Mr. Karl Kortum, Director
The San Francisco Maritime Museum
San Francisco, California

Dear Mr. Kortum:

I read your article in the July number of "The American Neptune" on "Star of India" with great interest. I assume that she is the vessel of which we presently have a Chinese painting. I am enclosing a photograph which I hope you will keep for your files if you find it of any interest.

Originally I purchased a pair of paintings of "Star of India," one showing the ship in a brisk gale, and the other in calm weather. The first was purchased by one of our customers for old marine paintings, and the other we still have on hand. I think I shall send you photographs of both paintings, as the stormy picture is particularly interesting because of its wave treatment. It reminds one of a Japanese print.

Sincerely yours,

S. Morton Vose
