Masters Gregory had at least two full packs of butts under his bed. He had apparently been doing the same thing all day and nothing was done. O'Brien, Joe - Prolixin preparation - classified had Valium 20 mgm 4:00 P.M reg med. at 8 P.M with Thorazine & Reposse then Valium 20 mgm IM at 10:30 P.M - about 3-5 min. after Last Valium inj. he collapsed - was very cyanotic & shocky. Pulse 110 Deplorably rapid & "fluttery" resp. shallow & rapid Bld pressure hard to get. Legs elevated O2 started. Checked by Dr. Valera Extreme pallor after O2 & cyanosis decreased. B.P 100/58 & 110/60 Pulse 148 apical & 140 radial R-34 certainly had a spooky episode 3 AM Rest of night - Wakeful but quiet - Pulse 120 Resp. 24 B.P 102/56 - restrained To bed as he kept Trying To get at head + get up. Valium DC — Haldol 2 mgm "I.M." if needed but since he was Controlable + BP still a bit low + pulse still ↑, I prefered not giving it. Kept by office all night To watch closely — did not needed up To this time. Will put him in his room in A.M. + he will no doubt sleep.

Dr. Valera doesn't necessarily think the amount of med. caused above but when in doubt + unless extremely difficult To handle, I kept off further medicine Besides, when others get up + more stimulation about, him may then need the "I.M." of Haldol.
C.N.8 Ferrell, J — 2nd on some difficulty breathing — not severe — Tedral had been D.C'ed + Benadryl I.M. was a stat order the other day. I gave him Tylenol — had him sit by fan for a while. Does he need a P.R.N. for asthma? I had the feeling probably not so did not check with the D.

Couldn't we please at least get a Chloral Hydrate pen for him instead of writing it each night?
