~~56~~ To day was clear, hot and windy. The temperatures were low 33° high 80°, a new record high for this date. Pearl & I birded 9 AM untill 6 PM. From here to Squaw Creek and back. There were several bad grass fires all around the Squaw creek area today and some of them got into the Squaw Creek Refuge and burned over a good part of the area doing quite a bit of damage. Pearl and I came along just in time to help one of the bridges from blowing down. Some of the pilings to the approach were on fire and one of the floor planks were on fire. Pearl and I were working at putting it out with dirt and water when a man, woman and boy came along. They helped us.

Today was clear and nice. The temperatures were low about 18° high about 47°. I & Pearl birded 7:10 am till 5 P.M. here to Squaw Creek and back. I could have had a larger list of birds than I have but I feel that I did accomplish something. We drove directly to the Refuge, arriving there at 8:30 AM. Pearl and I spent the day from 8:30 AM till about 4 P.M. as leaders for a large caravan of birders from Kansas City, Mo. & K.C. Kans. There was about 30 cars. If there were 5 people per auto then there must have been near 100 people. I made new friends by meeting people I had not met before and showed birds to them that were new to several of their life lists. The Eagles & Owls being most popular.

Today was cloudy, chilly with rain + snow almost all day. One of our route trucks broke down today so I took our truck out and we switched loads. It was so late and we had a full load so I went on and made the rounds to help. It was our long route, about 330 miles. It was 9:15 P.M. when we got back to the Wm. Pearl and I had planned on going to Squaw Creek this evening to have dinner with the Burgesses' and a meeting later with several other people.

Today was clear, windy and dusty & warm. The temperatures today were low about 25° high about 50°. This afternoon at the refuge we met again with Paul and Linda Brewett, the two young Canadians that Harold and I birded together with in Texas. We made a tour of the Refuge today with them and Harold Burgess. They saw a "Brant" at the refuge yesterday. About a week after we left Texas and Louisiana to head home Paul and Linda saw a Red-breasted Goose in the Harwood prairie area near Katy, Texas, an area we had previously birded.

To day was cloudy & nice all day. Temperatures today were low about 38° high about 45° . My plans originally were to bird. When I got off work at 4 P.M. at the Airport, Lake Contrary, Mud Lake, Horseshoe Lake and river bottom roads after dark but it started raining lightly about 3 P.M. and gradually increased. By the time we had made Lake Contrary the weather was so lousy I gave up & came home.

Today was clear & warm, a real beautiful day. The temperatures were low about 31° high about 70°. I did my noon day birding in the timber between the north west boulevard and the Mt. Olivet Cemetery. It is quite often referred to as the Byrd tract because at one time the old Byrd Sanatorium was built there. It burned to the ground somewhere around the early 1940s. I refer to it as Nw. bud.

To day was clear, hot and windy. The temperatures were low about 42° high about 80°. I birded my noon hour, in timber along Nw. bud. This afternoon I went to the airport to pick up a shipment of Carnations from Denver so I took my telescope with me and then I had to take Pearl out east of town to the East Hills Shopping Center. This evening so we spent an hour or so birding in the 102 and Platte River bottoms.
