabilitation on 9-13-71. His progress on this Unit was slow and for several months he continued to feel guilty about his inadequacy as a husband and father. He was very undecided about the future, ambivalent as to what he wanted to do. However, he participated actively in the program, in group sessions, and recreation as well as performing well on his workshop assignment. He reported improvement in his week-end visits home as he and his wife went bowling often, visited friends and developed more of a social life. In late December, he decided that since he could not find another job in contact lens manufacturing he would like to study watchmaking and repair. He visited the Kansas City School of Watchmaking and a date was set for him to begin training on January 31st. The course will last 52 weeks. He decided to return to his home at 7901 East 88th Terrace where he resides with his wife and child one week prior to the beginning of training.

The client is a 32 yr. old, white, married male who was admitted to the St. Joseph State Hospital for the first time on June 8, 1971. During his stay on the Center North Unit the client was receiving mainly tranquilizers. He also was enrolled in milieu therapy and had an assignment in industrial and occupational therapy. He was diagnosed as suffering of Schizophrenia reaction, depressed type. Following improvement of his behavior he was transferred to the Rehabilitation Unit effective September 15, 1971. During his stay on this Unit he had an assignment in the Sheltered Workshop and it seems that he used to perform satisfactorily. We interviewed this client on two occasions. That is October 6, 1971 and on November 22, 1971 when we dictated a note concerning his functioning, mental condition and medication. The counseling service of this Unit made the arrangements to place this client in Kansas City School of Watchmaking and he will begin his training on January 31st, 1972. The client was placed on Trial Visit on January 21st, 1972 and on his leaving he was receiving the following medication: Mellarill 100 mg hs; Tofranil 50 mg bid; Valium 5 mg tid and Thyroid 1 grain in the morning. In addition he will receive regular follow up from the Unit counselors and social workers and also he has been referred for follow up for medication from Western Missouri Mental Health Center.

1-11-73 - DISCHARGE RECOMMENDATION - The client's wife made an appointment with Mrs. Glore, Unit Social Worker, to report that he is still doing well on his job in St. Louis. He has gone to After Care once at the St. Louis State Hospital and they told him to report back only if he had problems. He has been off medication for several months. The client's wife plans to move to St. Louis in June, or as soon as suitable housing can be located.

The client has apparently made a satisfactory adjustment and the Unit is not aiming to provide any additional services. Therefore, I recommend he be discharged from this institution.

SANDY, Robert Case #40345-4 CN-9

June 15, 1971 - PROGRESS NOTE - This patient was admitted on June 8, 1971, as a transfer from Western Missouri Mental Health Center. He is still having the delusions of astrology, goes on saying that he is interested in stars, the moon, etc. His insight and motivation are poor. He has a low level of self esteem. He does not think about his positive behavior, always worries about his negative behavior. He is still on a closed ward. He is taking Thorazine 150 mg. q.i.d., Artane 2 mg. b.i.d. There is no significant improvement in his condition.

SANDY, Robert Case #40345-4 CN-9

June 22, 1971 - PROGRESS NOTE - This patient has been moved from a closed ward to an open ward. He says that he is doing better, "I want to live instead of killing myself, I have been spoiled because of thinking about astronomy," etc. He is reluctant to talk about his basic problems, feels a little shaky. He is working on the ward, feels drowsy, wants to have his medication decreased. Medication was reduced to Thorazine 100 mg. q.i.d., Artane 2 mg. t.i.d., Dulcolax suppositories if needed.

August 3, 1971 - PROGRESS NOTE - Mr. Sandy has been going home on weekend passes and has done very well. He has been referred to the Vocational Rehabilitation for possible consideration of re-training in a new vocational field. Medication is stable at this time. He is managing himself quite well and appropriate on the ward in dealing with peers and staff. He is, at this time, requesting vocational rehabilitation and it seems that he is quite motivated for the change.

SANDY, Robert L. #40345-4 CN 9

September 13, 1971 - TRANSFER NOTE - Mr. Sandy has made considerable improvement since his admission with a combination of tranquilizers, milieu therapy, industrial therapy, occupational therapy, and recreational therapy. There has been considerable resolution of his psychotic process and the patient has done very well. He is presently been going home on weekend passes, sometimes extending up to three or four days and has done well. We feel that, because of the way in which he has been able to function on the ward and on job assignments, that this man is ready for placement on the Vocational Rehabilitation Unit for job counseling and placement. There will be a need for this patient to continue on medication for an extended period of time, even after leaving the hospital.

DIAGNOSIS: Schizo-affective, depressed 295.74

MEDICATION: Valium 5 mg. t.i.d.; Thyroid 1 gr. at 7 A.M.; Artane 2 mg. b.i.d.

Mellaril 100 mg. at 7 P.M. and Mellaril 25 mg. at 7 and 1

July 13, 1971 - PROGRESS NOTE - This patient is presently residing on CN 9 and has an I.T. assignment which he is still in the process of making some adjustment to. He still seems to have difficulty in exercising his own responsibility in making decisions in that he frequently seeks out others to make decisions for him. Quite often it is a decision that he is not in favor of, which creates some anxiety for him. He was complaining of blurred vision and dizziness on present medication. This sounds like a legitimate complaint and it is felt that medication change is in order. The patient is being switched to Mellaril 100 mg. morning and noon, and Mellaril 200 mg. at hs., Artane is being decreased from 2 mg. t.i.d. to 2 mg. b.i.d.

July 20, 1971 - PROGRESS NOTE - This patient is to go on a three day pass with his wife when she begins her vacation. He is making fair to moderate adjustment on the open ward. Continues to be quite demanding but is more reasonable in his demands. Medication was decreased because patient complained of dizziness and blurred vision. His overall functioning continues to be good. Patient has an I.T. assignment, although he has had some difficulty with this due his high degree of compulsivity regarding his job.

July 27, 1971 - PROGRESS NOTE - This patient continues to make slow progress in recuperating from a psychosis. He spent the weekend at home and the family was able to enjoy him. The patient is less demanding of the staff and his adjustment on the ward seems to be improving at a steady pace. He has an I.T. assignment and is performing it well. It is felt that this man is not quite yet ready to return to the highly complex job situation that he was working in prior to his becoming ill. There is a serious question regarding his ever being able to return to the stress of his job, therefore the possibility of retraining in a more suitable occupation should be considered, prior to his discharge.

We have been requested to see this client because his family complains that during his weekend visits he spends a lot of time lying in his bed. The client appears very submissive, passive individual who is however capable to recognize his problems in a rational way. He says that for a long time he has felt depressed but at the present time he feels better but still he does not resolve the problem between him and his wife. He did state that he would not try to go into detail in regard to this problem since he had talked already about this with his previous doctors. He did mention that he has some problem in sexual area and also he is not interested in doing any kind of house repairing work for which he is often blamed by his wife. He does admit that he does spend a little time in bed when he is at home and according to the client "it is just a way of coping out". Due to the fact that the client's tendency to sleep during the day maybe caused to some extent to his medication we will discontinue his Mellaril 25 mg during the day. He will continue to receive other medication, that is Mellaril 100 mg hs; Artane 2 mg bid; Valium 5 mg tid; and Thyroid 1 gr in the morning.

NB/eh

The client was transferred to the Vocational Rehabilitation Unit on Sept. 15, 1971 and since that time he has had an assignment on the Sheltered Workshop.

relations with his wife and he feels that if this continues she might look for some body else. According to the client he is trying to do his best when he is at home, that is, he is trying to take care of his child and do some repairing of the house. He denies any particular problem between him and his wife except his sexual impotence. The client continues with his assignment in the Sheltered Workshop and it seems that he is functioning satisfactorily. We are discontinuing Artane and the client will continue to take the same medication as up to now and we are adding Tofranil 50mg bid.

NE/eh

The client came for an interview in our office to tell us that he feels quite depressed. He is worried in particular that he is not capable to have sexual Patient is being admitted from the Day Center where he has been essentially since April 20, 1971. He was admitted to the in-patient service on April 21, 1971 transferred back to Day Center on the 22nd, was re-admitted to the in-patient service on the 23rd and sent back to Day Center on the 26th. He has remained unchanged. He is unable to cooperate in any kind of activities in Day Center. His attendance has been poor and it has become very difficult for the family to get him to the Day Center. On Saturday, April 15th, he hooked up some kind of electrical apparatus and tried to electrocute himself. He continues to talk about ideas of suicide such as: "If I hadn't painted the garage door yesterday, I would surely have killed myself."

I talked with his wife who agrees that the patient is not getting any better; becoming more and more anxious, less able to do anything at home, less able to take any responsibility for his treatment in Day Center and continues to talk more and more of suicide. She had thought of trying to transfer him to a private hospital but has decided against that. I asked her about her feelings regarding transferring him to the State Hospital at St. Joseph and she is in agreement with this, saying that the only thing that she can see is that he does need longer term hospitalization at this time.

PAST HISTORY:

The patient's first admission here was in March (19th to 20th) 1971. At that time he was transferred to the After Care Clinic and was to be followed by the Rehabilitation Service. He got a job and we didn't see him until April 20th. At that time he had lost his job.

The patient was born and raised in the Independence-Kansas City area. He has one sister, 5 years younger than he is. He has a high school education and some 35 credit hours at the Kansas City Junior College. He quit school because of " goofing off." He wanted to build a telescope and most of his interests at that time were in Astronomy. He has not been in the Service, claims he was turned down because of a crushed vertebrae he sustained in an automobile accident in 1957. He married at the age of 22 to his current wife and they have a 3 year old daughter. Both he and his wife usually work. He has worked as a lens maker and has been with that job for some 4 or 5 years. He was promoted in January of 1971 but couldn't handle it, they put him back to his old job. At that time he said he couldn't make the machine work for him and he was fired, spending most of his time at home with his Astronomy books and telescopes.

MENTAL STATUS EXAMINATION:

The patient is a well-kept, neat appearing young man who is fairly anxious, can't sit still, has to be up and around and constantly marks time during the interview. He is very ambivalent about everything. He says he wants to come into the hospital, and he doesn't want to give it another try. He frequently talks about "Will God forgive him", and he says he feels he has turned his back on God and that it is almost too late now." He is also obsessed with the idea of suicide. He says that what he is going through now must surely be a bad dream."

HOSPITAL COURSE:

The Physical Examination done on April 26, 1971 was essentially negative except for multiple acne scars.

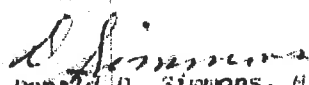

Lab tests on 4-21-70, Hemoglobin, 15.4 grams and a White Cell Count of 13,800. This test has been repeated. The Urinalysis on 5-11-71 was recorded as negative for Albumin and negative for Glucose. A VDRL was non-reactive on 4-22-71. The patient has a history of taking Thyroid medication. He has been given Thyroid medication while in the hospital.

On the ward, patient remains fairly anxious, unable to enter into any kind of cooperative activities. He tends to put everything on the medication that makes him too sleepy, or that the activities are a waste of time. He impresses us as having a fair amount of conscious hostility. He remains extremely ambivalent, cannot make up his mind to do anything, continues to want to go home, and wants to stay in the hospital at the same time, or wants to get a divorce, and wants to get a job and provide for his family at the same time.

DIAGNOSIS: Schizophrenia, Affective-Depressed Kind. Code: 295.74. An Underlying Schizoid Personality with severe Obsessive-Compulsive Traits.

PLAN:

It is felt that because of his failure at the Day Center and his persistent anxiety and suicidal thoughts with some attempts, that the only way to treat him at the present time is for a long term hospitalization. We will ask that Mr. Sandy sign in voluntarily to State Hospital at St. Joseph. If he doesn't, we will ask the family to file for commitment.

ADMISSION NOTE

NAME, HOSPITAL NUMBER, SEX

SANDY, Robert L. Case #40345-4
Male White Age 32 Jackson County
Admitting: Dr. Gupta
Admitted: 6-8-71

This is a 32 year old married white man, father of one child, has been admitted to our hospital under a voluntary application as a transfer from W.M.M.H.C. The patient was first admitted at W.M.M.H.C. on March 19, 1971, was attending aftercare and day care center. He was again admitted on April 20, 1971.

The reason for the admission was that he was working in a contact lens factory, was promoted to the manager's job in January 1971. He could not handle it, was fired from the job. According to patient, he is more interested in astronomy and telescopes, was thinking and working on it for many years. He was not much interested in his family, his job, or his further progress. He completed one and one half years of junior college with an average grade, has one sister. Both parents live in Independence, Missouri. He says he was always below the average weight.

The patient is poorly developed and poorly nourished to his age. He is well dressed and clean, verbalizes slowly. He repeated again and again that he does not remember his childhood experiences. He is not overtly delusional, denies hallucinations, is well oriented to time, place, and person. Calculation and counting were good. His affect appears to be flat. Mood is depressed, he feels apathetic, has a low level of self esteem, is not interested in improving his career. He is obsessed with astronomy and telescopes: "I spent many hours during the day and night from high school thinking about the stars and moon." He is anxious, agitated, has ideas of suicidal rumination at a distance. According to W.M.M.H.C. records, he has a hypothyroid condition for which he was getting treatment.

Physical exam, routine lab work including VDRL, and chest x-ray done at W.M.M.H.C. were essentially negative. New lab work is being ordered here.

Patient was admitted to CN-3. Medication ordered was Thorazine 150 mg. q.i.d., Thorazine 100 mg. IM p.r.n., Thyroid 1 gr. o.d., Artane 2 mg. t.i.d. He should be involved in remediation group.

Admission diagnosis: Schizophrenia, schizo-affective, depressed, 295.74.

COMPUTER-GENERATED PROBABILITIES OF THIS PATIENT BEING CLASSIFIED INTO EACH OF EIGHT DIAGNOSTIC CATEGORIES BY THE AVERAGE CLINICIAN IN A MISSOURI STATE HOSPITAL ARE GIVEN IN COLUMN ONE BELOW. THEY SHOULD ONLY BE APPLIED TO RECENTLY ADMITTED PATIENTS ON GENERAL ADULT PSYCHIATRIC WARDS. A RELIABILITY ESTIMATE FOR EACH DIAGNOSTIC CATEGORY IS GIVEN IN COLUMN TWO BELOW. IT ESTIMATES THE COMPUTER'S ABILITY TO SIMULATE THE AVERAGE CLINICIAN'S DIAGNOSTIC ACUMEN FOR THAT DIAGNOSTIC CATEGORY. FOR EXAMPLE, A RELIABILITY ESTIMATE OF 100% FOR PERSONALITY DISORDER MEANS THAT THE COMPUTER DOES JUST AS WELL AS THE AVERAGE CLINICIAN IN DIAGNOSING PERSONALITY DISORDERS. A RELIABILITY ESTIMATE OF 90% FOR SCHIZOPHRENIA MEANS THE COMPUTER DOES 90% AS WELL AS THE AVERAGE CLINICIAN IN DIAGNOSING SCHIZOPHRENIA.

SOCIAL HISTORY

PATIENT: Sandy, Robert L.
CASE #40345-4 AGE: 32 SEX: Male
RACE: White MARITAL STATUS: Married RESIDENCE: 7901 East 88th Terrace
Kansas City, Missouri
PREPARED BY: Billie Vories
POSITION: Psychiatric Social Worker I
DATE: June 18, 1971

INFORMANTS: Patient's wife, Mrs. Merna Jo Sandy, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sandy, came for joint interview on June 18. All appeared to be of average intelligence and quite concerned about the patient. The father seemed to be rather cold and reserved and both the mother and wife were more spontaneous in providing information.

I. PRESENTING PROBLEM: Four and a half years patient had been employed to make contact lenses at Duffin Optical Co., liked his work, and was efficient at it. About the first of January 1971 he was promoted and made manager. The previous manager was to have stayed one month to train him; however, he left before the patient was trained and the patient also had to train a man to replace him in his own former job. Wife said that "in a way" he was pleased at the promotion but that the work was too much for him and he was staying until 10:00 or later at night to try to get the work out. On February 19 he was discharged because employer said that he was not doing the work efficiently. Afterwards he looked for a job doing the same type of work; however, none was available in Kansas City. About two weeks after losing his job "he suddenly went all to pieces". He was at his parents home at the time and he rolled on the floor "like a ball", banged his head against the wall, wrung his hands, and paced the floor in circles. He kept saying he did not want to be alone and wife had noticed about the first of March that he was afraid to be alone and when she would leave to go to work, he would ask her not to go. He was admitted to Western Missouri Mental Health Center and had been there only two days when he had the opportunity of a job at Central Lab Contact Lens and he was released to go to work. He worked for one week and during this time kept comparing his new job unfavorably with the former job, complaining that the equipment was much older than what he was accustomed to use, etc., and was discharged at the end of a week.

Following this, he looked for work but was unable to find any. He would walk the floor and wring his hands. He wanted to apologize to his employer for the way he had talked. However, his family talked him out of this. He said that everything was "enormous", that his responsibility was enormous, that the house was too big, and wanted to sell it and get a smaller one. He also wanted to dispose of worldly things, including television and radio, and said everything was "too much". He wanted to sleep a great deal.

The family doctor, Charles Mount, O.D., advised that he see a psychologist and he was referred to Dr. Kushner for testing and counseling and attended seven group sessions and also private sessions once weekly but was apparently not receiving any benefit from this treatment so discontinued it.

In April he was readmitted to W.M.M.H.C. twice. Once he was there for two days and his wife was told to come for him because he was not cooperating. When he came home he just sat around the house and slept during the day while his wife was at work and when she came home, he would wring his hands, turn somersaults in the bed, etc. Since onset of present illness he talked of feeling guilty about things he had done long ago. For example, at age 17 during his last year in high school, he stole some gas by siphoning it from another car and was driving away after doing this when struck by another car and had broken back and slight concussion. At the time he denied siphoning the gas and parents said they did not refer to it again although they knew he had done it. After onset of present illness he talked of this incident, admitting that he did it. Parents recall that at the time he had the back fracture and was in cast and traction, he was "nervous" but said there was no comparison with his recent symptoms.

The latter part of April patient was readmitted to W.M.M.H.C. and was also admitted there once or twice during May. Each time he was released he was referred to Day Center and attended regularly but his wife had to insist that he go and "just push him out the door". He said the program was not helping him at all.

Patient had threatened suicide frequently and on May 15 attempted suicide by holding an electric cord while standing in the bathtub. He did receive a shock and although not unconscious, fell in the bathtub injuring his back. Following this incident he was much improved for about three days and then symptoms reoccurred. He was readmitted to W.M.M.H.C. and talked constantly of suicide so was kept for two weeks and then transferred to St. Joseph State Hospital.

Informant said the patient had no hallucinations to their knowledge but complained of "being in a daze". He was obsessed with the idea of getting his former job back and was afraid to stay alone, wanting his mother to stay with him every day.

For the past year patient has been taking thyroid prescribed by the family doctor. Normal weight was 125 pounds and since onset of present illness he had lost weight and weighed 107 pounds although he always ate well. He has recently begun to gain some weight.

22. CURRENT HOME SITUATION: Patient was born in Independence and has lived in that area all of his life. Birth and early development were normal and he was almost five when his sister (only sibling) was born.

Family are members of the Baptist church and have said patient had been very religious. He used to teach Sunday school and sing in the choir and he does not smoke, drink, or dance. Parents stated he had never been very sociable although he was well liked. While in school he usually had "a half dozen friends" but after completing high school, did not seem to care for friends.

He never cared much for girls and was very selective and particular about which girls he would date. After he began dating his wife, he never cared for anyone else. They began dating in 1960 and had known each other for previous years in Sunday school. They married in 1962 following courtship of two years and both were age 23. Their daughter Karen was born three years ago. The wife has worked ever since marriage except for the two years immediately after Karen's birth. She is a computer operator at Western Electric earning $353 per month which is more than the patient was earning even after his promotion.

Wife feels that the patient loves their daughter but said that ever since she had been born, "he'd shut her out" to study astronomy in his own small room. Apparently he spent most of his time on astronomy when not working and had little time for either his wife or child. Wife said that they had no serious quarrel or disagreement but that he did not listen to her and she felt she might as well talk to the wall. Patient's mother said she felt that he was too self centered and that he did not pay sufficient attention to his wife and child and that he should take more responsibility. For example, if there was grocery shopping to do, he would let her carry everything and she was the one who had to have the car serviced; if wife had to go to an occasional meeting he did not want to watch their daughter while she was gone. Mother said in her opinion patient had spent too much time on astronomy for the past 15 years. He belonged to an astronomy club, had a telescope, did public speaking on the subject, was efficient at photography, and wrote articles on astronomy "but neglected family, responsibilities of the house, and his friends".

Both the patient's parents are in good health. Father is a salesman, mother a housewife. His only sister, age 27, is married and has two children. She and the patient get along alright but do not see each other often and apparently are not close. Patient does not seem to have a close relationship to any one member of the family than to others. While living at home with parents, he gave them no difficulty except that he was "argumentative and had to be pushed to do things and get out of his bedroom away from astronomy".

III. EDUCATION AND OCCUPATION: Patient started school at age 6 and made average grades throughout school. After being graduated from high school, he attended college for one year, then went to work and attended school for awhile at night. He had one and a half years of college credit. As described above, he was never very sociable and when in school, his interests were astronomy, tropical fish, and scout work (he was an Eagle scout and Mic-O-Say). Patient's first job was in the lab where he also worked part time typing. He was then employed by H.C. Lee for four years in accounting department and was then discharged by a new supervisor who said that he was too deliberate, slow, and precise. Afterwards he was employed at Midwest Mechanical to do office work for two years and discharged because he was too slow. It was then that he began working for the Buffin Optical Co. and they trained him to make contact lenses. He preferred working with his hands to doing office work which he had done previously and apparently did well on that job for four and a half years till promoted to manager.

Patient had no military service and was rejected due to his back injury.

Allergies: The family doctor, Charles Mount, O.D., tested the patient for allergies about one year ago and found that he had certain food allergies. He prescribed medicine which the patient now takes once per month by injection and the patient has had no further difficulty. According to the family, the allergies caused him to have sinus headaches and nasal congestion. While at W.M.E.C. during his last admission there, he "broke out in little blisters all over his body". The family felt this was due to drug allergy.

RESOURCES. At present patient has no income. His wife is employed and earns $553.00 per month. Patient should qualify for social security disability. Following release from hospital, he will live at home with his wife. He has no job prospect at the present time.

Robert has good work habits all way neat & well groomed - interacts well with both staff made some real nice Ceramics. Seems very proud of them July 71 BY at first he thought he was over worked in guide service but then started taking pride in what he was doing. He has almost stopped rocking back & forth while talking. is talking about his family - work job etc while at home. would like to live in St. Joe when he leaves M. Petre
July 71
Very restless - works well with hands, but feels we take advantage of him because of his ability. Rather than letting him do something simple, we would rather have him do something that is more challenging and requires more skill and he seems to resent this.

MEDICATION RECORD

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE

The Medication Record is to be used to record medications prescribed by the physician. ALL medications are to be recorded by the person who gives the medication. If a medication is not given, circle the time and chart reason in Nursing Notes. Completed medication sheets are to be sent to Data Processing per schedule (below).

When returned they are to be filed in chronological order in ward chart.

For further information refer to Policy & Proc. on Medications in Nsg. Service SOP.

This 32yr old, married, Indian Co, white male is admitted to our hospital for the 1st time at 13:30 on the date. On admission pt appears fearful of his surroundings. He speaks relatively freely about his disorder. pt seemed apprehensive about being locked on the wings. W. Ferguson

Pt. is neat & clean in appearance. Seems overly anxious to please & get along with staff. Says he is here because he needs more help. Seems very interested in his family, esp. his daughter. He says Western Mo. is better hospital but seems resigned to his being here. R. H. Ferguson says pt. is friendly and speaks some English but socializes little with other pts. He only a few days.

Pt. talked freely about his life with almost no urging. Seems to feel that he is here because of responsibility of job that he couldn't handle. Seems to have feelings of inferiority. Also seems somewhat nervous, shifting weight from foot to foot while speaking. Is somewhat concerned about religion. Reported that he has no religion since admission. He thinks this is due to "lowered inhibition". Also reports that he is allergic to a lot of the food here. W. H. Ferguson

Pt. stands around office frequently. Tries to seek attention. Keeps himself clean. Eats and sleeps well.

Pt. says he made a mistake in committing himself here. Keeps asking how he can leave. Gets well with seemingly no reactions to the food. Dr. Watson

Dear Dr. Bartulica:

I have been requested by my life insurance companies to have you fill out the enclosed forms since you are the last doctor whose care I was under. The forms are necessary for me to receive premium waiver coverage until I can return to work. I have enclosed for your convenience a photocopy of my portion of the Northwestern Mutual form which lists dates of entrance into PRC; General Hospital; Kansas City, Missouri, before coming to St. Joe on June 8, 1971.

In the space for your comments, I would like for you to mention that I, as an out-patient, must see a psychiatrist at PRC; General Hospital; 600 East 22nd.; Kansas City, Missouri once a month for a period of at least one year beginning February 14, 1972.

I would appreciate your filling out the enclosed forms at your earliest convenience.

Thanking you in advance for your co-operation in this matter.

Sincerely,

Robert L. Sandy

RE: Robert Sandy

Dear Sir:

Thank you for sending the materials regarding your school. My client and I have looked them over and he is interested in a starting date in late January.

Mr. Sandy is in the Kansas City area over the holidays, and he would like to come by the school when you resume classes on January 3rd. I will talk with you later that week to make final arrangements.

Sincerely,

Dear Sir:

I am a Vocational Rehabilitation counselor from St. Joseph, Missouri, and I have a client, experienced in contact lens work, who is interested in changing occupations and would like to learn more about watch repair. Would you please send us a catalogue. Also, I would like to know starting dates and whether your school advances maintenance.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Duffens:

I am presently working with a Mr. Robert Sandy, who was employed with your company for a number of years. He has received psychiatric treatment at our hospital here in St. Joseph, and also at Western Missouri Mental Health Center. He is now nearing readiness for discharge and we are trying to make some vocational plans for him.

If you could answer a few questions for me it would be most helpful. Did you find him well-suited to the kind of work he did for your company? Were most of his problems related to his interpersonal relationship or to the work itself? Would you ever consider rehiring him or feel you could recommend him for similar work?

We are in a position where we can help him get started in another field if this is advisable. However, if he has real talent in the line of his previous work, I wouldn't want to encourage him to give it up.

Your observations will be most helpful.

Sincerely,

Dorothy Miriani

Dear Mrs. Sandy:

Thank you for your letter regarding Bob's behavior during home visits. The information was relayed to Dr. Bartulica, our consulting psychiatrist. He agreed to see Bob in order to check out the possibility that his medication might be causing him to be drowsy.

As to whether or not Bob should continue the home visits, based upon his behavior while in the Rehabilitation Unit we feel that there is currently no justification for us to stop them. But if you feel displeased with his behavior while at home and if the inconveniences are too great then it would be best for you to discuss this with Bob and come to some agreement with him. This would conform quite well to one of our main goals for Bob, which is to make a favorable adjustment at home. But unless he is confronted with your feelings regarding what he is doing, then an acceptable adjustment will be difficult.

I hope that your questions have been answered. Feel free to contact us again when you think that it is needed.

Sincerely,

Tom Becker

Sandy, Robert

We wish to have Robert with us all next week-end (Labor Day) through Friday night & until Monday eve. If it would be possible to have him till Tues morning - returning him then, that would be fine also; as we wish all of us to go down to Lake of the Ozarks. -

I will come for Robert - return noon on 4:00. Friday if this is permissible by both Dr. Payne and you; considering Robert's condition most of all! We wish to do the correct thing -

We have friends at the lake &
Merna Jo has an Uncle living there.
We have made plans to go Sat. morning & take Robert & his family; (Merna Jo and Karen) with us

If this is not possible please inform me; at 353-1067 by the end of the week if that is possible (am)

Is it necessary that you have the address, or to our destination at the Lake? If so will you give it to you. —

I also left a box, filled with O.T. supplies, for Mrs. Lagoon; at the Information desk. Do you mind checking + being sure she receives them? I will have more for her later. It is a pleasure to give, for use, these things, that they may be used in a constructive way, giving productive help to others.

Thanking you for all your interest, help, and consideration on behalf of our son.

Mrs. Rose May has been a great friend also. — (S.L.)

Case #48943-4

Dear Mrs. Sandy:

Since Mr. Payne is on vacation this week, your letter of August 10 will be held for his reply. Mr. Sandy is not to go home for a visit this coming weekend and we will wait for Dr. Payne's decision before scheduling any future visits. In the meantime, you or his parents may take him off grounds, if you like, when you visit here.

Since Mr. Sandy is adjusting to a change of medication, we have asked that his interview at vocational rehabilitation, which was scheduled for today, be postponed.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Billie Vories

Dr. Fayne:

I'm writing to let you know what Bob Sandy has been saying the last two weekends, as I have not said anything to the Social Worker as yet. I thought that you should know about it first.

First he is still dwelling on the idea of going back to his old job at Duffen's Contact Lenses, because he says that they have the best equipment in town.

Then he has said he still thinks about suicide. He says he gets very depressed, so this is why he thinks about it, and wants to get out of this world.

I would just like to know what you think about him saying these things?

How do you think he is progressing?

Why he would be saying these things, when the first three weekends he came home he was doing just fine, and never talked like this.

What do you think of him coming home every weekend?

It disturbs me the way he has been talking these past few weekends. We have a long trip up there and back to come and get him, so I would appreciate your answers as to how you think he is progressing.

As you probably know I have to work in order to pay all the bills, I would appreciate any information you can give me by answering this letter.

Sincerely,

Merna Jo Sandy

P.S. Bob's parents and I were talking about the tranquilizers he is taking, would it be possible for you to decrease his medicine on weekends, because we found last weekend he just wanted

Re: Sandy, Robert
Case #40345-4

Dear Mrs. Sandy:

We ask that you come to this hospital sometime during the next week for a conference about your husband. The help you can give is essential for the physician's better understanding of your husband's illness and for planning treatment.

Please come to the Center (Administration) Building of the hospital and bring this letter with you. You will be given an appointment with a social worker as promptly as possible. You may come any day of the week, Monday through Friday, between 8 and 11 a.m., and 1 and 4 p.m. It would be helpful if you could write and let us know when you plan to come.

We ask that you sign the enclosed forms on the line marked "X" and return them in the enclosed envelope.

If you are unable to come in the near future, please let us know and we will send you a history form to complete. We urge, however, that you make a real effort to come for this conference so important to your husband's welfare. Experience has convinced us that a personal conference is more fruitful than a completed form.

We believe we may depend upon your full cooperation.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Billie Vorles

I am writing to let you know we will be up at the Hospital some time Saturday to bring Bob Sandy some clothes. My Mother-in-law and my Father-in-law, (Bobs Folks) are coming with me. I am bringing my little girl with us, if this is alright?

Sincerely,

Merna J o Sandy
