CONDITIONS OF THE SALE

PLEASE INSPECT ALL ITEMS CLOSELY IF YOU PLAN ON BIDDING. As the vast majority of the items have been used by the Indian for many years, all items will be sold "as is, where is." We will not take time to call each missing bead, each worn thread or nicked pot. All items will show wear.

Each item has a history. We do not guarantee any information to be authentic. We are acting agents for the sale of the collection and will pass on any information gotten from the listings and catalogues of the collection, but cannot guarantee that information to be correct. Bid for the item, not the history if you are not certain.

If you find an item being sold that you did not have time to inspect properly, call the runner to your seat. Please utilize the entire viewing time to help expedite the sale.

As the items are sold, they will be returned to the rear display table. You may check out any time you desire by showing a "Paid" receipt to the clerks at the check-out table. Sufficient packing material will be available at no charge. If you desire items to be shipped, we do not charge for packing labor or materials, unless special materials must be purchased to insure proper shipping. Insurance and shipping charges will be the responsibility of the buyer, of course.

If you have purchased from our Gallery in the past, we will accept your personal or company check. If not, we do require a bank letter of credit to accompany your check. This is not meant to offend anyone, it is a sign of the times. Our insurance requires us to photograph all check transactions. Please excuse the camera. No photo is ever processed unless the check is returned.

There are no "reserved" items in the sale. If at sale time, we have sealed bids to execute, we allow a disinterested bidder from the audience to bid for the absentee bidder. However, we do not encourage sealed bids.

Please, no disputed bids. Once an item has been sold, we do not reopen the bid for any reason. If you are in doubt if you "have the bid", raise your bid card. We will never allow you to bid against yourself.

Please settle all accounts at the end of each session.

Mon. Feb. 27 1978

Dear Ralph,

Just a couple of lines with the auction price list... As Maude told you in your phone call last evening, we took in both days of the affair! The first day was from curiosity but after having gotten prices we felt duty-bound to go back for the rest of it. Very interesting to say the least. Dot's to look at and if you had the money to buy. That's the trouble! We didn't really go to buy anyway.

Buyers were there from all over. Both coasts and in between. Museums, dealers and collectors. Lots of money changed hands. Saw one man with a hand full of $500 bills paying off his bill. Murray mentioned another auction from Trade Winds Gallery this spring. I thought that he meant for next spring, a year from now, but Maude understood it as 1978. K.C area that is.

I think our time was well spent even though we did sort of loose our normal week end. The price list will be valuable to us in helping us to know the value of our own items if need be for some reason or another. The same holds true for yourself I suppose in valuation of your own items.

Well, sorry that you could not make it. I know you would have enjoyed most of it if not all. The seats were hard.. At least after the first couple of hours.

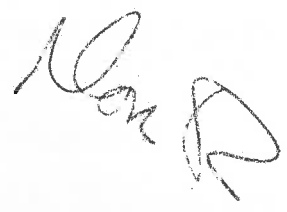

Too bad that you had trouble and got stuck in the snow. By golly, you tried! Oh well, there will be lots of other auctions.. And maybe best of all you saved your money. Now you can pay the Gas Co. with it. (Sorry.. I shouldn't have mentioned that) Spring is a commin'. Yip-e-e-e-e With slickers and skeeters and birdies and bees. Hang in there buddy.. We just about got it made now. If my back gets better and it doesn't snow again, and if Maude keeps a cooking goodies, and if the Lord is a willing, and if I don't think of too many more 'ifs', this damn winter will come to a welcome end and we can all thumb our noses back at it! So there..

Sincerely

Alen R

CONDITIONS OF THE SALE

PLEASE INSPECT ALL ITEMS CLOSELY IF YOU PLAN ON BIDDING. As the vast majority of the items have been used by the Indian for many years, all items will be sold "as is, where is." We will not take time to call each missing bead, each worn thread or nicked pot. All items will show wear.

Each item has a history. We do not guarantee any information to be authentic. We are acting agents for the sale of the collection and will pass on any information gotten from the listings and catalogues of the collection, but cannot guarantee that information to be correct. Bid for the item, not the history if you are not certain.

If you find an item being sold that you did not have time to inspect properly, call the runner to your seat. Please utilize the entire viewing time to help expedite the sale.

As the items are sold, they will be returned to the rear display table. You may check out any time you desire by showing a "Paid" receipt to the clerks at the check-out table. Sufficient packing material will be available at no charge. If you desire items to be shipped, we do not charge for packing labor or materials, unless special materials must be purchased to insure proper shipping. Insurance and shipping charges will be the responsibility of the buyer, of course.

If you have purchased from our Gallery in the past, we will accept your personal or company check. If not, we do require a bank letter of credit to accompany your check. This is not meant to offend anyone, it is a sign of the times. Our insurance requires us to photograph all check transactions. Please excuse the camera. No photo is ever processed unless the check is returned.

There are no "reserved" items in the sale. If at sale time, we have sealed bids to execute, we allow a disinterested bidder from the audience to bid for the absentee bidder. However, we do not encourage sealed bids.

Please, no disputed bids. Once an item has been sold, we do not reopen the bid for any reason. If you are in doubt if you "have the bid", raise your bid card. We will never allow you to bid against yourself.

Please settle all accounts at the end of each session.
