Today was mostly cloudy with showers off & on all day. The temperatures were low about 54° high about 70°. I birded today 7 AM until 7:30 PM with Si Rositzky and Roy E. Coy. Si had to go to his office for an hour and a half this morning so Roy and I birded out to J. Hamilton's new home at that time. We would have done better today but we were rained out at Honey Creek and Si had to get home earlier than he wanted to so as to take Morya out to dinner.

Today was cloudy and rainy all day. Actually early this a.m. it looked like it could be a beautiful day but by 9 a.m. it clouded up and rained all day long. Pearl & I drove to Squaw Creek this afternoon hoping to get some birding there. We did but the rain and wind kept it down to where we couldn't see much. The temperatures were low about 51° high about 66°.

Today was cloudy and rainy all day long. The temperatures were low about 49° high about 57°. It has rained steadily since it began yesterday before noon all thru Saturday afternoon noon, Saturday night and all day Sunday. Really were were lucky to come up with 110 species of birds today. Si & I banded steadily 7 AM till 9:30 AM at Krug Park. Si went to his office then so Pearl and I banded 10 AM until 12:30 PM east of town. Si & Monya came by at 1 P.M. and we banded from then until we got home at 9:30 P.M. We ate supper at Forest City on our way home.

Today was mostly clear and nice. I was so busy at work today I didn't get away at noon at all. This evening at 4 PM Paul & I drove to Honey Creek where I birded for about two hours. I was so tired it took most of the fun out of birding. I then went back to the Whole sale and worked till 9 P.M. Temperatures low 42° high 68°

Today was mostly clear, cool and nice. The temperatures were low about 50° high about 67°. I didn't get to bird on my noon hour today as I was too busy to leave work so I did a little birding this evening after work. I really couldn't put my heart into it though as I was so tired. My sore big dream is that I will live to retire completely and will still be able to bird actively. I would be so happy if I could do that now.

Today was mostly clear & nice until about 5 P.M. when we had some pretty hard rains. I worked until 3:30 PM but did get to bird on my noon hour. Luckily I was home at 5 PM when the phone rang. It was Harold Burgess and Mark. Mark had found a Red Phalarope at S.G. in the west pool. Needless to say I was there within the hour. We were able to approach within about 40 feet or less of the bird. Even without Binoculars we could see the yellow bill. It was either a male bird or female in winter plumage as it showed no red at all. We watched it closely for about half an hour before flushing the bird. It is without a doubt one of my rarest Missouri birds if not the rarest. Mark had his camera and took some pictures at close range. Some of them should be good. Low 47° high 70°

Mark had a Blue-wing warbler on their farm near Maryville today.

Today was mostly cloudy and threatening rain most of the day but except for a few sprinkles the day was really nice. Temperatures were low about 54° low about 69°. I birded at 7am until 9:45am at Krug Park with Simon Rositzky. I then went to Church 10:30am till 11:30am. At 12:30pm Pearl and I took off and headed for Squaw Creek. It was 9:30 PM when we got home. I've counted all the birds that Pearl & I saw, all that Si and Monya saw, all that Hoot and Julie Hamilton saw and all that Mark saw all all the species seen I believe that they would have totaled around 150 species.

~~29~~ Today was cloudy with thundershowers all day. I went to Kansas City this morning & picked up a load of flowers. Mark called me at noon and said that he had today seen at Marquilly, Mo a Western Grebe, Hooded Warbler and Mourning Warbler, all of which I need for the year so this afternoon when I got off work at 3:30 PM Pearl & I drove to Marquilly. It was raining so hard we had to settle for only the Grebe. Mark said that there was an unbelievable number of Warblers moving through today. Temperatures today were low about 61° high about 78° yesterday was a very busy day for me so I was really glad when evening came. I went for a short ride after work northeast of town and was so tired it was even an effort to drive home. I went to bed at about 9:30 P.M. I must have gone to sleep at once. at 12:10 A.M. this morning (10 minutes past midnight) the phone rang. It was Mark Robbins calling from Mound City, Mo. He and Sebastian Patti, a boy from Kansas City had, with the use of a tape recorder been trying for a Black Rail. They had birded all day and then just at dark they began using the tape recorder playing the call of the Black Rail. Finally at 11:30 P.M. they had one answer while birding in the Bigelow Marsh, sometimes called the Walker place. After so long a time by using the recorder and with the use of a flood light they lured the bird in to where they could see it. I left here at 12:25 A.M. and met them at the Squaw Creek head quarters at 1:10 A.M. Five minutes later Richard and Roger Rowlett came in so the five ~~four~~ of us headed back to the Bigelow Marsh. We heard the bird calling when we first arrived there and although we could lure the bird within about ten feet of us it was 3:10 A.M. when I first was able to see the bird. Surprisingly this was in cat tails. Our final stand was around a Muskrat house where the Muskrats had eaten the vegetation away for about a foot around the house. It was into this open area that I finally saw the bird. Even with us talking and the lights shining on (him?) he came within about four feet of where I was standing. During the next half hour I saw it several times at close range. We could see its black bill, the red on the back neck and its red eyes. Richard Roloff had a dip net and we were within range of it with the dip net but it escaped under it because of the cat tails. It was surprising how many birds we heard calling out in the marsh at 2 to 3 a.m. Of course the mosquitoes were very bad. Luckily I wore a jacket instead of a shirt.

Today was clear, hot & humid. I was so tired though from being up almost all night I was almost numb. Also it was one of my busiest days of the year at the wholesale. I guess for even the best things in life you have to pay. Temperatures were low 61° high 89°
